

TWO FIGHTS FOR PLACES ON BENCH

Citizens' Union Blocks W. S. Bennett's Plans in the Thirtieth District by Putting up A. C. W. Seaman.

WAGMAN'S TROUBLE IN '12TH

Congressman Goldfoyle is the Candidate There, but He Has Many Rivals, Although He Has Had Experience in the District Court.

It does seem pretty tough when a man will through the Legislature creating a new place for himself to have his chances jeopardized by an intruder. That is what is happening to Justice William S. Bennett, of the Thirtieth District Court. As Assemblyman, Judge Bennett got the bill passed, with the aid of Senator Plunkitt, creating a new court for him and incidentally a new one for Tammany.

Mayor Low appointed Bennett for the new months until the people could elect a Justice, and Bennett had a "cinch" on the Republican nomination, which ordinarily would be equivalent to an election. But along comes the Citizens' Union and "puts in" with a candidate of its own, the person of A. C. W. Seaman, which gives the Tammany candidate a chance to slip in. "Col. Abe" Gruber, leader of the Republicans in the Twenty-first, which controls the judicial district, is straining every effort to get Seaman's withdrawal, and Judge Bennett is fuming.

Ex-Senator John F. Sheehan, Tammany leader in the Fourth, which controls the other new judicial district, the Twelfth, is in almost as much trouble. Bennett could not get his bill through without changing it so as to provide for a sure thing of the same kind for Tammany, so the Twelfth was also created. Mayor Low appointed Julius Kramer, and he is the Republican and Citizens' Union nominee to succeed himself. But the district is anything but Tammany, and while Kramer got his nomination without opposition, Sheehan has a hard fight ahead of him. Representative Henry M. Goldfoyle, who has had experience as a district judge and would surrender his seat in Congress if he could get the nomination. He will probably get it.

The tip has gone forth, and in less time than it takes to tell, there were as many as a dozen candidates in the Congressional Districts, and "Big Tim" will have two votes in the Lower House no matter who is picked to succeed Goldfoyle.

It was with a great flourish of trumpets that Congressman Francis Burton Harrison and his friends organized the "Citizens' Independent Democracy" and opened headquarters at the Hotel Baymond. Harrison was elected as a Tammany candidate in the most bejeweled of diamonds back districts, and he is looked upon by the Tammany unwashed as "an awful swell." But they were wrong when the "Citizens' Independent Democracy" in convention assembled heartily endorsed McClellan, Grout and Forney in ringing resolutions.

TWO MEN WHO HOPE FOR PLACES ON THE DISTRICT COURT BENCH.

HENRY H. GOLDFOYLE WILLIAM J. BENNETT

what the fusionists call the special effort they are making in the "gas-house" district, down on the map as the Eighteenth, and known politically as "Murphy's Own." Undeniedly by the record in the World Almanac, which shows that the district went 4 to 1 for Cole last fall and was 2 to 1 against Low in 1901, the Citizens' Union in concert with the Republicans are lavishing the enemy's country, and propose to put up a stiff fight.

The campaign will be carried on by a joint committee with William Henkel, the Republican leader, as chairman, and Terence McGowan, John Guy, Col. James B. Appleby, George Schroeder, George Hull and Philip E. Rolly as members, while a half dozen meetings will be held every night from now until election, under the direction of John Kenegesser, James Kilker, John B. Rolly and Terence McGowan. It looks like a stupendous job, for 1300 voters turned out at the primaries, although there was no contest of Murphy's district leadership and Low received only 283 votes in the district in 1901. Jack the Giant Killer never had so big a job on his hands.

Dashes of Humor That Help to Spice Politics

when there is no graft in sight, but who awakes at the rattle of a new five dollar bill—has got down to business again. His plan is simple and nearly always effective. First of all, he gets together three or four unscrupulous men who are bona fide members of some responsible trades-union or Knights of Labor assembly. Then a small hall is hired, or begged through the influence of the bartender generally, in some building devoted to labor and secret society meetings. The next step is to organize, and all labor men, whether on the level or otherwise, are great on organizing.

Then a small hall is hired, or begged through the influence of the bartender generally, in some building devoted to labor and secret society meetings. The next step is to organize, and all labor men, whether on the level or otherwise, are great on organizing. Presidential year some high-sounding name is selected, such as "The Independent Workmen's Alliance of America." In State contests they will adopt a name like "The Empire State Tanners' Federation," and when a Mayoralty contest is on it will probably be "The Amalgamated Labor Council of the Empire City."

TRAP THAT YAWNS FOR DOWIE. "Who are these Dowie fellows? What's their game anyhow? I read that there are four thousand of them coming to this town from Chicago and that they are going to make things hum," said Tom Moran in front of the new courthouse today.

MAN OF MYSTERY IS LEWIS NIXON

Must Decline to Make Any Statement of a Political Character Until Tammany Hall is On a "Stable Basis."

Lewis Nixon, who does not regard with favor the present administration at Tammany Hall, said today that the Democratic ticket is not in a "stable" condition. What Mr. Nixon means by this characterization is not himself known. He would not qualify whether he means that the ticket is not on the program to stay; that changes will be effected, or that it is not yet in completed form the former leader of Tammany would not say.

His brief statement comprised just the following: "I will continue to refuse to make any statement or answer any questions of a political nature until the ticket has really been placed upon a stable basis. I shall adhere to this decision until then." The intimation contained, politicians say, is that Mr. Nixon will have something of importance to say when the tickets are all prepared and ready for the ballot. The nature of Mr. Nixon's coming statement is purely speculative. It is expected that Mr. Nixon will express his dissatisfaction over the tactics pursued by Tammany in securing the nomination of Justice Grout and Forney by the Democratic convention, and thus coincide with the views of "Boss" McLaughlin.

Milton M. Goldsmith's Reward. Milton M. Goldsmith, a well-known young lawyer, is to receive the nomination for the Assembly to-night in the Thirty-first District. Mr. Goldsmith has a large circle of friends in the district, and was formerly associated with Thomas E. Sutton in the leadership of the Thirty-first for the Greater New York Democracy. He is a ready and fluent speaker and is known as a leader.

WARRANT OUT FOR ELECTION OFFICER

Bernard O'Rourke, Who Served at Primary in the Twenty-ninth District Didn't Appear for Recount of Ballots.

In response to an order by Justice Leventritt the ballot boxes of the first and second election districts of the Twenty-ninth Assembly District in the recent primary election, where Thomas E. Rush and Joseph F. Mulqueen each claims the election as Tammany leader, were to-day produced for a recount of the ballots. The order also directed the appearance in court of the inspectors of election in the districts.

When the case came up Jacob Marks, counsel for Rush, said one of the inspectors of election had either run away or been kept out of the way. The lawyer said he had gone to the man's house for the purpose of serving upon him the order directing him to appear, but was told that he had gone to Rochester.

Herbert H. Maas, counsel for Mulqueen, said he did not believe that any inspector of election had run away or had been kept away. Mr. Maas then turned to Mr. Marks and said: "Give me the name of the inspector whom you claim has run away." "His name," replied Mr. Marks, "is Pearce."

By direction of the Court, the clerk then called the names of the inspectors. John F. Pearce and Bernard O'Rourke did not respond. "Were these persons served?" asked the Justice. Mr. Marks replied that O'Rourke had been personally served, but the subpoena for Pearce had been left with his wife. "As to the man served and who has not appeared, hand me a warrant," said the court, "I will have the Sheriff bring him into court."

DUFFIELD IS BACK FROM VENEZUELA

The General Was Umpire at Tribunal to Adjust German Claims for Damages that Arose During Revolution.

Brevet Major-Gen. Henry M. Duffield, umpire at the tribunal to adjust the German claims against Venezuela for damages to persons and property that arose during the revolution there, arrived here on the steamer Maracaibo to-day.

He said it had been decided between the commissioners and himself that the details of the claims and the decision would not be given out for publication until after the decision had been presented to the various governments. The commissioner from Venezuela was Dr. Niconedes Zuloaga, and the German commissioner was Paul Goetsch, of Berlin, who is counsel to the German Foreign Office.

TURKS KILLED THEIR OWN. Shots Went Over Heads of Insurgents into Camp of Sultan's Men. SOFIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 4.—Details of the fighting at Kitchik, near Kratovo, thirty-eight miles from Uskup, Oct. 1 and 2, have reached the revolutionary headquarters here. The battle was waged for thirty-six hours. The Turks found it impossible to dislodge the band of eighty insurgents from their strong position and brought up two cannon. The shots, however, went over the insurgents and wrought havoc among the Turks on the other side of the position. The insurgents ultimately escaped. The Turkish losses are variously estimated at from 80 to 250 men killed or wounded. The political situation to-day is not regarded over favorably.
