SENATOR GRADY IN A RETREAT.

Doctor Says his Faculties Are Slightly Impaired.

Special to The Evening World. ALBANY, April 16.—Senator Thomas F. Grady was removed to-day from his residence, at No. 27 State street, to a sanitarium at Canandaigua.

The Senator's sister arrived early and took charge of his effects. She was in frequent communication with relatives and political friends of the Senator for half an hour.

Senator Grady's condition is described by his physician, Dr. S. B. Ward, as being the direct result of his indiscretions. He is highly nervous as a consequence of his indulgence in alcoholic stimulants. His will has been broken and his mental faculties have been slightly impaired.

The Senator expressed entire willingness to go to Brigham Hall, at Canandaigua, the home of Senator Rainey, and his sister, Mrs. Margaret Grady, assented to his removal. She and two attendants boarded the Empire State express at 11:15 o'clock with the Senator, whose collapse has created a greater sensation than any other event in Albany this session.

Dr. Ward expressed the opinion this afternoon that Senator Grady would require the most careful attention. He was asked if he thought the Senator would be in condition to justify his return to Albany this session. He replied that he did not believe Senator Grady would recover his powers for several months.

He will require constant rest and nursing for six months," he said. Asked if he thought the Senator's mental condition suggested insanity, the doctor said he could not tell. "It remains to be seen," he said. "What he needs now is rest."

The friends of Senator Grady in the Senate are greatly interested in his condition. A cablegram was sent to Richard Croker describing his condition. One of his most intimate friends will go to Canandaigua to-morrow to make arrangements for his proper treatment.

For the rest of the session the leadership of the minority in the Senate will fall upon Senator Donnelly, who represents the Tammany faction, and who has virtually been the leader since Senator Grady first gave signs of collapse seven weeks ago.

It was about seven weeks ago that Senator Grady first began to attract attention by his eccentric conduct. Three weeks ago his friends placed him under the care of a physician. He remained under the care of Dr. Ward, and was warned that he must stop his libations.

He did so for a time, and his friends began to hope that he would recover. A week ago last Monday night, the Senator created a sensation in the Senate by his theatrical conduct. He strutted about the Senate Chamber in a defiant manner and interjected remarks in the debate on the China bill which were of the most unparliamentary character.

At one point in the debate he roared at Senator Rainey, "You are the sort of statesman we would expect to pick pockets."

Senator Grady's last appearance in the Capitol was on Wednesday, when, after a night of excesses, he attempted to enter the Senate Chamber. Senator Bernard Martin and T. D. Sullivan compelled him to go to his home, where he sludged his attendants and appeared at a theatre.

He was in a box, demanded champagne and threw silver coins to performers. Two of his friends took him to his home. He did not move out again until he was taken to Canandaigua to-day.

J. P. MORGAN BUYS GAINSBOROUGH.

Millionaire Ready to Pay $125,000 for Famous Stolen Portrait.

GAINSBOROUGH'S PORTRAIT OF THE DUCHESS OF DEVONSHIRE, STOLEN IN LONDON IN MAY, 1876, AND RECOVERED ON MARCH 27TH, 1891, IN CHICAGO.

LONDON, April 16.—J. Pierpont Morgan has practically bought the famous Gainsborough portrait of the Duchess of Devonshire, which was stolen from this city twenty-five years ago and recently recovered in Chicago by payment of $5,000, through arrangements made by Pat Sheedy, the American gambler.

The price which the millionaire will pay for the canvas is given as $125,000. The Agnews, to whom it belongs, deny that the sale has been made, as it cannot be definitely closed until the return here of Sir Thomas Agnew, who is abroad.

J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., when asked regarding the matter to-day, admitted that his father was making negotiations for the picture, but would not say whether it had actually been purchased. "My father considers that should the negotiations for the Gainsborough be completed it will be time enough to talk about it then," he said. "For my part, I am not delegated to confirm or deny the report."

An authoritative statement, however, was made to the Associated Press to-day that Mr. Morgan has arranged to buy the Gainsborough picture recently recovered in Chicago. It was added that the price had not yet been finally determined upon.

An odd coincidence is that while this is being done for the picture is pending, Sir Thomas Agnew, head of the Bond street house, is in Constantinople.

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH.

Mother Left Three-Year-Old Alone to Play with Matches. Joseph Hart, Jr., three years old, of No. 161 Front street, Brooklyn, was burned to death this afternoon at his home. His mother, shortly after 3 o'clock, left him alone in her apartment. She had been gone less than twenty minutes when smoke issued from the room, and the cries of the child were heard. Neighbors broke in the door and saw the boy rolling on the floor. His clothes were ablaze. The flames were quickly extinguished, but Joseph died before the arrival of an ambulance. The boy had been playing with matches.

where years ago the thieves who stole the painting were imprisoned and in dire straits. They finally escaped and came to London, effected the robbery. Sir Thomas will return to find a fortune awaiting his decision, which there is no doubt will be an affirmative, for only yesterday a member of the firm when asked the price of the portrait, placed it at the figure that Mr. Morgan now expresses his willingness to pay.

Mr. Morgan is satisfied with the genuineness of the work, though it is now being widely questioned. It is contended that it is not a portrait of the Duchess of Devonshire, but of her friend, Lady Betty Foster, who married the Duke after the beautiful and talented Duchess died.

Furthermore it is contended that the canvas was the property of Miss Anne McGinnis, a school teacher in 1811, and she sent it for sale to John Bentley, dealer, who sold it for $50 to Wynn Ellis. At Christy's, in 1876, the Ellis collection was sold, and there the portrait had its first public exhibition.

Miss McGinnis told all her friends it was the portrait of a relative and many experts incline to the belief that it is not the portrait of any Duchess of Devonshire. It is now being engraved, but it is understood that Mr. Morgan has made the purchase, if his offer is accepted, that no copies will be made.

It is reported that Mr. Morgan recently paid an enormous sum for two famous paintings by Turner. And it is pointed out in this connection that Wynn Ellis, who owned the Gainsborough, was also the possessor of three spurious Turners.

ALBANY, April 16.—The Court of Appeals has decided that the courts may review the action of the Court of Inquiry which investigated the conduct of Major Clinton H. Smith, of the Seventy-first Regiment, in the Santiago campaign, and upon the report of which he was dismissed from the National Guard by Gov. Roosevelt.

The decision gives the courts the right to decide whether he had a fair trial before the Court of Inquiry.

Police Commissioner Murphy met the Captains at Police Headquarters this afternoon as he promulgated. The Commissioner was presented to the Captains by First Deputy Commissioner Devery. There was much interest manifested in the meeting because Commissioner Murphy had threatened to talk about the efficiency of the force, and said that when the chiefs of police of the United States and Canada meet here next month they must be shown what a fine force it is. Then Commissioner Murphy left headquarters for the day.

"THE" ALLEN'S RAIDED AND ONE MAN WAS ARRESTED.

"The" Allen's West Side Club at 80 Sixth avenue, was raided this afternoon. Charles Bennett, forty-two years old, of 123 Waverley place, was arrested and arraigned before Magistrate Crane in the Jefferson Market Court charged with violating Section 351 of the Penal Code. The arrest was made by Detectives Monaghan, Nesbit, Sebeck and Wren of the Mercer street station. The detective captured the club about 2 o'clock and Monaghan placed a horse on the second race at Aqueduct. Bennett made out the ticket and received the detective's money and he was hauled under arrest.

POLICE CAPTAINS HALED TO COURT.

Hearing of Herlihy and Westervelt Postponed Until Thursday Next.

Police Captains John Westervelt, of the Church street station, and John Herlihy, formerly of the Eldridge street station, "Red Light" district, appeared in the Centre Street Court to-day, in answer to summonses issued at the instance of District-Attorney Philip A. Lehman, charging them with neglect of duty in failing to close legal papers in their district after they had been reported of their existence. They were represented by Attorney Fred House.

Mr. House pleaded that his mother's illness had kept him out of the city for a week and he had been unable to consult with his clients. He said he would be ready to take up the cases Thursday, and after consultation the District-Attorney suggested that Capt. Westervelt's hearing be set for that day. This was done. Both attorneys assured Magistrate Cornell that the hearing would be closed by the end of the week. The Police Captains did not appear to be worried over the proceeding. Capt. Herlihy said, laughingly: "This means more trouble for me, I guess, but I'm getting used to this sort of thing." Capt. Westervelt would make no comment, referring inquiries to his attorney.

BROOKLYN JUST BEAT ROCHESTER.

Strong Up-State Team Hold Champions Down to Small Score of 2 to 1.

The New National League Rules Puzzle the Players.

Special to The Evening World. WASHINGTON PARK, BROOKLYN, April 15.—The keen wind and an occasional flurry of rain threatened to prevent the game between the Brooklyn champions and Rochester's baseball team this afternoon. It was after 3 o'clock before Manager Ned Hanlon decided to let his men go on the field. Heavy sweaters were much in demand and the players had to hustle around in lively fashion to keep warm. The Rochesterers were out on the field as soon as the drizzling rain ceased to fall. They put in half an hour at practice before the Brookings decided to play. The bad weather kept the attendance down to a mere handful of spectators.

This is not the kind of baseball weather we had down south," said Manager Hanlon as he surveyed the elements before calling the game. "Both teams are here, however, and we may as well play."

Leaders Summoned to a General Conference and the Closing of the Trust Works Will Be Urged.

Agreements Made by the Combination with the Men Regarded as Violated and Men Have Several Grievances.

PITTSBURG, April 15.—President T. J. Shaffer, of the Amalgamated Association, to-day issued a call for a special meeting of the National Advisory Board together with the vice-presidents of every district in which the sheet combination has a plant. It will be held at National Headquarters in this city to-morrow morning.

President Shaffer, in speaking of the meeting to-morrow, said with considerable emphasis:

"I shall advise and urge all the members of the board to vote for an immediate closing of all the plants of the American Sheet Steel Company in the country. This will be the beginning of the fight, and I will say nothing further on the subject."

It is estimated that 60,000 men will go out if the order to strike in all the trust works is given.

When asked if the association could win by simply shutting down the sheet mills and whether an order would be sent out to close all the union tin-plate and steel plants of the United States Steel Corporation, Mr. Shaffer replied:

"I will say nothing more than this in the beginning, and you can take what meaning you desire from what I have said."

When President Shaffer was told of a report that the trouble at the McKeesport plant was not sufficiently serious to warrant the closing of all the union sheet mills, he said:

"That is not the only trouble. We have a number of grievances at the McKeesport plant, which will not be made public at the present time."

While he did not say so, he intimated that certain provisions of the scale are not being strictly complied with by the combination.

The strike at the Dewess Wood plant of the American Sheet Steel Company at McKeesport is still on. The mills being operated in a crippled condition. The strikers are patrolling the streets for the purpose of inducing the workmen to remain away from the mill, but they are keeping off the company's property and no trouble has occurred.

Samuel M. Cooper, general manager of the Wood plant, is opposed to the recognition of the Amalgamated Association. In an interview he said:

"This mill will never recognize the unions. The Wood mill had been opposed to the association as the forward from headquarters that the company will never recognize the union."

LONDON, April 16.—J. Pierpont Morgan said to-day that he had not received any word regarding the strike at McKeesport, and does not believe it is likely to assume serious proportions. Several English papers to-day prominently printed an item giving the idea that the strike will become general throughout the steel combination plants.

SWITCHMEN TIE UP COAL TRAINS.

SCRANTON, Pa., April 15.—Two hundred switchmen in the Lackawanna yards here, at Taylor and at Clark's Summit, struck this afternoon against the discharge of two men by Yardmaster Newell, who wanted to replace them. It is said, by men brought from Hoboken. There is a complete tie up of freight and coal traffic here and word has been sent down to Bloomsburg and other divisions to hold all trains. Three inches of fog, cars are at the station. Block on the Bloomsburg division between here and Pittston Junction.
