

TIGER CLAMORS FOR MORE JOBS

District Leaders Who Have Been Unable to Secure Places for Their Followers are Showing a Growing Discontent.

Tammany continues sadly in need of places. Although the Civil Service Board, with its now strong partisan head, President McCooey, has thrown out 25,000 old applications for jobs which accumulated during the Low administration, these apply only to the labor class and are at most $3 a day places, but quite acceptable, nevertheless, because of the scarcity of exempt places. When the Board met to consider the disposition of the accumulated applications, representatives of the Civil Service Reform Association protested against the throwing out of the applications, but when the Board went into executive session it disregarded the protest and taking the bull by the horns ordered that the 25,000 applications be dumped into the waste basket.

The order was not two hours old when it had been carried into effect and the desks thus cleared for action favorable to Tammany.

Murphy Hunting for Places.

Tammany Leader Charles F. Murphy hoped to secure an extension of the exempt list of places—meaning appointment jobs in advance, which are not required to go through the civil service examination process and which draw salaries of from $100 to $200 a year or more. There are now none of these places available with the exception of a possible forty-four, which were discovered last week. These are exempt, but require certain technical knowledge. Even these places cannot be filled until needed appropriations are forthcoming.

Some Leaders Get Nothing.

These are Tammany leaders who have not been able to secure a single appointment for any of the districts and discontent among many of the districts is supreme. Fault is found by the leaders with the manner in which the distribution of available places was effected and declare that favoritism was shown. For instance, Senator Victor Downing was given the entire patronage of the Park Department of Manhattan. Brown, the district leader, only named the Park Commissioners, but the subordinates, superintendents, assistant superintendents, secretaries and laborers.

He had easily more than a hundred places at his command, while other district leaders were left entirely out in the cold, but got promises galore. Senator Downing's control was exerted to such an extent that he named from his own district the Park Commissioner for the Bronx, after Downing had primed itself for the naming of the man, as had been the custom heretofore.

Are Told to Wait.

Leader Murphy has told the dissatisfied leaders to wait and pointed out that preparations are being made to effect "sweeps" in various departments which will enable Tammany to get good places, but these sweeps have not occurred and there is little likelihood of any now taking place. Comptroller Hunt was expected to furnish a number of berths by getting rid of a lot of Shellen, York and Shea men who are having good salaries from the city, but the Comptroller has seen fit not to dispose of the Brooklyn office-holders.

FATALLY SHOT IN EXCISE RAID

Detective, Badly Pummelled by Crowd in Saloon, Draws Revolver, and Bullet Hits Customer Under the Heart.

Detectives William H. Amann and Hall P. Gallagher, of the Charles street station, in trying to make an excise arrest in the saloon owned by John Hughes, at No. 312 West Twelfth street, early to-day, stirred up a hornet's nest. Both detectives were badly beaten, and were forced to shoot to save their lives. Only one shot was fired, and that shot will probably end the life of John Hughes, of No. 725 Washington street, who, though bearing the same name, is no relation of the proprietor of the saloon.

The bullet fired by the detective struck Hughes under the heart and the Coroner has been sent for to take his autem-mortem statement, as the physicians of St. Vincent's Hospital say the man will die.

Amann will probably lose the sight of his right eye as a result of the fight.

According to the story told by the detectives, they were doing excise duty. When they came to the saloon owned by Hughes they found that the place was in full blast. There were at least a dozen men and one woman in the place drinking.

Amann was in citizen's clothes, and when he went into the place no one paid any attention to him.

"Put on your coat and come with me," said Amann to Hughes.

"What for?" asked Hughes.

"You are violating the law here," said Amann.

"Boys, here's a cop!" shouted Hughes.

"He wants to close the place and take me in."

"Look the door!" shouted one of the crowd, "and we will show the cop what it means to come around and interfere with the pleasure of gentlemen!"

The door was looked in an instant and then the crowd made a rush for the detective. He was knocked down and every one in the crowd took a kick at him.

Gallagher, who had remained on the outside, saw through the window what had happened. He saw no chance of getting into the place except through the window, and so he made a flying leap through the plate glass. He crawled through the hole, and was not sooner inside than a blow from a bottle stretched him unconscious on the floor.

Then the door was opened and Gallagher, still unconscious, was thrown unceremoniously into the gutter. The cool air revived him, and getting on his feet again, he drew his revolver.

He was crawling back into the saloon menacing those near him with the pistol.

"Hands up, everybody!" cried Gallagher, "or I will shoot!"

Amann on the floor, dazed from the shower of blows that had been rained upon him, had drawn his revolver, and when he heard Gallagher say "shoot" the word acted upon him like a command.

He fired his revolver. The bullet struck John Hughes, not the proprietor, below the heart, and Hughes dropped to the floor.

This spurred the crowd in the saloon, and they surrounded the detective. Gallagher helped Amann to his feet and stood guard while Amann went out and telephoned to the police station for the patrol.

Sergeant O'Mara soon arrived with half a dozen men, and the following prisoners were taken to the station: Mary Herrick, Trenton, N. J.; John Hughes, proprietor of the saloon; Jacob Oyma, fifty-four years old, of No. 1 Abington square; Patrick Monahan, forty-six years old, no address; Joseph Gurham, thirty years old, who said he was captain of a barge, and Michael Madigan, of No. 135 Perry street.

An ambulance was summoned, and the wounded Hughes taken to St. Vincent's Hospital. The ambulance surgeon also attended to Gallagher and Amann.

McCLELLAN'S UNCLE DIES. PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 23.—Major Arthur McClellan, brother of the late Gen. George B. McClellan and uncle of the Mayor of New York, died suddenly of heart disease yesterday at Dr. Vincent's Hospital. The ambulance surgeon also attended to Gallagher and Amann.

MY FOOD DOES ME NO GOOD

Oh, If I Could Only Eat Without After Regrets.

Why Are These Questions Asked By So Many People? A Piece of News For Those Who Have Weak Stomachs.

The stomach, liver and bowels cause more trouble than any other part of the body. There are thousands of persons whose food don't do them the good it should. They have bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, constipation, gas in the stomach, bloating or distress after meals, fullness and belching of wind. They often have headache, are weak and nervous, have sallow complexions and can't sleep. Mr. C. S. Jones, corner 6th Street and 9th Ave., Roanoke, Va., says:

"I feel it my duty to praise Dr. Green's Nervura blood and nerve remedy for the good it has done me. I had been suffering with indigestion for ten years, and had used every remedy that I could hear of for it, but nothing did me any good. I got so I could not sleep at night for the awful pains all over me. My stomach was swollen and so sore that I could hardly stand it, and I was so short of breath that sometimes I thought I would smother to death. I had a cough that was very bad. I had almost given up my case as one that could never be cured.

"But the Blessed Lord led me to a good medicine, and I have taken several bottles of Dr. Green's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and can recommend it higher than all other medicines. Now I feel as if new life had come back to me, and I can sleep soundly all night, and enjoy myself everywhere I go. I can do work that I never have done before. I am a carholder for the railroad, and as I travel along the line if I can do anything in Dr. Green's behalf I will do it. My advice to all will be to use this grand medicine, Dr. Green's Nervura blood and nerve remedy."

You who have suffered so long and tried so many remedies, just try a bottle of Dr. Green's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and you will get well. It always cures. Doctors recommend it because it is a great physician's discovery and because it makes people well. Dr. Green is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. His office is at 101 Fifth Ave., New York City, where he can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

50,000 Yards of Embroideries--Half and Less

Fast Elevators Adjoining Candy Store.

Last week's sale was remarkable, but this is ahead of it. The embroideries couldn't be finer under any circumstances. They are the newest designs, made on the best hand looms of St. Gall, and are the daintiest, most individual patterns that have come out of Switzerland this season. The same styles will be sold for full prices all spring—but because these were made in excess of orders we get them to sell for

5c. to 75c. a Yard Instead of 10c to $2.98.

There are edges and insertions to match, ribbon and fancy Bindings, Galloons and Allovers, many with the lacy effects. From skirt Flouncings to the daintiest of baby patterns the range is complete. These Embroideries are made on fine nainsooks, cambrics and Swisses. We shall sell them by the strips only—about 4 1/2 yards in each strip. Second Floor.

Last Week of the China Sale Brings Many of Its Most Important Offerings

The Sale will end with February—and will pass into history as the largest and best sale of these wares ever held in Brooklyn. We planned for it broadly. We assembled not only greater quantities, but better qualities and more variety than have been usual. We were able to present the cream of the world's product of China and Cut Glass and kindred wares for

A Third to Half Less Than Is Customary.

Now for the last week, the sale gathers increased impetus. Fresh lots are added. Still greater values are presented. Tuesday and the succeeding days will offer in some respects the greatest opportunities of the entire month.
