HARVARD WINS THE FIRST BIG GAME BEFORE GREAT CROWD AT CAMBRIDGE

MISS HECKER IS THE NEW WOMAN GOLF CHAMPION.

Miss Genevieve Hecker is the woman amateur golf champion of the United States. The young Eastern girl defeated Miss Lucy Herron, her Western rival by 5 up and 3 to play in the final match of the tournament on the Baltusrol Club Links at Short Hills to-day.

and took more than its usual mild interest in the excitement. It was just 10:45 when Miss Hecker won the toss for the honor and drove a beautiful ball, which went straight as an arrow. Miss Herron also drove well, but was nearly 30 yards short in distance. She topped her next three shots. Miss Hecker reached the edge of the green in 4, but poor putting compelled her to halve the hole in 7. Both drove well for the second. Miss Herron getting the longer ball. She topped her third and fourth, while Miss Hecker was in three. Poor putting by both halved the hole in 5.

DAUGHTER SHOT HER MOTHER; CONDITION IS DANGEROUS.

Annie Schaeffel, twenty-seven years old, of No. 238 Second street, was shot in the right forehead this afternoon by one of her children. She was removed to Bellevue Hospital in a dangerous condition. The child, according to the mother's story, was playing with a pistol, when her husband, Rubin, tried to take it from the child. The husband grabbed it, and in so doing the cartridge exploded and struck the mother in the hand.

DEAN RICHMOND IN A COLLISION.

Hudson River Steamboat Crashed Into the Mary Powell—Both Vessels Proceeded. (Special to The Evening World.) ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 12.—The Dean Richmond, bound from Albany to New York City, and the Mary Powell, conveying an excursion party to this city, collided in a fog on the Hudson River nine miles north of Newburg at 7:40 o'clock this morning. The Mary Powell was damaged to the extent of $2,000. The Dean Richmond suffered little damage. No one was injured. The Dean Richmond left Albany last night loaded with passengers bound for New York City. A heavy fog was up on the river and the trip was made with a very slow rate of speed. The Mary Powell started from Cornwall and Marlboro, where it had been at the "Harvest Excursion," the final excursion of the season to this city. They were scheduled to stop at the principal places along the river to take on excursionists. When at a point on the river between Milton and Marlboro, where there were about 300 excursionists aboard, the collision occurred.

Harvard, 18 Columbia, 0

Ristine, Mifflin and Putnam Tore Holes Through the New Yorkers' Line, and Crimson Was Aided by Columbia's Wretched Fumbling. Harvard easily defeated Columbia on Soldiers' Field at Cambridge this afternoon. The score was: Harvard, 18; Columbia, 0. The result was a great surprise, as it was thought that Columbia had a chance to win. But the New York players were helpless before the splendid team play and fierce plunges of the Harvard men. Columbia fumbled badly, too, and helped Harvard to win.

PRINCETON 35, LEHIGH 0.

PRINCETON TEAM WAS SHIFTED TO STRENGTHEN IT. Meter Played at Full-Back Instead of Quarter-Back, While Pearson Snapped the Ball. (Special to The Evening World.) PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 12.—The game this afternoon between the Tigers and Lehigh was full of interest from the beginning. This was not so much on account of the close game, but because of the fact that every one was anxious to see how the recent shifting of positions on the Princeton team affected the play. Meter was at full-back instead of at his old position of quarter. Yesterday he had his first trial at this position and proved himself an excellent line plunger, but rather weak in the punting department. Pearson will take Meter's place at quarter-back. He played a brilliant game this afternoon, but was not experienced enough in the position to keep in all the time. Dana played at guard. This was his first appearance in a match game this season. Lehigh scored against Princeton last year. This made the Tigers harder and put up as good a game as they were capable of.

DOWNFALL OF RICH MAN'S SON

JURY DECLARES EDWARD MARTENS INCOMPETENT. Former Police Commissioner of Mount Vernon and Had a Curious Marital Experience. Edward Martens, of Mount Vernon, formerly Police Commissioner, was declared incompetent by a Sheriff's jury sitting at White Plains this morning. Herbert D. Lent acted as commissioner under appointment of Judge Keogh, of the Supreme Court. A trustee will be appointed next week to care for his property, which is a life interest in $100,000. Mrs. Martens was the petitioner. The verdict was reached on the testimony of Dr. Charles L. Phillips, of Manhattan, and William H. Martens, a brother of Edward. Edward Martens is a son of the late Gard Martens, a sugar refiner, who left a fortune of over $1,000,000. He is thirty-two years old. Last November Martens was married to Adelaide L. Ballard, formerly of Gold en's Bridge, N. Y., but at last time in the city. The marriage was not made public for several weeks. They lived together only a short time. Mrs. Martens lives at the Hotel Cecil, One Hundred and Eighteenth street and St. Nicholas avenue. Mr. Martens is residing with his sister, Mrs. Hempel, in Mount Vernon.

YALE SCORES 24, ANNAPOLIS 0.

WINS VICTORY IN THE FIRST GAME PLAYED BY NEW HAVEN ELEVEN ON NAVAL GRIFFON. ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 12.—For the first time in the history of football at the Naval Academy the Naval Cadet team battled with the sons of Old Eli on the griffin this afternoon. The Yale squad of forty men arrived this morning. Yale played the Medical College in Baltimore yesterday, but saved her best men for the game this afternoon. The line up is as follows: Positions. Navy. Yale. (Capt.) E. E. Read. Navy. Goss. Yale. L. T. Rodgers. In. Yale. C. T. Carpenter. Hoag. Yale. H. T. Belknap. Orest. Yale. R. G. Adams. Swan. Yale. H. E. Soule. De Saules. Yale. G. H. Smith. Cochran. Yale. H. H. Strassner. Hart. Yale. W. H. Land. Nichols. In the first half it was shown that Old Eli was entirely too strong for the navy. The contest only had the hall twice during the half, and could make no good games. Wilhelm made two touchdowns for Yale and Orest kicked both goals. The time was twenty minutes. Yale made two more touchdowns in the second half on runs by Hogan. Orest kicked both goals. Final score: Yale, 24; Navy, 0.

FIERCE FIGHT FOR WOMAN ON BOAT.

Knives Reported to Have Been Drawn on Lucania—Great Excitement—Officers Deny Story. A fight between two Italians over a woman, which resulted in knives being drawn, occurred at midnight last night in the steerage of the Cunarder Lucania while she lay off Sandy Hook in the fog. The combatants were separated before they did any harm to each other, but the story became current on board that a man had been murdered, and the excitement among the cabin passengers was great. One of the steerage stewards reported the trouble and several of the crew were sent into the steerage and quiet was soon restored. When the Cunarder reached her pier to-day the officers denied the story. It was learned, however, that a policeman and a Central Office detective on duty at the pier made an investigation. No arrests were made.

MONEY GONE; GIRLS WON'T SURRENDER.

Jeremiah Sullivan Wasted $90,000 Patrimony and Committed Suicide. After spending a fortune of $90,000 in less than ten years, Jeremiah Sullivan, a young bachelor prominent in the society circles of Jersey City, killed himself this morning by jumping into the Morris Canal. Sullivan was thirty years old, and lived in a handsomely furnished bachelor apartment at No. 232 Railroad avenue. Ten years ago his father left him nearly $100,000 in his own right. Sullivan was fond of society, convivial, a lover of good horses and enthusiastic over all sports. He gave full vent to his tastes and the fortune soon began to melt away. He played the races and lost heavily. Two months ago Sullivan sold the last piece of property he owned to him. It was a house and it did not take him long to spend the proceeds. Last night he returned to his home to find himself penniless. He remained there for a few hours, then he stole out in the quiet of the early morning hours and walked down Pacific avenue to the Morris Canal. The water looked inviting and he jumped in. A policeman found his dead body floating on the surface of the canal at 5 o'clock to-day. It was removed to Spear's Morgue. Sullivan had no relatives and his body will be buried in Potter's Field.

MORRIS PARK RACE-TRACK, Oct. 12.—The stewards of the Westchester Racing Association have suspended Jockey H. Michaels for the balance of the meeting for fraudulent practices and have referred the case to the stewards of the Jockey Club for further consideration. Michaels is accused by Detective Robert Pinkerton of pulling Wild Pirate off the last time the horse ran. Pinkerton says that Michaels's valet, a boy named Silver, tempted the boy to pull. The boy denies this and says he did not pull Wild Pirate.

Michael Brady, aged forty-nine years, a wealthy sugar planter of St. Croix, who was a passenger per steamer Madiana, was a raving maniac when the steamer arrived in port this morning. Mr. Brady boarded the steamer at St. Croix. Soon after leaving that port he showed symptoms of insanity. During the voyage his condition became serious, much so that Capt. Frazer was obliged to confine him in the ship's hospital. Brady, Capt. Frazer said, was very violent at times and had the other passengers badly scared. He had to be kept under restraint since Tuesday last. He smashed the fixtures in his stateroom and threw furniture overboard. A friend called to calm him to-day on board the ship, but he was not released. He will probably be deported by the Commissioner of Immigration.

WILLIAMSBURG WRAPPER WORKERS SHOUT DEFIANCE FROM LIBERTY HALL.

The girl strikers of the Cooper Wrapper Works in Williamsburg met at Liberty Hall, on McKibbin street, this morning. There were 150 of them, and every one wore determination written on her face. The trouble of last night with the police had the effect of frightening some of them, but the attitude of their leader, Rose Solomon, soon allayed their fears. The strikers made a disturbance last night, and the police were roughly handled when they interfered in behalf of the non-union employees. As soon as the non-union employees left the factory they were attacked by the strikers. The strikers blocked and half a dozen persons were injured. The strikers were finally put to flight. The new guards fought their assailants as well as they could, but were outnumbered, and the police came to their rescue. Having to face women, the police did not want to use their clubs, and were consequently badly beaten until they resorted to their clubs and thus scattered the crowd. Detective Tracy was felled during the fight by Elise Israel, an artist, of No. 96 Boerum street, who was urging on the strikers. He fell in front of a car and narrowly escaped being run over.

HERRIEN'S ELIGIBILITY.

It was reported before the game that Herrien's eligibility might be decided upon by the Columbia faculty to-day in time for the game, so that it was not known to the general public whether he would play or not. All the teams lined up for the kickoff. If Herrien played Columbia would have the same back field as she did last year at Cambridge with the exception of Hoverson at quarter. In the line the men whom the spectators watched with the greatest interest, because they played in the same places last year, were Bruce at centre, Smythe at left tackle, and Van Hovenburgh at right end. Compared with Williams. The one great thing that influenced the betting with the crowds was the respective showing made by Columbia and Harvard against Williams.
