PUGILISTS SIGN TO MEET IN BIG BOUTS

Boxing Game Opening Up All Over the Country—Fighters Start to Train for Bout—McGovern Signs to Box Jimmy Briggs in Boston.

MUNROE MEETS M'CORMICK IN PHILADELPHIA ON OCT. 5.

"Young Corbett" and Tim Callahan to Meet Early in October—Date Changed for Fitz's Contest with Coughlin—Ruhlin and Fitz to Box Out West.

Busy days are these for the pugilistic fraternity. Matches with champions and ex-champions figuring as principals have been made during the last few days with great rapidity. One important match was made to-day between Terry McGovern and Jimmy Briggs, the Boston feather-weight, and a date set for another—the Munroe-McCormick match.

Following on his other matches, Sam Harris acting for Terry McGovern, has just closed another bout for the little Brooklynite. In the ring of the Criterion A. C. of Boston Terry will meet Jimmy Briggs, the New England feather-weight, in a twelve-round contest on Oct. 7. The bout will give a new line on the relative merits of "Young Corbett" and McGovern. It will be remembered that recently the "Rocky Mountain Kid" engaged Briggs in two ten-round bouts in Boston, but failed to put him away. He, however, had all the best of both contests, and failed in his object only through the clever sprinting abilities of his Boston foe.

"Young Corbett" was matched last night to meet Tim Callahan in Philadelphia during the first part of October, and has a fight pending with Dave Sullivan, to take place in Boston about the middle of October.

Jack Munroe, the ex-miner, and Jack McCormick, who were matched last week, will meet before the Washington Sporting Club, of Philadelphia, on Oct. 5. Bids for the contest were left open until to-day, and many clubs sought the match. The Washington club, with an offer of 70 per cent. and a guaranteed purse of $2,000, secured the mill.

Terry McGovern, in preparing for his fights, will have the assistance of Bob Fitzsimmons. Fitz has always liked the little Brooklynite, and the pair had a talk recently. Fitz offered to take Terry in charge and show him how he could defeat "Young Corbett." The offer was accepted and the champion will move down to Bath Beach and there undergo the course of training as Fitz plans it.

The prospects of Gus Ruhlin and Bob Fitzsimmons meeting again are very bright. The Century A. C. of Los Angeles, wants to give the men a date next month, and about all that is necessary now is Fitz's consent. Billy Madden, who is now on the coast, has agreed for Ruhlin to the conditions of the bout, which will be of twenty rounds.

Fitzsimmons will not meet Con Coughlin in Philadelphia on Friday night, as was first arranged, but will on Sept. 30. The scene of the contest will be the Washington Sporting Club, instead of the National A. C. Fitz asked for the postponement, and Coughlin agreed to it.

SIXTH RACE—Irene Lindsay (9 to 10), Countersole (7 to 2) 2, Sweet Alice, 3.

(Special to The Evening World) RACE TRACK, GRAVESSEND, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Hurstbourne won the $15,000 Hindoo Stakes at Gravesend this afternoon for W. B. Leeds, the millionaire of "Tin Plate" fame. Hurstbourne was recently purchased by Mr. Leeds for $15,000, with this race in view.

The stake was worth $10,000 to the winner so that the proposition to purchase Hurstbourne only owes $5,000 on his purchase money. And at this price he is a cheap horse. Probably enough was bet on Hurstbourne to win him out entirely. He went the route very nicely seeming to indicate that he liked it better than sporting affairs at which he has always been pointed.

Janeway, the second choice, beat Mr. Keene's Gimcrack less than a length. The latter pulled up very lame.

McChesney won the Second Special very easily. He laid in behind Sheriff Bell and The Picket until the stretch was reached, where he went to the front and won in his usual decisive style. The Picket, very tired, easily beat Sheriff Bell.

FIRST RACE. One mile and a sixteenth. Betting. Start good. Won easily. Time—1:46 1-5. Sir Voorhies made the running, followed by Sildeil, Caughnawaga and Honnibert. They held the lead to the far turn, where Bullman moved up rapidly with Caughnawaga, and in the stretch passed all but five horses. He caught the latter in the home stretch and in a hard drive won. Sir Voorhies was four lengths in front of Sildeil.

SECOND RACE. Steeplechase, about two miles and a half. Betting. Start good. Won driving. Time—4:06. TWO BIG HORSES FALL IN SUBWAY.

Brewery Team, Frightened by a Car, Plunge into a Fifteen-Foot Excavation and Are Tightly Wedged In.

A team of big brewery horses, started by a car at One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street and Lenox avenue this afternoon, became so frightened and unmanageable that their driver, Fred Burkhardt, could not hold them in and they fell into the subway at the crossing. The excavation at this point is more than fifteen feet deep.

Burkhardt was pulled into the ditch, but he managed to extricate himself, and escaped with body bruises of no serious importance. The horses were wedged in and could not get on their feet after the fall. In their helplessness they kicked one another, injuring themselves so much by their wild efforts to get free as by their fall.

Representatives of the Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals did everything in their power to pull the animals out of the hole.

The team belongs to Everard & Co. The wagon was so heavily laden with beer barrels that it was not drawn into the subway, the weight of the horses snapping the reins off sharp.

who beat Gimcrack three-quarters of a length.

GIANTS PLAY CHICAGO "CUBS."

McGraw's Men Begin Four-Day Fight in Windy City and Hope to Clinch Hold on Second Place.

MATHEWSON PITCHES FOR THE NEW YORKERS.

Against Him Is Pitted Young Weimer, and Big Crowd Is Out to See Rival Forces Meet in Game.

THE BATTING ORDER.

New York. Chicago. Browne, rf. Slagle, cf. Brennan, cf. McCarthy, rf. McGann, lb. Chance, lb. Merow, lf. Jones, rf. Babb, ss. King, c. Lander, 2b. Tinker, ss. Gilbert, 3b. Evers, 2b. Warner, c. Casey, 3b. Mathewson, p. W. Moran, umpire—Emalle and Moran.

(Special to The Evening World) WEST SIDE PARK, CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Manager McGraw took the Giants out to the ball grounds early to-day, working them through the old-time training stunts of the spring. Not by any chance does he propose to let the Chicago series be taken from him. On the games here to-day, to-morrow, Monday and Tuesday depends second place.

In the practice Bresnahan showed stiff and lame. He said if the season continued another week after next Saturday he would have to go to the bench. The hole in Gilbert's right foot, punched there by one of the Phillies' hobnailed shoes, refuses to heal, but he continues to do great fielding.

Lots of Work for Warner. Bowtman is so completely laid up from that ball pitched by Ames that he can not even practice, and it may be that he will not play again this year. This throws a heap of work on Warner, who stands it well.

As to the bags for the Giants Joe Kelley, of Cincinnati, admitted he never saw them covered better than by McGann, Gilbert and Lander.

"My boys are great players," said McGraw, "but they like a little under the excessive work they have had all season. At the beginning of the season the artists doped it out on paper that the Giants were certain tail-enders. But they have been doing a great amount of work, playing ball every minute, taking the care of themselves, and the result is they have jarred the experts."

Lepek Against Giants. "But it is not luck that has put us up where we are. In fact, luck has been against us. It has been consistent ball playing, and while there have been a few games in which they seemed to go all to pieces and be unable to play any kind of ball, I am assured that the vast majority of those paying to see the Giants play ball went away satisfied that they had received their money's worth."

The New Yorks have proved such a drawing card that, besides the big attendance, the speculators have purchased all available seats for Sunday's game.

First Inning. Browne walked after having two strikes called on him. Brennan out on strikes, the grand-slam calling "Dirty deal!" Browne stole second and then McGraw discovered her body to-day in a little pond on Hausman avenue, Cassleton Corners, S. I.

Last evening she went out to visit a friend. She left the friend's house shortly after dark, and when at midnight she had not returned to her home her brother went in search of her. As the pond is very near the roadside it is believed that she stumbled into it in the darkness and was drowned.

Second Inning. Babb took that on Evers's fumble. Lander out on strikes. Warner could not beat his grounder to Chase and scored a sacrifice, sending Babb to third. Warner fled to McCarthy. No runs.

Third Inning. Lander and his wife were pitched out. Saddle's knee was broken and his face badly injured, and Mrs. Saddle sustained contusions. She was removed to a neighboring hotel, where a doctor attended them.

Aloha in Collision with Fishing Boat in Firth of Forth. LEITH, Scotland, Sept. 19.—The American steam yacht Aloha, owned by Arthur C. and D. Willis James, of New York, which arrived here yesterday from Kiel, Prussia, reports having sustained the loss of her foreward in a collision with a fishing-boat off the Isle of May, in the Firth of Forth.

AMERICANS IN AUTO CRASH. Vanleet Saddle and His Wife Injured in France. HAVRE, France, Sept. 19.—Vanleet Saddle, described as an American tourist, while riding in an automobile down a steep street in the town of Bobec, seventeen and a half miles from here, lost control of his machine and ran against the curb.

Saddle and his wife were pitched out. Saddle's knee was broken and his face badly injured, and Mrs. Saddle sustained contusions. She was removed to a neighboring hotel, where a doctor attended them.

FEDERAL MARSHAL A SUICIDE. W. P. Gamble Had Been Accused of Complicity in Chinese Plot. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 19.—Detective United States Marshal W. P. Gamble, who was arrested a few days ago for complicity in a plot to substitute the Chinese for young Chinese, who had been ordered deported, committed suicide at the Buena Vista Hotel to-day.

Several days ago Gamble confessed his part in the scheme to defraud the Government of $25,000. He was taken to the Madison street station, charged with shoplifting, and a half-way.

It is alleged that they stole a woman's elk coat from the store of Hyman Minkoff, 245 North Broadway, New York, and hid the coat under a bed at the Bluebird home. Both were held in $500 bail for trial.

UNKNOWN MAN'S BODY FOUND. The unidentified body of a man was found in the East River off One Hundred and Twenty-first street by the police of the East One Hundred and Fourth Street Station. It was taken to the station-house.

The body is six feet in height, has black hair, small mustache, blue eyes, black striped shirt, gray trousers, lace low shoes and black socks.

M'CLELLAN SAYS HE WILL NOT RUN AS CROKER MAN

Tammany Favorite for Mayor Returns from Europe on the Steamship Philadelphia and Declares He Has Not Been to Wantage Communicated with the Former Leader.

KEPT POSTED BY WIRELESS MESSAGES ON WAY ACROSS.

Plants Himself Squarely on a Partisan Platform, Praises Bird S. Coler, Rejoices in Devery's Defeat and Forecasts the Defeat of Slagel at the Polls.

It is not true, as claimed by my opponents, that if nominated for Mayor I would be a Murphy-Croker man. If that were so, then I would not be the nominee.

I was in England while abroad, but I did not go to Wantage, and I neither saw Mr. Croker nor heard from him directly or indirectly.

The politics of New York have much to do with the politics of the nation.

It is the duty of a Democrat or a Republican in New York to vote along party lines in local as well as National issues. That is peculiarly true in New York because it is the metropolis of the country.

The defeat of Devery is clean politics. It is successful Democracy. —Statements Made by Geo. B. McClellan on His Arrival To-Day.

George B. McClellan arrived to-day on the steamship Philadelphia. Mr. McClellan is the choice of Richard Croker and Charles F. Murphy for Mayor of New York, and in the desire to have him nominated Murphy is backed up by a majority of the district leaders of Tammany Hall, who believe that McClellan can be elected.

Mr. McClellan knew that he was the dominant figure in the Democratic Mayoralty situation when he faced a group of reporters who boarded the Philadelphia off Quarantine.

"Will you accept the Democratic nomination for the Mayoralty?" was the first question plumped at him.

Mr. McClellan looked neither surprised nor displeased. He took a long breath, squared his shoulders as he placed his hands behind his back, and with a frank, sweeping smile at the semicircle of interrogators, he replied: "I must decline to answer that until the nomination is offered me."

"Do you anticipate it will be offered to you?"

"That I cannot answer." Another smile and Mr. McClellan went on to explain. "I have been away for six months. I have heard little of American politics since I left. I knew very little of the local situation until I boarded the Philadelphia. I tell you frankly that since I left the other side (I have been in receipt of wireless messages daily—first from the European and later from our own coast. These messages have enabled me to meet you gentlemen without too much astonishment. But I am not sufficiently in touch with the situation to talk."

"Did you see Mr. Croker while you were abroad?"

"I did not. I was in England, but I did not go to Wantage, and I neither saw Mr. Croker nor heard from him directly or indirectly."

When informed of the result of the primaries and Goodwin's defeat of Devery, Mr. McClellan said: "That is clean politics. It is successful democracy."

He asked particularly regarding the feeling in the fight between Hagan and John B. Sexton in the Nineteenth District, and his next inquiry was: "How does Sheehan stand?" He seemed pleased that the Greater New York Democracy had made a stand for an independent Democrat.

The question brought out an inquiry as to his opinion of Mr. Grout's declaration that an independent Democrat could support the Fusion ticket without compromising his allegiance to his party. Mr. McClellan disagreed.

"The politics of New York have much to do with the politics of the nation," he said. "It is the duty of a Democrat or a Republican in New York City to vote along party lines in local as well as National issues. That is peculiarly true in New York because it is the metropolis of the country."

"How do you like Mr. Coler as your running mate?"

"That's too frank a catch question," said Mr. McClellan. "As for Mr. Coler, he is a friend of long standing, and the public knows his ability and integrity. His name would be a tower of strength to the Democratic ticket."

"What do you think of the prospects of Democratic success in the Mayoralty campaign?"

"I will have to give you an opinion formed six months ago. I don't know what has happened since I left here March 13. But up to that time I had a firm conviction that Tammany would make a clean sweep in Manhattan Borough. Do you recall the magnificent vote Tammany rolled up for Mr. Coler? I had seen a year and a half of the Fusion administration and it was my firm conviction that the people were not pleased with Mayor Low's administration."

Col. McClellan was informed that it was claimed by the opponents of Tammany Hall that if he were nominated he would be a Murphy-Croker man.

The answer came quickly by the Congressman: "If that were so, then I would not be the nominee."

WILD STEERS IN MAD STAMPEDE STEALS AWAY FROM WIFE TO TAKE ACID.

Four of a Consignment Run Down 10th and 11th Avenues from 40th Street, but Are Rounded Up Without Damage. Frank Blakeney, of Brooklyn, Slips Into His Room Unnoticed by Her and Ends His Life with Poison.

Four steers of a consignment of cattle broke out of the yards of the slaughter house of Solomon Levy, at the foot of West Fourth street, this afternoon and ran down a mile down Tenth and Eleventh avenues before they were rounded up and captured. Hundreds of men and boys chased the frightened animals.

A cowboy named Jack Rudolph and two or three other employees of the slaughter-house, started after the steers when they escaped, shouting warnings to passers-by to get out of the way. But, instead of getting out of the way the people ran out in the street and by hooting and yelling and throwing stones caused to stop the runaways.

A railroad brakeman named Welch caught one of the steers by the tail and was dragged half a block before he thought to let go. None of the animals made any attempt to use its horns, and when they got to Thirtieth street they were almost blind with fright and excitement.

At Thirtieth street and Eleventh avenue they dashed into the New York Central freight yards and ran into a cul-de-sac. A barrier was thrown up at the end and the fugitives were imprisoned. Later on, enticed by two gentle heifers, they were led back to the slaughter-house.
