ROBERT EDGREN

JOHN T. IS NOW DEALING OUT SWEETMEATS TO THE GIANT BALL PLAYERS

EDGREN'S COLUMN

Mr. Brush limits his strenuous objections to "minor-league" teams to those that might beat the Giants.

Games have recently been played by the National League Champions in Trenton and Hoboken with local clubs, and no roar of protest has sounded over the Polo Grounds.

Next Sunday the Giants will play the Emeralds at the Catholic Protective Grounds. The Emeralds are even more insignificant than the Highlanders, but up to date Mr. Brush has not been heard to say.

Various individual players of the Giants have taken part in games of minor leagues. They would have been free to advertise the affair. It is a profitable way to spend a day. McGinnity got $16 in one game, and some of the others have done as well.

A Sop to the Giants. All this is a sop that is being tossed to the Giants. They will lose a big bunch of money by being kept out of a series with the American League winners, and it is necessary to keep them in good humor in some way.

Before this year players have not been allowed to play on other teams at least not under their own names, and in the case of games between the Giants and outside clubs the management has shared in the profits.

Hughes McGovern is a good little fighter, but he is not a second Terry. How long would Tommy Murphy have taken the aggressive if he could have met "Terror Terry" in his prime?

Another Good Fight. To-morrow night two champions, Gans and Walcott, will enter the ring in San Francisco. One may come out.

If Gans wins he will become welter-weight champion. He is now fighting as a feather-weight, and if he beats the "Black Demon" will probably stay in that class in the future, just as Fitzsimmons dropped the middle-weight after taking the heavy-weight championship from Corbett at Carson.

BUFFALO WON IN EASTERN LEAGUE

With yesterday's games the curtain was rung down on the Eastern League season of 1904, the championship going to Buffalo, with Baltimore the runner-up, and last year's pennant winner, Jersey City, third. Newark, while never a serious contender for first honors, played sterling ball all season and finished fourth by a good margin over Montreal, the leader of the second flight. Buffalo and Baltimore had the class of the league, and more than two games ago it was apparent the fight for supremacy would be between these clubs. The Orioles, however, could not stand the rapid pace and gradually fell back, leaving the lions masters of the field.

Jersey City was beset by hard luck throughout the season. Injuries to players placing a handicap on the team which even its fighting spirit could not overcome. As it turned out, last year's champions did well to finish a few points behind Baltimore, for some weeks ago it looked as if they might be nosed out of third place by Newark. As for the clubs which make up the second flight, there never was a time when any one of them ever had so much as a look-in for premier honors, and because of their inability to cut a figure in the campaign, the race was considered to arouse enthusiasm in all the cities of the circuit.

Financially the season may be classed as a failure. Buffalo and Baltimore were the largest money-makers, with Jersey City and Newark next in order. Thanks to President Powers' foresight, the circuit remained intact, all the money-making clubs weathering the storm and playing out the schedule without a break.

$100 A GAME FOR IRON MAN.

McClintock, the Giants' great catcher, who receives from $100 to $125 every exhibition game which he plays for semi-professional teams, has been stated to get another $100 a game, when he goes to the States, where he will play for the Iron Man.

COLUMBIA TEAM IS NOT UP TO THE STANDARD

Coach Morley Dissatisfied with the Showing Made in the Game with Franklin and Marshall, and May Shake Up Eleven.

Whatever may be the general opinion as to Columbia's showing over Franklin and Marshall yesterday afternoon, when the Blue and White won by a score of 23 to 0, there are two men who do not think that the local players have done anything about which to be congratulated. They are Coach Morley, of the Columbia team, and Coach Bates, of the Franklin and Marshall aggregation. Both men were decided in their expressions of opinion that Columbia has much to do to rank with the first-raters. Morley was even more positive in his expression than the instructor of the defeated eleven.

"What do I think of the game?" he said this morning. "Why, it was awful, simply awful. I thought I had a good bunch, but they simply can't play the game. Why, I've seen better examples of football in ordinary practice games. The men hit the line too high and the linemen turn away from the scrimmage. They don't work up enough speed, and the only reason that they did win was because they were up against a weaker team. There's got to be something doing, and that quickly, if this team is to be as good as it has been touted to be. It was an awfully bad showing."

Bates was surprised. Coach Bates had something like that to say directly after the game. "If this was a prep school team that we were up against, we wouldn't have been so surprised at the general bad play. We thought Columbia could and would beat us by a much wider margin. Freeman was made up of green players. Freeman, the captain, and one other man had played the game at our place before. All the others were new. Both Herr and Shuford, the quarter-backs, never played football before they came to Franklin and Marshall, and they showed it. They are light men, neither weighing more than 130 pounds, and our whole team is light. Besides that the backs were so green that on the few occasions that we did have the ball they mixed up signals so that a fumble or some other mishap resulted. Columbia's players are painfully slow, and although weighty and strong, would not do against a better team than ours. If Columbia thinks that her team will do without a great and sudden improvement there is a speedy and awful awakening coming to somebody."

N. Y. U. ELEVEN IS WEAK IN PRACTICE

New York University's football squad had their first taste of real football yesterday, when the "Varsity" was given the ball for the first time and told to hammer the scrubs, and vice-versa. Both were weak on the defensive. Rogge and Raldris were consistent ground gainers for the "Varsity," and as rush-line halves smashed the interference with a vengeance when the ball came around their end. Mitchell, a former St. Paul end, showed up former Capt. Connolly played tackle on the scrub against Capt. Kelly, and as they both weigh over two hundred pounds, when they crunched together the impact could be heard all over the field. To the delight of the student spectators both "mixed it up" freely during the scrimmages.

CORNELL TEAM SHOWS UP WELL

Ithaca, Sept. 23.—Cornell defeated Colgate by a score of 17 to 0. Fast work of the Cornell backs and tackles was a feature. The only gain Colgate made before Cornell's first touchdown was on the first play, when a fake quarter-back kick netted 15 yards. Cook, the freshman tackle, won the honors in carrying the ball. Rice did equally good work. Coach Warner substituted his whole eleven in the second half. Fumbling marred the work of the new men.

CURIOUS HAPPENINGS AT GRAVESEND RACE TRACK

Decision of the Stewards on an Alleged Foul in the Steeplechase, Followed by the Defeat of Africander, Were Great Surprises to the Talent.

There were some interesting happenings at Gravesend yesterday. There was a wonderfully just decision on the part of the steeplechase stewards—a decision so well received that the crowd did not get through reviling the officials for hours. Still, the crowd is not entitled to any sympathy. Any one who risks good American money on a steeplechase deserves to have it handed to him forty ways. Still, that does not let the stewards off.

GIANTS' BENEFIT WILL BE A SUCCESS

Judging by the manner in which tickets are being disposed of the big benefit in honor of the Giants at the New York Theatre on Sunday night it is safe to say that every seat in the spacious theatre will be sold and standing room at a premium when the curtain raises for the first number on the programme.

YALE FUMBLING IN ITS FIRST GAME

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 23.—Twenty-two to nothing was the best that Yale could do against a strong team from Wesleyan in the opening football game here. Conspicuous in the work of the Yale team was the fumbling of the linemen and backs, even Capt. Hogan losing the ball on a tackle shift play. Yale played a very loose game. The new tackle and shift was used with infrequent success, the men seeming to have stage fright in using the trick against a strange team. The old-fashioned tackle, back and straight line plunges yielded the most ground for the Elis. Hogan and Blomard did good work in making a touchdown unaided from the six-yard line, with five Wesleyan men clinging to him.

DICKINSON LOST TO THE TIGERS

PRINCETON, Sept. 23.—The Tigers defeated Dickinson in their opening gridiron struggle of the season by the score of 12 to 0. After the first touch-down Princeton seemed to go to pieces on interference. Princeton tried two-tyck men in the game. The weak positions in Princeton's line were at centre and left guard, as Dickinson pounded those positions for frequent gains. McCormick and Stannard, the two freshmen, were good ground gainers. Ritter made a 54-yard run on a punt.
