before they reach the Kansas River, he has telegraphed to Sheriffs and other officers to guard the bridges. Answering telegrams received to-day from the neighborhood of Linwood, Kan., and several other points say farmers well armed are watching the bridges.

relays they are trying to outrive the officers to the Territory. The soldiers are keeping a watch over the reservation. All work at the new penitentiary site is suspended and the convicts held in cells that the guards can take up the hunt. Pictures of the convicts at large are being mailed to chiefs of police throughout this section of the country.

WALKER WINSTON FAILS TO GET CUSTODY OF CHILD.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court to-day handed down a decision denying the appeal of Walker Winston from an order awarding the custody of Lillian Winston, his daughter, to Lillie Winston, who was his wife.

The Winstons separated on June 5, 1895, and on that day signed articles of separation by which the custody of the child was given to the mother. The child is now ten years old.

Mrs. Winston got an Oklahoma divorce, subsequently declared void here, and married Dr. James M. Ludden. Much litigation has resulted.

John Lawler, a Discharged Workman, Wounds a Nun and Is Under Arrest.

LAKELWOOD, N. J., Nov. 8.—Sister Superior Agnes, head of a corps of teachers who came here from Phillipsburg three years ago to establish the Academy of St. Mary of the Lake, was shot this morning by John Lawler, a discharged workman.

Lawler called shortly before 9 o'clock this morning apparently sober and very humble, simply asking for a personal meeting in the presence of others, that he might apologize and obtain the forgiveness of Sister Agnes before he left the place.

denly insane, rushed from room to room in his search for her. Sister Stephanie grappled with him for the revolver, but was savagely thrown off, with her hand badly lacerated. A paperhanger, who was at work in the house, also tried to get the weapon, but was warned to keep his distance, as there were "four more left."

BEAUTIFUL MRS. A. S. WHITE KILLED IN HER BATHROOM.

When Archibald S. White, president of the Salt Trust, reaches New York from Chicago to-night he will find instead of the handsome, healthy wife he missed good-bye a few days ago, the corpse of his helpmeet.

MRS. CHARTRAND'S STORY BELIEVED BY BROTHERS.

That Mrs. Vencedora Chartrand intended to end her own life with the revolver which killed her husband is the theory of the prosecuting officials of Hudson County, N. J.

They Are Ready to Spend All They Possess to Prove Shooting of Her Husband Was Accidental.

Every legal effort known is to be made to save Mrs. Chartrand from conviction. Her lawyer, John J. Fallon, of Hoboken, to-day called into the case one of Jersey's ablest pleaders, ex-Judge Hoffman, of Monmouth County, the special attorney engaged by McAlister in the Jennie Boschler case.

was held within an inch of the head. Chief of Detectives Jules Nelson, of Jersey City, who has had charge of the case against Mrs. Chartrand, explained to-day the theory of the prosecution.

"The only part of her story I believe is that she shot her husband after she put her arms about his neck. There is nothing discordant in that with the theory that she intended to follow his death with suicide."
