The nihilists, the letters say, are in need of money, and none will come from Russia for six weeks, or too late for their purpose.

Dr. Lewis Well received a second letter to-day, which he has turned over to the police. The first letter was mailed in Hoboken and the second letter was mailed near Dr. Well's home.

McCullagh Had Twenty-Five College Boys Acting as Deputies to Prove Election Frauds in Different Districts.

The strategy of Superintendent of Elections McCullagh in putting five Columbia University students into "Big Six" Devery's district on election day was not only successful in the arrest of two of Devery's election district captains but more sensational arrests are to follow.

FINCH MAY WIN ON DEFECTIVE BALLOTS

Republican Nominee for the Assembly in the Fifth District Profits by Cunneen Votes.

Sufficient Democratic votes declared to be void were harvested from the ballot drop by the Board of County Canvassers to-day to insure the election of Edward S. Finch, the Republican candidate for the Assembly in the Fifth District.

Another voter wrote the name of Herr Most in the blank column for Governor, and a third wrote: "I am in favor of rum. I vote for this man because he is never sober—that's me."

When the canvass of the vote is finished it may be found that the plurality of Cunneen over Coman in the Greater City has been reduced by about 1,500 votes.

Only Man Who Whipped Devery Failed to Divide $250,000.

The will of the late Major Zabina K. Pangborn, of Jersey City, the only man who ever whipped Admiral George Devery, has been filed and admitted to probate in the office of Surrogate James T. Lillis.

The document is one of the shortest of its kind ever filed. It makes no distribution whatever of the $250,000 estate, and was apparently drawn for the sole purpose of naming executors.

EVERY MAN MAY CAST HIS VOTE.

Max Hochstim Is Granted a New Trial by Appellate Division, and the Decision Scores McCullagh Deputy.

NO RIGHT TO MAKE ARREST.

By a decision of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, handed down to-day, Max Hochstim is granted a new trial, and the decision of the lower court is reversed.

Hochstim was convicted in the Court of General Sessions of interference with William M. Chapman, a McCullagh deputy, on Election Day, Nov. 7, 1899, when Chapman attempted to arrest James Bassett, who claimed to be a qualified elector.

Bassett, after registration, was investigated by Chapman, who learned that he was not qualified to vote.

It was further alleged that Hochstim was the leader in a movement which resulted in Deputy Chapman being pushed into a corner of the room and there kept until Bassett had voted and escaped from the polling place.

The decision of the Appellate Division, rendered by Justice McCullagh, says:

"The people failed to establish any of the facts which justified Chapman as a peace officer in making an arrest without a warrant, and in attempting to do so he had no more authority than he did as Deputy Superintendent of Elections. Under the facts established Chapman's act was unauthorized and was unjustifiable interference with an elector's right to vote."

The decision was concurred in, in full, by Justices O'Brien, Hatch and Ingraham, and Justice McCullagh concurs in the general result.

Justice Ingraham in concurring opinion says: "That Chapman in attempting to arrest Bassett while he was about to vote, not only was not engaged in performing a duty imposed upon him by law, but was acting in direct violation of the Constitution of the State."

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 14.—J. M. McKnight, former President of the defunct German National Bank of this city, convicted of embezzling the bank's funds, was sentenced to six years' imprisonment. BOSTON, Nov. 14.—A plea of guilty to a charge of murder, which so surprised the clerk of the court as to prompt the question whether the prisoner understood the indictment, was made by Charles W. Himmerman in the Superior Criminal Court to-day.

The accused man had given no indication of his intention. When the indictment was read Himmerman answered "guilty." Clerk of Court Manning thought he must have misunderstood. He repeated the question, "Guilty or not guilty?" Himmerman again replied in a distinct tone, "Guilty."

"I haven't resigned," he said, "and I don't intend to. I am here to stay until my chief requests my resignation—Molinueux trial or no Molinueux trial. In the Molinueux trial, I did my duty, the duty that I swore to do when I took the oath of office. I have no personal feeling against Molinueux. I failed to convict him, but that was the decision of the jury, and I stand by that decision. I repeat that I have no intention of resigning my place."

The twenty employees of the banking house of Speyer & Co., who so joyfully offered their felicitations to James Speyer, the senior partner, gave to the occasion of the fifth anniversary of his marriage, are wishing to-day that he would celebrate a similar event every week, for as a little token of his appreciation the senior partner gave to each a full month's salary. BANK CASHIER FALLS AT DESK

Blood Vessel in John T. Rich's Head Bursts While He is at Work in the Third National, of Jersey City.

HE LAY THERE UNNOTICED.

A blood vessel burst in the head of John T. Rich, cashier of the Third National Bank of Jersey City, while he was attending to his duties in the bank to-day. He fell unconscious to the floor, clutching in his right hand a roll of money he had been counting when the attack seized him.

The breakdown of Mr. Rich was a tragedy of business that was not without its dramatic features. Overwork is supposed to have undermined his constitution, although from his physical appearance one would not take him to be in any but the very best of health.

When he reached the bank to-day he appeared to be as well as he had ever been in the forty-one years of his life. Customers came in and talked to him, he conducted affairs of moment and went on with his business without a trace of the trouble to come.

BOY CLEARS CAR WITH RED PEPPER

Passengers Stampeded from Broadway Trolley-Car When Bag of Cayenne Pepper Burst

HE LAY THERE UNNOTICED.

A little boy and a bag of cayenne pepper caused a stampede of about sixty passengers from a south-bound Broadway car, about 8 o'clock this morning, when people are flocking to work.

The boy boarded the crowded car at Twenty-first street and squeezed his way inside. Suddenly the car gave a lurch, the contents flowed in a red stream to the floor of the car.

Presently everybody began sneezing and wheezing, and finally a violent epidemic of sneezing and coughing broke out. Even the motorman and conductor were affected. The small boy had disappeared. He was soon followed by the rest of the passengers. The car remained empty all the rest of the trip to Bowling Green, where it was finally cleared of the fumes of red pepper.

PUTTING a costly Oak sole under the painted finish of a shoe, is trusting a great deal to the discernment of the Wearer. Common Hemlock or "Yankee Oak" soles look as well to the eye, when finished over, but they cost less, and subtract a dollar from Wear and shape-retention. Shoe-dissection, in our windows, now demonstrates that ninety per cent. of all $3.50 shoes have these common Hemlock or "Yankee Oak" soles. The "Window of the Sole" on every Regal shoe, as shown below, is a removable seal, which proves before purchase, that only the finest Oak tanned leather is used under the finish of Regals.
