

AGAINST THE RULES TO AID THESE TOTS!

SURPRISING ATTITUDE OF CHARITY SOCIETY OFFICIAL.

Said He Could Not Help McDonald Children, Whose Parents Have Small-Pox.

Dr. Blauvelt, Chief of the Bureau of Contagious Diseases, was indignant this morning when he was told in relation to the Charity Organization Society...

The eight children, all under fourteen years of age, were left penniless. Dr. Blauvelt sent inspectors to the house at No. 219 West Sixty-second street...

Dr. Blauvelt notified the Charity Organization Society of the condition of the children. He was called up at his office by a woman, who said she was a representative of the society...

"The house is now perfectly safe, madam," said he. The woman then informed him that the society could not send agents to such places, as it was against their rules.

"But, madam, these children are in need of aid and this house is perfectly safe." The woman said she could not help that, as the rules of the society must be enforced.

3-PLATOON SYSTEM AT AN END TO-DAY.

PARTRIDGE SENDS POLICE BACK TO LONG HOURS.

Declares that All the Inspectors Agreed with Him on Wisdom of the Step.

At 5 o'clock this morning the three-platoon system for which the police gave up $50,000, and which was inaugurated by Commissioner Murphy after it had failed to become a law at Albany, died officially with Commissioner Partridge as chief exponent.

As a result of the attacks on the two-platoon system, Commissioner Partridge today made public a long statement in defense of his system. "It is merely a question," he said, "of whether the interests of the 5,000,000 inhabitants of this city or those of the 7,000 policemen shall be considered."

HIS BANK ACCOUNT SHORT.

NEW YORK, N. J., Feb. 10.—The Farmers and Merchants Bank of Manhattan was defendant in the Court of Chancery today in a suit in which Edward Ferry, a brick manufacturer of the same place, demands an accounting.

Ferry alleges that he was a depositor in the bank from 1892 to 1905. During that time he claims that in some manner his account ran short $7,500. Experts on banking were called.

INDIAN'S STEADY SPRINGING KILLS MANY TEAMS IN BIG SIX-DAY RACE.

Hegelman and Cavanagh, German-Irish Team, Still Hold Their Big Lead.

DAVIS.

(Continued from First Page.) before 10 o'clock, and for a couple of hours raised by everybody on the ellipse. He passed the Indian and all the sprinters, much to the delight of the crowd.

The Indian went on the track at 10 o'clock and his partner, Carroll, went on at Carroll did as well as the Indian. He has a very steady, resolute style, without any waste energy in his running.

Cavanagh relieved Hegelman at 11 o'clock and for a few laps the Irishman trailed Carroll. The latter was soon relieved by the Mohawk, who received a storm of applause. Interest has centered on these two teams, and that the crowd is watching them all the time is shown by the fact that every time the Indian or Carroll gained a lap there was tremendous applause.

Binner, whose remarks will have added significance by reason of lantern slides specially prepared for this occasion.

he left the track at 7 o'clock. "That my kid, Willie has got a game knee and it is hard on him. He fell and hurt it on the ice last week." "Where is your kid?" the "Lepper" was asked.

"There he is," said the "Lepper." He proudly pointed to a veritable giant straddling about the track. "Kid Willie" weighs 200 pounds and is the biggest man in the race.

Another character is Barnes, the 22 A. R. man, who jogs about the track wearing a soldier's cap. Barnes is a man about fifty years of age, tall and gaunt. About two years ago he walked from Marinette, Wis., to Philadelphia on a wagon. His partner is Sammy Day, the old time English runner.

STRENUOUS LIFE OF THE SMITHS.

WIFE ACCUSES HUSBAND OF THREATENING TO SHOOT.

He Asserts That She Actually Shot At Him—Justice Gaylor to Decide Separation Suit.

In a suit for separation brought before Justice Gaylor in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, Mrs. Maggie Smith, of No. 28 Rosklyn street, alleges inhuman treatment. She says that two years after their marriage in 1888 her husband, Charles B. Smith, threatened her with a rifle and with a jack knife, that he finally drove her from her home and smashed all the furniture and belongings in the house.

Lord Salisbury knows what he is talking about. The Irish movement was never as threatening as it is now and the British public are beginning to realize that there is something in it.

ALBERT'S STORY OF SIX-DAY RACE.

Written expressly for The Evening World by Frank Albert, world-renowned six-day pedestrian and cyclist.

On one of the best tracks ever built forty-one teams mostly untried talent, last night started in a week's journey at Madison Square Garden. How many teams out of the eighty men will finish the race was a question asked me fifty times last night. That is rather hard to say, possibly fifteen teams, but no more.

This race may develop a new champion, but from the appearance of the men's style of running, I cannot see a chance for any such to appear. New champions are developed with a greater rapidity in the bicycle game, where pace will assist one, but one gets no assistance from his competitors in foot racing.

A six-day footrace is undoubtedly much harder than a six-day bicycle contest. In a footrace all one's weight is on the feet, while on a bicycle the weight is distributed on the saddle, handle-bars and pedals. Then, again, the continual running jars the stomach, putting it out of condition much easier than the free, easy movements of the system while on a bicycle.

The stomach is the principal organ, and the easiest in our system to get out of order in a long-distance contest. The change for the worse in the boy's illness is most noticeable in the conduct of the school employees and nurses. They go about in a subdued manner, with serious, solemn faces. Each time a nurse leaves the sick room she is surrounded by others, all eagerly inquiring as to the progress of the case.

Parents Much Worried. The President and Mrs. Roosevelt stood at one of the windows talking earnestly for almost half an hour. Both are much worried and have suffered from loss of sleep.

The President's face is careworn, and he has lost the spry, jaunty step so characteristic of him. That he intends remaining for some days was shown by the arrival of a secret-service man from Washington, bearing official papers that demanded the President's immediate attention. The agent handed the papers to Secretary Cortelyou, but because of the boy's serious condition they have not been submitted to the President. The doctors expect the case to reach a crisis either to-morrow or Wednesday.

They will all stop at the Madison House until March 2, when they will leave for Boston. The leaders will make their first speech in the Academy of Music next Sunday night.

IRISH LEADERS HERE FOR WORK.

REDMOND AND DEVLIN COME TO GET AMERICAN AID.

Believe Their Cause Was Never So Threatening to England as Now.

William K. Redmond and Joseph Devlin, the United Irish League leaders, arrived here on the White Star steamship "Cymru" today.

Redmond seemed to be very enthusiastic over the success which he and the League was having, and said that it was never as strong as it is now. When asked what he thought of Lord Salisbury's remark which he uttered in a recent speech, "England is not afraid of the Boers," it is afraid of the Irish," he said:

GAGE TO BE HEAD OF U. S. TRUST CO.

LIKELY TO SUCCEED JOHN A. STEWART SOON.

Lyman J. Gage, ex-Secretary of the Treasury, will in all probability accept a position with the United States Trust Company. Intimation to this effect comes from the highest authorities in the financial district.

CARBOLIC ACID ENDED HER LIFE.

SARAH WALDMAN BORROWED MONEY TO BUY DRUG.

Sarah Waldman, twenty-two years old, of No. 24 Madison street, committed suicide this morning by swallowing carbolic acid.

CAVANAUGH.

I have competed successfully in nineteen six-day footraces and twenty-two six-day bicycle races, and would sooner ride 200 miles in a week on a bicycle than run 50 miles on foot.

The second most important member of the body in a footrace is the feet. Water blisters and blood blisters, often six inches long, will arise. These are extremely painful. The muscles of the hip become strained then and a man will show if he has learned the first lesson in suffering. For the benefit of the new element in this race, I will give a simple remedy for tired and sore feet.

One that I have used many times. A quart containing rock salt, two ounces, borax, two ounces, alum, one ounce. Soak for ten minutes. When the soles of the feet are raw, rub with a couple of drops of turpentine. An excellent powder to rub the feet with is a mixture of equal parts of talcum, salicylic of soda, two grains; thoroughly rub while or before the man sleeps.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT, JR., IS MUCH WORSE.

DR. HAMILTON, NEW YORK EXPERT, CALLED.

It is now known that the pneumonia is complicated with typhoid. Dr. Hamilton, of New York, was hurriedly called to Groton to consult with the attending physicians. He is expected to arrive here early this afternoon, and will see the President's son at once. The calling in consultation of Dr. Hamilton is regarded here as indicating that the boy is exceedingly low, even more so than Secretary Cortelyou and the attending physicians care to admit.

It is stated that Miss Alice Roosevelt may be sent to-night if there is not a decided improvement in Theodore's condition. The younger children will not be allowed to come here, as the President does not care to subject them to the danger of contracting the disease.

The change for the worse in the boy's illness is most noticeable in the conduct of the school employees and nurses. They go about in a subdued manner, with serious, solemn faces. Each time a nurse leaves the sick room she is surrounded by others, all eagerly inquiring as to the progress of the case.

DR. LAMBERT ALSO HURRIES TO GROTON.

CEREBRAL MENINGITIS TEDDY, JR.'S DISEASE.

From an eminent lung specialist it was learned today that the disease which has caused Groton's illness is not pneumonia, but cerebral meningitis. The specialist to-day said that the disease which has caused Groton's illness is not pneumonia, but cerebral meningitis.

SICK BOY CALLED FATHER TO BEDSIDE.

GROTON, Mass., Feb. 10.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., is a very sick boy today. The doctors hope for the best, but everybody about the Groton school building, where the President's son lies ill of pneumonia, wears a very grave face.

At 2 o'clock the condition of the patient was unchanged. A New York specialist has been summoned and will be here to-night. The lung hitherto clear was found by the doctors to be affected this morning, and the respiration and temperature were higher, but the pulse was better.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT, JR., IS MUCH WORSE.

(Continued from First Page.) return of President Roosevelt to Washington. He can remain in Groton for two days, at least so far as the pressure of public business is concerned. It seems likely that it will be a week before he leaves. Every facility has been given him with regard to communication with Washington.

A special telephone line has been run from the residence of Dr. Gardner direct to the White House for the President's private use. All the Presidential mail comes to Groton by way of Worcester and Ayer.

It was learned today that another student of the school, John E. Thayer, Jr., of Lancaster, is ill with pneumonia at his home. The other two boys, William E. Porter, of New York, and William Gammel, of Providence, who are ill in the school building with the same disease, were reported slightly improved this morning.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—A despatch received at the White House this morning from Secretary Cortelyou, who is the President and Mrs. Roosevelt at Groton, Mass., says the condition of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., is not quite so favorable as it was last night.

The disease now involves both lungs. The temperature has risen and respiration is not satisfactory. There is said to be, however, no immediate danger.

DR. LAMBERT ALSO HURRIES TO GROTON.

Dr. Alexander Lambert, of No. 125 East Thirty-sixth street, has been hastily summoned to the bedside of the President's son. He left this city this morning and will reach Groton this evening.

Dr. Lambert is a visiting physician at Bellevue and also at New York Hospital. He was formerly assistant bacteriologist to the Health Board. He is professor of clinics at the Cornell University Medical College, and is well known to the medical fraternity of this city.
