SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTER.

Lorenz and his daughter Mary emigrate to America from Lodz, Poland, in a hired boat. Mary loves and is loved by John Swinton, a Polish peasant, who vows to follow her to the world's end.

CHAPTER X.

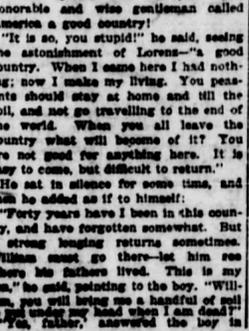

A RICH MAN'S GUESTS.

When she approached he took her hand in both his hands and kissed her on the forehead.

CHAPTER XI.

MARY INTERESTS THE YOUNG LADIES.

CHAPTER XII.

IN THE RAILWAY.

On the third day Lorenz and Mary were on their way to Little Rock. The peasant had $100 in his pocket, and had entirely forgotten his sufferings.

CHAPTER XIII.

THE PALISH GIRLS' BEAUTY, DRESS AND MANNER SURPRISE THEM.

They were in the woods, where the trees were cut down for the lumber. The train sped on and on.

CHAPTER XIV.

THE FEAR OF HUMBAG.

Stomach troubles are so common and in most cases so obstinate to cure that people are apt to look upon them with a certain dread.

CHAPTER XV.

English. "And upon my breast, William—upon my breast!"

The smoke again got into the eyes of the old gentleman, so that they were suffused with tears.

"Listen, child," he said to Mary, "here is my card, keep it carefully. If misfortune befall thee, if thou art left alone in the world and without protection, then come to me."

country and warm, and the land is not yet taken up. There you can get land together with woods, 20 acres, from the Government free, or from the railroad for $2 small payment.

When it was time for them to go to Little Rock Lorenz could not without her tears bid Mary farewell.

PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—Advices have been received by a prominent Roman Catholic clergyman here from Rome stating that Cardinal Satolli, formerly Apostolic Delegate to this country, will shortly succeed the famous Cardinal Ledochowski as Prefect of the Propagation of Faith.

Cardinal Ledochowski has been mentioned as a possible successor of Pope Leo XIII. Cardinal Satolli resided in Washington for several years, and it is surmised that his selection is due to his knowledge of the Church's needs and condition here.

There is a sturdy chunk of a lad on Allen street that philanthropy with a big "P" ought to look after a bit. He is just turned thirteen. His name is Harry Solomon.

For a month back he has been the sole bread-winner of a family of seven. He earns $2 a week as an errand boy, and he is confident of pulling the family through all right if the job will only last. That's the kind of chap Harry Solomon is.

Seven Months to Feed.

Three rooms in the rear of the fourth floor of 27 Allen street constitute the Solomon domicile. They are surprisingly clean. The father of the family died a month ago. Mrs. Solomon round herself with the six children to support. First Ida, twelve; Doty, nine; Isaac, seven; Benny, four; and Morris, ten months.

hand heals sufficiently to enable her to use it. It was the very fact that was worrying Ida, too. The problem of food was the least of her troubles.

BOY HERO SAVED SISTER.

Girl Fell into Bonfire and Was Burned to Death When Rescued.

Little May Dear, the six-year-old daughter of John and Mary Dear, residing at Shadydale, N. J., was fatally burned while playing on a bonfire in the Palisades Woods yesterday.

CURE THAT COLD TO-DAY.

A simple remedy at the beginning of a disease is better than a council of doctors at the critical stage.—MUNYON.

Thousands of New Yorkers are at present victims of the grip. That dread disease is epidemic and yet a simple remedy is at hand which is a sure preventive.

Murphy's Doctors Are Free.

A timely consultation with his skilled specialists upon all diseases may avert a threatened illness. There is no charge for advice.
