

TYPICAL EAST SIDE GANG, HEADQUARTERS "CLUB" FOR ROUGH-HOUSE MEN; PLACE CLOSED BY TOUGHS AND A GIRL DECOY.

DELEGATION OF FIVE POINTERS IN FRONT OF POLICE STATION. (Caption text is partially obscured and difficult to read fully.)

TRACKS BACK.

His Reply to President Vreeland's Statement Is a Challenge to Disprove the Charges Made Against Metropolitan.

MEANS TO KEEP RIGHT ON.

No Amount of Villification, He Asserts, Can Sidetrack Investigation of Railroad Company's Alleged Mismanagement.

Eugene A. Philbin, attorney for two stockholders of the Metropolitan street railway...

struction of the plain statements in the company's sworn report...

KRUGER'S HOUSE SOLD. Transvaal Home of Ex-Beer Leader Brought $20,000.

LATEST NEWS OF THE BUSINESS WORLD.

IRON WORKERS' STRIKE IS OFF. Conferrees from Several Cities Agree to Terms with American Bridge Company.

STOCKS LED BY METROPOLITAN. Traction Issue in Demand on the Exchange and Early Gain Made Was Held at the Close.

COFFEE DOWN TO LOWEST POINT. April Option Slips to 3.70, a New Record, on Glut of the Market Supplies.

WORMSERS AGAIN BOUGHT. Metropolitan Street Railway was again the centre of interest...

STOCKS FIRM IN LONDON. Americans Active and Showing General Gains.

NEW STATION FOR THE TENDERLOIN. City Is to Build Its Finest There at a Cost of Not Less than $125,000.

12,000 STRIKERS TO JOIN IN PARADE. Brotherhood of Carpenters Will March Up Fifth Avenue from Washington Arch on Monday.

AN ACCOUNTANT'S STATEMENT. 'Hardly any of the items that have been brought up by Mr. Amory's testimony have appeared in Mr. Teichman's report...

TRACK-LAYING FIGURES. With regard to the thirty-fourth street line, the reports clearly show that the sum of $20,000,000 was charged for laying rails from Broadway to Lexington avenue...

THE CLOSING QUOTATIONS. Today's highest, lowest and closing prices and net changes from yesterday's closing price or from last recorded sale, are as follows:

THE COTTON MARKET. The local cotton market opened firm to-day with prices three to eight points higher.

THE WHEAT MARKET. Wheat had an earlier start this morning, receiving a moderate demand from shorts.

THE RAILROAD MARKET. The railway list was fractionally firmer, influenced by the improved London market...

THE STEEL MARKET. The industrial securities improved, Colorado Fuel and Iron and Tennessee Coal and Iron gaining 2-4 while the Steel stocks showed smaller gains.

THE TRUCK MARKET. The truck market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

THE FURNITURE MARKET. John Pennell and Emma L. Schutte, who composed the firm of Pennell & Schutte, furniture manufacturers at No. 50 Elizabeth street, to-day assigned to George H. Jones.

THE SHIP MARKET. The shipping market was quiet but a shade firmer to-day. Northern Securities opened at 97-1/4 and rapidly advanced to 97-3/4...

THE CURRENCY MARKET. The currency market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

THE BOND MARKET. The bond market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

THE STOCK MARKET. The stock market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

IRON WORKERS' STRIKE IS OFF. Conferrees from Several Cities Agree to Terms with American Bridge Company.

STOCKS LED BY METROPOLITAN. Traction Issue in Demand on the Exchange and Early Gain Made Was Held at the Close.

COFFEE DOWN TO LOWEST POINT. April Option Slips to 3.70, a New Record, on Glut of the Market Supplies.

WORMSERS AGAIN BOUGHT. Metropolitan Street Railway was again the centre of interest...

STOCKS FIRM IN LONDON. Americans Active and Showing General Gains.

NEW STATION FOR THE TENDERLOIN. City Is to Build Its Finest There at a Cost of Not Less than $125,000.

12,000 STRIKERS TO JOIN IN PARADE. Brotherhood of Carpenters Will March Up Fifth Avenue from Washington Arch on Monday.

AN ACCOUNTANT'S STATEMENT. 'Hardly any of the items that have been brought up by Mr. Amory's testimony have appeared in Mr. Teichman's report...

TRACK-LAYING FIGURES. With regard to the thirty-fourth street line, the reports clearly show that the sum of $20,000,000 was charged for laying rails from Broadway to Lexington avenue...

THE CLOSING QUOTATIONS. Today's highest, lowest and closing prices and net changes from yesterday's closing price or from last recorded sale, are as follows:

THE COTTON MARKET. The local cotton market opened firm to-day with prices three to eight points higher.

THE WHEAT MARKET. Wheat had an earlier start this morning, receiving a moderate demand from shorts.

THE RAILROAD MARKET. The railway list was fractionally firmer, influenced by the improved London market...

THE STEEL MARKET. The industrial securities improved, Colorado Fuel and Iron and Tennessee Coal and Iron gaining 2-4 while the Steel stocks showed smaller gains.

THE TRUCK MARKET. The truck market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

THE FURNITURE MARKET. John Pennell and Emma L. Schutte, who composed the firm of Pennell & Schutte, furniture manufacturers at No. 50 Elizabeth street, to-day assigned to George H. Jones.

THE SHIP MARKET. The shipping market was quiet but a shade firmer to-day. Northern Securities opened at 97-1/4 and rapidly advanced to 97-3/4...

THE CURRENCY MARKET. The currency market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

THE BOND MARKET. The bond market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

THE STOCK MARKET. The stock market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

STOCKS LED BY METROPOLITAN. Traction Issue in Demand on the Exchange and Early Gain Made Was Held at the Close.

COFFEE DOWN TO LOWEST POINT. April Option Slips to 3.70, a New Record, on Glut of the Market Supplies.

WORMSERS AGAIN BOUGHT. Metropolitan Street Railway was again the centre of interest...

STOCKS FIRM IN LONDON. Americans Active and Showing General Gains.

NEW STATION FOR THE TENDERLOIN. City Is to Build Its Finest There at a Cost of Not Less than $125,000.

12,000 STRIKERS TO JOIN IN PARADE. Brotherhood of Carpenters Will March Up Fifth Avenue from Washington Arch on Monday.

AN ACCOUNTANT'S STATEMENT. 'Hardly any of the items that have been brought up by Mr. Amory's testimony have appeared in Mr. Teichman's report...

TRACK-LAYING FIGURES. With regard to the thirty-fourth street line, the reports clearly show that the sum of $20,000,000 was charged for laying rails from Broadway to Lexington avenue...

THE CLOSING QUOTATIONS. Today's highest, lowest and closing prices and net changes from yesterday's closing price or from last recorded sale, are as follows:

THE COTTON MARKET. The local cotton market opened firm to-day with prices three to eight points higher.

THE WHEAT MARKET. Wheat had an earlier start this morning, receiving a moderate demand from shorts.

THE RAILROAD MARKET. The railway list was fractionally firmer, influenced by the improved London market...

THE STEEL MARKET. The industrial securities improved, Colorado Fuel and Iron and Tennessee Coal and Iron gaining 2-4 while the Steel stocks showed smaller gains.

THE TRUCK MARKET. The truck market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

THE FURNITURE MARKET. John Pennell and Emma L. Schutte, who composed the firm of Pennell & Schutte, furniture manufacturers at No. 50 Elizabeth street, to-day assigned to George H. Jones.

THE SHIP MARKET. The shipping market was quiet but a shade firmer to-day. Northern Securities opened at 97-1/4 and rapidly advanced to 97-3/4...

THE CURRENCY MARKET. The currency market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

THE BOND MARKET. The bond market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

THE STOCK MARKET. The stock market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

SURPLUS GAIN IN BANK STATEMENT. Clearing-House Figures Generally Favorable, Although an Increase in Loans Was Shown When Decrease Was Expected.

INCREASE IN RESERVES. An increase in loans, when a decrease was looked for, rather detracted from the weekly bank statement issued to-day...

THE WHEAT MARKET. Wheat had an earlier start this morning, receiving a moderate demand from shorts.

THE RAILROAD MARKET. The railway list was fractionally firmer, influenced by the improved London market...

THE STEEL MARKET. The industrial securities improved, Colorado Fuel and Iron and Tennessee Coal and Iron gaining 2-4 while the Steel stocks showed smaller gains.

THE TRUCK MARKET. The truck market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

THE FURNITURE MARKET. John Pennell and Emma L. Schutte, who composed the firm of Pennell & Schutte, furniture manufacturers at No. 50 Elizabeth street, to-day assigned to George H. Jones.

THE SHIP MARKET. The shipping market was quiet but a shade firmer to-day. Northern Securities opened at 97-1/4 and rapidly advanced to 97-3/4...

THE CURRENCY MARKET. The currency market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

THE BOND MARKET. The bond market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

THE STOCK MARKET. The stock market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

THE CLOSING QUOTATIONS. Today's highest, lowest and closing prices and net changes from yesterday's closing price or from last recorded sale, are as follows:

THE COTTON MARKET. The local cotton market opened firm to-day with prices three to eight points higher.

THE WHEAT MARKET. Wheat had an earlier start this morning, receiving a moderate demand from shorts.

THE RAILROAD MARKET. The railway list was fractionally firmer, influenced by the improved London market...

THE STEEL MARKET. The industrial securities improved, Colorado Fuel and Iron and Tennessee Coal and Iron gaining 2-4 while the Steel stocks showed smaller gains.

THE TRUCK MARKET. The truck market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

THE FURNITURE MARKET. John Pennell and Emma L. Schutte, who composed the firm of Pennell & Schutte, furniture manufacturers at No. 50 Elizabeth street, to-day assigned to George H. Jones.

THE SHIP MARKET. The shipping market was quiet but a shade firmer to-day. Northern Securities opened at 97-1/4 and rapidly advanced to 97-3/4...

THE CURRENCY MARKET. The currency market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

THE BOND MARKET. The bond market was quiet and steady and railroad bonds a shade firmer.

SHOTS CLOSE IN FEAR OF GANGS. Cherry Hill District Terrorized by "Five Points," "Drop the Limit" and Other Outlaw Bands That Infest It.

THE POLICE POWERLESS. They All Know the Facts, but Are Afraid to Tell Them, So Here Are Some for Commissioner Greene to Consider and Act Upon.

Have the days of "plug uglies" and "Bowerly boys," quaint reminders of desperate deeds in the cycle of Boss Tweed and the "Draft Riot" period, again returned to old New York?

The only way to answer these questions is to visit Cherry Hill and the Fourth Precinct, at an Evening World reporter and artist. Any illusion about millenniums is then speedily lost. It takes less than ten minutes' observation and inquiry to be convinced that one section of New York is now practically under the thumb of "gangs."

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

Police Know No Gangs. Schneck's assault is charged to John Torrio, leader of the Five Points gang...

AL ADAMS, POLICY KING, WHO MAY GET FIVE YEARS. Millionaire Policy King, Convicted, Faces Jail Sentence in Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court.

After spending a night in a cell in the Tombs, having been convicted by a jury of having gambled paraphernalia in his possession, "Al" Adams, known as the millionaire "Policy King," was taken before Justice Scott in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court to-day for sentence.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

MISS PAULINE ASTOR WOOD BY A KING. Romance of Bulgaria's Coming Ruler, Who Is Unsuccessfully Suing for the Hand and Fortune of the Richest Girl Ever Born in America—The Rival in the Case.

After spending a night in a cell in the Tombs, having been convicted by a jury of having gambled paraphernalia in his possession, "Al" Adams, known as the millionaire "Policy King," was taken before Justice Scott in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court to-day for sentence.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

To-Morrow's Sunday World.

THE SWAN SONG OF IRA D. SANKEY. How the Great Evangelist Is Spending the Evening of His Life in Perfect Peace.

HARRY LEHR AS A BRASS IDOL. Society's Pet Being Perpetuated in Bronze, that All May Worship His Muscleless Beauty.

PHYSICAL CULTURE FOR ALL, FREE. Tips on "That Tired Feeling" and How to Get Rid of It.

"HANDS OFF THE PRESIDENT!" Extraordinary Precautions Now in Vogue to Protect the Nation's Chief, and Instances in the Past Where Relaxation of Protection Has Cost Dear.

MISS PAULINE ASTOR WOOD BY A KING. Romance of Bulgaria's Coming Ruler, Who Is Unsuccessfully Suing for the Hand and Fortune of the Richest Girl Ever Born in America—The Rival in the Case.

PRISON FOR LIFE PREFERABLE TO FACING THE WORLD. Why She Begged for Stone Walls, Explained by the Victim Herself.

$50.00 IN PUZZLE PRIZES. A Parisian Scientist's Alarming Statement that He Can Disclose Your Emotions by Means of the Camera.

THE BOSTONIAN AND THE BURLER. Why Aristocratic Bean-Eaters Marry Ladies of the Stage, a Strange Truth Disclosed by MARIE CAHILL.

BEAUTY IN A BREATH. Harriet Hubbard Ayer's Spring Time Advice to Girls Who Would Improve Themselves.

LADY BOUNTIFUL, PHYLLIS, THE SERVANT; TWO JOLLY JACKIES, TIDY TEDDY AND OTHERS IN THE FUNNY SIDE.

AMERICA'S Greatest Sunday Newspaper Magazine.

"AL" ADAMS, POLICY KING, WHO MAY GET FIVE YEARS.

5 YEARS, MAYBE, FOR AL J. ADAMS

Millionaire Policy King, Convicted, Faces Jail Sentence in Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court.

After spending a night in a cell in the Tombs, having been convicted by a jury of having gambled paraphernalia in his possession, "Al" Adams, known as the millionaire "Policy King," was taken before Justice Scott in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court to-day for sentence.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he looked worried and haggard and recognized no one, although a number of his friends were present.

Justice Scott, in sentencing Adams, announced that he would ask for a bill of reasonable doubt so that he could secure an appeal. Adams, however, was brought into court from the prison he