HELEN GOULD IS ANNA'S RECEIVER.

She and George Gould Will Handle, for Benefit of Creditors, All of Countess Castellane's Income Except $200,000 Fixed by Court.

Judge Lacombe in the United States Circuit Court to-day handed down an order appointing George J. Gould and Helen M. Gould receivers of the surplus income of Anna, Countess.

The order also directs that George J. Gould, Howard Gould, Edwin Gould and Helen M. Gould, executors of the will of the late Jay Gould, shall pay out to Anna Gould none of the income except $200,000 a year, nor shall they pay out any of the income of the estate due her.

The action was brought by Eugene Flacof, an Austrian creditor of the Castellanes, through Lorenza Semple, who is a United States Commissioner, having an office in the Equitable Buildings.

The Court granted the injunction, but at the same time allowed the Countess $200,000 a year, which is to be paid in monthly installments. George and Helen Gould were appointed receivers after they had signified their willingness to serve as such. They are ordered, in the language of Judge Lacombe, "to preserve and take possession of the surplus income of the trust fund, or such part as the Court shall determine shall be applicable to the payment of the debts of the Countess, and to take possession of the surplus income and apply it from time to time, as may be ordered by the court, toward the payment of the just debts of the Countess to the complainant and to other creditors who may come in."

Any creditors, however, who join in this action are restrained from bringing suits on their own account.

George Gould and his brothers and sister are ordered to pay over to the receivers the accumulated surplus belonging to Countess Anna now in their hands, and all that they may get during the pendency of the suit. The receivers are required to furnish $50,000 bonds each.

Judge Lacombe says that this order is not in any way to affect the rights of Anton J. Dittmar, who has a suit pending in the State courts.

Mr. Flacof's complaint is a very lengthy document and was drawn by Couder Bros. In it he does not mention the amount of the Court to-day says he has secured a judgment against the Countess for $10,000 in the State courts.

Nowhere in the complaint is there mention made of the Count de Castellane.

Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Wertheimer, the London creditor of the Castellanes, appeared in the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court to-day to argue in the appeal of George Gould against Justice Beach's decision making permanent the injunction on the Countess's expenditure of her whole income.

Concerning the appointment of receivers, Mr. Untermyer said: "My opinion is that the Countess made application for this appointment to forestall any further injunction of present or future creditors, and that the appointment in receivers' hands no injunction can be secured. The Wertheimer claim, however, is fixed."

TORTURE BY WOMAN, SAYS INJURED BOY.

George Kirchner, Hands Scalded and Face in Shocking State, Sent Alone from Ohio.

Brooklyn police are investigating the strange case of eight-year-old George Kirchner.

An elder brother who took the boy to the German Hospital said a relative living in Ohio had inflicted the burns from which the little one suffered.

According to the story told by the boy to Supt. Finkelmer, of the hospital, the relative is alleged to have held his hands and feet in boiling water and to have pressed a hot iron against his face.

Mr. Kirchner's complaint is a very lengthy document and was drawn by Couder Bros. In it he does not mention the amount of the Court to-day says he has secured a judgment against the Countess for $10,000 in the State courts.

Concerning the appointment of receivers, Mr. Untermyer said: "My opinion is that the Countess made application for this appointment to forestall any further injunction of present or future creditors, and that the appointment in receivers' hands no injunction can be secured. The Wertheimer claim, however, is fixed."

FUERST BISMARCK DISABLED AT SEA.

Hamburg Liner Breaks a Shaft and Comes to Port on One Engine.

Two days overdue, the Hamburg-American liner Fuerst Bismarck, from Naples, passed Fire Island at 1:40 o'clock this afternoon.

She was going at reduced speed, and no surprise was manifested when she signaled: "I have broken my shaft and can use only one engine."

The big boat made such poor progress that it is doubtful if she reaches her dock before 6 o'clock this evening, though two tugs have gone to accelerate her pace.

The weather on the Atlantic for the last week has been exceptionally rough, and steamers that have come to port have been covered by ice formed from seas that have swept over them as high as the hurricane deck. The Germanic, which arrived this morning, experienced one of the roughest buffeting in her experience.

The Fuerst Bismarck is a stanch flyer and before the queenly Deutschland was put in service was the record-breaking pride of the Hamburg-American line.

She is a comfortable ship in heavy weather, and the mishap, it is reasonably certain, did not cause the passengers any inconvenience more than the loss of time.

She carries 16 cabin and 676 steerage passengers.

Emil Boas, the local agent, received a telegram this afternoon stating that the Fuerst Bismarck is coming up to her dock in Hoboken under one propeller and would consequently be late in docking.

"The advantage of twin screws is evidenced by this accident," said Mr. Boas. "The Fuerst Bismarck has duplicates of most of her machinery on board and doubtless she will be able to make her own repairs at her dock, so there will be little if any delay in her sailing again on her homeward-bound trip."

It has not been considered necessary for us to send a tug down to assist her. Beyond these meagre details we have no information regarding the accident.

PREACHER SHOT FOR WOMAN'S QUARREL

CAPTAIN ARRESTED FOR SHOOTING BOY ON BOAT.

William Yarrington, captain of the fishing boat Clara, fired up at the foot of Fulton street, yesterday, but the streamer, accused of shooting a twelve-year-old boy, William Merritt, of 60 Cherry street, was gathering wood on a nearby boat and threatened the captain to go away.

Yarrington, who had a crane hoist attached, brought down a gun and fired both barrels. He was taken to the Old Ship station and the boy in a critical condition to Hudson Street Hospital.

BRITAIN-ASKS $55,000,000 LOAN.

An announcement that the Bank of England has invited offers for eleven million pounds sterling ($55,000,000) at 3 per cent, exchange notes, reached Wall street after the close of business to-day. All prospectors of the big banking-houses looked it to the issue of November last, when all the bids were brought up above.

DUNCAN H. McALPIN DEAD.

Duncan H. McAlpin, the millionaire tobacco manufacturer, who has been ill at his home, 46 West Fifty-eighth street, for a week, died at 4:15 this afternoon. His son, Gen. E. A. McAlpin, has been in a study attending to Mrs. McAlpin was eighty-three years old.

$200,000 OF BANK'S CAPITAL IS GONE.

Disclosures in New York Court Followed by Arrest of Massachusetts Cashier.

George F. Foster, former cashier of the South Danvers National Bank, of Peabody, was arrested by Deputy Marshal Waters this afternoon charged with embezzling $3,000 from that institution. The arrest was the outcome of the appointment of a receiver for the bank.

The amount named in the warrant does not represent the entire loss to the bank, according to one of the United States officials. As the stockholders have been assessed 50 per cent, by the Comptroller of the Currency, it is understood that the entire capital of $150,000, together with the surplus amounting to over $200,000, has disappeared.

WAR BETWEEN Mr. BARKER AND Church Workers Led to Many Rows in Pastor Keller's Church—History of the Strife at Arlington.

The inside history of the Arlington, N. J., shooting mystery, by common consent one of the most remarkable criminal cases in Jersey records, is presented by The Evening World below.

It is the report of a special staff correspondent who has spent several days in Arlington studying the case from all points of view and with access to sources of information of undoubted authority.

This is the first time the true story has been printed of the shooting of the Rev. John Keller by Thomas G. Barker after the confession of the latter's wife that the rector of the Episcopal Church had ill-treated her.

A STUDY OF MRS. BARKER.

MRS. BARKER'S STATEMENT TO THE EVENING WORLD.

Standing on the stairs in the German home, at 89 Laurel avenue, to-day Mrs. Thomas G. Barker listened to Miss Phoebe Germond's statement to the Evening World reporter and nodded her approval of it. Miss Germond said: "We have been so misquoted and lied about that we are glad of this opportunity to make a plain statement of facts."

Mrs. Barker bowed her thanks and retired to the sitting-room.

No Mass-Meeting To-day.

The proposed mass-meeting of the women of Arlington will not be held to-day. The leaders in the movement deemed it advisable to drop the matter. It would look like persecution, they concluded, to take any action at this time.

300 WOMEN DECIDE TO BEGIN VICE WAR.

Meet in Tuxedo Hall and Call for Mass-Meeting in March.

Three hundred women, representing some of the most prominent families in the city, assembled in Tuxedo Hall, fifty-ninth street and Madison avenue, this afternoon and discussed the moral condition of the city, the prevalence of vice and the best means for its extinction.

They finally agreed that the only way to make public their feeling to a sufficient degree was to call a mass-meeting of the women of New York, and they set for this purpose a date early in March.

Among the speakers who inveighed against vice were Annie Leonard, Mrs. Elizabeth Drannan and Mrs. Charles Russell Lowell.

GHOSTS EVICT BRIDAL PAIR.

Flee at Dead of Night in Supernatural Terror.

Marlin Durkin and his bride of three weeks have undergone a strange and thrilling experience.

They have been driven from their home at 294 Ferry street, Newark, N. J., by ghosts.

They were forced to flee in the dead of night, shivering and shaking with the dread that their ghostly visitors would drag them back.

This persecution has been going on for three weeks, ever since the Durkins returned from their honeymoon. Blood-curdling shrieks echoed through the house.

Moans and sighs, as if from a tortured spirit, were whispered in their ears.

Ghostly hands plucked pillows from beneath their heads and tore the bedclothes from the shivering couple. Strange lights of weird and uncanny appearance floated about the rooms.

They braved it out until last night, when the ghost emitted a series of piercing screams and tumbled the Durkins out of bed. Terrified they fled to the home of Mrs. Durkin's sister at 233 Third street.

Ghost hunters will occupy the haunted house to-night.
