

WARNED BY HIS VISIONS, GOLDEN AWAITS DEATH.

All Four Dreams Foretold the Same Date of His Passing Away.

SAMUEL PHILIP GOLDEN.

"I have been warned in dreams that I will die on Dec. 31, 1900. I firmly believe it. When the bells are ringing out the old century to-night I will have gone with it." Samuel Philip Golden, of 402 Eleventh street, Brooklyn, an invalid, in bed made that declaration to-day. He is cheerfully prepared to die, having made his will and set all of his business affairs in order. The doctors, however, do not believe that he is in any danger of immediate death. But then doctors are not all wise.

Mr. Golden has never been a believer in dreams, but the visions that came to him were so vivid and so lacking in the fantastic element usually in dreams that he is convinced that they are occult warnings. He has foreseen the date of his funeral, even to the hour. It will be on Jan. 2, he believes.

PRIEST CLEARS OUT SALOONS. IN THE STEPS OF MARK TWAIN.

Dean McNulty, of Paterson, Begins a Personal Crusade.

Dr. White Will Complain Against Piratical Cabby.

The 500 saloon-keepers of Paterson, N. J., are panic-stricken to-day over the single-handed crusade against the open saloon on Sunday which has been inaugurated by Dean William McNulty, rector of St. John's Catholic Church.

David J. Roche, chief of the city's license bureau, has not yet received a complaint from Dr. J. Campbell White, of 57 Fifth avenue, who says he had an experience with a cabman last night similar to that which recently befell Mark Twain.

After mass yesterday he visited several saloons that were open. Entering one place quite near his church he discovered in the act of drinking at the bar a prisoner. Dashing the glass of liquor from the man's hand the priest sternly rebuked him; then turned to find all other occupants had fled.

"These complaints have been frequent of late," said Mr. Roche to-day, "and I am determined to punish every cabman against whom I can find evidence of an attempt to overcharge. We will probably only inflict a fine on the first complaint, but if there are two complaints against the same cabdriver, he will lose his license."

"My people are a temperance people in the main, but temptation constantly flaunted in their faces means ruin to some. I am interested in the saving of souls. It seems to me that there is more than mere temporal gain. I believe there are too many saloons in Paterson. They are owned by the brewers, you know. They complain of hard times."

"If you don't pay what I ask I'll take you to the police station," said the cabby.

"Then I went down Oliver street and peeped into a saloon, where the country fellows were asleep around a table. I heard talking in a room off the saloon. I entered, and to my surprise there was a young man and a young woman with beer glasses before them. I ordered them out and the woman went by the side door, showing that she had been there before."

John Henry Brush, thirty-five years old, an orderly on the U. S. S. Dolphin, died last night of heart failure at the home of his sister at 215 Lewis avenue, Brooklyn, where he was visiting. Brush had been in the Navy ten years, and participated in the battle of Santiago.

"Lack of work and economy," is the reason given by Dr. John T. Nagle, Chief of the Bureau of Municipal Statistics, for cutting down his force to-day. His typewriter and stenographer, Rosella Sugar, has resigned to take a position in the Brooklyn Borough Board of Education, and the following named employees of the Bureau have been dismissed:

When he made an examination he found that there was nothing the matter, and that he was only shaming himself.

Hans Truesen, George P. H. McVay and Adolph M. Leslie, statisticians, and Miss Myra Field, typewriter.

Arthur V. Healy, clerk in the Department of Buildings, was also dismissed to-day.

WIFE GREETS CAPT. HOWGATE

Prince of Embezzlers Affectionately Received by Family.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 31.—It was an hour after midnight when Capt. Henry W. Howgate, the prince of embezzlers, returned to his home this morning in care of his affectionate daughter Ida. His aged wife had expected them at 10 o'clock, but the train was delayed, and she stood at a front window anxiously awaiting them.

The Sick with Consumption and Asthma try for a Return Visit.

He Has Decided to Make the New York Office, at 48 W. 22d St., His Future Home.

Hundreds of New York people have publicly testified of being cured. They will tell you the names of many doctors who diagnosed their cases as consumption.

They all live in your city. If you have neglected to cut them out, call at our office for their addresses. Their neighbors will tell you, if they speak the truth. If your doctor is just out of our treatment (it is guaranteed), ask those whom they are taking this treatment and are getting well. Call and ask them how they are getting along. You can call and see for yourself. None are so blind as those who will not see.

Many doctors are to-day sending us patients, yet there are many who will not investigate. Our cure is our recommendation. If you don't know us we invite you to call and meet Dr. Koch, even if you don't care to take any treatment.

Like all our new inventions, its success is never believed, until absolutely proven; but facts are stubborn things. Thousands are daily taking this treatment and are getting well. Call and ask them how they are getting along. You can call and see for yourself. None are so blind as those who will not see.

"Well, Rob, I hear that you got a position at last, and must congratulate you, because there are so many good men who seem to be unable to get anything to do." "Yes, I have got a situation, but I was a long time in getting it. I lost my job about a month ago and have been looking ever since for something to do. I have worn out three pairs of shoes, and I have kept myself in a hot temper all the time, until at last I was thoroughly discouraged and felt as if I would give it up." "Now tell me, Rob, how you got the position at last." "Well, one day while I was sitting in the street car figuring up that I had spent $5 in carfare for riding around from place to place looking for work, I heard a man say that he had just got a job through a want advertisement in 'The World.' It occurred why I had not thought of it before, but I put a want advertisement in the next morning and in two days I had the position I now hold. I wish I had saved my carfare and my shoe leather and put my 15 cents in the little want advertisement some time ago."
