PARKS AGAIN ARRESTED ON NEW CHARGE

For the Third Time in Three Days the Walking Delegate Is Accused of Extorting Money from Employers of Labor.

WORKINGMEN ARE AMAZED.

Revelations Made About Their Leaders Have Set Them Thinking—Another Delegate Also Charged with Extortion.

For the third time this week Samuel Parks, walking delegate of the House-smiths' and Bridgemen's Union was arrested this afternoon charged with extortion from employers in connection with labor difficulties. The latest charge is made by Josephus Plenty, a skylight manufacturer at No. 215 Randolph street, Jersey City.

In an affidavit made this afternoon Mr. Plenty alleges that Parks offered to settle some questions of union rights for $200. Mr. Plenty alleges that he paid the sum by check payable to Parks or bearer, which was cashed at Lynch's saloon, Fifty-ninth street and Third avenue. From the affidavit it appears that other members of the United Board of Building Trades were cognizant of the transaction.

Parks was arraigned on the new charge before Justice Mayer and held. The $5,000 cash bail put up for him by William S. Devery on Tuesday was deemed sufficient to hold him on this and the other three charges pending against him and he was allowed to go on the Devery bond.

After a brief respite, during which he found time to patch up his fences in the labor field, Samuel Parks, walking delegate of the House-smiths and Bridgemen's Union, went into the limelight in the Criminal Courts Building again this afternoon. It had been rumored all day that there were new complaints against him and these rumors were strengthened when District-Attorney Jerome sent word to Parks's lawyer, former Magistrate Brann, that he wanted Parks produced at 2:30 o'clock. R. E. Neiding, President of the union, was also sent for.

Mr. Brann appeared alone at the office of the District-Attorney. "Where's Parks?" asked the District-Attorney. "I don't know where he is," replied Mr. Brann.

"Well, I know where he is," announced Mr. Jerome, "and if you don't go out and get him in a hurry I'll send one of my men after him."

Mr. Brann left the building protesting. He was back in less than ten minutes and he had Parks with him. They were taken to the District-Attorney's office.

Statements in the morning newspapers from District-Attorney Jerome that fifteen decorating firms and the Union Club had paid about seventeen thousand dollars to a member of the United Board of Building Trades to admit the local branch of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers of America for the purpose of breaking a strike on the Union Club led to the calling of a meeting of the Brotherhood this afternoon. Resolutions were adopted denying that the Brotherhood had paid any money to the United Board of Building Trades or any one else for admission to the Board.

Richard Carvel, walking delegate of the Derricksmen, Riggers and Pointers' Union, who was arrested last night at his home, No. 418 West Fifteenth street, was arraigned in court today. Many members of his union were in court and tendered him their sympathy and assistance.

Carvel was held in $2,000 bail. On motion of the District-Attorney he was paroled in custody of a detective to hunt for a bondsman. Bail was secured later on.

Before Carvel was arraigned District-Attorney Jerome said he was overwhelmed with complaints against walking delegates, and that in all probability he would make the hearings public, instead of holding John Doe proceedings behind closed doors.

"I want the laboring men of New York to know that some of the walking delegates have been bleeding the unions," said the District-Attorney. "For the leaders in the graft game it is better than being on the police force in charge of a fat precinct. The ingenuity and skill of these men is astounding."

Thomas T. Hopper, son of Isaac Hopper, Tammany leader in the Bronx, makes the charge against Carvel. That Mr. Hopper, who is up to his eyes in politics, should allow his son to make charges involving a powerful labor leader, is considered significant—for

(Special to The Evening World.)
HIGHLANDS OF NAVESINK, N. J., June 11.—Reliance won the first deep-sea race with Columbia and Constitution in impressive style. The new boat was in front all the way over the thirty-mile course.

The preparatory signal was given at 11:55, and at that time there was some tall hustling aboard the yachts. Within a few minutes all was ready for the go, and the big ninety-footers were spinning around the stake-boat on the alert for the starting gun. "This rang out at 12:15, and away the boats went all in a bunch, with Constitution to the windward.

Within a few minutes the watchers at the Highlands could only see the dim outlines of the racers with powerful binoculars. They were rapidly swinging out of sight as the breeze freshened all were on the port tack, bearing in toward shore and close together.

The Racers Eclipsed.
At 12:40 the watchers got the last glimpse of the yachts with their glasses and a moment later the mist had totally eclipsed them. At that time Reliance seemed to have a small lead over her rivals. The course is fifteen miles to windward and return.

At 2:05 the haze raised sufficiently to pick up the yachts about twenty miles off the Highlands. They were then standing on a starboard tack. The yachts got near the stakeboat at 2:15 o'clock. It was impossible then to find a third boat with the strongest glass. It was then too hazy to tell which of the two picked up from the Highlands was ahead.

At 2:24:30 the first yacht turned the outer mark. Immediately she broke out her balloner and started home with her mainsail to starboard. The one leading broke out her spinnaker at 2:27. The only two yachts could be seen. The second boat came round the mark at 2:29:30, and broke out her balloner, and a minute later broke out her spinnaker.

Third Boat Spied.
The third yacht was picked up at 2:35 o'clock. She was standing in on a starboard tack for the mark. She turned at 2:37:21. She also set her balloner and spinnaker. At 2:39 the leading yacht was in her spinnaker. The wind was then a mile apart at 2:45 and the first one was gaining. At 3:17 there was a shift of wind and the first yacht broke out her spinnaker, quickly followed by the others. They then went for the mark on a broad reach. The second yacht looked to be Columbia.

In spite of the fact that day after day thousands have been disappointed, there were just as many aboard excursion boats, on the hill and along the beach today as there have been at any time. To see how Reliance will do in an ocean race when the white caps are dancing far as the eye can reach is worth to yachtsmen any amount of trouble. Just the fact that the eye can reach is worth to the public a good deal of interest and disappointment.

The crew on the new boat were the first up to-day. Capt. Charley Barr is a steepler for an early start. As a steepler he was scanning the horizon, while the men were busy getting things in shape.

The wind was freshening and the boats were evidently coming home at a hot clip. At 3 o'clock the first boat was an hour from the home mark. The yachts were a mile apart at 3:15 and the first one was gaining. At 3:17 there was a shift of wind and the first yacht broke out her spinnaker, quickly followed by the others. They then went for the mark on a broad reach. The second yacht looked to be Columbia.

GRAVESEND RACE TRACK, June 11.—The only stake race at Gravesend this afternoon was the Gazelle, for three-year-old fillies. Six of them went to the post, with Mr. Keene's Stolen Moments the hot favorite. Stolen Moments justified the confidence reposed in her by beating her field decisively. Gloriosa was an easy second, far in front of Lost Note. Stolen Moments was the only favorite to win up to the fourth race.

Shot Gun, a 30 to 1 chance, running in the colors of Walter Jennings, won the opening handicap from John A. Scott.

In the second race His Eminence, a 7 to 5 favorite, was badly beaten by Hunter Raine and Douro.

In the third race Celebrant, also from the Jennings stable, was badly beaten, the second choice, Hopeful Miss, winning easily.

Douro was the pacemaker, with Hunter Raine lying alongside. The other three waited under wraps. Not until a mile had been run did the last three make any move. Then His Eminence moved up to the leaders and the three turned into the stretch in close order. Hunter Raine cut loose when straightened out and, going to the front, won by a scant length from Douro, who was a length and a half in front of His Eminence.

SCHWAB HAS NOT BEEN SQUEEZED

The Evening World finds upon further inquiry that the report published last night as to the commitments in the stock market of Charles M. Schwab were unfounded. Mr. Schwab is a large holder of some of the securities which suffered heavily in the general Wall street slump, but he is said to own outright nearly all the securities he holds, and he therefore lost, as other investors have, only on paper. Mr. Schwab has not been "squeezed" by any bank. He is at his country home in Pennsylvania, and is not bothered about Wall street troubles.

Overpowered by Sheer Force of Numbers the Ill-Fated Monarch Was Shot Down After a Desperate Encounter, a Mob of Soldiers Literally Overrunning the Palace and Residences of Ministers.

(Special Cable Despatch to The Evening World.)
(Copyright, 1903, by the Press Publishing Company, New York World.)

BELGRADE, Serbia, June 11.—King Alexander and Queen Draga were assassinated in the royal palace at 1 o'clock this morning. The army has proclaimed Prince Peter Karageorgevitch King of Serbia.

The troops, who revolted under the leadership of Major Angikovics, surrounded the Palace and, forcing an entrance, shot down King Alexander, Queen Draga, the latter's sister, the Queen's brother, Lieut. Nikodem Lungevitch; Premier Markovitch, Ministers Petrovitch and Tudorovics, General Pavlovitch, the former Minister of War, and several members of the Royal Guard.

Cannon were fired as a signal for the carnage to begin, and the troops surrounded the Ministerial residences at the same time they moved on the Palace.

After the tragedy at the Palace officers galloped through the streets of the city shouting out the news that the King and Queen had been killed.

Queen Draga is said to have sustained numerous wounds. The local papers embellish their reports of the tragedy with all sorts of extraordinary statements. According to one of them the bodies of the King and Queen were placed in shrouds and were lowered from a window of the Palace to the gardens, and carried away in a baggage wagon.

A new Government was formed. Everywhere troops of all arms were posted and field-guns were placed in positions to quickly deal with any opposition to the newly formed Government.

The soldiers discarded their cockades bearing the late King Alexander's cipher, and substituted for it flowers, green twigs and leaves.

Bands of young men paraded the streets, waving flags and shouting: "Long live Karageorgevitch!" Flags are flying from nearly every house in Belgrade and there is absolutely no display whatever of crape or other signs of mourning.

The new King, Prince Peter Karageorgevitch, has sent a despatch from Geneva saying that he is greatly astonished at the news, which he learned from a private despatch, he says.

A party of officers proceeded to the palace by previous arrangement with Gen. Ljubasivkovic and called upon King Alexander to abdicate in favor of Prince Peter Karageorgevitch. The King refused and shot Col. Naum who made the proposal.

The leader of the assailants was Lieut.-Col Mischich, who him dedered the Queen. The latter, together with her brother and struck down with an axe. The King was shot. The Queen dately. The King lived a few minutes after being shot. The immediate cause of the revolution was the return
