JUMPED TO DEATH IN HIS DELIRIUM

George L. Kemp, Manager of a Typewriting Company, Dies from Injuries Received at St. Vincent's Hospital, and His Family Will Bring Suit for $50,000.

FATHER-IN-LAW SAYS HE WAS NOT WELL GUARDED.

He Declares Kemp Pleaded to Be Taken Home, and Was in a State of Delirium, but Dr. Quinn, of the Hospital, Insists that Man Committed Suicide.

George Lindsey Kemp, thirty-five years old, general manager and treasurer of the R. & G. Typewriting Company, of No. 229 Broadway, died at St. Vincent Hospital to-day as the result of injuries received by jumping or falling out of the second story window of the hospital while delirious with pneumonia on Monday afternoon.

According to the members of the young man's family, the fall which resulted in his death could have been avoided if the proper care had been taken of the patient. They charge the hospital authorities with criminal negligence, and will bring a suit for $50,000 damages.

Mr. Kemp went to the hospital on May 21, suffering from an attack of pneumonia. A private room was engaged for him by his father-in-law, Dr. Lewis C. Leroy, of No. 110 East Tenth street. According to Dr. Leroy, last Sunday night Mr. Kemp became delirious, and when his wife, with whom he lived at No. 110 East Eleventh street, called on him he expressed an earnest desire to go home.

Could Have Been Taken Home. "In my opinion he could have been taken home," said Dr. Leroy, "but Dr. Quinn, of the hospital, said he had better remain a few days longer. I called on him that same evening and he was still raving about going home."

"In all probability this preyed on his mind and he got out of bed in the absence of a nurse and while wandering about the room fell out of the window to the pavement below. In doing so he fractured his right leg in two places. He weighed 200 pounds. He lay writhing on the pavement some time before he was missed and found by the hospital nurses."

Mr. Kemp fell or jumped out of a window on the west side of the building. Just below is a narrow courtyard bounded by an iron spike fence.

Suicide, Says Dr. Quinn.

According to Dr. Quinn Mr. Kemp was non-delirious and not delirious. He said that the patient deliberately got out of bed, took his watch from his pocket, laid it on the table and, calmly announcing his intention, walked to the window and jumped out. "Such a statement as that," said Dr. Leroy to-day, is absurd. "Had Mr. Kemp jumped from that window he would have been impaled upon the spikes of the fence below. The fact of the matter is, that Mr. Kemp was criminally neglected, and while wandering about in his delirium fell out of the window. Why, I understand that he was left alone without a nurse from 8 o'clock at night until 4 o'clock in the morning. We will bring a suit against the hospital for $50,000 damages on the ground of this neglect."

BABY MURDERED AND THROWN IN SEWER.

Five-Months-Old Boy Strangled in South Brooklyn—Body Found in Coney Island Creek.

The body of a male child, five months old, was found in Coney Island Creek, near the intersection of Neptune avenue and Twelfth street, this afternoon, by Frank Lingweller, a bridge builder. The body had been in the water for some time. Marks on the throat indicate that the child was strangled. Lingweller notified the police and the body was taken to the Coney Island police station. Detectives think the child was murdered in the lower section of Brooklyn and thrown into a sewer, through which it floated to Coney Island Creek.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Forecast for the thirty-six hours ending at 8 P. M. Saturday for New York City and vicinity: Partly cloudy and hazy weather to-night and Saturday; light to fresh easterly winds.

DEUTSCHLAND FLOATED AND PUTS TO SEA

Big Liner Which Went Aground in the Shoals of Gedney's Channel Was Pulled Off Late This Afternoon.

TUGS HAD TO WORK HARD.

Whole Fleet of Them Took Hold of Hamburg-American Liner at 4 o'Clock to Yank Her Nose Out of the Mud—A Banner Passenger List.

The big Hamburg-American liner Deutschland, which went ashore in Gedney's Channel last night, was floated this afternoon at 4.37, and she immediately put to sea. The tugs had a hard time of it. The release of the liner was reported by the De Forest Wireless Telegraph Company.

Four tugs and the big wrecking ship Marquis, of the Merritt-Chapman Company, tugged unsuccessfully for hours to-day at the big Hamburg-American liner Deutschland, trying to pull her nose out of the mudbank into which she poked it last evening when off "Buoy B," at the junction of the main and Gedney channels, below Sandy Hook.

The tugs got busy at 4 A. M. when the tide was at its crest, but fully one-fourth of the Deutschland's length had gone into the mud and the tugs could not dislodge her.

On the Deutschland are Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, mother of little Lolla Armour, who was cured by Dr. Lorenz; Prof. Felix Adler, Charles T. Yerkes, Arturo de Brigard, the Consul-General of Colombia; Rafael Montoro, Cuban Minister to Great Britain and Germany; Col. Nicholas Perez-Stable, Secretary of Legation, Juan Fernandez de Castro, Comodoro A. C. Cas Canfield, Mrs. Hugo Carstens, Miss Mary De Puyster Carey, Lee Harrison, Janoslav Koclan, the violinist; Edouard de Reszke, Charles Rupert, Mme. Schumann-Heink, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Steiway, Dr. Joseph Jan Svatek, of Prague; William Lawrence Saunders, Jr., Lieut. E. H. Shackleton, the South Pole explorer; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Theobald; F. Didakt Thompson and Mrs. Henry Villard.

The Deutschland is valued at $4,000,000 and is $4,000,000 in gold shipped to Europe by New York bankers.

CHILDREN SOLD BY STARVING CHINESE.

HONG KONG, June 5.—The estimate of Gov. Wong of Kwang-Si Province, that over one million natives are starving in the territory in his jurisdiction, is pronounced here to be approximately correct. The distress in certain districts is most acute. Children and women are freely offered for sale. The rice harvest promises well, but it will not be available for four to six weeks. Extensive relief operations will be difficult without foreign supervision, which will be hard to obtain in Kwang-Si.

(Special to The Evening World.) RACE TRACK, GRAVESEND, June 5.—There was a dryness and a dampness in the air at Gravesend this afternoon that made the crowd uncomfortable. There was moisture in the atmosphere and a chill in the dank east wind, as the novelists say. However, race-goers don't pay much attention to weather. Rain or snow or sunshine, the sight of the ponies racing around the ellipse is all that fills their minds. "Get a bet down," is the slogan. It is hush to the track and hustle away again.

To-day's card had nothing out of the ordinary except the Criterion Stakes, which brought about a meeting between Millionaire Whitney's Mimosa, Millionaire Thomas's Dimpie and Millionaire Haggin's Hamburg Belle, which runs in the name of his agent, Sydney Paget. This promised an interesting event. Hamburg Belle showed a surprising amount of speed last time out, but she beat nothing, and Mimosa was expected to thoroughly test her. The other events included an excellent handicap at a mile and a furlong and several other good races.

The track was fast. The attendance was fairly good. The defeat of favorites has made quite a hole in the attendance.

FIRST RACE. Starters, whts, jocks. St. Hif. Fin. Str. Pl. John A. Scott, 111, Haack, 2 3 1 13 5-7-10 Osgood, 101, Durand, 4 2 2 10 8-10-2 Bay, 108, Burns, 1 9 4 10 8-10-2 Oriole, 112, Odum, 6 2 2 10 8-10-2 Formosa, 81, Connel, 5 8 7 4 10 8-10-2 Pitacus, 95, Deousa, 6 7 7 4 10 8-10-2 Star and Garter, 83, McCarty, 5 8 7 4 10 8-10-2 Fernna, 81, Connel, 5 8 7 4 10 8-10-2 Mrs. Goud, 101, Woadley, 5 8 14 10 8-10-2 Start good. Won driving. Time—1:10 4/5. Osgood and Oriole raced head and head to the turn, when Minotaur raced up on the outside and joined them. On the turn Oriole stopped and John A. Scott took third place. In the stretch Scott took the lead, but Osgood and Minotaur hung on well. It was a red-hot drive to the end, Minotaur winning by a nose in the last jump. John A. Scott beat Osgood a head for the place.

SECOND RACE. Starters, whts, jocks. St. Hif. Fin. Str. Pl. Sambo, 109, Fuller, 2 3 1 13 5-7-10 Hunter Rain, 119, Odum, 4 2 2 10 8-10-2 Numerical, 108, O'Neill, 5 8 7 4 10 8-10-2 Start good. Won driving. Time—1:53 3/5. The lightly-weighted Himself jumped to the front and set a clipping pace, followed by Numerical and Sambo. Hunter Raine was off badly and so was Carbuncle. They raced with little change in order until they reached the stretch. There Himself began to tire and Sambo, well ridden by Fuller, gradually wore him down and won by a nose from Himself, who was a length in front of Carbuncle.

SPECIAL EXTRA. BRIDGE CAR JUMPS TRACK

The last car of a bridge train coming from Brooklyn jumped the switch about 6 o'clock this evening and ran upon the platform at the Manhattan end. For a moment there was a panic and reports spread that many persons were injured, but no one was really hurt. Bridge traffic was greatly demoralized, and thousands of Brooklynites had to walk across the structure.

Convincing Comparisons

In March, April and May of 1903 THE EVENING WORLD

Gained 1,243 1-4 Columns over the corresponding three months of 1902, while its next nearest competitor gained only 483 1/2 columns—

Or Less Than Half the Gain Made by The Evening World.

THE EVENING WORLD is New York's greatest daily commercial advertising medium.

It goes home with the homegoers. It is clean. It is sane. It has all the news all the time.

North Brook raced through the bunch and joined Ben Howard. Those two raced together around the turn, with Kingrairie, St. Sever and Oclawawa all in a close bunch. In the run home Ben Howard beat the other three by a length and a half in front of St. Sever.

FIFTH RACE. Starters, whts, jocks. St. Hif. Fin. Str. Pl. Jim Kelly, 112, McCle, 2 3 1 13 5-7-10 Agnes Brennan, 117, O'Neill, 3 1 1 13 5-7-10 Start good. Won driving. Time—1:01 1/5. Agnes Brennan raced to the front at the start, and on the turn Julia M. went after her. They raced in close company to the stretch, with Jim Kelly lying in behind. The leaders swung a bit wide at the head of the stretch, and Jim Kelly came through won easily by two lengths from Agnes Brennan, who was a length in front of Julia M.

M'GILVERA IN THE BOX

Jack Taylor Occupies a Like Position for the Chicago Team in Second Game of the Series Against McGraw's New Yorkers.

GEO. BROWNE DIDN'T PLAY.

Old George Van Haltren Took Giants' Regular Fielder's Position in Right and Crowd Cheered for Cubs to Win.

BATTING ORDER.

New York: Van Haltren, rf; Brennan, lb; McGowan, lb; Mertes, lf; Bay, cf; Lauder, 3b; Gilbert, 2b; Bowerman, c; McGinnity, p. Chicago: Harley, rf; Slagle, lf; Chance, lb; Finkler, cf; Casey, 3b; Evers, 2b; Weimer, p.

WEST SIDE BALL PARK, Chicago, June 5.—The Windy City realizes now that she is up against a real ball team. Part of her great record has been made off the Colonels from St. Louis, who were so weak in the early season that Frank Slagle's speedy team had no trouble in taking eleven games, thus getting a strangle hold on the pennant.

Brooklyn, too, was just pie for Chicago and when Pittsburg drubbed the Giants so completely the present series here looked like cheering after the returns were all in.

How greatly the crowd acted to-day! Ancient fans who attended the first game in Pop Anson's old grounds years ago, when many a victorious rag dangled from the flagpole, held onto their seats this afternoon like a Ruba, shouting the chutes.

The crowd was there, and his team like a plumber sliding up a suburban favorite. The mystery was how the Giants could be shut out twice in Carnegie town and then play such rattling ball here. But mysteries are rife in the national sport.

Leather Taylor looked as though he had a mystery concealed about him somewhere, for he got away up in a far corner of the field where no one could rubber and throw curves at his feet with a small boy acting as caddy.

Frank Bowerman chased over quickly for fear that the Silent Man had gone daffy. But Lecher only grinned and snatched his fingers.

"I just learned how to make that drop break in the right angle," he whispered to Bowerman with his little finger.

"Well, if you try any new stunts to-day on them," said the pugacious catcher, "I'll burn your hands off. You ought to pitch for everything that's in you. Don't forget that."

Victory this afternoon was vastly more doubtful than yesterday, with Merty in the box and McGraw is up stump for the rest of the series. The last game here is on Sunday and Christy will not pitch on the seventh day. McGinnity is slated to pitch to-morrow, though maybe he will wait for Sunday, when the management expects 25,000 rooters if the weather is favorable. Cronin is in bad shape, so that one game will probably fall to Miller, Chicago's ace, therefore, the New York and Chicago will break even.

One thing is a curious sort of stage trick to watch the pitcher serving select every time New York is pitted against them. Nobody can explain this, but it is a fact. Another team they would devour but invariably develop rattles as the East Star team jumps onto the field. What worried the Giants this afternoon more than anything else was the fact that the number of 96 was on the roster of the local unions in both Kansas City and Omaha and there remains more than $30,000 in the treasury.

curves, and the combination was too much for Harley. Sam Mertes sneaked way in for Slagle and was rewarded by getting under the Texas Lagger. Chance was safe on a pop over second. Mertes did not have to move for Jones's hoist. No runs.

Second Inning. Mertes slugged for a homer, but was out short by Evers. Babb hit the breeze. Slagle committed theft by running long for Lecher. No runs. Evers hit all his skill and speed in holding a slow one from Tinkler. He gave way to a hard clean hit at the hands of Casey out in the right garden. Bowerman caught a high foul off Evers's bat, his feet flying in mid-air on the wet grass. Casey stole second, Babb dropping the ball, but it did not matter as Gilbert retired King. No runs.

BIG HOTELS AND RESTAURANTS MAY BE TIED UP

Employees Organize to Band Together and Then Demand Higher Wages and Better Conditions, Which if Refused Will Cause a General Strike to Be Ordered Throughout This City.

Frederick Baumann, Who Was Successful in Organizing the Hotel and Restaurant Employees of Chicago, Who Have Tied Up the Business in that City, Is Here on Same Plan.

The man who organized the hotel and restaurant employees of Chicago and made possible the paralyzing strike prevailing in that city is in New York. It is his intention to build up a powerful organization of hotel employees here, and make demands for increased wages that may result in a big strike such as has already put twelve big restaurants and two Chicago hotels out of business.

The Chicago condition is serious. Every employee of the Grand Pacific and Chicago Beach hotels except clerks, bellboys and engineers walked out last night just at the dinner hour. Kohlman's eight restaurants, with accommodations for 100,000 patrons a day, and four other restaurants—the largest in the business section of the city—are unable to serve meals because they have no cooks or waiters. The union threatens to extend the strike gradually until every hotel and restaurant not recognized by the union is closed.

To Join Forces To-Night. Fred Baumann is the man who organized the Chicago hotel-workers, and he is the man who has started to organize this city. He has already made arrangements for 100,000 patrons a day, and four other restaurants—the largest in the business section of the city—are unable to serve meals because they have no cooks or waiters. The union threatens to extend the strike gradually until every hotel and restaurant not recognized by the union is closed.

Bauman, who comes from Omaha, is general organizer of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' International League of America. The initials of the name of the organization sound like a college yell if you say them fast, and the national organizer says the union is just as formidable as it sounds.

"My investigations in the short time I have been in the city show me that employees in this line have been organized, morally, socially and financially. There is no class of working people who get poorer pay for longer hours than the hotel and restaurant employees. These employees here are greatly underpaid and that they have only five or six organizations with a total membership of $200,000. In Chicago we have 11,000 in our organization. The strongest union here is that of the bartenders, with 1,200 members. I find that, contrary to the general belief, bartenders here are paid Poorly Paid Employees. "As to my mission in New York," said Mr. Baumann to-day, "I cannot do better than to quote the objects of the organization. We are banded together to organize all persons in the allied trades for the betterment of their condition, morally, socially and financially. There is no class of working people who get poorer pay for longer hours than the hotel and restaurant employees. These employees here are greatly underpaid and that they have only five or six organizations with a total membership of $200,000. In Chicago we have 11,000 in our organization. DETROIT WANTS LONG AND CONROY Manager Would Give Griffith Shortstop Elberfeld for the New York Team's Pair.

(Special to The Evening World.) PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 5.—Manager Barrow, of the Detroit Club, said this afternoon that he and Clark Griffith had not come to terms on a proposed deal for players. "Griff" wanted Elberfeld, but Barrow cannot see it in that light. He will, however, give Elberfeld for Long and Conroy, but here is where Griffith balks.

Manager Barrow says that no negotiations have been made to trade Elberfeld, but Barrow cannot see it in that light. He will, however, give Elberfeld for Long and Conroy, but here is where Griffith balks.
