

The Evening World. Published by the Evening World Publishing Company, 18 to 20 PARK ROW, New York.

No. 1

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY MESSENGER BOY; OR, THE MISADVENTURES OF SHORTY M'NABB.—By FERDINAND G. LONG.

A NEW AND FUNNY CREATION

Cheap Fun for Pat Powers. Pat Powers is a policeman who is known as the "terror of the kids." He earned this title recently by arresting a four-year-old child for taking a handful of foliage from one of the parks.

Rev. T. De Witt Talmage Says that Our Sins Will Find Us Out.

What a spectacle! A comedy and tragedy at one and the same time. There they got Mordecai who had been despised in the streets, the champion of the oppressed, the champion of the oppressed, the champion of the oppressed.

THE EVENING WORLD'S DAILY FORUM.

Signed Editorials on Leading Topics of the Day by Recognized Authorities.

EDUCATION FOR LITTLE CHILDREN.

By HENRY D. CHAPIN, M. D., Expert in Children's Diseases. Conducting our public school system the greatest stress should be laid on efforts to provide for the youngest children.

Chuck Connors Philosphizes on Some Recent Society Doings.

As near as I can fix it out, the Munka is the dead end of the Pekin in the Choo Fow an' the Sing an' in the rest of the big joints over other side.

Laura Jean Libbey Discourses on Man's Inconstancy in Love.

Would the average man recall, if he could, a love which he has allowed to drift past him on life's ocean? I think not.

Harriet Hubbard Ayer On the Man "Who Speaks His Mind."

In every family connection, and I had almost said in every household, there is a domestic tyrant who enjoys a long and despicable reign and who appears to rule by divine right as the accepted and authorized fault-finder of an entire group.

HINTS FOR HOUSEKEEPERS.

DRIED orange peel allowed to smoulder on a piece of red-hot iron will kill any bad odor and leave a fragrant one behind.

PAPA'S LITTLE GELL.

"M' papa's bestest little gell, 'Cause he ain't got but me, An' I think he's the nicest man That I did ever see; And every day I takes his lunch, A long rise I know well, He sees me coming an' he says, 'God bless my little gell.'"

Widow Magoogin Tells How to Keep Husbands Home at Night. "Tell me, Mrs. McGlagger," said Widow Magoogin to her neighbor, "do you ever have any trouble keepin' yer man Jurry home at noights?"

MISS CAMPBELL was from Philadelphia, and she did not approve of sitting on front doorsteps. Even on hot August evenings, when every sensible person on the avenue was in the open air, she sat in her stuffy little bedroom or in the boarding-house parlor.

MUSICAL FISH.

MANY fish can produce musical sounds. The tritica can produce long-drawn notes ranging over nearly an octave.

THE PAY OF ELECTORS.

Presidential elector in New York receives the sum of $15 for each day in attendance at Albany, together with 10 cents per mile each way from his place of residence, by the most travelled route, to the place of meeting.

LETTERS TO THE EVENING WORLD.

A Remarkable Word. To the Editor of the Evening World: There is one word in the English language, of four letters in common use, which, using only the four letters, can be spelled four ways, or repeating one letter five ways.

Those Slaughter-Houses.

To the Editor of the Evening World: We have tried writing to the Health Board and now turn to you, hoping we will have better success.

Lincoln Said It.

To the Editor of the Evening World: Was F. T. Barnum or Abraham Lincoln the author of the following remark? "You may fool all the people some of the time and some of the people all the time, but not all the people all the time." J. R. W.

Not So Slow.

Snails, by means of an acid which they secrete, are able to bore holes in solid limestone.