BOSTON FANS GUYED GIANTS.

Mathewson's Curves Were Freely Batted by Hubmen and He Got Little Support—Davis's Team Could Not Hit Nichols's Curves and Put Up a Farical Game in the Field.

(Special to The Evening World.) BANTOX PARK, BOSTON, Aug. 19.—The prettiest girl in the Quincey House dining-room looked the Giants over with a glance of ineffable scorn when they trooped in to breakfast this morning. Every man of them made a bee-line for her table and saluted her humbly.

"You, you, you lubbers!" was her withering greeting, as she flicked a napkin viciously over the table. "No wonder you draw flies."

None resented it. How could they when they had won but two games since they were here in July? But "Matty," who seems to be the prettiest maiden's most particular friend, softened her icy look a little by hastily scribbling these lines on the back of his breakfast card:

Oh, Boston girl, dear Boston girl, Pray don't so sternly frown us. But let a smile those sweet lips curl And throw this arms about us.

Verily, a soft answer turneth away wrath. She was visibly mollified, and all hands ordered codfish and baked beans.

After "Pop" Bell had drunk half his glass of water he spied a mysterious white substance in the bottom of the glass. He stirred it up and the water frothed at the top.

"Pop" called the waiter. "What's that?" he demanded. "La Suda alive!" she exclaimed. "Yes, it's suda all right," said "Pop."

"Soap suds, and I'd have you understand I've had my bath."

The incident jarred everybody. Lettner Is Released. Speaking of soap suds, and another bubble has burst. In Lettner, the late mute pitcher. He is no longer in the fold, having been released after Saturday's game with Brooklyn.

"He was Lett(n)er than air, and blew away, but we've got one left that's denser than mud," was Secretary Fred Knowles's horribly funny way of telling about it.

Hugh Duffy's Milwaukee aggregation of American Leagueers, Pink Hawley included, are in town, so Davis's outfit will have formidable competition this week. And as the Boston Americans are away up top in the race, our boys will be lucky to draw crowds enough to pay their car fares home.

It was Matty's turn to pitch to-day, but he has a game wing from a cold caught in the eleven-inning tie game with Boston at the Polo Grounds. He hoped to limber it up in time, however.

Slim Crowd Saw Game. There was certainly the slimmest bunch of fans seen at a National League game this year at the park. Right across the railroad track could be heard the yells of the American League rooters, and from the volume of sound they greatly outnumbered the Another Opportunity to Visit California. A special train of the Pennsylvania Railroad personally conducted tour system.

On September 23 the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will run a special train personally conducted tour to the Pacific Coast, covering a period of thirty days. It will travel by special train to Panama sleeping observation cars, and on the going trip will pass through the famous scenery of Colorado, stopping at the principal points of interest, including Lake City. A stop at San Francisco will be made in San Francisco during the General Triennial Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church. On the homeward trip the route will lie through Southern California via the Grand Canyon, and through the Southwestern States to St. Louis. Round trip rate, covering all the essential expenses while traveling on the special train, $18 from New York.

SQUADRON ORDERED TO HURRY SOUTH

War Vessels Cruising Off Nantucket—Headed for Hampton Roads.

NEW PLANS SIGNIFICANT.

North Atlantic Ships Were Scheduled for a Stay Off New England Coast.

NAANTUCKET, Mass., Aug. 19.—The North Atlantic squadron has received orders to sail to-morrow for Hampton Roads. All preparations for the continuance of the manoeuvres at this place have been countermanded and the vessels of the squadron are already getting up steam preparatory to their departure.

While the exact reason for the change of plans is not known, it is believed here that the trouble in South America has something to do with it. The vessels were scheduled to be in Newport on Aug. 25 and the camp here was to have remained until Friday next.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The Colombian Minister, Dr. Silva, had a conference to-day with Secretary Hay. Dr. Silva declared traffic on the Isthmus unobstructed and assured Mr. Hay of the ability of Colombia to keep it open.

So far as the United States Government is concerned, there never has been any purpose to exert any military force in keeping open Isthmian traffic unless it became perfectly plain that Colombia was unable to do so.

The United States undoubtedly will judge for itself when any occasion arises for exercising its authority on the Isthmus. A request from Colombia would be strong evidence that such occasion had arisen. But it is not essential to await a request or notice from that republic.

This discloses the fact that the movement of our warships southward has been entirely a precautionary measure to look after American interests in case of actual obstruction to traffic.

HOWISON MUST EXPLAIN TALK.

REAR-ADMIRAL TAKEN UP BY SCHLEY'S LAWYERS.

Member of Court of Inquiry Gave Interviews Favoring Sampson.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—During a conference with Acting Secretary Hackett to-day Lawyers Raynor and Wilson, counsel for Admiral Schley, advised him that a communication would be sent him this afternoon relative to certain statements reported to have been made by Rear-Admiral Howison, a member of the Court of Inquiry, in regard to the Schley-Sampson controversy.

The letter to Secretary Hackett will include copies of interviews purporting to have come from Admiral Howison, stating among other things that the battle of Santiago was won by Sampson; that the latter's presence was not necessary at the fight, and that of the two officers Sampson is the better one.

Mr. Hackett is requested to forward this communication to Admiral Howison for his consideration, and a copy of that officer's reply to the department is asked for.

BRAVE MISS RISKS LIFE FOR A CHILD

Dolly Denziger, Eleven Years Old, Leaps Into Water to Save Baby.

NO MAN HAD DARED TO.

The Little One Had Fallen from a Steamer on Greenwood Lake, N. J.

Dolly Denziger, the eleven-year-old daughter of wealthy New Yorkers staying at De Graw's Hotel, Greenwood Lake, N. J., jumped from the steamboat Wilhelmia yesterday afternoon and saved the life of a two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Purcell, of Sterling Forest, N. J.

The little miss is one of the most daring swimmers at the summer resort. Yesterday the steamer left the hotel filled with guests to go down the lake. William Seymour, of Paterson, was in charge of the excursion, and was at the wheel when the Purcell child fell into the water. One of "child overboard!" reached Mr. Seymour's ears and he stopped the boat. In the mean time not a man in the boat had the courage to jump in.

Miss Denziger, who was sinking a song, heard the splash, and seeing the baby in the water, jumped in. Catching the child by the hair, she began swimming for the shore. Mr. Seymour lowered a life-boat and went out to Miss Denziger and picked them both up.

The guests of the Lake were told of the affair last night, and to-day she was presented with a purse containing over $200 in gold.

Coal Train Ditched. KINGSTON, N. Y., Aug. 19.—A coal train was wrecked on the Ulster and Delaware Railroad late last night near Cold Springs. Eight coal cars went down an embankment. All traffic was suspended for five hours.

PRETTY WOMAN MURDER SUSPECT

MARIE GERARD, FRENCH, IN JAIL ON SUSPICION.

Man with Whom It is Alleged She Lived Was Found Stabbed in His Home Last Night.

Marie Gerard, a handsome French woman, thirty-three years old, living at No. 146 Macdougall street, was arraigned in the Jefferson Market Court to-day on suspicion and remanded for forty-eight hours.

It is believed the woman knows something about the way George Hopper, a waiter at the Waldorf-Astoria, received injuries which may result in his death. Hopper is a patient in St. Vincent's Hospital suffering from severe stab wounds in the abdomen.

According to Detectives Sheehan, Benning and O'Connor, of the Mercer street station, the woman lived at the Macdougall street house with Hopper and an Italian named Jaeser Gaylor.

Last night Hopper was found lying on the floor bleeding from a stab wound in the abdomen. The police were called and the injured man was taken to the hospital.

The woman says she does not know the whereabouts of Gaylor. The cause of the stabbing is a mystery.

RUSSIAN BARK MAY BE LOST. PENSACOLA, Fla., Aug. 19.—It is feared the Russian bark Neptune, Capt. Zettkoff, which sailed from here Aug. 10 for Montevideo, was lost in the recent storm. Pieces of the stern of a vessel bearing the name "Neptune" were picked up to-day on the outer beach of Santa Rosa Island, several miles out.

MISS WALTERS IS NOT AFRAID. Miss Lea G. Walters, who figures in the Simmons divorce suit in Westchester, and who Dr. Simmons says he will name as co-respondent, was seen at the Westchester Post-Office when she went for her mail. She said: "My position in the Simmons family is simply that of a friend. I love Mrs. Simmons very dearly. I cannot discuss troubles in the Simmons family, but the Doctor has no reason to feel unfriendly toward me."

When it was suggested that the people of Westchester were indignant over the matter and that tar and feathers had been talked of, Miss Walters said: "Well, e'm here now. I can very well take care of myself. I am not afraid of any man or woman. I love Mrs. Simmons and I will stick to her to the end."

7TH NATIONAL RECEIVER SUES. Receiver Raynor's lawyers explained that the suit was begun against Major because it was learned that he was about to sail for Europe in a few days, and he was one of the stockholders who had not paid his share of the amount to cover the claims of creditors.

Mr. Major denies that the suit has anything to do with his departure for Europe to-morrow. He states it is simply a test case which he will fight to the end.

BANK DIRECTOR MAJOR TO ANSWER IN COURT. Action for $50,000 Judgment May Follow Suit Just Begun.

Forrest Raynor, as receiver of the Seventh National Bank, began an action in the United States Circuit Court this afternoon against Guy T. Major, one of the stockholders of the bank. There was no complaint filed.

In the summons it is stated that judgment for $50,000 will be taken against Major, with interest from Aug. 15, if answer is not made within twenty days. The summons was served on Mr. Major at his office, No. 22 Liberty street.

WATCHMAN SHOT DEAD. Burglar Answered Inquiry with Bullet from Revolver.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 19.—Matthew McBride, a private watchman employed by residents of the fashionable Spangrill Hill district, in this city, was shot and killed by a burglar early to-day.

McBride was patrolling his beat when he came across a suspicious looking man and asked him his business. Without replying the fellow drew a revolver and fired straight into the officer's face and then fled. The bullet went through McBride's head, but he was still living when found. He died after relating the facts of the shooting.

WHY WORLD ADVERTISING GROWS—A proved supremacy by tens of thousands in New York City daily circulation tells the tale.

POLICE FEAR SUDDEN BLOW

"It Is Time for Action," Says Philbin and the Storm May Break Soon.

"IT IS A TIME FOR ACTION, NOT FOR TALKING."—District Attorney Philbin.

There was a calm about the Criminal Courts Building this afternoon that betokened a storm.

With all of the detectives out of the building, Justice Jerome, nervous and perspiring, and District Attorney Philbin with his nerves wrought to their highest tension, it is the general impression that something is apt to drop to-day and drop hard.

While Justice Jerome and Mr. Philbin will not talk, the foregoing remark of Mr. Philbin is held to indicate that the time about which he speaks is—NOW.

Whitney was cloaked a good share of the day with Justice Jerome, Assistant District Attorney Garvan and Stenographer Gould. When Justice Jerome was seen by the reporters he would only say: "I really can't talk to you at a time like this. We are making a great effort to clean up this matter. I will not talk now."

Time for Action. Mr. Philbin then said: "I have nothing to say. It is a time for action and not for talking."

It is generally believed that the matter is now up to the Grand Jury and that no time will be lost over the taking of testimony begins.

The fact that a well-known business man was before Justice Jerome—a man who is said to have paid tribute to the police for years—is foundation for the rumor that war may begin at any time.

The quiet which has reigned about Justice Jerome's headquarters is only the lull before the storm.

At Police Headquarters and in the precinct houses where police captains under suspicion are waiting for the final move on the part of the District Attorney the silence could be cut with a knife.

Everybody is perturbed. Arrests on bench warrants may be expected at any hour of the day if the evidence warrants it.

The District Attorney's office is indignant over the treatment it has received at the hands of Judge Dykman, of White Plains.

Dykman Won't See Gans. Justice Dykman granted a stay in the Diamond case, first, up to the time of argument, fixing the date at once or within two days, second, to have the stay apply to the trial of the action only and not to act as a stay to all proceedings.

Mrs. Gans called at the home of the Assistant District Attorney Garvan, who Justice Dykman refused to discuss the Diamond case. Surprised and mortified, Gans again called at the Dykman home to explain matters, and again was refused access.

The Assistant District Attorney had no alternative but to address a letter to the judge. It met with the same result. Mr. Gans then returned to New York and reported to District Attorney Philbin.

The District Attorney refused to discuss the matter.

Flood Before Jerome. Police Capt. Flood, of the Tenderloin Precinct, was summoned before Justice Jerome at 10 this afternoon. Assistant District Attorney Garvan was also there. It was said that the Captain had been called down to tell what he knew of the precinct. His examination was secret.

Seventy-five Lives Lost When the Treasure Steamer Islander Struck an Iceberg—Crew Do Deeds of Heroism, but Men Go Mad with Terror.

Seventy-five lives were lost by the sinking of the Alaskan steamer Islander, which struck an iceberg off Douglas Island, B. C.

Explosion of the sinking ship's boilers killed many who had taken to the boats. Others who reached the shore died of exposure to the intense cold.

The passengers fought like mad for places in the boats. But the crew performed feats of heroism, and Capt. Feeg, who was the last to leave the ship, lost his life. The survivors praise him and his men.

The wife of Gov. Ross, of Yukon Territory, his daughter and niece perished. Twenty-one bodies have been recovered, including Mrs. Ross's.

Treasure to the amount of $280,000 sank with the ship. One man clung to a bag of gold, which dragged him to his death.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 19.—The steamer Islander, flagship of the Canadian Pacific Navigation Company's fleet and largest and fastest boat on the Victoria-Skagway route, collided with an iceberg off Douglas Island, Alaska, at 2.30 o'clock Thursday morning and seventy-five souls went down with her.

She sank fifteen minutes after striking, carrying down scores locked in their staterooms, and, to add to the horror, others who had escaped in lifeboats and were making away were blown to atoms by a terrific explosion.

Twenty-one bodies have been recovered, including those of the wife of Gov. Ross, of Yukon, and her child and Dr. John M. Duncan, of Victoria.

United States Consul Smith, of Victoria, who was a passenger on the Queen from Juneau to Victoria, gleaned the following story of the wreck from among forty survivors:

"The Islander left Skagway for Victoria on Wednesday evening, the 14th, at 6 P. M., with 125 passengers and a crew of 61 men on board and 10 or 12 stowaways. All went well, the steamer making her usual record of 15 knots an hour until 3 o'clock Thursday morning, when Justice was
