TROLLEY KILLS CHESS PLAYER.

Dr. E. Wyand, of Brooklyn, Run Down in Flatbush Avenue and Ground to Pieces—Motorman Arrested.

Dr. E. Wyand, formerly a celebrated chess player, was run over and killed by electric car No. 1200, of the Seventh avenue line, Brooklyn, today. The accident took place on Flatbush avenue.

It required a half-hour's time to extract the fragments of the body and clothing from the machinery of the car, and in the mean time the shopping district became congested.

The victim was about fifty years old, wearing a gray mustache. He wore a suit of dark gray clothes, of fine material. He had a gold watch and chain and a considerable sum of money.

When the pieces of the body were gathered together they were taken to the Bergen Street Station.

Dr. Wyand lived at No. 486 State street, Brooklyn.

Cyrl Redmond, the motorman, who is a native of the British West Indies and has only been operating a car for four weeks as an extra hand, was arrested and locked up pending action by the coroner.

Redmond says there was no power on when Dr. Wyand was struck. The car, he declares, was running under its own momentum. Dr. Wyand attempted to run across in front of the rapidly moving car, says the motorman, and was caught in the fender and thrown before the car could be stopped.

"TOM" COAKLEY GOT DIVORCE FOR HER. Politician Brings Suit for His Pretty Daughter, Who Had Never Lived with Her Husband

Anna C. Doyle, who is nineteen years old and comely, received a decree of absolute divorce from James J. Doyle today. The suit was brought in her behalf by her father, Thomas A. Coakley, of No. 325 Park avenue, for many years sergeant-at-arms of the Board of Aldermen.

Justice Leventritt, of the Supreme Court, presided at the trial.

The young wife testified that she was married to Doyle at St. Patrick's Cathedral March 2, 1901, but never lived with her husband.

Charles Paradise testified that out of pure friendship for Mr. Coakley, whom he had known for many years, he had shadowed his son-in-law and secured evidence against him on which the divorce was granted.

HERE ARE THE NEW STREET SIGNS TO ADORN GOTHAM.

City's Highways Will Now Be Marked by Ornamental Devices—Letters Can Be Read for a Block, Day or Night.

CITY'S NEW STREET SIGN.

This is the street sign adopted by the Board of Aldermen. In a brass frame of ornamental design is an electric light and on the four sides are the glass plates on which appear the names of the streets. It may be read a block away night and day.

This is the sign which Comptroller Grout said was too fancy for New York, that the city could not afford to pay the $40,000 required for such signs. But the Aldermen listened to Mayor Low, who said he thought the city should have them, and the Aldermen voted the money. The placing of these signs has been the effort of President Cantor.

President Cantor has tried to impress upon the Aldermen the necessity for street signs many times, but each time Mr. Grout cried "no money." This time, however, the Mayor took a hand and the signs were provided.

MAIMS MAN HE ROBS IN STREET.

Thug Breaks the Leg of His Victim, a Wealthy Shoe Dealer—Police Look for Assailant.

Oliver D. Collins, a respected retired shoe dealer of the Highlands of Nave sink, was held up by a desperate highwayman in West Fourth street, between Ninth and Tenth avenues, in broad daylight this morning, and after being treated with such violence that his leg was fractured he was relieved of all his valuables as he lay on the sidewalk.

The thief, a burly negro, escaped, although an alarm was raised before he had completed the work of rifling his victim's pockets.

Mr. Collins was walking through West Fourth street at 5 o'clock and was in front of No. 337 when the negro rushed from a doorway and landed a powerful blow with his fist over the pedestrian's heart.

Mr. Collins, who is sixty-five years old, was struck on the forehead by the force of the blow. He fell heavily and his leg was fractured by the fall. He attempted to rise, but found himself helpless. Then he cried for help, but the negro leisurely unbuttoned his coat and searched his pockets. He took a gold watch and chain and some money. He then ran off as persons living in the vicinity opened their windows.

The houses there are occupied by negroes. They became greatly excited. It was there that fierce battles of the race riots of two years ago were fought and the occupants of houses, believing that they might be punished because of the looking white man they saw on the sidewalk, feared to go to his aid.

Patrolman Lane responded. He had Mr. Collins removed to a hospital. He has been in the hospital since he was brought there or to the amount of money he lost. The police of the West Forty-seventh station are searching for the negro.

Beck, who derives a good income from a pavilion and summer theatre, holds that the dining pavilion encroached on his land in the tracks. He also claims that the railway is to be built on his land and that the railway company is to be built on his land.

NO WORK; HE DIED. George Hildebrand, forty-five years old, committed suicide today by hanging himself to a beam in his apartment at No. 121 Navy street, Brooklyn. He was a well-to-do man and had secured a job at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

WOMAN SAT ON THUG SHE CAUGHT

Janitress Simmons Demonstrates One of the Advantages of Being Fat—Burglar Was Armed.

It is well at times to be fat. One of these times is when you get a burglar down. Sit on him and yell, and if you are fat enough he won't wiggle until the policeman comes.

Janitress Simmons, of No. 296 Vanderbilt avenue, Brooklyn, has reason to be thankful that she is of substantial weight. Last night she met a negro coming out of the cellar of her place. She grabbed him by the neck, banged his head against the wall, threw him down on the floor, hurled her 200-pound pounds ponderously upon him and mashed him so that mere breathing became a life-and-death struggle.

Meanwhile she used the more feminine accomplishment of screaming. Her husband, who is more of a light-weight sprinter than a heavy-weight fighter, chased after a policeman, who came and arrested the negro. The man had a revolver and a slungshot in his pocket, but he never had a chance to use either of them on Janitress Simmons.

The thief said he was John Wilson, of No. 189 Navy street. He had pried up a lot of things in the cellar preparatory to taking them away when Mrs. Simmons discovered him while he was making a reconnaissance.

Pretty Ellen Keerigan May Regret that Hospital Doctors Saved the Life She Swallowed Acid to Throw Away.

In St. Mary's Hospital Ellen Keerigan lies today, slowly coming back to life after a determined attempt at suicide. She is a slight, pale girl, only fifteen years old. Her beauty is spoiled forever by the scars of the burns inflicted by the carbolic acid she drank and spilled upon herself.

Ellen lived with her parents at No. 181 Buffalo avenue, Brooklyn. She recently left her home telling her mother that she was going out to work. She came back last night and her mother learned that she had not been working and she spoiled her.

Therefore, Ellen was downhearted. She went to her room and drank the acid. Her mother heard her moans and ran to her.

"Mother, I'm going to die," said the girl, but a doctor who was called gave her an antidote and then sent her to the hospital.

When Ellen recovers, as the doctors say she surely will, and looks at her badly scarred face she may be sorry that she did not accomplish her purpose. She was famous in her neighborhood for her good looks.

DESERTED WIFE TRACED HUSBAND.

Bretternitz, Who Married a Wealthy Man's Daughter in Jersey City, Found Working in New York Subway.

Julius Bretternitz, who disappeared from Jersey City several months ago, has been arrested in New York on a charge of deserting his wife.

Bretternitz married Miss Johanna Dickson, daughter of a wealthy manufacturing manufacturer of Jersey City. When he disappeared several months ago, it is alleged, several hundred dollars of the funds of the Seventh Ward Democratic Club, of which he was treasurer, was discovered to be missing.

Mrs. Bretternitz recently informed the Jersey City police that her husband was working on the subway in New York. Detective McNally reported that he found Bretternitz living at No. 112 Washington place, under the name of Bird-sall, with a woman who was known as Mrs. Bretternitz has three children.

Mrs. Bretternitz appeared in the Tombs Court against her husband. She said that when he left her he wrote a note saying she had made life a hell to him.

The prisoner told the Magistrate that he had been an invalid, caused by that terrible disease, rheumatism, for six years. I could not walk without the help of friends. All my joints were stiff and I had to be wheeled about the house in an invalid's chair. Physicians' medicines, baths, etc., were all in vain, but Paine's Celery Compound practically cured me, and I am now able to walk around and do my housework.

EMBEZZLER SENT BACK. David Thompson, a Lawyer, Caught in Seattle.

David Thompson, alias D. Pullis, a lawyer, who was taken to Ludlow Street Jail three days ago, was charged today placed on board the Cunard liner Saxonia and started for Scotland. According to Charles Fox, counsel to the British Consulate, Thompson was the solicitor or counsel for a building and loan association in Kilcady, near Edinburgh, Scotland. He is alleged to have embezzled about $50,000 of the association's money. He was traced to Texas and then to Seattle, where he was arrested by the United States marshal there. Chief Constable Gatheman, of Kilcady, took charge of the prisoner.

Moulder Leaped Two Stories and Broke Leg—Tried Suicide, Maybe.

Michael J. Clark, a moulder, of No. 68 Lexington avenue, jumped out of the window of his apartment on the second floor this morning and broke his right leg.

He was taken to Bellevue Hospital. He would not tell why he jumped, but as he had been very dependent for a month he is thought he meant to kill himself. He has a wife and two children.

Mrs. Mary Hickey, of South Sodus, N. Y., Had Rheumatism So Bad She Could Not Walk. Had to Be Wheeled About the House in an Invalid's Chair.

USE OF THE NEVER-DISAPPOINTING RHEUMATISM BANISHER CURED HER.

True merit, prompt and effective results and astonishing cures have given Paine's Celery Compound a position on the highest round of the ladder of fame.

Paine's Celery Compound is today the only spring medicine asked for and bought by thoughtful and discerning people. For the treatment of serious diseases, such as rheumatism, neuralgia, nervous disorders, blood troubles, Paine's Celery Compound has no equal.

The credit of Paine's Celery Compound has advanced to such a high eminence that millions of people who use it find the names of millionaires, bankers, professional men, wealthy merchants and women of note. All have made it their chosen remedy for the cure of chronic diseases and for the banishment of the ailments that often make life miserable.

Paine's Celery Compound, in the opinion of the leading druggists and physicians, has displaced nearly all the common advertised medicines of the day. This great work has been accomplished only by merit and genuine cures. Rheumatism, neuralgia and nervous disorders take flight when Paine's Celery Compound is used for a time. Why delay the work of health-building when such a life-giver is within your reach?

Test its efficacy, caused by that terrible disease, rheumatism, for six years. I could not walk without the help of friends. All my joints were stiff and I had to be wheeled about the house in an invalid's chair. Physicians' medicines, baths, etc., were all in vain, but Paine's Celery Compound practically cured me, and I am now able to walk around and do my housework.
