SHE THREW ACID FOR VENGEANCE?

Dr. Cronin Makes Statement Which Would Show That Mrs. Warner Had Motive for Wishing to Injure His Wife.

Mrs. Etta Warner, charged with dashing acid in the face of the wife of Dr. John J. Cronin, of 422 West Thirty-first street, on Thursday night last was arraigned in the West Side Court this morning.

Mrs. Cronin, almost sightless in the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital, would know that voice among a thousand.

"I am entirely innocent," she said to The Evening World reporter, "I can account for every minute of my time from last Tuesday at 4 o'clock until the present time, and this charge is monstrous."

"When my husband and I arrived the funeral services were over, but all four of us went home together. According to the reports it was 10:15 when the acid was thrown. At that time we must have either been in the Forty-second street ferry-house or on the other side of the river. We arrived home at 11 o'clock. I can prove every word of it."

Her lawyer, Glavin McIntyre, said: "I have no witness here, and I am relying on the minister and the undertaker to show just at what time the services ended."

James W. Moyle's Body Found in the River. No Motive for Suicide.

The body of James W. Moyle, Gen. Joe Wheeler's double, who has been missing from the Hoffman house since April 8, was found in the river at 7:45 o'clock this morning.

Her lawyer, Glavin McIntyre, said: "I have no witness here, and I am relying on the minister and the undertaker to show just at what time the services ended."

Mr. Moyle's disappearance in April caused great discussion about the Hoffman house. He had been a guest of and on for eighteen years until last Fall, when he took up his permanent residence here.

WHEAT WAS QUIET AND FAIRLY STEADY.

Wheat was higher at the start to-day, but lacked enough local support to remain the advance. The only feature in foreign markets was the thirty point rise in Paris, based probably on the report of frost in Russia.
