

PISTOL READY FOR PARKS MEN

Buchanan Delegate Fights His Way Into Kansas City Convention, Which Adjourns in an Uproar.

CHARGE OF FORGERY MADE BY THE NEW YORKERS.

Credentials of Montreal Man Questioned. He Is Unseated When Session Is Resumed in Absence of the President.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 25.—President Buchanan shortly before noon today adjourned the annual convention of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, without date, to prevent what promised to be a serious fight and probably a split over the seating of Daniel Brophy, a Buchanan supporter, who held a credential from a Scranton, Pa., local. The session was held behind closed doors.

Later it was stated that Joseph A. McIlaney, a Parks adherent, had brophy that the credential held by Brophy had been forged. A fight had been made on Brophy yesterday by the Parks crowd, and although he was seated, President Buchanan ruled, to present endless debate, that any one wishing to make a protest against any of the delegates might do so in writing.

Such a protest against Brophy, declaring him to be a "fish," was presented just before adjournment last evening and became the first business of the convention to-day. A threatening move was made at the doors of the hall as Brophy sought entrance to the convention to-day. He made as if to draw his revolver, it is stated, and declared he would shoot the first man to touch him. After the doors had been closed and the protest against the seating of Brophy had been brought up a member of the Parks delegation made the sensational declaration that the credentials held by Brophy from Scranton had been forged and that it originally bore the name of "J. Reed," which had been erased.

Instantly there was an uproar of charges and counter-charges of fraud being made on all sides. When the scene became threatening and it seemed impossible to get the convention out of its tangle, President Buchanan summarily dismissed the gathering, adjourning it without date. After the delegates had filed out to the street, Delegate Parks and his followers held a conference on the sidewalk.

"Our men," declared Mr. Parks with emphasis, "will not sit in a convention with Brophy, and if the convention insists upon seating him, we will return to New York." Delegate Brophy's home is in Montreal.

When the usual time for the convening of the afternoon session had arrived President Buchanan failed to put in an appearance. He had, it developed later, purposely remained in his room in the Coates House.

Although the convention had been adjourned by President Buchanan without date Second Vice-President Warden was placed in the chair by the Parks men and called the gathering to order. Immediately a vote was taken on a motion to reconsider the vote seating Delegate Brophy. Brophy was unseated, 85 to 10.

PARKS MAY TIE UP NEW BRIDGE.

The return of Sam Parks to New York from his triumphs in Kansas City is likely to result in another building tie-up more complete and extensive than that of last summer, unless the Employers' Association consents to recognize the Housecarth and Bridgemen's Union. Parks is far more powerful than when he went away.

His union was discredited with the National organization of ironworkers in the building trades. Now it is recognized. Parks is the official spokesman of the National organization. He is now practically the head of an army of 110,000 men, including those employed in the construction of steel buildings and those engaged in shops in the preparation of material.

"I am going back to New York," said Parks, "and I will strike everything that opposes me. I will tie up the new East River Bridge and pull out every Company that can't take me. I am just beginning to fight."

TO NOTIFY LOW MONDAY.

Ceremony Will Take Place at the Home of the Mayor.

Mayor Low, Comptroller Groun and President of the Board of Aldermen Charles V. Forness will be officially notified of their renomination at the residence at 5 o'clock on Monday afternoon. Lieut. Gov. Woodruff will make the speech of notification.

MRS. HETTY GREEN TO GO INTO SOCIETY

Richest Woman in America at Last Overcomes Her Disinclination to Mingle With the Elect of Newport.

Mrs. Hetty Green is going into society. The richest woman in America, seeking new worlds to conquer, has turned her eyes toward Newport and is even now negotiating for a villa on Bellevue avenue, where next season she will entertain society's elect.

With her daughter, Miss Sylvia Green, she visited Newport a few days ago as the guest of Countess Annie Leary, and while there inspected several houses with a view to purchase.

But a few weeks ago all Newport was cast into mourning by the announcement that Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish was about to shake its dust from her feet forever and in future spend her summers at her more exclusive country place on the Hudson. But since the rumor spread that Hetty Green was looking for a house and that under the magic spell of social ambition, the hitherto unyielding purse strings had acquired a new elasticity, joy has returned to the hearts of real estate men and tradespeople.

The Queen is dead. Long live the Queen. For no one doubts that if Mrs. Green makes a determined effort she may, no further away than next season, be seen strolling up Bellevue avenue with Harry Lehr and his favorite parrot or in the bright lights of the Casino grill-room to the accompaniment of the soft strains of the Casino orchestra, waiting from across the court, discussing the details of her first cotillon with Elisha Dyer, Jr.

Mrs. Green will be introduced to society by Countess Annie Leary, a life-long friend, who for several years interested herself in the social advancement of Mrs. Green's daughter, Sylvia. Though the richest woman in America has never before attempted to dazzle the social world, her absence from the meetings of the elect was due merely to her disinclination to mingle with them. For she has often visited Countess Annie Leary both in Newport and New York, and several years ago when business required her presence in town she successfully eluded taxation as a city resident by spending the winter as Miss Leary's guest, at No. 2 Fifth avenue.

Countess Leary is recognized as the absolute leader of the Catholic section of the "40's," and she has many times endeavored to persuade Mrs. Green to leave her little flat in Hoboken and take the place in New York society which her many gilt-edged accomplishments entitle her.

Happy Lehr May Aid Her. Mrs. Green's effort to find a Newport villa is regarded as a sign that she has at last yielded to her friend's entreaties, and Countess Leary is said to be using her influence with Harry Lehr to induce him to act as Mrs. Green's secretary and make himself as invaluable to her as he was in the early days of his career in Mrs. Astor.

Mrs. Green has returned to New York from Newport, and was seen to-day in regard to her proposed plans by an Evening World reporter at the Chemical Bank.

"I have not bought a house at Newport yet," she said. "I have not made any definite plans for next summer. The less foolishness there is in the newspapers the better. I am only in town for a few days, and have no time to talk about anything."

LITTLE GIRL IS KILLED BY CAR

Annie Wright, Eight Years Old, Run Down in Columbus Avenue and Her Life Is Crushed Under Wheels.

Annie Wright, a beautiful eight-year-old girl, was crushed to death under a Columbus avenue trolley car at One Hundredth street and Columbus avenue to-day.

Michael Moore, the motorman, of No. 57 West Forty-ninth street, was arrested by the police and locked up at the One Hundredth street station.

Annie was the eldest child of Mr. and Mrs. George Wright, of No. 45 West One Hundredth street. She was strikingly pretty, fair-skinned, with large black eyes and a wealth of curling black hair. Her mother had dressed her for school in a blue and white polka dot dress, and a big picture hat, crowned with wild flowers, shaded her face.

She had half an hour to spare before school time and as Mrs. Wright was not well she sent the girl to the grocery. The child had made her purchase and was returning with her arms full. A side crossed the avenue from west to east Moore's car approached the foot of the hill at One Hundredth street.

The motorman, says the child darted across the tracks, but turned back when he shouted and clanged his gong, and then as he put on all his power to shoo the car forward she sprang forward into the street and fell under the forward axle.

Onlookers tell a different story. They say that the child was being pulled, "til look out there, kid!" and then put on all his power to shoo the car forward. They incline that begins at One Hundredth street.

The accident was witnessed by a crowd of children on their way to the public school at One Hundredth and Fourth street and Amsterdam avenue. They screamed and several little girls faintly fainted at a hundred feet from the scene in the neighborhood rushed to the car after it had been stopped, and lifted the vehicle to that the little girl's body could be taken from the tracks.

Motorman Moore was hysterical and was crying as the car was lifted from the rails. "Let me get her," cried Moore, and he dived under the upraised car. Two men went with him and in a minute they carried out the mangled arm of the child. Moore dropped on his knees, and bending over he prayed that she might live.

Dr. Griffin, of the J. Hood Wright Hospital, was present when the little one was taken from under the car. Her body was broken and her body frightfully disfigured.

Meanwhile Mrs. Wright and her husband were breakfasting at their home only a few doors away from the spot. They had just finished the streets and with a mother's premonition Mrs. Wright ran to the window.

She was not alarmed, that Annie would be back in time for school. The mother saw the girl lying on the sidewalk and heard the cry, "Girl killed!" She dashed into the street. Just as she reached the sidewalk the mother saw only an edge of the bloodstained skirt and fainted.

The coroner's inquest was held by the Coroner pending the inquest.

A SHAME To Poison Children. "I have made coffee during the 17 years I have kept house on an average of at least once a day until we gave it up altogether. My husband was often forced to leave off drinking it for several days at a time, and to severe pains in his heart, which he declared were caused by coffee."

So says a lady of S. Atkinson, Me. "I had a bad stomach trouble, my appetite was poor, and what food I ate did not digest, and I had no strength."

"I also had bad nervous trouble and suffered much from headaches and a feeling of suffocation and faintness. We have four children, and all were very fond of coffee and drank it every morning, seldom eating much breakfast. They were pale and often complained of feeling faint and dizzy, and one daughter had indigestion badly. My husband's father, who lived with us, had badly broken down and sometimes said, 'I believe coffee hurts me.' But after trying for a few days to get along without it the habit of a lifetime proved too strong, and he would call for a cup of coffee."

TAMMANY PUTS OFF THE NOMINATION OF CANDIDATE

an independent Democrat. In this, rumor has it, he is backed up by District-Attorney Jerome and Borough President Cantor. The District-Attorney after causing the Fusion movement to bolt has precipitated himself into the other side. He is credited with a desire to rejuvenate the Democratic party of the city outside of Tammany influence, and place it in condition for the national fight next year.

In furtherance of this he might find a reason for refusing to lend his support to the Fusion ticket or even for bolting the ticket and supporting Nixon as an independent, just as he found a reason for publishing the private letters of Thomas A. Fulton.

NIXON CLUBS FORMED. Weird as all this may appear, there is no reason why the plan should not be carried out. There is time enough for Mr. Nixon to get his petitions signed and his nomination filed in legal form. There is every reason to believe that the District-Attorney is disgusted with the contempt with which his suggestions concerning the inadvisability of renominating Mayor Low were received.

And there is every sort of evidence that Jacob Cantor is willing to get into politics along new lines.

A great many clubs have been formed in the past few days in the Borough of Manhattan and the Borough of Kings with the ostensible purpose of working up sentiment in favor of Lewis Nixon for the Tammany nomination. The inwardness of this club formation has puzzled the Tammany politicians. Since yesterday they have come to the belief that Mr. Nixon is playing some politics himself.

With the names he has already secured to his petitions to Tammany Hall he is on a solid basis for a petition nomination. To get the rest would be easy. It would not be impossible for the petitioners nominating Mr. Nixon to nominate the Fusion ticket with the exception of Mayor Low.

Just to show how unsettled the Tammany political situation is it may be said that these contingencies were discussed at the Democratic Club last night.

Lewis Nixon as candidate on an Independent Democratic ticket, William S. Devery as candidate on another Independent Democratic ticket, and Seth Low as candidate on the fusion ticket ought to make a combination to cause hustling on the part of Tammany Hall.

Mr. Jerome made this statement to-day: "Mr. Nixon is a gentleman. No gentleman could possibly assume that my expressed determination to support the fusion ticket was insincere. Indeed, it would be exceedingly embarrassing for me to sit down with a man capable of expressing such a sentiment, for if he did express it the table would be kicked over."

No table was kicked over, and when Nixon and Jerome parted it was with smiles and hearty handshakes.

WOMAN OF 110 WILL LEAD BIG PARADE

CANTOR AND GEORGE BOTH OUT OF RACE

Mrs. Samuel Hubbard to Take a Place in Carnival Which Will Wind Up the Season at Coney Island.

When the committee having in charge the great parade which is to make Coney Island ablaze with color and light to-night called for the oldest man and woman resident on the island it did not hope to discover the woman. The man came forward acknowledging his age. He is old Uncle Abe Sullivan. The Evening World told of him yesterday, but the committee has been happily disappointed. The woman is found.

She is Mrs. Samuel Hubbard, and claims to be 110 years old, and she lives with her daughter, Mrs. Stryker Williamson, at Gravesend avenue and Neck road. Mrs. Hubbard says she doesn't care any more, and now that she has passed the 110 mark she might as well come out in the open and admit her age.

SERVICES FOR F. S. GIBBS.

Rev. Dr. Houghton Officiates at Funeral of Late Senator. Funeral services for Frederick S. Gibbs were held this morning in the Church of the Transfiguration, in East Twenty-ninth street. The rector, the Rev. Dr. Houghton, officiated.

The church was crowded. Many women were among the mourners. All grades of the political, commercial and social life of the city were represented. The services were the simplest of the Episcopal church. Masonic services over the remains of Mr. Gibbs were held last night at the house, No. 421 West Twenty-second street.

Among the many floral tokens were a wreath of Jacquemont roses and ferns from President Roosevelt, and a wreath from Gov. Odell. A broken column ten feet high from the Republican Club and an immense cluster of white roses and lilies from the attaches of the County Clerk's office.

The pall-bearers were Gov. Franklin Murphy of New Jersey; Cornelius N. Bliss, Hamilton Fish, Jr., Timothy L. Woodruff, William W. Fuller, John Heary Tremaine, Robert C. Morris, Edward G. Rags, W. H. Ten Eyck, John W. Freeman, John Miller, James E. Quigg, Edward Hogan, Leonard A. Gerberich, Louis F. Payn, Thomas L. Hamilton, William Halpin and James A. Allen.

DRUG VICTIMS TO WED.

Dr. Lewis and Miss Lesael, Who Went to Bellevue, Discharged.

Declaring that she was going to be married, Dora L. Lesael, of No. 202 East One Hundred and Fourth street, left Bellevue Hospital to-day after being discharged as cured of the morphia habit.

On Sunday last she and Dr. A. L. Lewis, of No. 114 East Eighty-fourth street, entered the hospital to be treated. The physician left the hospital on Wednesday. When Miss Lesael was discharged he met her at the gate and they walked away arm in arm.

CAME NEAR DYING

From an Awful Skin Humor. Scratched till Blood Ran. Wasted to Skeleton.

CURED BY CUTICURA. "When my little boy was about three months old his head broke out with a rash, which was very itchy and ran considerable watery fluid. We tried every thing we could, but he got worse all the time till it spread to his arms, legs, and then to his entire body, and he got so bad that he came near dying. The rash would itch so that he would scratch till the blood ran, and a thin yellowish stuff would be all over his pillow in the morning. I had to put mittens on his hands to keep him from tearing at a long time. He had got so that he just slept in our arms all the time. I washed him with Cuticura Soap and put on one application of Cuticura and he was so soothed that I put him in the cradle. You don't know how glad I felt when he felt better. It took one box of Cuticura Ointment, pretty near one cake of Cuticura Soap, and about half a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent to cure. I think our little boy would have died only for the Cuticura Remedies, and I shall always remain a firm friend of them."

Mrs. M. C. MAITLAND, Jasper, Ontario.

NO RETURN IN 14 YEARS.

Mrs. Maitland Writes, Feb. 24, 1903, That Cure Has Been Permanent.

"It affords me much pleasure to inform you that 14 fourteen years since my boy was cured of the terrible skin disease from which he suffered. He has been permanently cured and is hearty and strong. I would highly recommend it to all others and I never let my house be without the Cuticura Soap and Ointment."

Edwd. S. Brown Had Heart Disease

311 Penn Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa., August 20, 1903. Mr. Brown Says: "About a year ago I had neuralgia in my head so bad that I could hardly see. My heart fluttered in such an alarming way and throbbed at night so that I often thought my last hour had come. After taking Paine's Celery Compound I was entirely cured. I have earnestly recommended it to all my friends."
