

BOBBY KING TREE NOT KINGSEY'S

Relatives Are Satisfied Hook Mountain Victim is Not Missing Clubman, and Big Reward is Offered.

WILL PAY $10,000 FOR RELIABLE INFORMATION.

Attorney Mason Says Search for Kingsley Has Been Kept Up Since His Disappearance but No Trace Found.

Satisfied that the body of the man found on Hook Mountain, near Nyack, on Sunday, is not that of his missing cousin, Henry Baxter Kingsley, Mr. Hugh H. Baxter authorized the Evening World to-day, through his lawyer, Alexander T. Mason, of No. 11 William street, to announce that the reward for information as to the whereabouts of the missing man will be increased to $10,000.

"For information as to who whereabouts of Mr. Kingsley, if living, or dead, for information which will lead to the conviction of the persons responsible for his death, we will pay a reward of $10,000," said Mr. Mason. "Tomorrow I will advertise this reward on one end of the country to the other and I hope it will have some good results."

Mr. Mason said that the search for Mr. Kingsley had been kept up, but that it had been one constant succession of disappointments. Every clue had been run to earth, he said, and yet they appeared to be no nearer the missing man.

The only conclusion they could reach under the circumstances, he said, was that Mr. Kingsley had met with foul play, and it was hoped that a large reward as $10,000 might induce some of those who were concerned in doing away with him to betray the real criminals.

Vallet to See Body. The body found on Hook Mountain will be disinterred to-day and examined by Mr. Baxter's vallet, who knew the missing man very well.

An examination of the bushes on the top of the cliff and above the tree in which the body was found shows that they are broken, giving evidence of a struggle. The Nyack authorities are of the opinion that the man was lured to the spot, murdered, robbed and then hurled over the cliff, his body landing in the branches of the tree.

Disappeared Last Fall. "Mr. Kingsley's disappearance is one of the mysteries with the Police Department of New York, and in fact the working of the entire country, have been talking on since his disappearance on November 14 last. Kingsley, who was thirty-five years old, and the son of Levi G. Kingsley, of Rutland, Vt., was in New York visiting his cousin, Mr. Baxter.

On the night of Nov. 14 he was seen in the neighborhood of Forty-second street and Broadway in a dinner jacket in the Garrick, and later in the Rossmore Hotel. He then disappeared. No trace of him was found until that except that his suit case was checked to the Grand Central Station, by whom has never been determined.

At the time of Kingsley's disappearance he had about $200 in his pockets and some valuable papers. For a time it was thought that his mind had given way and that he was wandering through the country or was in some hospital. These theories were discarded when no trace of him could be found. Then the theory was suggested that he was being held a prisoner by kidnapers, who would demand a large ransom.

UNIQUE CELEBRATION.

Big Sixth Avenue Store Has a Trading Stamp Anniversary.

The progressive spirit that permeates the Siegel Cooper Store is proverbial. New things are being constantly originated, new ideas are exploited, in fact, a diversified effort is continuously evolved to attract and please the tremendous clientele. The public is not surprised at anything. The Big Store undertakes. Its progressive spirit is the basis of its success. It is in keeping with the conservative yet energetic policy of the management.

A lively interest was created among New York's millions of shoppers by the announcement that the Siegel Cooper Store is celebrating the installation of Sperry & Hutchinson Green Trading Stamps, which a year ago were introduced into the business and since when millions of stamps have been distributed. Consequently this is a gala week at the big Sixth Avenue store, and tremendous crowds are much in evidence.

The anniversary is being observed by a unique celebration. A vast series of reasonable merchandise has been offered at irresistibly priced, bargain-seekers are happy. And then, as a further inducement, you get trading stamps with every dollar's purchase you make. In addition, you get the regular number of stamps.

At this time, when we are accustomed to all conditions of stamp propositions, this phenomenal offer coming from The Big Store is not particularly surprising because it is in line with the gigantic deals it repeatedly performs. Yet, with all, we have to learn of such a tremendous offer having been made.

However, the stamps, valuable as they are, and as enormous for them as demand is, are not, by any means, the principal attraction of this anniversary celebration. The mammoth stocks and extraordinary values are paramount and obtain the greatest consideration. There is nothing that a heart might crave that cannot be found within the four walls of the great exposition of merchandise, and everything of the most select grade and superior in every respect is, of course, eminently desirable.

Entering The Big Store by the Sixth Avenue entrances and touring the mammoth building from basement through the six floors to the conservatory on the roof there is a maze of merchandise not to be found anywhere else in the world. It is a wonderfully popular and interesting store, as millions know, and as being visited every day by the thousands and thousands who go there to purchase all their requirements. Being supplied with every modern convenience for the facilitation of shopping—the service being as near perfect as one can make—it is only natural that the business should expand to an enormous extent season after season. The success derived by the Siegel Cooper Store as a result of giving trading stamps has been beyond comprehension, as is proved by thousands of women who point with pride to some piece of furniture or bric-a-brac in their home procured with trading stamps. This is merely another testimonial to the great popularity of The Big Store.

DROWNED MAN HER BROTHER

Body Found in East River Mrs. P. Fox Thinks is that of A. Newman.

The body of a man supposed to be Alfred Newman, a massage operator, who disappeared from the home of his mother in this city on the night of Feb. 22 last, was found in the East River at the foot of East One Hundred and Forty-second street early to-day by some boatmen employed there.

The body was in bad condition, but two pawn tickets bearing the name of Newman and a card with the name of Mrs. Philip Fox and the address No. 430 Palisade avenue, Jersey City Heights, which were found on the body, led to the identification of the man.

A complete description of the dead man was taken to Mrs. Fox, who now lives at No. 331 Bergenline avenue, Union Hill, N. J., and she said at once that it was her brother, Alfred Newman.

"Alfred was a massage operator," said Mrs. Fox to an Evening World reporter. "He had been out of work and moody and morose for some time before his disappearance. He had been living in different places, but on the night of Feb. 22 last he went to the home of our mother, Mrs. Schoenfeld, at No. 190 Lexington avenue, New York, and stayed there for several days. He went to a room, changed his clothes and then went out. None of us has seen him since."

Mrs. Fox said she would come to New York to see the body.

Jap and Russ Population. In population the Russian Empire surpasses Japan nearly threefold. According to the census of 1897 the empire had 129,662,718. Within the last half century the increase in population has been tremendous. In 1816 it was estimated at 45,000,000. At the present time it is nearly 150,000,000.

SUICIDE RECALLS DIVORCE SCANDAL

Samuel B. Green, Who Killed Himself in Fifth Avenue Hotel, Defendant and Plaintiff in Sensational Suits.

BUFFALO DECREE, NAMING PREACHER CO-RESPONDENT.

Clergyman Afterward Married the Divorced Wife—Suicide's Brother-in-Law Takes Charge of Body.

The suicide of Samuel B. Green, of Stony Ford, in the Fifth Avenue Hotel, yesterday has revived the story of the Green divorce scandal and a series of sensational suits which stirred two counties up the State four years ago.

Mr. Green was the son of a wealthy Buffalo lawyer. He studied law, but never practiced his profession. Ten years ago he moved to Monticello, where he married Miss Jennie L. Neven, daughter of former Senator Thornton Neven. About five years after their marriage Mrs. Green began divorce proceedings against her husband, naming a servant as co-respondent. She could not prove her charges and lost the suit.

Thereupon Mr. Green sued for divorce and named the Rev. Dr. David P. Howell, pastor of the Protestant Episcopal Church of St. John, Monticello, as co-respondent. The testimony offered in this action was of such a remarkable character that Bishop Prier deposited Mr. Howell from the priesthood and the clergyman's wife readily obtained a divorce from him.

This suit created much bitter feeling in Monticello, as many members of Mr. Howell's church went on the stand and testified in his behalf. Immediately after Mr. Green obtained his decree the clergyman married Mrs. Green. Mr. Howell and his bride then moved to Newark, N. J., where the former pastor began the practice of law.

Mr. Green moved to Stony Ford, Orange County, and for a time lived with his uncle, Justice William Bull. A few months later he married his cousin, Miss Lizzie Bull, and built a handsome residence in Stony Ford. Mr. Green had inherited a large fortune from his father and lived the life of a gentleman farmer. He was fifty years old.

Before ending his life yesterday Mr. Green called up his sister in Orange County on the telephone, but he spoke so incoherently that she could not make out what he said.

GOELET'S FIANCEE FEARS MEASLES

Although she has been assured that she is in no danger, Miss Elsie Whelen, the fiancee of Robert Goelet, cannot suppress a haunting fear that she is going to have the measles. Mr. Goelet is quite ill with that prosaic ailment at his home, No. 608 Fifth avenue, and as Miss Whelen never has had the measles and as she was with Mr. Goelet when the case developed last Saturday, her feeling of trepidation is natural.

Miss Whelen is a guest at the home of Mrs. Richard T. Wilson, No. 311 Fifth avenue. She was in the Park riding when an Evening World reporter called today.

Mrs. Wilson said her physician had assured Miss Whelen that there was no likelihood she would contract the measles. Mr. Goelet has what is known as German measles, and the disease is said not to be contagious. As Mr. Goelet has been spending a great deal of time recently in Philadelphia, the home of his fiancee, it is possible he has Pennsylvania German measles.

At the Goelet home, No. 608 Fifth avenue, it was said that no complications had set in and that Mr. Goelet hoped to be up and about in a short time. The date set for the wedding is June 11, and thus far there is no reason to believe it will have to be changed.
