

WELL'S KNIFE IS OUT FOR HART

Former Alderman Wants to Depose the Present Tammany Leader in the Thirtieth Assembly District.

NO BITTERNESS, THOUGH, PREVAILS IN CONTEST.

Burrell's Adherents Are Mostly Young Men of District, Who Complain of Present Leader's Lack of "Sympathy."

Of all the political fights for district supremacy now going on in this city there is none which has developed a more interesting situation than that in the Thirtieth Assembly District, where former Alderman George A. Burrell is contesting the leadership of Harry C. Hart.

Then there are territorial as well as personal lines in this fight. The district extends from the East River to Lexington avenue and from Eighty-third street to Ninety-second street.

But from First avenue west to Lexington avenue the partisans of Harry Hart prevail. They have their banners and their flags, their orators and their clubs, and they pretend to despise the fight of the ambitious Burrell.

The outcome of it all is not easy to forecast. Hart says he will win hands down. Burrell says the district is ripe for a change and that he happens at this time to be the change the district hankers for.

Burrell's claim to the leadership is based upon a sentiment which has prevailed among some of the younger men in the district for a long time—a feeling that Hart's Democracy is too chilly, that he is hard to "get next" to, and that he has little or no interest in what percentage of the city patronage comes to his district.

Hart's supporters rest largely on the splendid record he has made in the district. He ran the Democratic majority in the district from 1919 to 1921, and in the last election he organized and made the best Tammany organization in the city, the famous Algonquin Club.

Burrell is not the man to meet the leadership from me. He has built this district up to its present strength by hard work, and it seems little impudent for a man like Burrell, whose services have never been all too conspicuous, to come along and say that he will now take charge.

DEVERY ACCUSES DEPUTY M'AVOY

"Big Bill" Asserts Roundsman Was Threatened on His Account, but McAvoy Says He is a "Fountain of Words."

Deputy Police Commissioner McAvoy was informed today that he was accused by William Stephen Devery of interfering in the Ninth District.

Devery says that McAvoy sent for Roundsman Kelleher, whose brother is a Devery worker, and told him that a Devery brother deserted the Devery organization and joined the Tammany Club there would be something doing.

"I never sent for Kelleher, wouldn't know him and never heard that a roundsman named Kelleher had a brother," said the Deputy Commissioner. "Devery is a fountain of words and doesn't care whether he speaks the truth or not."

RUPTURE. After 35 years I have succeeded in perfecting a remedy for Rupture whose merit and small cost make all other trusses and treatments a waste of time and money. While other trusses merely support mine HOLDS; when others slip mine stays in place; where others irritate, my light and waterproof appliance leaves you free; and while other trusses enlarge the rupture, the Clueth Truss reduces and CURES by keeping the parts properly held by my Automatic Acting Pad without the use of cutting leg-straps or hard steel springs. Call this week or write for my valuable FREE Book, full of convincing proof and descriptive of the guaranteed Clueth Truss. CHAS. CLUETH, 29 East 14th St.

LIFE'S AMBITION MAY END IN DEATH

Louis McCall, Who from Boyhood Longed to Be a Fireman, Is Perhaps Fatally Hurt While Making His First Drive.

RACED LIKE MAD TO BE FIRST AT FIRE.

Young Driver Forgot to Strap Himself in, and When Engine Overturned He Was Caught Between It and the Curb.

Louis McCall was born and raised at No. 239 East Fourteenth street, and ever since he can remember Fire Engine Company No. 5 has had its headquarters in the house that is the one prominent thing standing out in his memory of youth as the engine-house was as much his home as was his mother's room.

But for a combination which was formed against him, "Tony" McOwen, as he is popularly known throughout the district, might have been the leader a few years ago. Then he declared he would not stand for vicious practices or wide license, hence the combination of Tammany district power and his defeat.

Now McOwen is with Moebus in the latter's fight against McGuire, and the former says his purse-strings are always at the command of Moebus and his followers.

Forgot Two Years Ago. According to the men behind Moebus and none is less influential than "Barney" O'Rourke, who for twenty-five years has been General Superintendent of the Gardener Publishing and Mailing concern, "Gus" has every provocation to oppose McGuire.

O'Rourke said to-day: "Two years ago McGuire ran independent for the leadership of the district, Moebus being the regular organization candidate. Tony McOwen was also running, and he and McGuire joined issues, with the understanding that McOwen would be made Chairman of the General Committee if McGuire won. But McGuire did not adhere to his agreement."

"Other agreements, traceable to the McGuire following, were broken, until McGuire was forced into his present fight against McGuire. Mr. Moebus is a wealthy man and a business man, not a saloon-keeper. It is the opinion of our people who are opposing McGuire that no saloon-keeper should be a leader of Tammany Hall, and that is one of the issues. We have allied with us in the present crusade against McGuire, Borough President Haffen and a large part of his following."

"McGuire has referred to President Haffen as the Herr Most of the Bronx."

"Protected Pool-Room" Issue. "We are going to win this time, for we have solid men and solid issues behind us."

The cry of "protected pool-rooms" has been raised in the present contest by the Moebus following. Five pool-rooms in Cowan's and four in McGuire's district are declared to have come into existence lately, and the Moebus managers say they can give the addresses of these places if necessary.

"We don't want political jobs for our activity," said "Barney" O'Rourke, who is President of the Pompano and a trustee of the Alleghany club of the district, both of which have honored former Park Commissioner Moebus. "We have twenty-six district captains, and every man of them is independent of politics," added O'Rourke. "We want Moebus to win because he is a business man, a charitable man and a man of his word."

The opposition to McGuire is active. Numerous meetings are scheduled until the end of the present campaign in the district. "We've got the machinery, the inspectors and the precinct behind us," said a McGuire lieutenant to-day, "and we are going to win."

"There is nothing to the stories of false promises made against McGuire by the Moebus crowd and that we can prove." "We have canvassed the district and will win three to one."

him tooth and nail, but I am not interfering in the Ninth. I have troubles enough of my own." Daniel P. McMahon, Devery's enemy, was in close consultation with Deputy Commissioner McAvoy for half an hour to-day. There is a contest on against McMahon.

CONGRESSMAN RANDALL DEAD. NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 17.—EX. Congressman Charles L. Randall died to-day.

ZEALOUS FIREMAN HURT IN FIRST RUN TO FIRE.

Louis T. McCall

being more of a fireman than a politician he had to wait until he was of age before he was appointed. Then he was assigned to Engine Company No. 5, the house of which is at First avenue and Fifth street.

He did all the dirty work around the place—just as every other beginner has mandated by his chief, he received his promotion to be a driver.

Louis was afraid an alarm might come on, and he wouldn't go home to supper. Sure enough, an alarm did come in. Louis leaped into the seat for his first drive to a fire. He was so excited that he forgot to strap himself in. Fatal error.

He called back to Engineer Hooley: "Say, old pal, we'll have to beat No. 5 to that blaze."

It was an even chance. The fire was at No. 235 East Tenth street, didn't amount to anything, and was as near to No. 5 as it was to No. 1. So it was an even race.

Engine Topped Over. When Louis got his engine to Tenth street he tried to make a quick turn off of First avenue. The old horse coughed bulge out above the pavement. The wheels caught the rail, couldn't mount it, and the engine was going so fast that it toppled over on its side, throwing McGuire to the curb where the engine wedged him in. Had he been strapped to the seat he would have been all right.

Captain McDonald, who was standing on the fire board with the engineer, was thrown off and slightly injured, and Engineer Hooley jumped and saved himself.

When McCall was picked up he was unconscious. Dr. Blackwell, of Bellevue Hospital, is passing in an ambulance, having been down on Seventh street for a patient. He stopped, put McCall in with his other patient and hurried to the hospital. There it was said that McCall had sustained a fracture of the skull and a broken hip. They said he might die. He was still unconscious to-day and the doctors could give very little more encouragement to the mother, Mrs. Kate McCall.

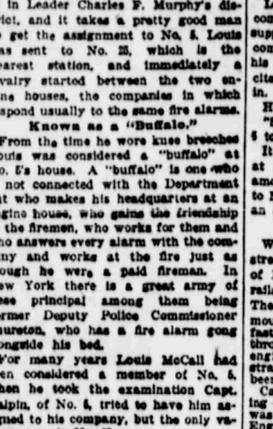

Grief in Neighborhood. The accident to Louis McCall has caused much grief in the vicinity of his home, where he is remembered since he was trundled up and down the sidewalk in a baby carriage. Everybody knew many years ago that Louis was going to be a fireman. That was his one thought. And those who knew him best said confidently that some day he would be fire chief.

Hay Fever For 27 Years. Well Known New England Woman Cured by Hyomei. Thousands will read with interest and gratitude the following statement from Helen F. Williams, of Mansfield, Mass.:

"For 27 years, from the month of August until heavy frost, I have been afflicted with hay fever, growing worse and worse each year, and of late years it was unable to attend to my work during that period."

"Last summer I fortunately gave Hyomei a trial and am happy to say that it entirely cured me and I have had no return of the affliction since." Hegeman & Co., 200 Broadway, agree to refund the money to any hay fever sufferer who uses Hyomei if it does not give satisfaction.

house of which is at First avenue and Fifth street. He wanted to be assigned to No. 5, but that has long been considered a soft snag in the department, and it is said that only political favorites get that berth. Anyway, it is in Leader Charles P. Murphy's district, and it takes a pretty good man to get the assignment to No. 5, which is the nearest station, and immediately a rivalry started between the two engine houses, the companies in which respond usually to the same fire alarms.

Known as a "Buffalo." From the time he wore knee breeches Louis was considered a "buffalo" at No. 5's home. A "buffalo" is one who is not connected with the Department but who makes his headquarters at an engine house, who gains the friendship of the firemen, who works for them and who answers every alarm with the company and works at the fire just as though he were a paid fireman. In New York there is a great army of these principal among them being former Deputy Police Commissioner Thurston, who has a fire alarm gong alongside his bed.

For many years Louis McCall had been considered a member of No. 1. When he took the examination Capt. Haffin, of No. 1, tried to have him assigned to usually to the same fire alarm.

Louis went there, his mother, a widow, proudly telling the neighbors: A Mother's Pride.

"Some day Louis will be chief of the department."
