

PRICE ONE CENT.

CARTER AND BUCKLE CAUSE DIVORCE SUIT.

Mrs. George P. Baldwin Says She Found It In Her Husband's Coat Pocket.

FOUR LETTERS THERE, TOO.

Signed by "Mod" and Sent Millions of Kisses to "My Dear Husband"—Baldwin Denies All Charges.

The finding of a black silk garter with a gold buckle in her husband's coat pocket caused Mrs. George P. Baldwin, wife of the promoter of the Baldwin Stadium, to enter suit for an absolute divorce to-day.

Mrs. Baldwin names three co-respondents in the papers filed by her lawyers, Sullivan, Goldsmith & Engel, of No. 345 Broadway.

When Mr. Baldwin awoke, Mrs. Baldwin declares, she asked him whether he had been maintaining relations with other women, and upon his denial that he was anything other than a good husband, Mrs. Baldwin says she showed him the garter and the gold buckle.

Wavered Then, She Says. "He wavered then," she says, "and when I showed him the letters he admitted everything. He got up and hurriedly putting on his coat, said: 'I guess you've got me now!'"

Mrs. Baldwin says that her husband then left the house and she has not seen him since.

Through his lawyer, W. R. Osborn, Mr. Baldwin denies all of his wife's charges.

Included in the bill are the following letters which Mrs. Baldwin asserts she found in her husband's coat pockets together with the garter with the gold buckle:

"George, Dear Sweetheart: As we have begun the new year together, I trust we may have countless others together in the happiness of our love."

"To-day you are the world to me, dear, and I am, Your own MOD."

"My Sweetheart: I am too happy since your note came, as I know I will see you in one more day. But it has been such weeks and weeks, I have learned what suspense is, though trying to realize constantly that you were all right. And, though I have been very near you all the time, there has been a feeling of helplessness and desire to never again let you out of my reach."

"Your notes have been most gratefully received; also remittances (which you know I never need)."

"My love to you. All kisses—a million. One now. MOD."

A Thousand Kisses. "My Dear, Dear Husband: Good morning and a thousand kisses. I've been wondering what the rest of that story will be like which you began something like this: 'But you did look too funny—' 'Think I am dreaming of coasting off roofs in Aburndale.'"

"One little plant has three lives living. It missed us so much it simply would not exert itself to breathe—the one I called the 'money plant.' But your last violets are fresh and sweet as Tuesday."

"You know, sweetheart, how happy I am for your letter this morn. 'Always loving you, MOD.'"

The following letter, dated Feb. 13, 1902, "At Our Little Room," was the next epistle which Mrs. Baldwin says she read:

"My Own Husband: Ever since I left Boston I've felt more than ever how near to each other we are. If possible each of these perfect days increased my love. It is only because I was with you more and had the opportunity of knowing you better."

"I only know that you are infinitely dear to me."

"After boarding the boat I had a little supper and went to my stateroom only to look out when we reached Newport."

"On the same side of the boat as you and I stood in the same lights as the same ferry crossing. I believe, that we saw, and I almost felt you beside me, and I almost felt your clear, and quite lovely, the place, Newport."

"So happy for your dear letter. 'With all love, your MOD.'"

DEVERY "NEVER HAD NO $30,000" HE DECLARES.

"Big Bill" Stamps the Story Spread by Mr. Croker's Boswell, A. H. Lewis, as a Lie.

CROKER A CARPET-BAGGER

"Best Chief New York Ever Had" Hires a Detective to Hunt Up John C. Sheehan's Contract Record.

Alfred Henry Lewis, Richard Croker's Boswell, prints a story in his publication to-day quoting Eugene Wood as telling Senators McCarren and Sullivan that Devery, when Chief of Police, was the custodian of a fund of $30,000 collected from the police to defeat the State Constabulary bill.

Wood is quoted as saying that on Carroll's order to go ahead and secure the defeat of the bill and get his pay from the fund, he spent $63,000 lobbying, and when he called on Devery for reimbursement after the bill had been defeated the big fellow refused to give up.

Croker a Carpet-Bagger. Devery denied to-day that he had ever had the fund, and he said Croker was a carpet-bagger of the worst sort and that his influence was a thing of the past.

"It's a lie," he said, speaking of the Wood story. "I never had no $30,000."

Devery has had a detective in Long Island City looking up the contracts given John C. Sheehan for the construction of sewers there before it was included in Greater New York. The chief says he will have some very interesting revelations to make.

"Politicians hadn't oughter throw stones touchin' on reputations," declared the Big Chief. "They oughter all dwell in harmony. They fellers have opened up on me, and I'll make 'em think a subway blast has gone off under 'em if they don't quiet down."

"They say all they please about me, an' I won't sue for libel, but they mustn't kick if I come back at 'em."

"That feller Croker Meyer is another that's shootin' off his mouth about me. He's a fat renderin' politician. That's what he is. He says it's the fertilizer business, but I know he's just a fat renderin' politician and head of a $5,000,000 trust."

"He'd better keep mighty quiet or I'll tell what he and Croker done."

All His House for Devery. While the "Big Chief" was on a train coming from Rockaway a young man came over and told him that five members of his family who had voted with John C. Sheehan would vote for William G. Devery.

"That's right, sport. I'm with you all the time."

Discussing former Alderman Pilger, who is one of Sheehan's ablest workers, the "Big Chief" said:

"I don't want to say nothing about that feller. He's a two-bit politician. 'Munsinger and Sheehan' have been around the district," continued the Chief, "ordering store keepers to take my lithographs out of their windows. That's all right, if they want to do it. The men who take the lithographs out will vote for me and then what'll John C. Sheehan and Munsinger do?"

"Why, they ordered a woman to take my picture out of her hat store. They told her she didn't buy another hat there if she didn't do what they said."

"That pair haven't changed their hats in four years. I don't believe they ever bought a new one to a standstill."

WINNERS AT HAWTHORNE. RACE TRACK, HAWTHORNE, AUG. 29.—The races scheduled to be run at this track today resulted as follows:

First Race—Five-eighths of a mile—Won by Lady Churchill, 7 to 2 and 7 to 5; Naulahka, for place 2 to 1, was second and Sledge third. Time—1:30 3/4.

Second Race—One mile and seventy yards—Won by The Caxton, 5 to 1 and 4 to 1; Roma, for place 6 to 1, was second and Red Tip third. Time—1:46 3/4.

Third Race—Three-quarters of a mile—Won by Adios, 12 to 1 and 4 to 1; The Picket, for place 10 to 1, was second, and Lady Jocelyn third. Time—1:15.

Fourth Race—One mile—Won by Holly, 7 to 10 for place, was second, and Water Edge third. Time—1:40 1/4.

Fifth Race—One mile and twenty yards—Won by Major Dixon, 7 to 5 and 3 to 2; Charley Moore, for place 2 to 1, was second, and Geyser third. Time—1:41 1/2.

GIANTS' PITCHER ENRAGED AT UMPIRE'S DECISION.

McGinnity Leaves the Box in Second Inning of Philadelphia Game and Has to Be Coaxed Back—McGraw and Bresnahan Not with Team.

NEW YORK LOSES

Seventh Inning—McGinnity's high fly tumbled to Krug. Brodie dropped a safety into left field. Brodie slid over the base when he stole second and was caught. Bowerman got a base on Hulswitt's bad throw of his hit, but Jennings caught Frank at second. No runs.

Wolverton lined the ball into Dunn's hands. Barry's fly dropped to Dunn, too. Cronin took Douglas's fly. No runs.

Eighth Inning—Iberg helped Lauder out. Cronin fanned. McGinnity singled to right centre. Browne doubled to right. Dunn's single scored McGinnity and Browne. Smith fouled off to Douglass. Two runs.

Hulswitt singled to left. Jennings singled past Smith. Krug's double scored Hulswitt and Jennings. Smith threw Childs out. Iberg fanned. Thomas walked. Wolverton flied to Cronin. Two runs.

Ninth Inning—McGinnity was a strike out victim. Brodie singled. Bowerman did the same. Lauder fanned. Cronin flied to King. No runs.

OTHER NATIONAL LEAGUE GAMES. At Cincinnati—End sixth—St. Louis, 1; Cincinnati, 6.

At Pittsburg—Chicago, 9; Pittsburg, 3.

AMERICAN LEAGUE GAMES. At St. Louis—Baltimore, 7; St. Louis, 1.

Second Game—End fifth—Baltimore 1, St. Louis 1. At Detroit—End fifth—Boston, 4; Detroit, 0.

At Chicago—End fifth—Philadelphia, 8; Chicago, 3. At Cleveland—End sixth—Washington, 0; Cleveland, 2.

LATE RESULTS AT ST. LOUIS. Sixth Race—Lass of Langdon 1; Ailyar 2; Della Ostrand 3.

AT ST. LOUIS. Fourth Race—Chorus Boy 1, Satchel 2, Ida Ledford 3.

FATHER TRIES TO RESCUE SON FROM POLICEMAN. Eli Boone, of No. 1196 Third avenue, was fined $3 by Magistrate Crane in the Harlem Court this afternoon for interfering with Policeman Conway, of the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street station.

BOONE'S FOURTEEN-YEAR-OLD SON CALVIN HAD JUST BEEN COMMITTED TO THE CATHOLIC PROTECTOR FOR TWO MONTHS BY THE MAGISTRATE FOR BREAKING A WINDOW IN THE STORE OF HENRY BLAUSKINS, AT NO. 2206 SEVENTH AVENUE. AS CONWAY WAS TAKING THE BOY OUT OF THE COURT BOONE MET HIM AND UPRIDED THE POLICEMAN. NEAR THE COURT BOONE TRIED TO TAKE THE BOY AWAY FROM THE POLICEMAN AND WAS ARRESTED.

MINDANAO EARTHQUAKE REPORTS COMING IN. MANILA, Aug. 29.—The scanty reports received here regarding the recent earthquakes in the island of Mindanao show that they began Thursday, Aug. 21. The damage was widespread but few fatalities were reported. No reports, however, have been received from parts of the island. It is feared that a serious eruption of one volcano in that vicinity has occurred.

FINED FOR RECKLESS BLASTING. John Sharkey, of No. 211 West One Hundred and Fourteenth street, was fined $25 by Magistrate Crane in the Harlem Court this afternoon for reckless blasting. Sharkey's men are laying a sewer in Hoe street, near Home avenue, in the Bronx. Recently the blasting by his men has damaged houses in the neighborhood.

TO ELECT AMOS CUMMINGS'S SUCCESSOR. At a meeting of the Board of Elections to-day President Voorhis announced that he had received a letter from the Secretary of State asking him in his list of officers to be elected at the November election to provide for a successor to the late Congressman Amos J. Cummings in the Tenth Congress District.

FOREIGN TROOPS TO LEAVE CHINA. TIEN-TSIN, Aug. 29.—According to the military commanders, all the troops, with the exception of the Legion guards, will be withdrawn from China next spring.

STURGIS GETS JUDGE ANGRY.

Order Is Issued Directing the Commissioner to Show Cause Why He Should Not Be Punished for Contempt in Refusing to Reinstate Croker as Chief of the Fire Department—Sturgis Won't Tell His Plans.

FUTURITY.

THIRTY-ONE HORSES ENTERED FOR $60,000 PRIZE AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY TRACK TO-MORROW.

Fire Commissioner Sturgis has been ordered by Justice Hall to appear before him on Tuesday next and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt in refusing to reinstate Croker as Chief of the department.

The mandate directing the reinstatement had been issued earlier in the day, but Sturgis refused to recognize it.

Lawyer John J. Delaney, representing Chief Croker, immediately set about to have the Fire Commissioner held for contempt of court.

It was expected that the Commissioner would apply for a stay when the decision in favor of Croker was announced on Tuesday. When this was not done at the expiration of two days' notice required by law Justice Hall signed the writ.

Rives Gives Counsel. In the mean time the Commissioner had communicated with MISTER Rives, who occupies the office of Corporation Counsel. MISTER Rives advised that an application for a stay was not necessary, inasmuch as an appeal would be taken from the decision of Justice Hall. On this representation Commissioner Sturgis decided to pay no attention to the writ.

Armed with the writ, Chief Croker and his counsel went direct from the Supreme Court to Fire Headquarters, arriving there at 11:25 o'clock to-day. While waiting in the hall outside the Court room, among other things, was Acting Chief Purroy, who nodded to Chief Croker. The nod was returned. William Leary, private secretary to the Commissioner, passed. He did not nod, neither did the others.

A Rap at Leary. "There is the man who has caused all this trouble," said the Chief. Chief Croker said to the reporters that he felt confident he would be reinstated within twenty-four hours. When asked if he expected that he would be compelled to answer charges, he replied:

"I'll be put on charges, all right. Don't you worry about that."

A few minutes after the Chief and his counsel were ushered into the Commissioner's office. Mr. Sturgis, with his counsel, Mr. Breitwasser, came out. The Commissioner appeared to be worried. He went with Mr. Breitwasser to the telephone and held a twelve-minute consultation with MISTER RIVES, after which he returned to his office.

The behavior of Commissioner Sturgis, as the writ demanded the reinstatement forthwith, I should be compelled to construe his refusal to comply with the directions as a disobedience. He said it was his own construction, and we took our departure.

The behavior of Commissioner Sturgis, as the writ demanded the reinstatement forthwith, I should be compelled to construe his refusal to comply with the directions as a disobedience. He said it was his own construction, and we took our departure.

Commissioner Sturgis refused to make a statement on publication beyond saying that he would forward all the papers to the office of the Corporation Counsel.

Mr. Breitwasser said that charges are being prepared against a stay, and he would not tell what they were.

STURGIS GETS JUDGE ANGRY.

Order Is Issued Directing the Commissioner to Show Cause Why He Should Not Be Punished for Contempt in Refusing to Reinstate Croker as Chief of the Fire Department—Sturgis Won't Tell His Plans.

FUTURITY.

THIRTY-ONE HORSES ENTERED FOR $60,000 PRIZE AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY TRACK TO-MORROW.

Fire Commissioner Sturgis has been ordered by Justice Hall to appear before him on Tuesday next and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt in refusing to reinstate Croker as Chief of the department.

The mandate directing the reinstatement had been issued earlier in the day, but Sturgis refused to recognize it.

Lawyer John J. Delaney, representing Chief Croker, immediately set about to have the Fire Commissioner held for contempt of court.

It was expected that the Commissioner would apply for a stay when the decision in favor of Croker was announced on Tuesday. When this was not done at the expiration of two days' notice required by law Justice Hall signed the writ.

Rives Gives Counsel. In the mean time the Commissioner had communicated with MISTER Rives, who occupies the office of Corporation Counsel. MISTER Rives advised that an application for a stay was not necessary, inasmuch as an appeal would be taken from the decision of Justice Hall. On this representation Commissioner Sturgis decided to pay no attention to the writ.

Armed with the writ, Chief Croker and his counsel went direct from the Supreme Court to Fire Headquarters, arriving there at 11:25 o'clock to-day. While waiting in the hall outside the Court room, among other things, was Acting Chief Purroy, who nodded to Chief Croker. The nod was returned. William Leary, private secretary to the Commissioner, passed. He did not nod, neither did the others.

A Rap at Leary. "There is the man who has caused all this trouble," said the Chief. Chief Croker said to the reporters that he felt confident he would be reinstated within twenty-four hours. When asked if he expected that he would be compelled to answer charges, he replied:

"I'll be put on charges, all right. Don't you worry about that."

A few minutes after the Chief and his counsel were ushered into the Commissioner's office. Mr. Sturgis, with his counsel, Mr. Breitwasser, came out. The Commissioner appeared to be worried. He went with Mr. Breitwasser to the telephone and held a twelve-minute consultation with MISTER RIVES, after which he returned to his office.

The behavior of Commissioner Sturgis, as the writ demanded the reinstatement forthwith, I should be compelled to construe his refusal to comply with the directions as a disobedience. He said it was his own construction, and we took our departure.

The behavior of Commissioner Sturgis, as the writ demanded the reinstatement forthwith, I should be compelled to construe his refusal to comply with the directions as a disobedience. He said it was his own construction, and we took our departure.

Commissioner Sturgis refused to make a statement on publication beyond saying that he would forward all the papers to the office of the Corporation Counsel.

Mr. Breitwasser said that charges are being prepared against a stay, and he would not tell what they were.

STURGIS GETS JUDGE ANGRY.

Order Is Issued Directing the Commissioner to Show Cause Why He Should Not Be Punished for Contempt in Refusing to Reinstate Croker as Chief of the Fire Department—Sturgis Won't Tell His Plans.

FUTURITY.

THIRTY-ONE HORSES ENTERED FOR $60,000 PRIZE AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY TRACK TO-MORROW.

Fire Commissioner Sturgis has been ordered by Justice Hall to appear before him on Tuesday next and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt in refusing to reinstate Croker as Chief of the department.

The mandate directing the reinstatement had been issued earlier in the day, but Sturgis refused to recognize it.

Lawyer John J. Delaney, representing Chief Croker, immediately set about to have the Fire Commissioner held for contempt of court.

It was expected that the Commissioner would apply for a stay when the decision in favor of Croker was announced on Tuesday. When this was not done at the expiration of two days' notice required by law Justice Hall signed the writ.

Rives Gives Counsel. In the mean time the Commissioner had communicated with MISTER Rives, who occupies the office of Corporation Counsel. MISTER Rives advised that an application for a stay was not necessary, inasmuch as an appeal would be taken from the decision of Justice Hall. On this representation Commissioner Sturgis decided to pay no attention to the writ.

Armed with the writ, Chief Croker and his counsel went direct from the Supreme Court to Fire Headquarters, arriving there at 11:25 o'clock to-day. While waiting in the hall outside the Court room, among other things, was Acting Chief Purroy, who nodded to Chief Croker. The nod was returned. William Leary, private secretary to the Commissioner, passed. He did not nod, neither did the others.

A Rap at Leary. "There is the man who has caused all this trouble," said the Chief. Chief Croker said to the reporters that he felt confident he would be reinstated within twenty-four hours. When asked if he expected that he would be compelled to answer charges, he replied:

"I'll be put on charges, all right. Don't you worry about that."

A few minutes after the Chief and his counsel were ushered into the Commissioner's office. Mr. Sturgis, with his counsel, Mr. Breitwasser, came out. The Commissioner appeared to be worried. He went with Mr. Breitwasser to the telephone and held a twelve-minute consultation with MISTER RIVES, after which he returned to his office.

The behavior of Commissioner Sturgis, as the writ demanded the reinstatement forthwith, I should be compelled to construe his refusal to comply with the directions as a disobedience. He said it was his own construction, and we took our departure.

The behavior of Commissioner Sturgis, as the writ demanded the reinstatement forthwith, I should be compelled to construe his refusal to comply with the directions as a disobedience. He said it was his own construction, and we took our departure.

Commissioner Sturgis refused to make a statement on publication beyond saying that he would forward all the papers to the office of the Corporation Counsel.

Mr. Breitwasser said that charges are being prepared against a stay, and he would not tell what they were.

STURGIS GETS JUDGE ANGRY.

Order Is Issued Directing the Commissioner to Show Cause Why He Should Not Be Punished for Contempt in Refusing to Reinstate Croker as Chief of the Fire Department—Sturgis Won't Tell His Plans.

FUTURITY.

THIRTY-ONE HORSES ENTERED FOR $60,000 PRIZE AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY TRACK TO-MORROW.

Fire Commissioner Sturgis has been ordered by Justice Hall to appear before him on Tuesday next and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt in refusing to reinstate Croker as Chief of the department.

The mandate directing the reinstatement had been issued earlier in the day, but Sturgis refused to recognize it.

Lawyer John J. Delaney, representing Chief Croker, immediately set about to have the Fire Commissioner held for contempt of court.

It was expected that the Commissioner would apply for a stay when the decision in favor of Croker was announced on Tuesday. When this was not done at the expiration of two days' notice required by law Justice Hall signed the writ.

Rives Gives Counsel. In the mean time the Commissioner had communicated with MISTER Rives, who occupies the office of Corporation Counsel. MISTER Rives advised that an application for a stay was not necessary, inasmuch as an appeal would be taken from the decision of Justice Hall. On this representation Commissioner Sturgis decided to pay no attention to the writ.

Armed with the writ, Chief Croker and his counsel went direct from the Supreme Court to Fire Headquarters, arriving there at 11:25 o'clock to-day. While waiting in the hall outside the Court room, among other things, was Acting Chief Purroy, who nodded to Chief Croker. The nod was returned. William Leary, private secretary to the Commissioner, passed. He did not nod, neither did the others.

A Rap at Leary. "There is the man who has caused all this trouble," said the Chief. Chief Croker said to the reporters that he felt confident he would be reinstated within twenty-four hours. When asked if he expected that he would be compelled to answer charges, he replied:

"I'll be put on charges, all right. Don't you worry about that."

A few minutes after the Chief and his counsel were ushered into the Commissioner's office. Mr. Sturgis, with his counsel, Mr. Breitwasser, came out. The Commissioner appeared to be worried. He went with Mr. Breitwasser to the telephone and held a twelve-minute consultation with MISTER RIVES, after which he returned to his office.

The behavior of Commissioner Sturgis, as the writ demanded the reinstatement forthwith, I should be compelled to construe his refusal to comply with the directions as a disobedience. He said it was his own construction, and we took our departure.

The behavior of Commissioner Sturgis, as the writ demanded the reinstatement forthwith, I should be compelled to construe his refusal to comply with the directions as a disobedience. He said it was his own construction, and we took our departure.

Commissioner Sturgis refused to make a statement on publication beyond saying that he would forward all the papers to the office of the Corporation Counsel.

Mr. Breitwasser said that charges are being prepared against a stay, and he would not tell what they were.

STURGIS GETS JUDGE ANGRY.

Order Is Issued Directing the Commissioner to Show Cause Why He Should Not Be Punished for Contempt in Refusing to Reinstate Croker as Chief of the Fire Department—Sturgis Won't Tell His Plans.

FUTURITY.

THIRTY-ONE HORSES ENTERED FOR $60,000 PRIZE AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY TRACK TO-MORROW.

Fire Commissioner Sturgis has been ordered by Justice Hall to appear before him on Tuesday next and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt in refusing to reinstate Croker as Chief of the department.

The mandate directing the reinstatement had been issued earlier in the day, but Sturgis refused to recognize it.

Lawyer John J. Delaney, representing Chief Croker, immediately set about to have the Fire Commissioner held for contempt of court.

It was expected that the Commissioner would apply for a stay when the decision in favor of Croker was announced on Tuesday. When this was not done at the expiration of two days' notice required by law Justice Hall signed the writ.

Rives Gives Counsel. In the mean time the Commissioner had communicated with MISTER Rives, who occupies the office of Corporation Counsel. MISTER Rives advised that an application for a stay was not necessary, inasmuch as an appeal would be taken from the decision of Justice Hall. On this representation Commissioner Sturgis decided to pay no attention to the writ.

Armed with the writ, Chief Croker and his counsel went direct from the Supreme Court to Fire Headquarters, arriving there at 11:25 o'clock to-day. While waiting in the hall outside the Court room, among other things, was Acting Chief Purroy, who nodded to Chief Croker. The nod was returned. William Leary, private secretary to the Commissioner, passed. He did not nod, neither did the others.

A Rap at Leary. "There is the man who has caused all this trouble," said the Chief. Chief Croker said to the reporters that he felt confident he would be reinstated within twenty-four hours. When asked if he expected that he would be compelled to answer charges, he replied:

"I'll be put on charges, all right. Don't you worry about that."

A few minutes after the Chief and his counsel were ushered into the Commissioner's office. Mr. Sturgis, with his counsel, Mr. Breitwasser, came out. The Commissioner appeared to be worried. He went with Mr. Breitwasser to the telephone and held a twelve-minute consultation with MISTER RIVES, after which he returned to his office.

The behavior of Commissioner Sturgis, as the writ demanded the reinstatement forthwith, I should be compelled to construe his refusal to comply with the directions as a disobedience. He said it was his own construction, and we took our departure.

The behavior of Commissioner Sturgis, as the writ demanded the reinstatement forthwith, I should be compelled to construe his refusal to comply with the directions as a disobedience. He said it was his own construction, and we took our departure.

Commissioner Sturgis refused to make a statement on publication beyond saying that he would forward all the papers to the office of the Corporation Counsel.

Mr. Breitwasser said that charges are being prepared against a stay, and he would not tell what they were.

RUMOR THAT COAL STRIKE IS SETTLED. Reported in Wall Street that Trouble in Anthracite Region is Over, but Operators Deny It.

FURST BISMARCK SIGNALS 'ALL WELL'. Disabled Hamburg-American Liner Sighted Passing Scilly Islands—Starboard Thrust Shaft was Broken.

CORTRIGHT SNUBS PRINCE. Police Inspector Declines Present Sent from Germany. Senior Inspector Moses W. Cortright has refused to accept the present which came to him through the German Consul from Prince Henry of Germany.

WEATHER FORECAST. Forecast for the thirty-six hours ending at 8 P. M. Saturday, for New York City and vicinity: Generally fair to-night and Saturday; moderate temperature; light to fresh easterly winds.

New York—20 Hours—Chicago. The Pennsylvania Special offers a rapid schedule and is appreciated by the busy man of affairs.