

Wage Schedule Which Was Already Offered to the Men and Refused Was Voluntarily Put Into Effect To-Day.

TIME IS CUT DOWN, TOO. On Sixth Avenue Line a Nine-Hour Day is Practically Assured—Men Will Very Likely Accept the Terms.

To the great surprise of the employees of the Manhattan Elevated road the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, which took hold of the "L" system to-day, instituted the wage schedule which had been offered by General Manager Skitt and refused by the men before Mr. Skitt's authority as head of the operating department had ceased by reason of the lease to the subway company.

Notices to this effect were posted in the stations to-day. A further concession as to the train schedules was also made on the Sixth Avenue division, and it is natural to suppose will be made as soon as possible on the other three lines. This schedule makes practically a nine-hour day for all men employed on the line.

Men Will Doubtless Accept. This is a great victory for the men and will doubtless lead them to accept the wage schedule, although they have already refused it. President George E. Pepper, of the new union of "L" employees, is confident that the men will accept the present terms.

Although we rejected the wage schedule, he said. "Mr. Bryan says it will come in our envelopes next pay day and few of the men will feel disposed to refuse the increase. The new train schedule which has been put in force on the Sixth Avenue line to-day is the best we have had in twelve years and is really what we asked for. The other lines have not been taken care of thus far, but they will be ready in a few days."

When Will the Executive Committee call on Mr. Bryan and Mr. Hedley? It was asked. "That has not been determined; probably April 4 or April 5. Nothing rash should be done; in any event I am dead against a strike."

There are still some classes of workmen who have not formulated their demands. These include the dockmen, the air brakemen and certain kinds of platform men, who object especially to their long hours. Now that a good start has been made, there is every reason to believe that mutual concessions will be made and a lasting peace arranged.

BUCHANAN CAUSES A LOCAL WARFARE. President Buchanan, of the Structural Ironworkers' National Union, did not get up until almost noon to-day. He was busy half the night trying to quell the insurrection which has arisen among the members of the local union, who are opposed to national officers "butting in" behind the local organization and the American Bridge Company in an effort to settle the differences between them.

There was a meeting of the local organization last night at No. 208 East 17th street, when the meeting was held in a room at the corner of 17th and Avenue C. President Neidig, of the local union, who is standing by Buchanan, declared to-day that the meeting had endorsed Buchanan, but other members said that there was great opposition.

Buchanan was close mouthed when he was seen at the Ashland House. He seemed irritable, and when asked if he was going to call out all the structural steel workers in the city—a total of 8,000—he said rather vigorously: "I won't say, but there'll be something doing before night."

PLUMBERS' STRIKE ON STATEN ISLAND. The sixty members of Union No. 104 of the Plumbers and Gasfitters, covering Staten Island, went on strike to-day. The men demanded $2.50 a day, a half holiday on Saturday and double pay for work on the island holidays. They had been receiving $1. The employers agreed to the raise in pay, but refused the double time proposition.

STRIKE STOPS ALL LAKE NAVIGATION. (Special to The Evening World.) BUFFALO, N. Y., April 11.—Navigation on Lake Erie is at a standstill to-day because of a strike declared to-day by the men who operate the boats on the lake. The men demanded a 50-cent increase in wages and a 10-hour day.

TEN THOUSAND MINERS AWAIT DECISION. (Special to The Evening World.) PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 11.—Ten thousand miners in the West Virginia coal fields are waiting for a decision by the Federal Labor Board on their strike. The men have been on strike since last August, and the Federal Labor Board has been unable to reach a settlement.

COUNT ZBOROWSKI IS KILLED IN AUTO RACE.

had been killed. The Countess Zborowski, who was awaiting her husband at La Corniche, was prostrated when the news was taken to her. She was the divorced wife of the Baron de Stuers, formerly the Dutch Minister to France, and was an American woman, being the granddaughter of William B. Astor.

SPOT IS A DEADLY ONE. The spot where the accident occurred was the scene of a similar fatality two years ago, when a German automobilist was killed in the same manner.

The course, which is fifteen kilometres long, is known as being most dangerous. It runs round sharp corners along the cliffs of La Corniche (the name given to the road leading from Nice to Genoa). It was covered by last year's winner under seventeen minutes.

Count Zborowski had been one of the most enthusiastic road racers in Europe. He had taken part in all the great international races and was entered for the James Gordon Bennett International Automobile Cup contest shortly to take place in Ireland.

That Elliot Zborowski died as he did will be no surprise to those in this city who remember him as the greatest daredevil New York and Newport society ever had. Even Foxhall Keene, who has had half the bones in his body broken, was not the equal to this American Count for his wild, reckless disregard for life. He was born in this city of a long line of Zborowskis.

Strangely enough his death is in keeping with the traditions of his family, for none of the male members ever dies in bed. Back of this remarkable circumstance is a tale of a curse four generations ago launched at the head of the great-grandfather of Elliot Zborowski by an Irish Lord who in his anger called upon heaven to prevent any male Zborowski from ever dying in his bed.

ALL DIED OUT OF THEIR BEDS. None has since. Elliot's father was stricken with paralysis and died in his chair before the son could ride for a physician. One of his uncles, Elliot, was killed by a New York, New Haven and Hartford train. Another, Francis, was drowned in a Williamsbridge pond. Still another member of the family was killed by being thrown from a horse, and so the story has gone. Now comes the crushing of this generation's representative in a twentieth century accident.

The Zborowskis were originally a Polish family, but they settled generations ago in New York. The name is said to have been Zabriszki at one time, but was changed because it was too common. This branch of the family settled around Tremont and as the city grew that way great wealth came to them by the enhancement of their real estate.

COUNT BEGAN TO LIVE IN STYLE. So it was that when Elliott's father died he left the young man rich. The social position of the family was very high and young Elliott started out to enjoy life. He became known as one of the gayest of the exclusive Newport set. He hunted with the Meadowbrook and Rockaway packs and trained with such men as Foxhall Keene, George Work, Pierre Lorillard, Jr., and others of the hunting set.

As a horseman he had few equals. When in the eighties he went to England, where he bought a splendid country home at Melton Mowbray, he astonished English society by the daring high jinks he put on horseback. Among other things he got up an electric steeplechase at night over a mile course on his own grounds. Among the riders was Fred Burnaby, the great war correspondent. Burnaby won, with Zborowski second.

MARRIAGE CREATED GREAT SCANDAL. The marriage of Zborowski created an international scandal. The woman he married was the wife of the Baron de Stuers, who in 1892 was the Dutch Minister to France. She was an American woman, the daughter of James Carey, of Sioux Falls, S. Dak. She was the granddaughter of William B. Astor and thus the cousin of William Astor.

She met Zborowski while visiting at Newport and the handsome, dashing young bachelor won her love. The Baron was aroused to see her for divorce. The trial took place in Sioux Falls in 1892, and the Baron won. During the scandal which preceded the trial there was talk of a duel between the injured husband and Zborowski, but it never took place.

Shortly after the decree was issued Zborowski married the Baroness and went to live abroad. They have been in this country very little since then. The wealth of the Baroness, added to the income of Zborowski, gave them money which enabled them to gratify every whim, no matter how extravagant, and they cut a wide swath in every capital they visited. The origin of the dead man's title of Count is not understood in this country. He was never known as Count while he lived on this side, but after a few years on the other side the newspapers began to refer to him as the American Count, and his Polish name made it seem less incongruous.

18,500 STRIKE IN THE SUBURBS.

Prospective Homes of Millionaires in Westchester and Greenwich Tied Up.

When the whistles blew to-day about 18,500 mechanics in Westchester County and Connecticut went on a strike, and all building work there is at a standstill. The strikers are members of unions in the Bronx, Mount Vernon, White Plains, Tarrytown, Dobbs Ferry, Hastings, New Rochelle, Rye, Port Chester, Larchmont and other towns. They were employed on new houses, villas and stables which New York millionaires are building along the northern shore of Long Island Sound, aggregating in cost about $12,000,000.

The strikers, who are receiving $2.50 a day, now demand $4, while the plumbers' helpers also ask an increase to $2.50. Edward L. Marston's new casino, at Byram Shore, $50,000; P. G. Theobald's new manor-house, at White Plains, $100,000; Edward L. Marston's new bungalow, $50,000; Old Women's Home, at Harrison, $50,000; C. Oliver Iselin's improvement to All View, $50,000; M. J. Condon mansion, $50,000; J. A. Peck villa, $45,000; Iselin Catholic Church, $100,000; Richard Harding Davis' new bungalow, $50,000; Moses Taylor's new stable, $50,000; five villas at Larchmont, $100,000; eight new cottages at Greenwich and Sound Beach, $50,000.

TWO FERRIES TO STATEN ISLAND.

Mayor Low Advocates Authorizing Competing Lines with Fast Boats, 3-Cent Fares and Trips Every Ten Minutes.

CITY TO OWN TERMINALS. Mayor Low believes that Staten Islanders are entitled to a better ferry service and has suggested a plan whereby not only the present Staten Island ferry company may operate boats, but the proposed H. H. Rogers ferry company as well.

The competition by two ferry systems, the Mayor wisely argues, will insure an adequate service. The Mayor proposed that the city acquire the terminals at both ends of the present Staten Island ferry.

He proposes a ferry to St. George and one to Stapleton, and a freight ferry to Port Richmond. He would have trips every ten minutes, with three-cent fares, or ten tickets for 25 cents for passengers going to St. George.

Fares to the other terminals would be in proportion. As to the boats, the Mayor says those now in service should be replaced as rapidly as possible by new steamers capable of maintaining a twenty minute schedule to St. George.

The Mayor's plan will be submitted to the Sinking Fund.

THREW BLAZING OIL STOVE FROM WINDOW.

Plucky Mrs. Carson Prevented a Serious Fire, but was Painfully Burned.

The prompt action and coolness of Mrs. Carrie Carson, daughter of Daniel McInroe, of No. 160 Fourth street, Brooklyn, prevented a disastrous fire this afternoon, though it resulted in painful burns to the plucky young woman.

Mrs. Carson, her mother, Mrs. McInroe, and several friends were sewing in the front room of the second story of the house. A small oil stove stood on a table near them. Some inadvertent movement overturned the stove and set the carpet and curtains ablaze.

GREENE DISMISSES CAPT. DEVANEY. Commissioner Finds Him Guilty of Making False Entries in Blotter and He is Put Off the Force.

Capt. Michael Devaney, formerly in command of the police station at Fort Hamilton, was dismissed from the force to-day by Commissioner Greene. Devaney was suspended two months ago on a charge of making false entries in his blotter. He was tried before the Commissioner at Brooklyn Headquarters two weeks ago. After the hearing Mr. Greene made a careful investigation of the blotter and decided that Devaney was guilty of the charge.

Devaney was appointed a patrolman on September 30, 1892. He was made a Captain on Feb. 19, 1901.

MAN SHOT TWICE DURING QUARREL.

Altercation on the Viaduct Causes Bullets to Fly and Victim is Expected to Die.

During an altercation on the viaduct, at One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street and Eighth Avenue to-day, Peter Pichal, of No. 1864 ark avenue, shot Peter Palogasso, of No. 2883 Broadway, twice in the neck. Palogasso was taken to the J. Hood Wright Hospital in a critical condition. Pichal was arrested.

NOBLES AT THE THEATRE.

With Their Wives and Sweethearts They Will Go to the Orpheum. The Orpheum Theatre in Brooklyn will this evening be the Mecca for a small army of red-tipped Nobles, their wives, daughters or sweethearts. The entire house, with the exception of the upper balcony, have been sold, and many Nobles will have to content themselves with a look on from on high.

Manager Williams has provided a bill that glitters with numbers "colorful and sandy," and the Nobles are assured of an evening of such a high standard as to be enjoyed. After the performance the entire party will assemble at Ostermann's where a "banquet a la Kismet" will be enjoyed.

COLDS.

Their Proper Treatment and Cure BY DR. VALENTINE.

COMMONLY, the first symptom of a "cold" is a chilly feeling, accompanied by sneezing or tickling in the throat. The most frequent of external causes are draughts, wet or cold feet, or going from hot rooms suddenly into cold ones.

More frequently there is an inner cause—namely the stagnation of the blood caused by constipation or biliousness. Almost the first symptom is the feeling of cold in the feet and increased discharge from the nose. The nerves act like telegraph wires carrying the news to the great vaso-motor centres, and as a result the capacity for work of the pores of the skin is diminished.

This crowds the work of the internal organs, and there results a congestion in some one part of the body, usually the weakest part; there may appear a nasal discharge, or a slight cough at first, followed by bronchitis, catarrh, grip, or possibly, even by consumption. However there is no great danger in a cold unless it is neglected. Of course when the blood is in this stagnant condition the germs of grip, catarrh, consumption, malaria or any other disease find a fertile field in which to take root and grow.

At the first symptoms the careful person will heed the warning by taking a mild laxative; some vegetable pill that will not disturb the system or cause griping. About the handiest and best thing to take at such a time is "Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets," little sugar-coated granules, which come in phials and are perfectly harmless to the system. Sometimes a druggist will try and get you to take his own make of pills, which may contain calomel (mercury), or drugs harmful to the system, whereas the "Pleasant Pellets" are warranted to be composed of vegetable ingredients. If the cold starts with a cough, and it persists, then some local treatment for this condition should be taken. A well-known alterative extract which has been on the market for a great many years, and which has been highly recommended by thousands of users, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This tonic is composed of roots and herbs and has a soothing effect upon the mucous membrane, allays the irritation and at the same time works in the proper and reasonable way, at the seat of the trouble—the stagnated or poisoned blood.

COMMON SENSE MEDICATION. No one ever takes cold unless constipated, or exhausted, and having what we call mal-nutrition, which is attended with impoverished blood and exhaustion of nerve force. Tonics consisting of large portions of alcohol, iron or cod liver oil do not bring the desired changes in the blood, because they do not enter the system and are not absorbed into the blood, with the exception of the alcohol which shrivels up the red blood corpuscles when it does come in contact with them. We recommend this botanical extract of Dr. Pierce's because it contains no alcohol, and offers a reasonable and scientific method of treating the blood, by improving the nutritive functions of the patient. The "Golden Medical Discovery" accomplishes this by first restoring the enfeebled digestive organs, so that food, the natural tissue builder, will be digested and assimilated. For there is always present in these cases loss of appetite and lack of sufficient nourishment to replenish the waste of tissue.
