

LEWISOHN DEAD OF PNEUMONIA.

Noted Financier Succumbs to Dread Disease in London.

WENT ABROAD FOR HEALTH

Instead, However, He Contracted a Cold Which Resulted Fatally.

A cablegram received in this city early today announced the death of Leonard Lewisoohn, the banker and speculator, in London at 5 1/2 this morning.

Death was due to pneumonia, which developed from a cold which Mr. Lewisoohn contracted aboard ship on his way to Europe in search of health less than a month ago.

Mr. Lewisoohn was fifty-four years old, a native of Hamburg, and came to this country at the age of thirteen as an agent for his father, who was a feather dealer.

He lived at No. 14 East Fifty-seventh street, which was also the home of the majority of his five sons, several of whom have already become well known in Wall Street.

In ill-health from overwork, Mr. Lewisoohn sailed from this city on Feb. 18 to go to Carlsbad, Austria, for a course at the baths.

He was accompanied by one of his daughters, who contracted a slight cold on board the steamer from remaining too long on deck during a storm.

Thinking that the cold had passed off Mr. Lewisoohn spent much time in sightseeing in London and brought on a fresh ailment which rapidly induced an attack of pneumonia.

Physicians were called in. They feared from the start that the disease had made fatal headway.

The story of Mr. Lewisoohn's rise is another tale like those in the story books. Forsaking the feather business to become an importer of metals at an early age, his ventures in this line soon were conducted on such extensive plans that he became a leading figure in the metal trade.

So it was no surprise that along with William Rockefeller, H. H. Rogers and Thomas W. Lawson, of Boston, he was prominent in the organization of the $100,000,000 Copper Trust three years ago.

His experience in copper dated back to almost a quarter of a century ago, when Mr. Lewisoohn went to Montana, which was then without a railroad, and opened up rich, untapped and Montana mines. While in the West he received expert advice which resulted in the opening of many paying veins of copper in that section.

With his Montana ventures firmly and successfully established, Mr. Lewisoohn went to Lake Superior, and it was not long before he held the controlling interest in the Okeochee, Isle Royale and Farnsworth mines.

Shortly after this Mr. Lewisoohn returned to New York to devote some of his attention to the banking firm of Lewisoohn Bros., at No. 11 Broadway, of which he was the founder.

He became prominent, recently as a philanthropist, giving over a hundred thousand dollars to Hebrew charity organizations.

Mr. Lewisoohn spent the summer at Newport, where he had a residence. In June 2 of last year his magnificent $500,000 steam yacht, christened the Irene in honor of his daughter, was launched. Characteristic of his plain, modest and quiet manner, Mr. Lewisoohn never went to the yacht in a showy or ostentatious manner. His order of the building of his palatial yacht was an index to his modesty. "Build me the finest thing you can now cost," he quietly told the shipbuilder. "I will mind how much it will cost, but have it finished as soon as you can."

The result was a vessel which is properly described as a full column in newspaper. Mr. Lewisoohn's body will be brought back to the St. Louis.

DRUNKARD'S WILL DENIED PROBATE.

COURT WILL NOT ALLOW BEQUEST TO LAWYER.

Torrey Must Show That He Did Not Exert an Undue Influence.

The will of William A. Hinton, leaving $5,000 to his lawyers, was denied probate today by Surrogate Thomas A. the ground that Hinton was an imbecile inebriate sleeping in a hotel during the day at 15 cents a night.

At a week and drawing about $25 each day from a trust fund entrusted to his sister by the lawyer, who was enabled to acquire a governing influence over him.

The will was made Jan. 5, 1901. Hinton died last August. Hinton signed it in the office of the lawyer, Harry Overington. It named him as sole executor and bequeathed $5,000 to him, the residue to Elizabeth Hinton, his only sister, who contested the will. Hinton left $30,000, the remainder of the estate to his brother.

Surrogate Thomas said: "Hinton spent the money about $25 Overington each morning in food and drink, and was generally in an extremely drunk before he made the will."

The Surrogate says that Hinton should make a good will like the one made. It devolved upon Overington to make this will, and the Surrogate says that Hinton was an imbecile inebriate sleeping in a hotel during the day at 15 cents a night.

What They Are. Grape-Nuts Food.

A widespread interest has been created among good liver as to the composition of Grape-Nuts, the popular food. It has long been known to physicians, chemists and food experts that the starchy portion of entire wheat flour and barley is transformed into a fine and very choice sugar by the act of intestinal digestion in the human body.

This sugar is identical with and is known as grape-sugar, and it is in condition for immediate transformation into blood and the necessary structure from which the delicate nerve centres are built up.

A food expert of the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich., following a line of experiments until he produced the food called Grape-Nuts, of which grape-sugar forms the principal part, and it is produced by following out Nature's processes in a mechanical way. That is, heat, moisture and time are the methods employed and directed by scientific facts gained in research.

Grape-Nuts are probably entitled to the claim to be the most perfectly adapted food for human needs now extant. Certain it is that the user's delight in the flavor and the perfect action of intestinal digestion during the use of Grape-Nuts is satisfying, and the added strength of body confirms the fact.

ADMIRAL SAMPSON'S SON APPOINTED TO ANNAPOLIS.

Roosevelt Follows Out President McKinley's Promise to Father.

RALPH SAMPSON.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—In accordance with his expressed determination to fulfill the promise of President McKinley to appoint Rear-Admiral Sampson's son to the next vacancy, President Roosevelt has appointed Ralph Sampson a cadet at the Annapolis Naval Academy.

Rear-Admiral Sampson applied to President McKinley soon after the destruction of the Spanish fleet off Cuba, for the appointment of his son, and was assured that he would be named when next an appointment at large was to be made.

After the death of President McKinley all applicants for the appointment were told by President Roosevelt that he would carry out his predecessor's wishes.

Ralph Sampson, who is fifteen years old, has been fitting at Washington and Annapolis for the examination. He is a bright, sturdy boy and was very popular among the boys at Glen Ridge, N. J., while at the Sampsons' home there. His father boasted there was that he would some day be an admiral.

Reported since the outbreak of the plague here.

Spring Wretchedness, Misery and Suffering Permanently Banished When You Use

Paine's Celery Compound

A Cured and Grateful Farmer's Wife Declares That Paine's Celery Compound Almost Raised Her from the Grave.

A few words to weak, broken down, nervous and sick women at this time, and the personal of Mrs. Shepherd's letter will, we trust, kindly hope and inspire fresh confidence in many a home where some loved mother, wife or daughter is hovering between life and death.

At this season thousands are nearing the grave; all can be saved by the prompt use of Paine's Celery Compound. Mrs. Virginia Shephard, Powellton, W. Va., writes as follows:

"I had been sick for eight years, and no tongue can tell what I suffered. I would have spells of nervous headache when I would keep my bed five and six days, and could not raise my head off the pillow. Then I would get numb all over, and they would have to rub and work over me to keep me alive, and I would have sinking spells and palpitation of the heart, but thanks to Paine's Celery Compound, and I can not praise it enough, I have not had a headache for six weeks, a thing I could not say before in eight years. Your Compound has almost raised me from the grave, as I had given up all hopes of this life until my husband read one of your pamphlets. After I had been using it I felt better than I had for three years."
