

J. A. DRAKE'S SAVABLE WINS THE GREAT FUTURITY RACE.

"END STRIKE BY ARBITRATION NOW."

—EX-GOV. HASTINGS, OF PENNSYLVANIA.

He Sees No Obstacle to Adjusting the Coal Trouble if Reason Would Prevail—Gen. Gobin's Shoot to Kill Order.

Former Governor D. H. Hastings, of Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Hastings arrived from Europe to-day on the St. Paul. The Governor talked freely of the coal strike.

"You know," he said, "I am a bituminous operator myself. I left for Europe before the strike began, and have been at Carlsbad and other health resorts taking it easy and enjoying myself. The strike trouble has not extended to our mines.

"I have always been a believer in arbitration in disputes between the laborer and his employer. I do not believe that any strike is necessary if both sides are disposed to be fair. An honest board of arbitration can settle any strike.

"I cannot see that there is so much that is difficult in this strike that arbitration should be out of the question. In my mind—although I am not fully posted on the situation—I think the controversy could be settled without delay by this easy, simple method. Perhaps when I have more fully informed myself on the situation I shall have more to say."

"Would you serve on a committee to bring about arbitration between the coal miners and the operators?" asked an Evening World reporter.

"Certainly, if I were asked," responded the Governor. "But I do not want to be put in the position of appearing to nominate myself."

GOBIN GIVES ORDERS TO HIS MEN TO SHOOT TO KILL

SHENANDOAH, Pa., Aug. 30.—Brigadier-General Gobin renewed to-day his orders to the troops to shoot to kill if the strikers attack them. The soldiers are to be judges of whether or not shooting is justified. This order has been supplemented by another ordering the arrest of women or girls who may gather along the roadside and jeer at the militia.

"The uniforms of the soldiers of the State of Pennsylvania must be respected," said Gen. Gobin to-day. "We are here to protect life and property. I have no desire to shed blood, but if attacks upon the soldiers continue those guilty of disorder must abide by the consequences. There is a limit to patience."

CIRCUMSTANCES DEMAND IT.
"I have refrained from issuing the order to load cartridges as long as I could. Now circumstances demand it. The order speaks for itself. It means just what it says—If attacked, fire on the attacking force, and fire to make every bullet count.

"I do not anticipate that there will be any shooting. As a matter of fact, the moral effect of the order is great. These riotous people know that nearly every man under my command here is a sharpshooter—a man who can hit a bull's-eye sixty-eight times out of seventy-five. This knowledge on their part has made the rioters shy of indulging in any attacks.

"So long as the riotous element was convinced that the soldiers would use only their bayonets or the butt ends of their rifles there was no fear. A brick is as good a weapon as the butt end of a rifle. Now that it is known that those rifles are loaded, and that the men carrying them have been ordered to shoot, I look for quiet times in these regions."

PERSONALITY OF THE MAN WHO ORDERS SHOOT TO KILL.

It is no new thing for Brig.-Gen. Gobin, Lieutenant-Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, to order the militia under his command to shoot to kill. There is no record of the number of times he has issued this order in the twenty-eight years he has been practically the head of the militia of the State.

No other National Guard commander in the United States has had the experience in strikes that he has had. Since the great railroad riots of 1877, when he had charge of the State Arsenal at Harrisburg, he has been at the head of every military movement in connection with labor disturbances in the Commonwealth.

THE ORDER COMES EASILY.

So an order to slay strikers flows as easily from the pen of Brig.-Gen. Gobin as does an order for a dinner. The State Militia is his idol, his pride. In his eyes the citizen soldier is a man to be revered. That is why he has supplemented his order to shoot and make every shot count with another to arrest any woman or girl who may hoot at or otherwise disturb the dignity of a soldier.

"I have no excuses to make for issuing any order that stands," said Brig.-Gen. Gobin to-day. "The troops are being attacked. The limit of endurance has been reached."

NO SQUEAMISHNESS IN GOBIN.

Gen. Gobin has been a soldier ever since attaining manhood's estate. He is grim and gruff, as a soldier is popularly supposed to be. He will do

CAVALRY REVIEW FOR TEDDY, JR.

Troops at Fort Sheridan Are Called Out for President's Son—Off on Northwestern Hunting Trip.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., had a busy time of it to-day. Bright and early he was driven to the Onwentsia Club's golf links at Lake Forest, where for a time he was an interested spectator in the Western Women's Championship tourney.

Thence the party drove to Fort Sheridan, where a special dress parade and cavalry manoeuvres were ordered by Col. McCaskey in honor of the President's son. The men of the Twentieth Infantry and the Second Cavalry participated in the review, and a routine "Three for Teddy" was given as the men went to quarters. From Fort Sheridan the party came into Chicago, where young Roosevelt did his shopping preparatory to the hunting trip in the Lake Forest, whence the party left for the Northwest this afternoon.

Other members of the party on the hunting and fish trip will be Marvin Hughtitt, Jr., and Rensselaer W. Cox.

BUILDING COLLAPSES.

Three-story Warehouse Falls to Pieces—Watchman Missing.
The three-story brick coffee warehouse at No. 42-44 Fulton street, Brooklyn, known as the Hartfield & Duncan Building, collapsed this afternoon at 4 o'clock. No one was in the building but the watchman. He is missing. The front wall fell into the street and pedestrians escaped injury by a miracle.

The building was more than fifty years old, a sample of the ramshackle structures prevalent in that locality. A cargo of 20,000 bags of coffee was stored in it last night.

There was no warning when the building fell apart. A passing Fulton Ferry car was showered with bricks and the windows were broken, but none of the passengers was injured. Three ambulance calls and a fire alarm were turned in. The firemen set to work at once to search for the body of the watchman, which is supposed to be buried in the ruins.

FELL WITH SCAFFOLD.

Two of These Workmen Will Probably Die of Their Injuries.
NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 30.—By the collapse of a scaffold on a new building at Bruce street and Fifteenth avenue this afternoon, Frederick Woods, Emory C. Cash and Louis Mien were precipitated to the ground below, a distance of twenty feet.

The first two named were probably fatally injured. Mien's injuries are serious. All were removed to the City Hospital.

BASEBALL GROUND, PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30.—The Giants without McGraw again for the last time lined up against the Quaker City players this afternoon. The absence of McGraw made it another patched-up team, and the question of filling right field was puzzled over by Acting Manager George Smith, Mathewson and Joe McGinnity were the candidates, with the former having the best chance on his good betting.

Before the New Yorkers went to the game they were interested listeners to a man named Gates. The fellow had such a bundle of money that he required two handbags to carry it.

He was Frank Angus's agent from the American League, and offered McGinnity, Cronin and several other big signs of advance money if they would sign contracts with the young league. The fellow was jollied along by the players and finally was asked to call Horace Fogel, the Giants' old manager, did not show up at the Giants' stopping place to-day, but was for nothing. He told the boys that he was going to be the manager of the new club in New York and that to date he had signed such stars as Lajoie, Flick and Delehanty.

The true story of Delehanty, Flick and Lajoie is that they are to meet McGraw and Mr. Freedman at the latter's office just as soon as the American League season closes, which will be on Sept. 2.

It was Jack Cronin's turn to pitch for the Giants, and he felt sure he could take the Quakers' measure. Frank Brown, with an arm so sure that he could hardly throw to second base, owing to a fall at first base yesterday, had to catch for Cronin. Bresnahan was absent on account of sickness.

First Inning.
Brown lined out a safe one and reached first. Frazer handled Dunn's sacrifice hit. Smith was put out on his grounder to Jennings. McGinnity was helped out by Childs. No runs.
Dunn to McGinnity was the way Thomas went out. Woverton couldn't locate the ball in three swings at it. Barry rolled a slow one to Dunn and beat it out. Brown made a fine running catch of Krug's fly. No runs.

Second Inning.
Brodie's roller along the third-base line was handled neatly by Woverton. Howerman drew a pass to first. Lauders' fly dropped to Thomas. Howerman failed to steal second. No runs.
Smith attended to Hulswitt and his throw to Cronin. Brodie was under Douglas's fly. No runs.

Third Inning.
Matty was a victim of Frazer's curves. So was Cronin. Thomas gathered in Brown's fly. No runs.
Smith handled Childs's slow hit in good fashion. Brown was on hand to take Frazer's boost. Thomas got under Woverton's fine lift. No runs.

Fourth Inning.
Dunn started the inning by smothering a safe one past Childs. A wild pitch advanced Jack to second. Smith cracked the ball to first, but Dunn got no farther than third. McGinnity's hit to centre was for two bases and Dunn tallied. Thomas's quick return of the ball, aided by Smith's slow running, was the latter's finish at the plate. Brodie hit to Childs and McGinnity died at the plate. Howerman's high fly fell to Barry. One run.

Dunn got Barry's bounder to first in time. Krug was a strike-out victim. Hulswitt's infield fly dropped safe. Matty scored. Jennings' fly, aided by Brodie, went on his little bounder. No runs.

Dunn pulled down Childs's pop up. Frazer's liner sailed into Brown's hands. Cronin helped to dispose of Thomas. No runs.

Childs got Dunn's bounder to first in time. Frazer had little trouble in putting Smith out at first. McGinnity's slip bounded into safe territory over Hulswitt. No runs.

Salvator's Son, at 15 to 1 in the Betting, Takes the $60,000 Turf Classic at Sheepshead Bay in Presence of 50,000 Spectators—Belmont's Lord of the Vale Is Second, and Keene's Dazzling Third—Time, 1.14—Millions Bet on the Result.

John A. Drake's Savable first. August Belmont's Lord of the Vale second. Keene's Dazzling third. Time—1.14.

That was the finish of the $60,000 Classic Futurity Stakes run at Sheepshead Bay this afternoon in the presence of 50,000 spectators.

Millions changed hands on the race. Twenty-four horses came to the post at 4.10. Starter Pettingill got them away after great trouble. The start was very bad.

Dazzling and Savable showed in front, with the bunch close behind. At the quarter Dazzling, the fleet Keene filly, was a neck ahead of Hurstbourne, who led Mizzen the same distance.

At the half Belmont's Lord of the Vale raced into the lead. At his heels were Hurstbourne, Savable and Dazzling.

Coming into the stretch they began whipping, and in a superb finish Savable, the Western crack, came through and won by a head.

Lord of the Vale was second, two lengths in front of Dazzling, who beat Hurstbourne a head for third money.

Millionaires finished first, second, third and fourth.

FATALLY WOUNDED, HE REVEALS WIFE. ROBBERS KILLED HUSBAND AND WIFE.

Dying Soldier in Philippines Writes to His Mother Confessing Secret Marriage and Expressing Last Wish.

Charles G. Hamm, nineteen years old and a member of Company I, Twenty-seventh Infantry, was wounded a month ago in a skirmish in the Philippines, where he is now lying dying. He has written to his mother, who lives at No. 42 Union street, Jersey City, confessing to her that he was married to Kate Cummings, of Stapleton, S. I., in April, 1901.

"I am dying, and I want you to hunt up my little wife and take her to our home. Now that I am dying I want you to write to her for whom I care most in all the world, to live together and care for each other.

His dying wish has been followed and the two women are living together.

SUSPECT HAD RR. TICKETS.
New York, New Haven and Hartford Officials Had Man Held.
NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 30.—Harold Clark, twenty-two years old, who says he is from Pittston, Pa., was arrested and held in this city to-day on suspicion. When taken to Police Headquarters and searched ten tickets from New York to Baltimore were found in his possession. They were the property of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company.

The officials were notified and at once telephoned to the Newark police to hold Clark, as the tickets had been stolen.

House Plundered and Victims of Tragedy Found Dead by Neighbors—No Clew to Slayers.

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Aug. 30.—The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Britton Lewis, residing five miles south of Bronson, were found to-day on the floor of their home by neighbors. The house had been pillaged and Lewis and his wife murdered.

There is no clue to the murderers.

TALK WITH PLATT ENDS.
No Decision Reached on Nominee for Lieutenant-Governor.
The conference at the Oriental Hotel, Manhattan Beach in which Senator Platt, Gov. Odell, ex-Gov. Black and Col. George W. Dunn took part, ended at 4 o'clock this afternoon. All except Senator Platt came back to Manhattan, Gov. Odell going later to his home.

After the conference closed one gentleman who took part in it said that the political situation in the State was thoroughly canvassed. The qualifications of all the persons mentioned in connection with the Lieutenant-Governorship were discussed, but no final discussion was reached.
