

MUST FIGHT AS WELL AS TEACH.

German Valley Needs a Pedagogue Combining a Knowledge of the Three Rs, Queensberry Rules and Rough-House Style.

JUST PINING FOR HIM.

Both the School Board and the Pupils Are Eager to Welcome Him—One with Hobnail-Proof Shins Preferred.

There is an opening for a large, strong teacher in the German Valley (N. J.) school. It was not an absolute necessity that the teacher be a college graduate, but he must be an athlete to hold the position.

Whether it was this victory in a battle royal or an intention to elude things and the undoubted champion of German Valley that caused the teacher to make his error yesterday is not known, but he made it.

For some infraction of the rules he decided that the next under the ban was Henry Edmunds, large and strong, sixteen years old, back with him out and tumbled fighter. In late years the rough and tumble fighters' stock has been below par.

When the teacher came at him, instead of one pulling back with safe and defending himself with his left arm out, young Edmunds eluded and kicked.

ALL THE POLICEMEN LOOK ALIKE TO HIM.

Abraham Cohen, of Brooklyn, Has Difficulty in Identifying the One Who Assaulted Him.

All cops look alike to Abraham Cohen, of No. 113 Hudson avenue, Brooklyn, which accounts for the trouble Deputy Commissioner Davis had to-day in discovering the identity of a policeman accused by Cohen of assault.

SCRAMBLED EGGS IN LONG ISLAND WRECK.

Cars Laden with Hen Product Are Telescoped and Passenger Trains Blocked.

A train of fourteen freight cars was wrecked on the North Shore Division of the Long Island Railroad near Woodside to-day. Four of the cars, loaded with butter and eggs, were telescoped.

GLAD SHE'S HELD AS SHOPLIFTER.

Mysterious Woman Tells Police Magistrate She Thinks Her Arrest Will Have a Chastening Effect on Her.

Mystery surrounds the identity of a well-dressed woman who was arraigned before Magistrate Pool to-day on the charge of shoplifting.

To the police the woman gave the name of Mary Groiz, and said her home was at No. 24 Merchant street, Newark.

Recently five of the boys decided to "do" him, and lay in wait. The teacher came along and they came at him. They came with the rush of a football eleven. The teacher was game to the core.

Whether it was this victory in a battle royal or an intention to elude things and the undoubted champion of German Valley that caused the teacher to make his error yesterday is not known, but he made it.

woman waived a preliminary hearing. She had nothing to say and after the amount of her bail had been fixed she was led back to a cell. It is thought, however, that she will be released on bonds as she has in her possession two books on building and loan associations which represent deposits of $300. These books bear the names of A. M. Moore and John Stokes, of Newark.

REFORMED AT ELEVEN.

So Juvenile Informs Magistrate When Accused of Theft.

Patrolman Charles McLaughlin, of the East Twenty-second street station, had a prisoner in Yorkville Court to-day before Magistrate Crane who could scarcely be seen over the railing. The prisoner was diminutive "Jimmy" Fitzgerald, fourteen years old, of No. 514 East Sixteenth street.

"I reformed three years ago," "that," said the Court, "you reformed three years ago. You were only eleven years old. What was the matter?"

"I was a thief. I stole apples from wagons," Patrolman McLaughlin said that a drunken man told him that a man and a boy had held him up and the boy had gone through his pockets.

The Innocent Suffer with The Guilty. The world to-day is full of innocent sufferers from that most loathsome disease, Contagious Blood Poison. People know in a general way that it is a bad disease, but if all its horrors could be brought before them they would shun it as they do the Leprosy. Not only the person who contracts it suffers, but the awful taint is transmitted to children, and the fearful sores and eruptions, weak eyes, Catarrh, and other evidences of poisoned blood show these little innocents are suffering the awful consequences of somebody's sin. So highly contagious is this form of blood poison that one may be contaminated by handling the clothing, or other articles in use by a person afflicted with this miserable disease. There is danger even in drinking from the same vessel or eating out of the same bowlware, as many pure and innocent men and women have found to their sorrow. The virus of Contagious Blood Poison is so powerful and penetrating, that within a short time after the first little sore appears the whole system is infected and every drop of blood in the body is tainted with the poison, and the skin is soon covered with a red rash; ulcers break out in the mouth and throat, swellings appear in the groins, the hair and eyebrows fall out, and unless the ravages of the disease are checked at this stage, more violent and dangerous symptoms appear in the form of offensive sores, copper colored spots, terrible pains in bones and muscles, and general breaking down of the system. S. S. S. is a specific for Contagious Blood Poison and the only remedy that antidotes this peculiar virus and makes a radical and complete cure of the disease. Mercury and Potash hold it in check so long as the system breaks out again as bad or worse than ever. Besides, the use of these minerals bring on Rheumatism and stomach troubles and frequently produce bleeding and sponginess of the gums and decay of the teeth. S. S. S. cures Blood Poison in all stages and even reaches down to hereditary taints, removes all traces of the poison and saves the victim from the pitiable consequences of this monster scourge. As long as a drop of the virus is left in the blood it is liable to break out, and there is danger of transmitting the disease to others. S. S. S. is a great antidote to disease to health, purely vegetable and can be taken without any injurious effects that it cures and an experience of nearly fifty years proves beyond doubt that it cures Contagious Blood Poison completely and permanently. Write for our Contagious Blood Poison Book, describing the different symptoms of the disease. "Home Treatment Book," describing the different symptoms of the disease.
