

POPE LEO NAMES NEW CARDINALS

Pontiff in Full Robes Carried in State and Later He Goes Through the Ceremonies of the Consistory.

VOICE GOOD AND STRONG.

Slight Trembling of His Hands Noticeable and Face More Finely Drawn—Several New Members of the Sacred College Named by Him

ROME, June 22.—The Consistory held at the Vatican to-day was especially important, owing to the persistent rumors regarding the Pope's ill health and the previous postponements. Naturally, a ceremony in which the Pope, half hidden in precious vestments, is borne on a chair and is continually assisted is not the best opportunity to judge of his appearance or the state of his health, but a man capable of undergoing the strain of such a function has plenty of vitality.

The following were created cardinals: No Ambrogio Naselli, Archbishop of Cologne; Monsignor Tallani, Papal Nuncio at Vienna; Monsignor Cavicchioni, Secretary of the Congregation of the Council; Monsignor Ajuti, Papal Nuncio at Lisbon; Monsignor Nocella, Secretary of the Consistory; Monsignor Katschthaler, Archbishop of Salzburg, Austria; Most Reverend Herrero y Espinosa, Archbishop of Valencia.

The Pope transferred Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli from the Bishopric of Frascati to that of Porto Santa Rufina, which is of higher rank. Cardinal Sallusti was transferred from the titular Bishopric of Santa Maria, in Araceli, to the diocese of Frascati, near Rome, which is summer residence of the Roman aristocracy.

Afterward the Pope announced the nominations of several Archbishops who had been appointed by brief. The Pontiff appointed Cardinal Agliardi, who has been appointed as Prefect of Economy of the Propaganda, to the Vice-Chancellor of the Chiesa dei la Voie.

Makes an Address. At the conclusion of the Consistory the Pope went to the Throne Room, where, surrounded by the Cardinals and the Papal Court, he made an address to the new archbishops and bishops. The ancient ceremonies were observed, each of the new Cardinals receiving the Pontiff's foot and receiving the apostolic benediction.

The Pope, at the Consistory, delivered a short allocution which he intended to be kept private, though containing nothing of great importance. He merely greeted the Cardinals and said he liked to discuss only pleasant subjects. But, satisfactory results were obtained with painful occurrences. The demonstrations of loyalty from all over the world on the occasion of his jubilee and caused him great joy, but he had been saddened by the persecutions of which the Church was the subject. The Pope did not add anything, but he evidently referred to the suppression of the unauthorized congregations in France.

EDWIN P. WALTER DROWNS IN RIVER Dealer in Milk, Pies and Bread Suddenly Disappears from a West Side Pier Leaving His Wagon.

A man, who on the first report was said to be Herman Nack, husband of Mrs. Augusta Nack, who is now in Auburn Prison for the killing of William Gudenspupe, was drowned to-day in the North River. For years the man had been known along the river front as Nack. Just why no one seems able to tell, although it is believed that Nack at one time was in his employ.

Investigation by Evening World reporters disproved the story that the man was Nack, and showed him to be Edwin P. Walter, of No. 4 West Fourth street. Walter is a dealer in milk, pies and bread and supplies men on boats along the North River.

Left Wagon on the Pier. Walter started out to-day as usual to deliver his goods. He called on the captain of the Peekskill and took his order and later went on board a scow lying at Canal street. He left his wagon on the pier in charge of a spaniel dog.

The attention of persons was first attracted to the wagon without an owner by the barking of a dog. Several times the dog left the wagon and ran to the water's edge, barking furiously. Two hours after the man had been seen going down the pier the disappearance was reported to the police, and persons there informed them that the driver of the wagon was Herman Nack.

President Roosevelt Removes the Appointee to the Bench of New Mexico, Who Went There from This State.

CHARGES MADE AGAINST HIM.

He Incurred the Hostility of the Plaintiff Organization While in State Senate by Opposing Police Bill and Was Beaten for Re-election.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—After a conference to-day with Attorney-General Knox President Roosevelt removed Judge Daniel H. McMillan, of the Supreme Court, of New Mexico. The removal was made after a hearing before the Attorney-General, where Judge McMillan was accused of general immorality.

The fight against Judge McMillan began before he had been in office six months. The culmination was the filing of charges against him a year ago. His removal comes as a great surprise, as the persons who were his warmest supporters during his trial before Attorney-General Knox were Secretary Root and John G. Milburn, of Buffalo.

Judge McMillan was formerly a State Senator from Erie County, N. Y., serving two terms in the Senate. There he was a hard fighter. He with other Senators opposed Platt's police bills directed at Erie County and fought for home rule for the county. While the fight made him popular in Erie it was his undoing with the organization and he was not returned to the Senate.

Studied Under Cleveland. Judge McMillan was one of the best-known men in Erie County. He was born in York, N. Y., and reared in the Genesee Valley. In 1869 after being graduated from Cornell he went to Buffalo and began the study of law in the office of Grover Cleveland.

He was admitted to the bar in 1871 and after two years was a legal adviser of the Central Hudson Railroad. At one time the legal firm was McMillan, Poolley, Depew and Spratt. He was a delegate to several national conventions from New York State and was active in politics until the summer of 1894, when he was elected to the Senate.

In 1901, Mr. McMillan, after a residence of a year in New Mexico, became a candidate for the Supreme Court bench. In this he was opposed by the older residents, who believed his appointment would favor too much of the "carpet bag" element.

President McKinley appointed him and he was credited as coming from New York. His appointment was held up in the Senate and later he was confirmed after the papers had been changed and he was credited to the Territory.

The Fight Begun. This was the beginning of the fight. A man back of McMillan was named Alexander. There also was a candidate for the place named Alexander. When McMillan decided upon a message was sent to New Mexico reading "Alexander's man appointed."

The result was that Alexander, the candidate, and his friends thought Alexander was the man appointed, and proceeded to celebrate the premature celebration caused ill feeling, and soon after a faction in the party in New Mexico had camped on the trail of the judge.

Charges were made and sent to Washington, and Judge McMillan came on here to refute them. There was a hearing in March last. The action of the President is supposed to be based on the findings of the Attorney-General.

At the time of his appointment there was much surprise expressed here that McMillan would accept a position as judge in a territory, the salary attached being only $3,000 a year. It was pointed out that he could make five times as much in the law and his friends said it was the honor he wished as he was ill and the work required was a mere trifle to occupy his mind and still not tax his strength.

ODETTE BENSON MISSING. She is a Brooklyn Girl, and Her Mother Says She Ran Away. Efforts are being made to find Odette Benson, a fifteen-year-old Brooklyn girl, who has been missing from her home, No. 512 Forty-sixth street, since Saturday.

The girl speaks French and English, and her mother believes she left home to seek a position as a governess. Mrs. Benson describes her daughter as very pretty, with black eyes and hair. She weighs 115 pounds and is 5 feet 1 inch in height. When she left home she wore an Eton jacket of blue serge, a yellow silk dress and a black and white straw hat. She carried a prayer book and a purse containing $2.

CONVICTS USED WOMAN AS SHIELD

In Fight While Escaping from Prison They Held Warden's Wife Between Them and Shower of Bullets.

CANON CITY, Col., June 22.—One convict was killed and another fatally wounded by guards at the State Penitentiary to-day in an attempt to escape.

A number of convicts overpowered the guards at the wash house, securing their keys. On the way to the front gate the prisoners captured Mrs. Cleghorn, wife of the warden, and placed her in front of them.

Reaching the front gate, they blew it with dynamite and got outside, taking Mrs. Cleghorn with them.

The warden instructed the guards to pick off the convicts, taking care not to shoot his wife. When fifty yards from the prison Mrs. Cleghorn fainted and the convicts released her.

In the shooting, which was general from the guard, convict Kuykendall was instantly killed; James Armstrong, the ringleader, was shot by Night Capt. Clark and will die. Tom Fisher was captured on the bank of a big ditch.

Two other men are reported captured at some little distance from the prison, and two others are known to be gone, one of them wounded. They are on horseback, having stopped a wagon, cutting the horses loose and escaping.

Pale People whose tissues are pining for the strengthening and building comfort of rich, thick blood, should bear in mind that

Ozomulsion will give them what they need. That transparent blue skin, or the yellowish dirty pallor, so often seen, are very dangerous signs. Blood is life. MARION STORY CATCHES THIEF

Millionaire Artist and Society Leader and His Coachman Surprise Discharged Butler Picking Up Silverware.

(Special to The Evening World.) WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 22.—In the arrest of William Stevens, a former butler employed by Marion Story, millionaire society leader, painter and horse show exhibitor of Portchester, who was captured early to-day by Mr. Story while he was robbing his country seat, the police say they have behind the bars a notorious burglar. He is probably the man who during the last six weeks has looted many homes in Westchester County.

The burglar was captured by Mr. Story and his coachman after a terrific struggle in the dining-room, during which chairs and tables were overturned and the intruder was badly wounded. Stevens had been discharged by Mr. Story two months ago. Since that time silverware and jewelry valued at $3,500 have been stolen from the Story mansion. Detectives could get no trace of the burglar, although every nook and cranny of the house was searched.

Mr. Story and his coachman were hiding behind a portiere in the dining room early to-day when Stevens crawled through a window and began packing up silverware. Mr. Story and his coachman, with drawn revolvers, shouted: "Hold up your hands or we will shoot you dead."

Stevens made a break for the main hallway, but was overpowered by Mr. Story. "I know you, Stevens," said Mr. Story. "You can't escape me."

When Stevens finally surrendered he was tied in about twenty feet of rope, so that he could not move his hands or feet, and taken to Police Headquarters.

"Here is the man we have wanted so long," said Mr. Story, "lock him securely."

Stevens had been tied up so tightly that the rope left bloody marks on his legs.

"You have got me straight," he said. "I have been robbing Mr. Story for quite awhile. I lost $1,500 which I had saved up playing the ponies. I was broke. I had to make money some way. I'll tell you where I sold all the stuff, as I am in for keeps now. When I was covered with two revolvers by Mr. Story, I had to surrender as I knew I would be shot."

Chief Police Donovan says that the most valuable booty stolen by the prisoner were twenty-one miniature paintings, the work of Mr. Story, worth about $1,500.

The former butler has told me where he sold all the stuff," said Chief Donovan, "and I expect to get it all back for Mr. Story to-morrow. He was evidently a slick burglar, as he operated for a long time despite the efforts of detectives to capture him. He had a key to the front door and entered the Story mansion late at night just as though he was a guest at the house. I believe he is an old-time crook, although he says playing the ponies drove him to commit the crime."

William Searles, a conductor on the New York & Stamford Railway, called on Lawyer David H. Hunt to-day in regard to settling with Mr. Story because he had been arrested on suspicion of having been the burglar. He was discharged, having established an alibi, just before Stevens was locked up. The lawyer said an offer of $50 had been made to Searles.

EGAN BLOCKED JEROME'S PROBE

Refused to Answer Subpoena in the Dook Board Inquiry and the Matter Is Referred to the Courts.

Investigation into the affairs of the old Dock Board, which was begun before Justice Mayer by District-Attorney Jerome, will probably be suspended to await a decision by the higher courts as to the right to compel Joseph Egan to testify in regard to his lease granted in the last days of the board.

Accompanied by a detective and Assistant District-Attorney Clarke, District-Attorney Jerome went before Magistrate Mayer in chambers to-day to demand a warrant for the arrest of Egan for not answering a subpoena. Thomas C. O'Sullivan, Egan's attorney, and John D. Lindsay were also present. Mr. O'Sullivan said his client would not testify and cited the Lewisohn decision in the Canfield case in support of his contention that Egan could not be forced to testify.

Magistrate Mayer said the case was different, and that Lewisohn responded to a subpoena and then refused to answer questions, while Egan had refused to respond to the subpoena.

Mr. Sullivan then sent for Egan. The case was adjourned until later in the day. Mr. Egan will refuse to testify and the matter will have to be thrown out in the higher courts. This will stop proceedings in the case pending a decision.

Egan has a lease for a dock for thirty years at a nominal rental. It is alleged the lease was granted for three years and the balance of the term was added after the lease was made and after Mr. Egan had been elected Mayor.

The dock board at the time was composed of Charlie Murphy, present leader of Tammany; J. Sergeant Gram and Peter F. Meyer, Richard Croker's partner in the real estate business.

Shun "Get-Well-Quick" Kidney "Cures."

Liquid Kidney Remedies Full of Alcohol. KIDNEY-WORT TABLETS USE NO DROP OF ALCOHOL.

The "Get-Well-Quick" kidney remedies are like the "Get-Well-Quick" schemes, full of bitterness in the end. Alcohol enters largely into their composition. Their immediate deceptive bracing effect is due to the alcohol, and so is the depression, the increase in rheumatism, and the irritation of the entire urinary tract that follows.

Don't take the remedy that will free you from pain quickest, but the scientific modern remedy that will thoroughly free you from your disease. Liquid kidney remedies can only give temporary relief. Alcohol intensifies all kidney and rheumatic diseases, no matter how much they seem to afford at the start. Kidney-Wort Tablets are superior to the old-fashioned liquid prepared kidney remedies as anti-toxin is superior to the ineffective diaphoretic treatment of fifty years ago. Kidney-Wort Tablets are purposely free from alcohol. They have cured thousands of kidney sufferers who could get no help from liquid remedies.

239 Boston St., Lynn, Mass., May 15, 1903. Gentlemen: I have been subject to lameness in my back for ten or twelve years. I tried Dr. Pettigill's Kidney-Wort Tablets and was relieved immediately. By the time I had taken the whole of the first bottle the ache was gone entirely—I think for good, as I have not been troubled since. Yours very truly,

CHARLES F. ORR. Have you noticed any of the symptoms of kidney disease—a growing weakness, backache, fugitive and obscure pains in the lumbar region, drowsiness, emaciation, shortness of breath, dizzy feeling, disturbed sleep? Do you note brick dust deposit or mucous or milky discharges and gravel in your urine? Does your skin a dry and harsh feeling, burning at night? Have you unusual thirst and scanty flow of urine? Are you losing in weight and strength? Take Kidney-Wort Tablets without delay. They act directly upon the kidneys, bladder and urinary organs, and promptly banish every trace of the dread disease.

At the first backache examine your urine for cloudiness, reddish deposits, and small particles floating upon it. At the earliest sign of kidney weakness use Kidney-Wort Tablets.

Rainy Weather and Business. Only a few more days in June. No use loading them up with a long talk. Being of few days—but oh, how rainy! Looks promising for a change to-day. The weather has had a rather depressing effect upon business, but the glorious Fourth is coming, and everybody will be happy. But in the mean time look about you for opportunities to stir up business. In The World every day there is a department under the heading of "Business Opportunities." Did you ever notice it? Well, well—it's there, and its good reading. Every day somebody offers some good chance to make money to those who have small or large capital to invest. Look into some of the offers. Of course you must be sure they are bona fide. The World only acts as publicity agent, and undertakes to print only the best. Now to-day there is an advertisement for a partner with $1,200, in which an offer of good profit is made; a hotel with 22 rooms is prepared; a manufacturing business cheap; one advertiser wants to dispose of a harness shop; there is a furnished room house, a photograph gallery, a candy store, a laundry, an oyster and chop house, &c., &c. Altogether there are thirty-eight "Business Opportunities" to-day, a gain of thirteen over the same day of last year.

Hundreds of thousands of people every Sunday.
