

CAPT. M'CALLA'S FOOD SAVED ALLIED FORCE.

believed here, be protected until relieved by the allied forces or held as hostages by the Empress Dowager.

SAVED BY CAPT. M'CALLA.

The baffled relief force never reached Peking and is now back in Tientsin, terribly fatigued and with many sick and wounded.

It was due to Capt. McCalla, of the Newark, who is in command of the 150 United States marines with Admiral Seymour, that the relief force was enabled to reach Tientsin at all. On landing, Capt. McCalla took two weeks' supplies for his men, whereas the allies had only five days' stores.

When the rations of the others were exhausted, Capt. McCalla distributed his surplus supplies among the allies and actually saved off starvation. It is freely admitted that this action on the part of the American was a most important element in saving Seymour's force.

KEMPF'S POLICY IS WISE.

Col. Sestelle, with a force of 10,000 allies, is now marching on Peking to rescue the legations if they are there. This little army faces a horde of 60,000 Chinese, which is rapidly being reinforced. The Chinese have many modern rapid-fire guns and are strongly entrenched along the line of march to the Chinese capital.

Admiral Kempff's refusal to join in the demand for the surrender of the Taku forts is regarded by Americans here as having been the best course to pursue, and the wisdom of his decision is now evident, having induced the conclusion of the allied Admirals not to arouse the Chinese by harsh measures at any other ports.

Lieut. Jane, of the U. S. flagship Newark, with a handful of marines, has gone on an armed tugboat on a hazardous expedition up the Paho River to ascertain how far it is navigable for war vessels of light draught. He has not yet returned.

Relations between the representatives of the nations here are becoming strained owing to the opposition by the Russians to the preponderance of the forces of any other power, and particularly to the landing of more Japanese. FREDERICK PALMER.

WORLD NEWS BEFORE THE CABINET.

Palmer's Despatch Read by Mr. Hay and the President.

(Special to The Evening World.) WASHINGTON, June 29.—The Evening World's special despatch telling positively that the foreign envoys are not with Seymour was received at the State Department this morning before Admiral Kempff's despatch.

It was the first direct authentic news the department has had from the seat of trouble and was eagerly read by the Secretary and laid before the President and his cabinet members were discussed at the cabinet meeting.

Much pleasure was expressed by Government officials at the substantial aid rendered by Capt. McCalla to Seymour's column, and the wise forethought of the American commander in taking two weeks' supplies ashore when the allies only had five days' was commented upon as only another instance of the prevision usually shown by American naval officers.

The definite news that the envoys are not with Seymour and the expressed belief that they are held as hostages caused much anxiety for their safety in official circles. As to the wisdom of Admiral Kempff's course the Government is not so positive and will await explanations from the Admiral himself.

KEMPF CONFIRMS NEWS.

Admiral Confirms Later Than World's News That Envoys Are Not with Seymour.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The Navy Department to-day received the following cablegram from Admiral Kempff from Chefoo:

"Seeking relief expedition now in Tientsin with 20 sick and wounded. Ministers and Peking party not with them. No news from them."

The Department was also advised this morning that Admiral Remey of the Brooklyn has arrived at Hong Kong en route to Taku.

GAILEY'S FATE IN DOUBT.

Believed to Have Escaped from Tientsin, a Cable Despatch from Shanghai Says.

The fate of Robert Gailey, the Princeton football hero, who for two years has been in charge of the Y. M. C. A. Mission at Tientsin, is still unknown. The following cablegram received this morning at the headquarters of the International Committee gives little assurance that he was not one of those massacred in Tientsin. It reads:

"SHANGHAI, June 29.—Gailey is believed to have escaped. Unable to communicate as telegraph lines are broken to Tientsin. Have applied to consul at Chefoo to obtain further particulars." "ROBERT E. LEWIS."

Mr. Gailey and his wife, who was Miss Lawrence of Martin's Corner, Pa., lived in a $2,000 mansion house which was built at Tientsin for Y. M. C. A. work through the generosity of Mrs. J. Livingston Taylor, of Cleveland, O. It is supposed to have been destroyed. It contained a fine lecture hall and reading rooms and the other characteristics of American Y. M. C. A. buildings. The 300 English-speaking Chinese students and merchants of Tientsin were its patrons.

RUSSIA'S WAR MOVES.

Naval Reserves to Be Called Out and Great Dockyards in Fever.

LONDON, June 29.—Despatches from St. Petersburg report feverish activity in naval circles. The reserve is about to be called out and ten torpedo-boats are being prepared for immediate despatch to reinforce the Russian Pacific squadron.

STILL SHELL TIENTSIN.

Chinese Guns Bombard the Foreign Quarter and Three Foreigners Are Killed.

BERLIN, June 29.—The German Consul at Chefoo telegraphs that nothing is known concerning the Foreign Ministers. He says the railroad between Taku and Tientsin is still threatened and that the bombardment of Tientsin on the west side continues, though the Chinese shells explode badly. Three residents had been killed or wounded.

ROOSEVELT IS IN TOWN.

Lunched with Platt and Odell at Lawyers' Club.

Gov. Roosevelt reached this city from Oyster Bay shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. As he was about to step into a cab at the Long Island City Ferry house a man in the uniform of a street-cleaning foreman accosted him.

"Don't you know me, Governor?" he asked, raising his hat.

The Governor stared hard at the man, and then his teeth showed in a smile of recognition.

"John, how are you?" he broke out, giving the man a hearty handshake. "You're coming to the reunion?" asked the Governor, and the onlookers knew the man was a Rough Rider.

"I can't afford that," was the answer. "Well, you'll come along with me," said the Governor warmly. "Meet me at the Grand Central Depot this evening and I'll stake you to the 'round up.'"

The man shook the Governor's hand warmly and said he would go if he could get the time off. He was John Hood, of Troop E, and he has Manchester won at San Juan. He is a reputed son of Gen. William Hood, the famous Federal cavalry leader in the civil war. The Governor spent part of the morning with his dentist and visited his son.

At noon he went to the Fifth Avenue Hotel and lunched with Chairman Odell, Senator Platt and other invited guests. The Governor, but he would not come in from Manhattan Beach, as he said there was nothing of importance to talk about.

Politicians regard this as notice to the Governor that Mr. Platt will have none of the Governor's attempts to make Gen. Francis V. Greene his successor in the gubernatorial chair.

The Governor spent the afternoon with friends at the Union League Club and will leave for the West at 2:30 o'clock. He will be absent two weeks.

FEARS FOR THE ENVOYS.

Imperial Palace Reported Sacked by Boxers—Prince Tuan Seizes Government.

SHANGHAI, June 29.—The worst is now feared for the foreign Ministers.

Prisoners captured by Seymour's column say they have been murdered and the legations sacked. Others say they are prisoners.

An imperial decree just issued declares the Imperial Palace at Peking was burned by revolting Chinese troops on June 16. This adds to the fears for the Ministers.

Prince Tuan has probably seized the reins of government from the Emperor. He is the head of the Boxers.

It may thus be in command of the Peking Government.

CHINESE VICEROYS AGREE.

Missionaries to Be Protected in South and East China Under Certain Conditions.

PARIS, June 29.—The Chinese Legation here has communicated to the French government the text of a document signed by the Viceroy of Nankin and Hsinok, June 21, which is an agreement between the Viceroy and Consul at Shanghai whereby, subject to certain conditions, the Viceroy undertakes to protect the missionaries and foreign merchants in South and East China.

The document, which was sent for ratification by M. Delcasse, consists of nine articles.

BRITISH LOST 123 MEN.

Of These Twenty-five Were Killed and Ninety-eight Wounded—Allies Lost 274.

LONDON, June 29.—In the House of Commons to-day Under Foreign Secretary Bradstreet announced that the British losses with Vice-Admiral Seymour's force, which, with the rest of the relief force, was returned to Tientsin June 21, were:

Killed—Capt. Herbert W. H. Boyd (Royal Marine) and 24 men; wounded, seven officers and 91 men.

Mr. Bradstreet said that the return of the foreign casualties was incomplete, but the total was supposed to be 123 men killed and 212 wounded.

NEED ICE IN KANSAS CITY.

Atmosphere Would Fry Eggs—Tammany's 25 Barkeepers.

(Special to The Evening World.) KANSAS CITY, June 29.

The first and last word of advice to delegates and visitors to this convention on the ice is to bring the thickest clothing they possess and as much of it as they own. All that has been said about the heat of Kansas City is true, and this hot spell was a scorcher. If a man had thrown an egg in the air twenty-five feet it would have come down a steely browned omelet.

NO 16 TO 1 PLATFORM.

There is a very general belief that "16 to 1" will not appear in the platform. If this be true, there is not much likelihood of a fight in the convention. The fight between the silver men who want these mythical words used and the silver men and gold men who do not want them used but want to elect Bryan President will be behind closed doors and every indication at this writing points to the fact that 16 to 1 as a shibboleth will be eliminated.

The most prominent persons here who know anything about the platform are Secretary Walsh, of the National Committee, and Willis J. Abbott, but there are a dozen rough drafts of the platform between Chicago and Lincoln, and by tomorrow night the State lines will be wiped out and it will be possible to speak with accuracy about the platform the candidates will stand upon.

TOWNE IS IN LEAD.

There is little to be said about the Vice-Presidency either. The most important of the candidates, Charles A. Towne, will arrive to-night or in the morning, and will open his headquarters at the Coates House.

Towne really has some strength, and is a candidate for Bryan a most available running mate. He is said to be a great campaigner, and one who does not suffer in comparison with Bryan on the platform, but, after all, the party leaders will try to select a man from New York, if such a one can be obtained.

The battle royal is to be fought out in New York State. The nomination of Roosevelt means that the Republicans intend to fight with their most popular man every inch of the ground there, and it is deemed advisable by every Democratic leader from Bryan down to select a New York man if possible.

David Bennett Hill is the most talked of, he is the one man whose name has been mentioned with some apparent strength. Several State delegations

HILL HAS A CHANCE.

Nevertheless Hill's chance at this writing seems very good. It is believed that he will take the place if it is offered to him.

The Convention Hall will not be completed before Tuesday morning; the plan now is to nominate Bryan on Wednesday so that the candidate may have the glory of a Fourth of July nomination. On Thursday the platform will be presented.

If there is no row in the Convention over the platform, the Vice-President's name will be presented on Thursday, and Friday will be devoted to speech-making by Bryan and a general jollification.

There is a very feeble hum here for Henry Clay Sizer. There is talk, too, of Shively, of Indiana, and Campau, of Michigan, will come here with considerable following. One candidate not yet mentioned who may have considerable strength is Hopton, of Ohio. He is a manufacturer of wheelbarrows and ran

DRINKS FOR TAMMANY.

Elaborate preparations are being made at the Midland Hotel for the Tammany delegation. Somehow the report has gotten abroad that the Tammany men are always very thirsty, so the billiard-room of the hotel is to be occupied as one massive bar, and twenty-five employees to quench the thirst of the Tammany Tigers.

The other hotels are also making elaborate preparations for a thrifty crowd, and the business city club, which is the best-known club in the State, is arranging in one of its big rooms separate bars, and there will be swarms of waiters during every twenty-four hours, twenty-five men being on duty all the time.

While it is true there are plenty of rooms at the hotels and private houses for the delegates and visitors, it is also seen that there is not going to be much accommodation in the way of dining facilities. The restaurants are poor, and the hotels will be overrun with their own people.
