

KIND CHILDREN HELP BABIES.

Little Friends of the Evening World Fund Are Busy Raising Money.

THE SUBSCRIPTIONS. Previously acknowledged $67.03. E. Thompson, Aaron Jacobs, Jacob Steiner, and Nelson Richberg 4.00 William Isaac 2.00 Cassius Construction 2.00

Many a rosy-faced, healthy child owes health and even life to the big-hearted boys and girls who by stands and entertainments have raised money for The Evening World Sick Babies' Fund.

The grand work done by the Fund's doctors among the children of the poor has been kept up and increased, largely by the efforts of this army of busy, generous boys and girls.

The latest sum thus raised was $4, the proceeds of a lemonade stand held by E. Thompson, Aaron Jacobs, Newton Richberg and Jacob Steiner, near No. 45 West One Hundred and Eighteenth street.

Now that school is out there is plenty of time for stands and other entertainments for the Fund. It will not only give the children something pleasant and useful to do but will be of great help to the countless sick babies whose sufferings The Evening World doctors are alleviating.

Contributions should be addressed to the Cashier of the World, Pulitzer Building, New York City.

LOST ON WAY TO GET INSURED. Old Herman Klein Said to Have Been Seen Last with an Insurance Man—Vanished a Week Ago.

Mystery surrounds the disappearance a week ago of old Herman Klein. His family fear that some ill has befallen him. They even hint at the possibility of a kidnapping.

Mr. Klein, who is sixty, lived at No. 74 East Fifth street, with his wife, two daughters and two sons. Last Wednesday an insurance agent, of whom the family know little, except that his name is Leitfert, called at the Klein home.

He wanted to insure the father's life for $1,000 and would not take no for an answer, but finally went away. A little later the old man disappeared. He was last seen, the family say, getting on a Third Avenue car in company with the insurance agent. He has not returned to his home.

Attorney Mannheim was employed by the sons and daughters and a general alarm was sent out from Police Headquarters. Friends of the family say the insurance agent had admitted that he started downtown with the old man to take him before the examining physicians of the company, but lost him in the neighborhood of City Hall.

Mr. Klein is 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighs about 185 pounds. He has gray hair. When he left home he had a short, cropped beard, with the old man's face, but these, his relatives believe, may have been shaved off to make him appear younger to the insurance physicians.

He wore black clothes, a red and white vest and a straw Alpine hat.

HERE'S A MAN WHO IS MADE OF IRON. Barrett Was Run Over by His Ice Wagon, Badly Hurt and Drove to Hospital for Hurry Treatment.

The physicians at Bellevue Hospital say that Albert Barrett, who is twenty-three years old and lives at No. 41 West Thirtieth street, is one of the luckiest patients they ever had. "And he must be made of cast iron," added one member of the surgical staff.

Barrett drives an ice wagon. He lives with his parents. While delivering ice on Twenty-fifth street between First and Second avenues Barrett slipped in trying to mount to his seat. The horses started and one of the wheels of the thousand-pound wagon passed over the driver's head.

Barrett rose with a grunt and got on his feet. He drove to Bellevue where he told Dr. Staley that he thought he was hurt and wanted to be treated in a hurry so that he could get back to work.

It was found that Barrett had two fractured ribs, general contusions of the body and profuse internal injuries. He was put into bed. He'll not be able to work for a while.

TWO BOYS MISSING. Supposed to Have Started for Long Island City After Indians.

It has been reported to the police of Queens County that two boys, Fred Budder, twelve years old, and Fred E. Price, nine years, sons of wealthy parents, are missing from their homes in Richmond Hill. They were seen going toward Long Island City yesterday morning. The supposition is that they started West to shoot Indians.

Neither is known to have more than a few times in his possession, and their parents fear that they may come to harm through trying to shoot these on train.

WIFE AND SON OF BROKER ARRESTED. Beautiful Mrs. O'Malley Held on a Charge of Stealing Jewelry—Police Say She Tried to Elope.

(Special to The Evening World.) PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—Mrs. Olive O'Malley, wife of a prominent physician, and young William Herring, said to be the son of a New York stock broker, are prisoners here, charged with theft and with attempting to elope.

The pair were held under bail this afternoon for a hearing July 10. The formal charge is larceny. Much mystery surrounds the case.

Dr. Austin O'Malley, the woman's husband, is in St. Agnes's Hospital, suffering from arsenical poisoning. Young Herring, who is only twenty, was arrested last night while waiting for Mrs. O'Malley in Broad street station. The police say they were going to take the 8.50 P. M. train for Chicago.

Mrs. O'Malley was arrested as she was leaving the home of her father-in-law, Dr. Joseph O'Malley, of No. 2228 South Broad street, in a cab.

Son of Father's Partner. Mrs. O'Malley, who is a beautiful brunette, twenty-four years old, is the daughter of a New York stock broker, named Ellis, who is the business partner of a Mr. Herring, the father of William Herring.

Jewelry and clothing to the value of $20 were stolen from the O'Malley residence on June 23, and since that time the police of the Thirty-fourth District have been trying to locate the thief.

Brother-in-Law Accused. Dr. Joseph O'Malley appeared to prosecute his brother's wife. He said he suspected her of the jewelry theft. She had only recently returned with her husband from South Bend, Ind. After their return from the West, Dr. O'Malley was taken to St. Agnes's Hospital.

This gave Mrs. O'Malley an opportunity to carry on her alleged correspondence with Herring. She has acknowledged, the police say, that she twice visited Herring in New York City.

Policeman Butler in plain clothes was detailed to watch her and learned yesterday that she had ordered a cab to call at the South Broad street house to take her to Broad street station to catch the 8.50 train for the West.

When Mrs. O'Malley was about to enter the cab he told her that Lieut. Tomlinson wanted her at the station-house. She consented to drive there. On arriving she walked into the lieutenant's private room, leaving her hand bag on the seat in the cab. The detective then got in and carried it into the lieutenant's office.

In the bag the missing jewels were found. Mrs. O'Malley then excitedly exclaimed: "I suppose you'll accuse me of poisoning Dr. O'Malley next?" She was at once placed in the custody of Matron Haley. A steamer trunk was taken from the top of the cab.

LIPTON RACES PLANNED MERELY TO BOOM TEAS.

Barrie's Friends Assert Documents Will Show Yachting to Be an Advertising Scheme.

In case the suit of David M. Barrie against Sir Thomas Lipton comes to trial it is said by Mr. Barrie's friends that an attempt will be made to introduce documents showing that Sir Thomas's participation in the two series of international yacht races was an advertising scheme designed to help along the sale of Lipton's teas.

Mr. Barrie, it is said, has in his possession letters from Sir Thomas that will show—admitted in evidence—that the idea of challenging for the America Cup originated with Barrie, purely as an advertising scheme, and as such was put before Sir Thomas.

Barrie, it is said, made a trip to London in the interest of the scheme, and although Sir Thomas did not think much of it at first he came around to the idea that it would be good advertising after he had made a visit to this country and looked over the ground.

Barrie, his friends assert, never asked anything for the valuable suggestion. He was the agent of the Lipton teas in this country and was willing to take his profits out of the increased sales made possible by the success of the scheme—for it is said to have been exceedingly successful, notwithstanding the enormous cost entailed.

POWDER EXPLODED; POLICE SEEK BOLD HIGHWAYMAN

WAS BEING PACKED IN BOSTON OFFICE FOR FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION—EXPLOSION WRECKED BUILDING.

Several of Capt. Tins's best detectives are searching for the highwayman who on Saturday night held up and robbed John Driscoll, of Bedford and Christopher streets, on the North River front.

Driscoll was on West street, near Christopher, waiting for an excursion boat to bring his family home. As a freight train was passing, he says, he was seized from behind by four men, who choked him and tore away his $150 gold watch and chain. The robbers missed a roll of $100 in his pockets.

Driscoll has been employed in the Post-Office Building for the past fifteen years.

HIS HABIT IS TO BREAK INTO JAIL.

Count Rocco Drsanovich Says He Has Been a Wanderer for 35 Years—Gets Into Prison to Write Expresses.

Count Rocco Drsanovich was before the Ellis Island Special Inquiry Board to-day. The Count has been wandering around the world for the last thirty-five years and getting into prisons for the purpose of writing up his experiences. He arrived here on the Ward Line steamer Havana Monday, and was among those quarantined at Hoffman Island for observation.

When the Count was sent to Ellis Island to explain why he should be allowed to land here in consideration of the fact that he had only $1.35 in his possession, he related a wondrous tale of woe and marital woe which befell him in Cuba. He said that he went from Porto Rico to Santiago last spring. On March 12 he was thrown over from a boat by some United States soldiers.

He was touched by the girl's story and was married to her on March 18. Then he went away on business and during his absence she disappeared.

On his representations that for thirty-five years he has wandered without a permanent home or visible means of support except the products of his pen, he was finally allowed to land. He stated just before his release that he would break a window or do something else to secure commitment to the Tombs.
