JAPANESE CRUSH RUSSIANS IN DASH TO MUKDEN GATES

Japanese in Ceaseless Fighting Batter Their Way to the City, and Kuro-patkin's Army, with Heavy Loss, Retreats to Escape Disaster.

CZAR'S MEN LOSE 7,000 KILLED AND WOUNDED

Oyama's Forces Making Furious Assaults Along the Line and Russian Right Is Forced Back—Smashing Russian Defenses with Great Shells.

MUKDEN, March 3.—A ceaseless artillery fire is heard ten miles southward. The roaring of the guns is becoming more distinct every hour.

The wounded are streaming through Mukden northward, the hospital train service being infinitely better than at the time of the battle of the Shaho river.

Great confusion prevails in this city, every means of transportation out of Mukden being used.

Night attacks are again the feature of the struggle. In one engagement on the left flank for hours the men fought in darkness, the Japanese using hand grenades with terrible effect. The butchery on both sides was frightful.

Gen. Rennenkampf's troops acquitted themselves brilliantly, contesting the passes southeast for three days. They fought continuously, the Japanese pressing them on all sides with heavy odds in favor of the Japanese.

Over one thousand wounded men have already arrived here.

FOUGHT ALL NIGHT. The brunt of the fighting fell on Gen. Daniloff's division and Gen. Lubavin's division, which held the heights of Tomous Mountain. They were attacked last night and the position twice changed hands, but morning found it still in possession of the Russians.

Thus far Gen. Rennenkampf has successfully barred the way of Gen. Kuroki's columns.

TOKIO, March 3.—Reports from the headquarters of the Manchurian army say that the Japanese bombardment of the many Russian positions continues.

The Japanese are using heavy guns. Many of the Russian positions are strongly defended, and it is believed that these methods may be necessary to reduce them.

The following report has been received from the field headquarters of the Manchurian army:

"The enemy in front of our forces in the direction of Singhaiang appears to be gradually receiving reinforcements.

Drive Russians Off. Our Russian forces have captured the enemy's position in eastern heights of Kasao Pass and at Changkou, which is two miles east of Tungkou Mountain.

In the direction of the Shaho River the enemy in front of our forces made a small night attack, which we repulsed.

"The enemy on the right bank of the Hun River made a counter attack on Chenchepso and its western districts toward the river, but the attack was entirely repulsed."

"We have driven the enemy from Chingtao and Singhaiang."

PETERSBURG, March 3.—According to the latest information from the front, the battle is now general and of the most desperate character. The losses have been exceedingly heavy on both sides during the preliminary fighting.

Although it is not officially admitted it is regarded as certain that Gen. Kuropatkin is directing all his efforts to the withdrawal of his army to Tie Pass.

It is now practically a rearguard action, but the task of extricating himself is proving very difficult. The Japanese have not only driven in his left, but a column is already reported to have crossed the Hun River east of Fushan.

Seven Thousand Lost. At the same time the Japanese are pressing the Russian centre under cover

MANIAC WANTED TO KILL CRIMMINS.

Ingraham Declared He Had Divine Commission to Slay Financier, but Carried No Weapon—Made No Secret of His Errand and Is Now in Bellevue.

Ferdinand Ingraham, of No. 73 Bowery, walked into the office of the City Trust Company, at No. 26 Wall street, to-day, and announced that he was going to kill John D. Crimmins, president of the concern. Mr. Crimmins had not arrived, and a telephone message was sent to the Wall street branch of the detective bureau.

The man appears to be suffering from religious mania. He had no weapon, but is the possessor of tremendous strength and confided to the detectives that it was his purpose to take the slight and aged Mr. Crimmins and tear him apart. His murderous designs upon Mr. Crimmins are based upon the prominence of the latter in Roman Catholic affairs.

Ingraham is a waiter and he has been employed in a lunch-room in the Wall street section. Those who worked with him say he was a fanatic on religion, feeling particularly bitter against prominent Catholic laymen. When he entered the City Trust Company offices to-day he asked at the first window he came to for Mr. Crimmins. When told the financier had not arrived he said he would wait.

Muttered as He Walked. He paced up and down, muttering to himself and attracted the attention of the clerks who reported his presence to Walter J. Lee, assistant secretary of the company. Mr. Lee went out and asked what he wanted to see Mr. Crimmins for.

"I have been inspired by God to kill John D. Crimmins and I'm going to kill him as soon as he comes in," announced Ingraham. "I have been impelled to do this for a long time, but did not get my final orders until to-day."
