

DOING TO 'DO' BILL IN DE NINTH

Big Alderman Is Going to Give the Pumpocrat an Awful Swat in the Fight for the Leadership Next Year.

'DOWLING OR NIX?' A SLOGAN

Foxy Politician Who Wanted to Give a Whole Street to the Erie Road Will Hit 'Er Up with Free Lunch and Free Beer.

Alderman Dowling is tall and straight. And in his hands he carries a pistol. He has a ball from Tammany Hall. And he'll land at Devere's camp.

"Hurrah for Dowling! He's the next leader of the district!" "It's all over with Big Bill and his crowd. We're never happy in the Ninth unless there's a fight on, and from now on it's a fight to the finish."

"Dowling for leader next year, no matter who the man is. Croker himself couldn't have the leadership now, we are so stuck on Dowling."

"After Dowling, who? Nooney! Nix! Nix!"

A New Order of Things. These expressive sentiments indicate the new order of things political which are developing in the Ninth, made famous by Big Bill Devery in his stirring fight against Sheehan and Goodwin for the leadership.

In this instance allow a reminiscence to briefly prevail. Scene: Alderman Chamber, the members in their seats. Announcement hour has approached. Dowling arises, approaches the clerk and says as though his voice was husky from a cold: "Read General Order No. 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100."

"All in favor will vote 'Aye,' contrary 'No,'" shouts the Vice-Chairman, pounding the desk with his knave.

"It seems to be and it is carried."

He Just Woke Up. "What's that we voted on?" exclaims one sleepy Alderman, aroused to a sudden realization of his responsibilities. The resolution was a veritable franchise granting the Erie Railroad the right to acquire a west side street and lay tracks.

"Whew!" exclaimed the Alderman, "and we know it? Not on your life, Dowling! You can't pull a horse like Aldermanic plums without us knowing something about it. And the vote just recorded was recorded on Dowling."

Laws Parties and Chowders. When spring blossoms forth he will give a party and a lawn party, and by the time the primaries arrive there will have been clambakes, free lunches, with free beer, and moonlight excursions that will have made the name of Dowling—like that of Mr. Devery in the song—great throughout the land.

"And who is paying for it all?" asked one inquirer. "The party," answered Dowling. "Paying for it? Why, the Erie Railroad people and Tammany Hall," said one of Dowling's clerks. "The Erie Railroad wants him for his nerve. So do we, and as for the Erie road, didn't he want to give the street for nothing, and besides, didn't he come car doing it?"

SILVERSMITHS GO OUT ON A STRIKE.

Half of the Whiting Company's Men Quit Work; Men at Other Factories May Join Them.

About one-half of the 600 silversmiths employed by the Whiting Manufacturing Company, at Fourth street and Lafayette place, went on a strike to-day after the noon luncheon hour. It had been reported that all the silversmiths of the city would quit.

Shortly before noon President Butkley, the Vice-President and Treasurer of the company held a conference with some of the members of the Brotherhood of Silversmiths, but did not succeed in preventing a strike. The chairman of the Brotherhood said that to-morrow all the silversmiths in the city would be on strike, which will not end until their demands for a nine-hour day, instead of ten, is granted.

Other firms that may be affected are Tiffany & Co., Dominick & Hoas, Redlich Bros., Fuchs Bros., Mauser Manufacturing Company and Shiebler & Co., of Brooklyn. The Gorham Manufacturing Company, whose factory is in Providence, R. I., has not been affected.

AFTER FALSE VOTERS. Nearly One Hundred Warrants Issued in One Court for Suspects.

During the past week nearly one hundred warrants have been issued by Magistrate Deuel in the West Side Court to Deputy Attorney-General Wise and McCullagh deputies for the apprehension of alleged illegal electors, who were arrested at the polls to-morrow.

When they try to cast ballots. The activity of the deputies in the West Side Court has been so successful that the percentage of arrests has been made to-morrow.

TOLL TEST FOR VOTING MACHINES

Five Are to Be Used in the Greater City To-Morrow in Very Widely Separated Election Districts.

ONE IN MAYOR'S PRECINCT.

Opportunity to Be Given City Officials and Party Leaders on Each Side to Observe How Automatic Vote-Counter Works.

The voting machine, which has been successfully used in Rochester and other cities and which was tried in one election district in Brooklyn last year, is to have a more extensive trial to-morrow.

Five of the machines are to be in use and if they prove as successful as is anticipated, it is probable that a move will be made to have the next election held with their use exclusively.

Three machines will be in Brooklyn, one in Manhattan and one in the Bronx. The election districts have been chosen with a view to giving officials of the two great parties an opportunity to personally see how they work.

The one in Manhattan will be set up in the election district of Mayor Low, the Thirtieth Election District of the Twenty-ninth Assembly District, at Sixty-fifth street and Park avenue. The Bronx machine will be at No. 124 Willis avenue, the Twenty-fifth Election District of the Thirty-fourth Assembly District. This is the district of W. H. Ten Eyck, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Republican County Committee.

The Brooklyn machines will be placed in the Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth and Sixteenth Assembly Districts. In the Twelfth Assembly District, in the Twenty-fifth Election District, the machine will be used in the precinct of John L. Shea, who is Chairman of the Kings County Democratic Committee.

There is every reason to believe that the machine will prove satisfactory. Last year there was not the slightest hitch with the machine that was used in the election district of the Twenty-fifth Assembly District. The machine is an automatic adder, so that when the last ballot is cast it only has to be unlocked for the total to be shown on the dial. It is a simple machine, known in two or three hours after the polls closed.

The fact that the machines are to be in five widely separated parts of the city will give an early line on which way the vote is going and will enable the average makers to figure out pretty well the situation in the city, going into the streets before anything like the full count is known.

OFFICIALS DESERT CAPITAL. Washington Office-Holders Flock Home to Aid Their Party.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Notwithstanding the fact that this is regarded as an "off year" in politics, an unusual number of Government officials have gone home to vote. With the exception of the Secretary of State, there is not a single member of the cabinet in Washington to-day, and with that exception every cabinet officer will vote at his home to-morrow. Secretary Hay's legal residence is in Washington and he has no vote.

All the cabinet officers excepting Secretary Hay and Secretary Hitchcock, have made speeches during the campaign. Secretaries of the Interior, War, Navy, and Agriculture, and the Assistant Secretary of the Interior, have all gone home to vote.

In the case of the Interior Department, the cabinet officer having left the city for that purpose, it was necessary for the President to designate an Assistant Attorney-General to act as Secretary of the Interior to sign the official mail. In the Post-Office Department over 100 clerks have gone home to vote. The Post-Office Department is a relatively large production, holds good in the other departments.

STECKLER EXPECTS A HEAVY LABOR VOTE. There was an air of complacent confidence at the headquarters of Justice Alfred Steckler to-day. Crowds of loyal supporters brought in, conferring with the Justice, a large number of county, and especially from the labor vote, which is expected to be heavy to-morrow. His name is in the columns of the Liberal Democrat, the organ of the labor party, and the New York Democracy on the official ballot.

Justice Steckler, brother of the popular Justice, who was known all over the east side as "the poor man's lawyer," has been elected to the Fourth Municipal District Bench. He is confident that he will receive more than 40,000 votes.

Justice Steckler himself is not worried by the prospect of a heavy vote. He is strictly in his public duties, sitting in Part VI. of the Supreme Court.

HARRISON SEES A HOPE OF VICTORY. Francis Burton Harrison, who has waged an earnest, hard-working campaign against discouraging odds for Congress in the Thirtieth District, was happy, though weary, at his headquarters in the Hotel Barthold, to-day.

After going over the figures of his campaign manager, Willis Holly, he said: "I have made as active a canvass of the district as possible under the circumstances. I know there are ten thousand Democrats who are not in the district. I have enjoyed meeting the popular response to my declaration of Democratic principles. I am gratified by the amount of interest in the campaign, which my friends, irrespective of party, have rallied to my support and by individual effort and personal appeal have enlisted a strength that I am confident will make a showing when the returns come in."

"This is a district that any man would feel proud to represent. I believe I have a good chance to win, and am very proud of that belief."

ARBITRATORS FIND STRIKE. Coal Peace Commissioners Meet 9,000 Idle Men in Hazleton.

HAZLETON, Pa., Nov. 3.—With 9,000 strikers appearing to them the Strike Commissioners this morning commenced their investigation into the conditions in the Hazleton district. There they called close to the heart of the strike the same men who were on strike in 1897, and who now are still on strike.

Mr. Hamilton is a son of Sir E. A. Hamilton, baronet, and is a distant relative of the Duke of Abercorn.

TO WORK FOR CHINA. WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Alfred E. Jessup, New York, now head of the testing laboratory in the supervising chief's office of the Treasury Department, has accepted the position of Chief of the Chinese Mint at Tientsin, China.

ROOSEVELT SPEEDS NORTH TO VOTE

Terminates Hunting Trip in South and Will Reach Oyster Bay Home This Evening.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—President Roosevelt left here for New York. Mr. Roosevelt and his party reached this city from Brandy, Va., shortly before noon. The President is in excellent health and spirits, having enjoyed his outing greatly.

On the station platform at Brandy, after his arrival, the President held an informal reception, many of the residents of that town and vicinity embracing the opportunity to meet and shake hands with him. Among others, the President met probably his only namesake in Virginia—Teddy Roosevelt Fant. Teddy is a baby about a year old, and crowded vigorously in the arms of his proud mother as the President chuckled him under the chin.

Arriving in Washington, the party boarded a special train on the Pennsylvania Railroad. The President expects to reach Oyster Bay at 7 o'clock this evening.

Secretary Root will not go to New York with the President. He will stop in Washington until 4 o'clock this afternoon, when he will take the Congressional Limited for New York in order that he may be at his home to vote early to-morrow morning.

Soft coal still holds at $6.50. There was no change to-day in the price of coal. Dealers charged $6.50 a ton for domestic sizes, but reported they had little on hand.

Several dealers expressed the opinion that after election there will be a decided increase in prices. One dealer asserted that the pressure brought to bear by the operators to keep down the retail price was for political purposes, and that coal will go up again before the end of this week, no matter which party wins the election. Other dealers think the price will remain where it is.

"This rate of $6.50 a ton is not the price of coal," said one dealer. "It is the price of some coal, and that some is very little. When cold weather comes after election and people have to have their price of coal will be a different story."

Commissioner Hawkes, of the Department of Docks and Ferries, was to have opened bids at noon to-day for coal to be supplied to the department, but no bids were received. This is the fifth bid which has been advertised. On Sept. 2 a bid of $10 a ton was received, which the Commissioner rejected. Since then no bids have been received.

SOLDIER BOYS WANT MORE ARMORY ROOM

Squadron A Wants the Eighth's Home, and It Would Go to the Bronx.

Two propositions were submitted to the Board of Army Commissioners to-day that, if accepted eventually, will change the location of the Eighth Regiment and will give Squadron A a large armory for its own use. Major Brimman, of the Squadron, sent a communication and appeared in person to ask the Board to give larger quarters to his command.

He said that Col. J. M. Jarvis, of the Eighth Regiment, was willing to turn over the Eighth Regiment Armory at Ninety-fourth street, to the Squadron for a long time, and that he was willing to have the battery in the same building. He would not agree to this.

The matter of giving the Eighth Regiment Armory to Squadron A and building a new armory for the regiment was referred to the committee for New York City, consisting of Gen. Smith, President of the Board, and Secretary Bell.

Col. George R. Dyer and Lieut. George Vanderbilt were present to urge the increase of facilities be accorded the Twelfth Regiment.

Col. Dyer said the regiment had increased from 1,200 to 1,800 men now. He said the officers were men holding important positions in the city's affairs, and were not on the same social status with the men, thereby having nothing to do with them outside of military affairs.

This, he explained, was found to make the regiment much better regarded than the Twelfth Regiment.

Hunt & Hunt's plan for the Twenty-second Regiment Army were adopted.

NOTABLES COMING HOME. LONDON, Nov. 3.—The White Star Line steamer "Gobania," which sails from Liverpool on Wednesday, will have on board a number of notable passengers, including Mr. and Mrs. C. Oliver Jellie, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Farwell, of Chicago, James Phelan, the Hon. Hon. Horace Foulkes, and the Hon. Claud and Lady Clodes, of Assan.

COAL PRICES TO GO UP AFTER ELECTION?

DIAMOND DEALER NOW A BANKRUPT.

Asserted He Was Robbed of Gems a Month Ago, but Creditors Make Charge of Fraud.

A petition in involuntary bankruptcy was filed with the clerk of the United States District Court against Abraham H. Freiman, a wholesale and retail dealer, of No. 15 Maiden lane, to-day.

The petitioner creditor is the diamond importing firm of Bruhl Bros., of No. 68 Nassau street.

According to the petition, on May 9 last, Bruhl Bros. sold Freiman jewelry to the amount of $2,000, no part of which has been paid. It is also alleged that on Sept. 15 last Freiman made payments of many hundreds of dollars to certain unknown creditors in order that they should receive a greater percentage of the amounts due than their creditors.

A still further and more serious allegation is made in the petition that on Oct. 3 last the supposed bankrupt removed $15,000, all with the intent to defraud his creditors.

In October Freiman reported to the authorities that he had been robbed of $15,000 worth of diamonds. The burglars, it was asserted, had gained an entrance to his room and stolen the diamonds while he slept.

Freiman, who lives at No. 37 East 124th street, told the police that on retiring he took a small package containing about $15,000 worth of diamonds and put it under his pillow. In the same room with him, but in another bed, slept his two sons, both grown. Nothing alarmed Mr. Freiman or his two sons during the night, but after he had dressed himself the following morning he started to get the diamonds he found to his amazement that they were gone.

Hays & Hirschfeld, attorneys for the creditors, stated to-day that Freiman had called under the pillow in the same room with him, but in another bed, slept his two sons, both grown. Nothing alarmed Mr. Freiman or his two sons during the night, but after he had dressed himself the following morning he started to get the diamonds he found to his amazement that they were gone.

The lawyers said the liabilities were greatly in excess of the assets.

CUBAN CHILDREN MAY BE DEPORTED.

The eleven Cuban children who arrived in this country on Saturday and have since been detained at Ellis Island will probably be sent back to Cuba.

The Board of Special Inquiry reported to-day to Commissioner Williams, of the Immigration Department, that they were unanimously in favor of excluding the children. Charges have been made by the Gerry Society that Mrs. Tringle's Institution in California is not a suitable place for the education of the little strangers.

An appeal will probably be taken from this decision, but pending further action the children will remain in the private suit of rooms belonging to the Commissioner on the third floor of the Ellis Island building.

DEPUTIES ARRANGE DUEL. Marquis de Dion, M. Richard Will Fight To-Morrow.

PARIS, Nov. 3.—The seconds of the Marquis de Dion and of M. Richard will fight a duel to-morrow. The place and hour of the encounter have not yet been decided upon.

The arrangements for the duel grew out of a recent angry discussion in the corridor of the Chamber of Deputies, of which Louis both the principals are members. The Marquis slapped Gerault Richard's face. The seconds of the Marquis are MM. Brunet and Syveton.

Body Found in River. The body of an unidentified man was found in the Hudson River at the foot of Forty-second street this morning. It was that of a man about thirty-five years old, 180 pounds weight, dark hair, light mustache, dressed in overalls and jumper, lined shoes and belt around the waist.

HEIRESS CHOSE TO MARRY IN SECRET. Mount Vernon Girl Wed a Year Ago Surprised Parents and Society with News.

(Special to The Evening World.) MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Society of Mount Vernon is talking to-day about the secret marriage of Miss Elizabeth Brush, heiress and daughter of ex-Mayor Brush, the millionaire manufacturer, to Walter A. Army, which occurred on Nov. 18, 1901, in New York City. The news of the runaway match was told for the first time this forenoon.

Dr. and Mrs. Brush were informed of the secret marriage by their daughter, and when they recovered from their surprise decided that the announcement should be made public immediately. It is said that Miss Brush's parents were not opposed to her choice and are delighted over the way in which the knot was tied.

WHO WANTS THIS RUSSIAN NOBLE?

Offers Heart, Hand and Title for Girl with $50,000 Dowry, and Isn't Particular About Her Age or Religion.

WROTE TO BOARD OF HEALTH

One of the Young Women There Said She'd Rather Have a Pie Baker, but Maybe You Wouldn't.

President Lederer, of the Board of Health, has received a letter from a Russian nobleman who evidently thinks that the Board of Health of New York City is a municipal matrimonial bureau, among other things.

The letter, which was received by President Lederer this morning, says that the writer is seeking a wife who has $50,000 in her own right.

Private Secretary Wadsworth, who, at the direction of Dr. Lederer, laid the chance before the young women in the Health Board's employ and says they all advanced good reasons as to why they wouldn't wed a Russian nobleman, even where there was no money consideration.

"My Jack is only foreman in a pie factory," said one miss, "but he is good enough for my honorable family. I am twenty."

Another said all the Russians she had ever seen had long whiskers and queer things, and she detested both habits.

The communication read: "I address myself with the request that you will inform me whether I can put myself in correspondence with an American young lady with $50,000. I am a Russian landholder and a nobleman. My father is a general and my mother a noble lady from Livonia. I speak German, French and Russian."

"I desire that the young woman shall be of an honorable family. I am twenty-five, and a young woman not older would please me best; but if she should be a widow, I would not object, and the same applies to her religion."

Address P. O. box No. 506, Kuesnitz, Province of Grodn, Russia."

Dr. Lederer has as yet made no reply.

The bridegroom is prominent in New York insurance circles and well known here, being a member of several of the leading clubs. He moves in the best social circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Army were sweethearts at school and for six years have been inseparable. It was agreed by the townspeople long ago that they would be married.

FINE WEATHER FOR ELECTION TO-MORROW.

The local weather bureau to-day made the following prognostication for to-morrow's weather: It will be good election weather, with probably no rain in this State. It will probably be cooler in the western portion of the State, but the temperature will remain about stationary here. The weather in the city will be partly cloudy, probably.

Awful Work of a Mysterious Maniac in Boston Suburbs Causes Widespread Alarm on All Sides of City.

Two Firemen Hurt and Several Others Bruised When the Hook and Ladder Falls While at Full Speed.

CLUBMAN IS SUSPECTED. TRYING TO SAVE CHILDREN.

(Special to The Evening World.) BOSTON, Nov. 3.—Not a woman in the suburbs of Boston dares venture out of doors at night without an armed guard for fear that the murderous individual who has killed two women and injured at least four others by beating in their skulls with an iron bludgeon will fall upon them and deal to them the same fate.

Who is this man? Is the problem on which the whole Boston police force is working. Suspicion points to a member of one of the most prominent families in Boston. He is a well-known clubman and a member of a dry-goods firm known in almost every city in the United States. He has disappeared from his home and the police have for the time being lost track of him. He is supposed to be insane.

Motive does not enter into any of the crimes. The murderer only attacks women, but they are women with whom he could not possibly have an acquaintance. His victims have come from every station in life. They have not known each other and have had nothing in common.

Just Delights in Murder. While some of them have been robbed, this motive has not inspired the crimes. A fiendish, maniacal delight in murder seems to have been the only impulse which has guided the murderer on the trails of his victims and given force to his blows. That his victims have all been women indicates to the minds of the police that the man is a degenerate of the order of the awful Whitechapel murderer who earned the sobriquet of "Jack the Ripper" by reason of his terrible butchery of fallen women in the London slums twelve years ago.

The weapon which this Boston murderer has been invariably has been an iron bludgeon taken from some scrap pile. His method is to come quickly on some lone and unsuspecting woman, strike her down from behind and then beat in her skull with blow after blow.

The murderer's latest victim was Miss Clara Morton, a nurse of the insane asylum in Waverly. The crime was committed within the very shadow of the asylum building while the nurse was not off the grounds. Without warning the man sprang upon her, struck her several times and fled, after robbing her of some insignificant sum. She died a few hours later in the hospital.

Beat Her with Iron Bar. The latest crime was committed within the grounds of the asylum and within the very shadow of the main building. Miss Morton was crossing the grounds when the man sprang upon her without warning and beat her with a heavy blow from a piece of iron. As the woman lay upon the ground the man beat her over the head until she was unconscious. Then he escaped, and the woman was taken to the hospital, where she died.
