

DIED FOR LOVE, NOT HIS ERROR

Young Reyersbach, Who Shot Himself, Was Not Wrong in His Accounts.

LEFT ALL TO TWO FRIENDS

Member of Firm Which Employed Him Puts an End to Unfounded Rumor of Defalcation.

It was for love, and not on account of any financial difficulty, that young Ernest Reyersbach killed himself, say the members of Knauth, Nacod and Kuhne, the banking firm by which he was employed.

This concern in William street had Reyersbach keeping books for it for two years or more before he shot himself through the heart in his room in the boarding house at No. 147 East Fifty-sixth street.

Books Are Straight. A member of the banking firm said to-day:

"I cannot understand how these reports that Reyersbach had falsified his accounts arose. We have gone over his books and they are absolutely straight. There is no reason to suspect that he was in any financial difficulty.

"On the contrary I know that he had a love affair that did not turn out right. He was somewhat melancholy about that. So far as the books are concerned, Reyersbach did not handle any sums sufficiently large to tempt any one to steal."

Left All to Two Friends. Reyersbach left a note saying that his effects were to go to Walter K. and Bernard Heese, friends of his.

Reyersbach, who was twenty-three years old, came to New York from South Africa, where he was born, after the war had continued a year. Through his excellent references he secured employment as a bookkeeper with the William street banking firm, and was well liked.

His employers had great confidence in him, assigning him to a difficult set of books, and they are said to have paid him well. He is not known to have had any bad habits, such as gambling or drinking.

Mr. Heesburg, of the banking firm, says that young Reyersbach has a brother who is a wealthy member of the diamond jewelry firm of Messrs. West & Co., of London. Reyersbach received a letter from abroad about ten days ago, but whether it affected him is not known. He had planned, after his disappointment in his love affair, to go to South Africa.

None of his friends who could be found to-day could tell the name of the young woman who rejected him. Reyersbach's body was removed to a Second avenue undertaking establishment.

ANNOYED HIS FORMER WIFE.

M. C. Yerby Held in $500 to Cease Demands for Bric-a-Brac.

Meredith C. Yerby, of No. 4 South Elliott place, Brooklyn, was arraigned before Magistrate Crane, in the Harlem Court, this morning, charged by Clara Howard of No. 3136 Broadway, with disorderly conduct.

Yerby, according to the woman, has been annoying her for several weeks. He claims that she is his divorced wife and that she has some bric-a-brac belonging to him. The woman denies that she has any property of Yerby's. He was held in $500 bail for his good behavior for three months.

SHOWED HIS MISSING EAR.

Injured Man Carried in to Bottle in Making Mayhem Charge.

Paul Castiglione, twenty-one years old, of No. 622 First avenue, was minus the upper part of his left ear when he appeared in Yorkville Court to-day against Tipolito Cologero, twenty-five years old, of No. 813 First avenue, whom he charged with having chewed his oracular appendage.

The two men, who are laborers, fought over a telegram message, with the result stated. Castiglione had the missing portion of his ear in a bottle and showed it to Magistrate Dupel as evidence. Cologero was held in $500 bail on a charge of mayhem.

FRACTURED HIS SKULL.

While at work on the first floor at No. 556 West Broadway to-day Frank Roberts, forty years old, of 172 Park Row, fell through the airshaft to the cellar and fractured his skull.

FALL DISPLAY OF HATS.

Lord & Taylor's Opening Shows a Magnificent Millinery Collection.

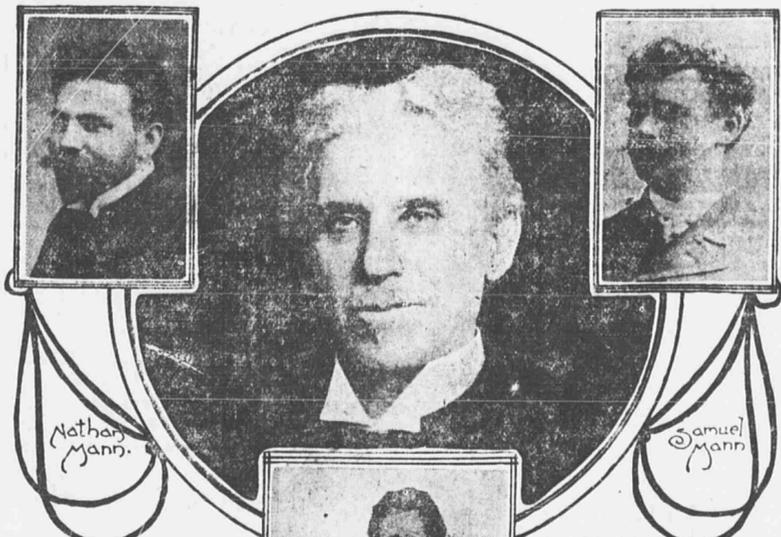

If there was any doubt lingering as to the shape and color of the autumn hats which will soon dazzle New Yorkers it was set at rest by the magnificent display of millinery at the fall opening of Lord & Taylor, Broadway and Twentieth street. In the showcases of their millinery department on the second floor the productions of all the greatest houses of Paris are gathered, as well as the creations emanating from their own workrooms.

It will be a winter of white hats, according to the advance styles. There are turbans of white beaver and of the creations which are a feature of the establishment is a modified Gainsborough of white moire trimmed with the white grays which are a feature of many of the newest hats, and with a droop of exquisite white plumes in the front.

Another white hat is a turban of white beaver with the Du Barry droop over the hair trimmed with medallions of French lace in black and white. Placed at regular intervals. The new shades of raspberry and burnt orange are seen to advantage in several charming hats. The combination of white with sable and squirrel is a novelty of this winter. There are hats made entirely of squirrel skins trimmed simply with a white egrette.

FATHER OF LOUIS MANN, FROM WHOM HE DREW HEBREW CHARACTERS, IS DEAD.

Thousands of Theatre-Goers Have Laughed at the Eccentricities Portrayed by the Talented Son on the Stage.

Nathan Mann.

Samuel Mann.

Louis Mann.

The death of Daniel Mann at his residence, No. 180 East Seventy-sixth street, marks the passing of one of New York's most famous Hebrew characters.

Without knowing of his existence thousands of theatre-goers have laughed at his eccentricities as portrayed behind the footlights by his talented son, Louis Mann, the comedian.

Max Nix, the famous character portrayed by Louis Mann in "The Telephone Girl," was patterned after Daniel Mann and his genial diffidence with the English tongue.

To be sure, the character was presented with a deal of exaggeration, but the elder Mr. Mann, who transmitted his comic instincts to his offspring, gave his son the cue by his habit of amusing his friends by burlesquing his own peculiar dialect.

Nathan Mann, another son, is a talented composer, whose popular ballads have had great vogue. The eldest son, Samuel, is a prosperous business man.

Daniel Mann was born at Worms-on-the-Rhine, Germany, in 1835, and had been in this country about forty-six years. During that time he had become well known in this city through his association with many secret and benevolent societies. He was also a great dog facier, bearing the distinction of having bred the first native champion St. Bernard in this country.

Mr. Mann leaves a widow, who is about seventy years old. From her, Louis Mann says, emanated the popular saying, "It is to laugh." She is wellighly prostrated by her husband's death.

The deceased, who had been suffering from heart trouble, cabled to Germany some time ago for his son Louis, who was then travelling with his wife, who was Miss Clara Lippman. After the return of his son and wife the old man slowly gave way to his disease.

TRIED TO KILL MAN WITH WIFE

Harry Heck, of Toledo, Fires Four Shots Into Arthur Chapman's Body.

Arthur E. T. Chapman, a well-known young New orker, whose mother lives at No. 208 East Thirty-seventh street, is dying in Toledo, O., as the result of wounds inflicted upon him by Harry Heck, the infuriated husband of a woman in whose house Chapman was shot last night.

Heck fired three bullets into his victim's body and the injuries are considered fatal.

The tragedy was occasioned by Chapman's attentions to Mrs. Heck. Six months ago she separated from her husband, who is a die-maker, and possessed of an insanely jealous disposition. Last night Heck forced his way into the house in which his wife was living and found her with Chapman, who had been paying her attention for some time, was in her company.

Heck immediately drew a revolver and fired three shots, all of which took effect. His victim was removed to one of the hospitals, and was arrested and locked up, charged with attempted murder.

Fought in the Philippines. The news of the shooting occasioned considerable comment uptown, where Chapman had lived from his boyhood and prior to his entering the American army in the Philippines. His mother, Mrs. Joseph Roberts, learned of the shooting this morning and has been telegraphing all day to Toledo in the effort to discover to what hospital her son has been taken and if there are any chances of his recovery.

She was prostrated over the sad news. "I have not heard from Arthur for some time, and I cannot believe that the cause of the shooting was over a woman. My son joined the army the time of the breaking out of the Spanish war. He enlisted in the Fourth United States Cavalry, and served in Cuba. From there he went to the Philippines and served there until last winter, when he returned to this city, and finally succeeded in finding me at my present residence. He had never received the letters from me telling him of my change of address from No. 116 East Thirty-second street.

"Arthur stayed with us until last April, when he accepted a position with an electrical firm at Alliance, O. Some time later he wrote me that he had been sent on the road as a commercial traveller for the firm and that his address would be irregular. That is the last that we have heard from him. If it is true that my poor boy has been murdered we shall have his body brought here for interment."

Was a Private Detective. Despatches from Toledo state that for the past three months Chapman has been employed as a private detective in that place.

It was learned this morning that this trouble that Chapman has had over a woman is not the first affair of the sort at one time it is alleged that he was married to a dashing young lady uptown, but no record of the marriage was ever produced and he finally left the girl to enlist in the army.

TWO INJURED BY ELEVATOR DROP

The Cable in American Ice Company's Plant Breaks and Employees Fall Twenty Feet.

The breaking of a cable let an elevator at the plant of the American Ice Company, at the foot of East Fifty-second street, drop early to-day, carrying two men to the bottom of the shaft, a distance of twenty feet.

Andrew Schwanenland, forty years old, of No. 320 East Fifty-third street, sustained a fracture of the left ankle.

Andrew Schnabel, thirty-seven years old, of No. 948 First avenue, received an injury to his spine. Both were taken to Flower Hospital, where it was said they were not seriously hurt.

"PUSHBALL" NEW GAME PLAYED IN ENGLAND.

Contest Similar to Football, but Hands Instead of Feet Are Used. Another new game, which was recently tried at Headingley in Yorkshire, England, with great success, may be attempted in this country in the near future. It is called pushball, and is a recent game at the above mentioned place between American and English teams the former came out victorious by a score of 14 points to 4.

A great deal of enthusiasm was exhibited by the large crowd of spectators present owing to the numerous exciting plays. The game is played with a giant ball, and the play in general is not unlike that of football. The ball, instead of being kicked, is pushed by the players with their hands.

Mrs. Ryan alleged that upon returning on Aug. 20 from Long Branch, where she had spent the summer, she employed an additional servant to clean house at No. 260 West Thirty-eighth street.

In her affidavit, Mrs. Ryan alleged that the prisoner had been in her employ as a domestic.

Mrs. Ryan alleged that upon returning on Aug. 20 from Long Branch, where she had spent the summer, she employed an additional servant to clean house at No. 260 West Thirty-eighth street.

The prisoner was already in Mrs. Ryan's employ.

At about 11 o'clock Sept. 1, Mrs. Ryan alleged the prisoner told her that the sideboard drawer was open. As her jewelry was kept in that drawer, she made a hasty investigation and says that she had been robbed of her jewelry as follows:

One pair of diamond earrings, one diamond and emerald butterfly pin, one diamond sunburst, one diamond marquis ring, one pearl and diamond ring, one gold watch and chain, one gold diamond mounted sash, one gold mounted pocket book, two dresses worth $50, and $217 in cash.

She reported the loss to the West Thirty-seventh Street Station immediately, and on her return to her home, she found that the prisoner had disappeared. Detectives Trojan and Geddie arrested the servant last night. In her home they found one of the dresses. She alleged, however, that the complainant had given it to her.

FIVE KILLED IN RIOT.

Peasants Routed Gendarmes and Then Attacked Soldiers. ROME, Sept. 8.—Five persons were killed and ten were wounded in a conflict between troops and strikers at Candela, a small town of Apulia, in the extreme southeastern part of Italy. The strikers were peasants who quit on account of wages. After routing the gendarmes they attacked the troops.

NOT JOSEPH S. ULMAN.

Well-Known Broker Annoyed by a Typographical Error.

Friends of Mr. Joseph S. Ulman, a well known and highly esteemed member of the Stock Exchange, tried to have fun at his expense to-day because a picture of Joe P. Ulman, the bookmaker, appeared in this morning's World with the caption "Joe S. Ulman" in connection with the fact that the Ulman-Weller book had suspended.

While the reading matter made it perfectly clear that the Ulman referred to was the bookmaker and sporting man, who spells his name with two "U's," and not the well-known banker, Mr. Joseph S. Ulman was considerably annoyed, particularly as a picture very slightly resembling the banker was published.

The World hastens to call attention to the fact that the banker, Joseph S. Ulman, of Ulman Brothers, No. 52 Exchange place, has not the remotest connection with the Ulman of the race track and bookmakers.

TROOPS TO COLON.

COLON, Colombia, Sept. 8.—Over 1,000 Government troops were hurried to Colon from Panama and intrenchments are being thrown up on Monkey Hill, a mile from Colon, on the railroad and other points in expectation of an insurgent attack.
