

6,000 SUFFER IN STEERAGES

Harbor Crowded with New Arrivals, Who Are Held Up in Stilling Weather, Owing to Ellis Island Crush.

ONE SHIP BREAKS RECORD.

Pennsylvania Carries More Steerage Passengers than Were Ever Brought Here on a Liner Before—Most of the Immigrants Booked for West.

More than 6,000 immigrants are about the harbor of New York to-day. In the stifling atmosphere of the steerage, awaiting their discharge by the immigration authorities...

A few weeks ago 2,034 steerage passengers arrived on one boat, and several ships have carried as high as 1,500 steerage passengers...

Men crowded about the hatchways and women sat with gasping children fanning them in vain efforts to give them comfort...

While the condition on the Pennsylvania was a trifle worse and more unpleasant than that on the other ships, because of the number of passengers she carried...

These big ships brought in steerage passengers to add to the crush at Ellis Island yesterday: Majestic 550, Attivita 464, Aurania 1,100, Vera 320.

The Pennsylvania also brought two camels and a number of birds and dogs.

Carl Gebhard, a second cabin passenger, died of heart disease and was buried at sea. His home was at Hamburg, Germany.

Among the cabin passengers were three children of Dr. O'Brien, the American dentist, who was mentioned in connection with the Princess Louise elopement.

DOC HIS FRIEND EVEN IN A CELL.

Four-Footed Comrade Follows Master to Police Court and Is Overjoyed When the Prisoner Is Set Free.

A trembling old man stood on the bridge in Yorkville Court to-day. By his side, looking up expectantly, was a little Scotch terrier.

"The dog was stretched across his body," said Sheehan. "When I cried to pick him up the dog snapped at me. When we got the old man into the wagon the dog followed it to the station-house and howled so loudly outside the door that Capt. Gallagher ordered that the two of them be locked in the same cell."

"The dog is the only friend I have," put in Foley. "I am seventy-one years old. I don't think there is a human being on earth who cares whether I live or die, but my little dog loves me and I love her."

"I've had her ever since she was a pup. I was making good money then, about $15,000 a year, as a salesman for a Franklin street dry-goods house. I had a friend then—a man."

"He borrowed all of the money I had saved up to support me in my old age. I have never seen him since. I started in to drink myself to death, and in a few months I drifted from respectability to the standard of a Bowery bum."

Foley said that he took three drinks yesterday afternoon, and, on account of his age, they proved too much for him.

CONVICT IS SHOT IN A MAN HUNT.

Two Burglars Escape from Snake Hill After Fatally Injuring Guards, but Both Are Finally Captured.

Two convicts serving terms of two years for burglary—one a bail and chain man—escaped from the Hudson County Penitentiary at Snake Hill, N. J., this afternoon after fatally injuring two keepers armed with rifles.

The convicts are Charles Austless and Roy Carroll. One a Desperate Criminal. Both were arrested for burglary a short time ago and sent to the Snake Hill penitentiary to serve two years at hard labor.

They plunged in the water without hesitation and swam across. Austless lost some of his lead by this time, as he could barely swim with the weight of his clothes and chain.

Swam River Again. Upon reaching the west bank of the Hackensack the two convicts made through a small woods for about a mile. There they turned to the river again where it divided Hudson from Bergen County.

Carroll and Austless now made their way to a large morass toward Jersey City. The latter was slacking down. Finally as his pursuers gained on him his foot caught in a swamp hole and he fell.

At the same time Carroll struck Keeper Michael D. Walsh and Edward Turner, both armed with repeating rifles, went out to the quarry where the convicts were at work to conduct them to their dinner.

SHE TROUNCED THE MUSICIAN.

Clarinet Player Horsemipped by a Woman Neighbor Because He Objected to Back-Yard Gossip.

If the clarinet player of the Staten Island Band, Louis Mendt, of Graniteville, is not up to the standard for a few days and there comes from the pipe only a discordant wail instead of sweet notes, his neighbors will know the reason.

Mendt and his wife live next door to Mrs. Helrich. Mrs. Mendt and Mrs. Helrich are friends. To Mrs. Helrich Mendt confides many things. Together they discuss in the sewing circle of the neighbors their own and other persons' troubles.

Mr. Mendt decided a few days ago that he did not want every time he desired to see his wife to be compelled to go to the back fence and call her from Mrs. Helrich's.

Mendt went home last evening and found Mrs. Mendt paying Mrs. Helrich the usual visit.

"I don't want her all the time coming over here," said Mendt. "I don't like you anyway."

Mrs. Helrich allowed that Mendt's likes and dislikes were nothing to her, and then added a few words in regard to clarinet, bass-horn, piano and musicians in general being below the average order of intelligence.

Mendt made remarks which Mrs. Helrich says justified her next move. She stooped down in her yard, picked up a bunch of grass, threw it into Mrs. Mendt's face and drew from it a whip and with this proceeded to cut Mr. Mendt across the back and Mendt broke for his house in pursuit.

When Mrs. Mendt had finished putting on the bruises of her husband Mendt went to Magistrate Croak and had Mrs. Helrich arrested. She was held in jail for examination to-morrow.

POISON VICTIMS IN SAN JUAN.

Ptomaines in Milk Prostrate a Number of Persons. SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, May 21.—Eighteen persons living in a boarding-house here kept by Mrs. Harrington were poisoned by milk containing ptomaines.

Eleven doctors responded to the alarm, and the use of stomach pumps saved the lives of the sufferers. The Americans affected were Messrs. Kellogg, Seaton, Gordon, Burt, and others.

At the Maternity Hospital the nurses, however, were quick to detect the ptomaine and dangerous exhaustion. The incident has caused alarm throughout San Juan.

LONDON BUSES And an American Food.

There is probably no food on earth that could sustain a woman 60 years old under the following circumstances except Grape-Nuts.

"I have never seen him since. I started in to drink myself to death, and in a few months I drifted from respectability to the standard of a Bowery bum."

"I've had her ever since she was a pup. I was making good money then, about $15,000 a year, as a salesman for a Franklin street dry-goods house. I had a friend then—a man."

"PRINCE GEORGE" CALLS ON MAYOR.

A Scion (In His Mind) of the House of Hanover Goes to the City Hall.

Describing himself as "Prince George of Hanover," a shabby-dressed man entered the City Hall to-day and requested an audience with the High Mayor.

"Unhand me, sir," commanded the claimant to royal birth. "Do you not recognize me as the Prince? I am of Hanover—Prince George of Hanover."

"I desire to establish a principality in Queens County," the man explained, "and the High Mayor can aid me."

The man thanked Kuntz graciously. "Hand your knee and I will now knight you!" and the stranger made a few mystic passes over the head of the patrolman and then departed Queens Countyward.
