TWO MEN STRUCK BY ONE BULLET

Protecting His Son from Ruffians, Wealthy Man Shoots Himself in Hand and Wounds Bystander in the Street.

Phillip Ottman, millionaire wholesale dealer in dressed meats and member of the William Ottman Company, No. 80 Fulton street, was held for examination in Yorkville Court to-day. Mr. Ottman was arrested early to-day after he had wounded himself in the left hand and in an effort to protect his son Phillip, who was attacked in a cafe at Second avenue and Seventh street.

Mr. Ottman lives at No. 49 East Seventh street, and every day with his sons, Phillip and Jacob, is driven to his place of business in a light wagon which calls for him before daylight. The vehicle this morning was in front of the house with Louis Kreutzer on the seat. Waiting for Mr. Ottman, Kreutzer fell asleep, and a crowd of young fellows returning from a party got aboard it and whipped up the horse. The driver awoke and put up a fight, and the men ran into the cafe on the corner.

Kreutzer returned, having got the worst of the fight, and told Phillip, Jr., of his experience, and with the two Ottmans the driver returned to the cafe to find the men and have them arrested. There the crowd set upon the three and were beating Phillip when Jacob ran around to the house and told his father.

Mr. Ottman, who yesterday defeated Miss Margaret Curtis, of Massachusetts, won the International Golf Championship at Cromer to-day, defeating Miss Stuart of Ireland.

AUTOISTS NO GENTS

BY WALTER A. SINCLAIR. Magistrate Crane bobs up again. To say that any chauffeur who speeding went was not a gent; in fact, was just a loafer.

When their feet are within the car, Says Crane, they lose their breeding; To all intents they are no gents When they go in for speeding.

Thus spoke the Court in manner short To one who had been caught: "Oh, 'Tis plain to me you cannot be A gent, although you auto!"

Then, gasping "Ball!" and turning pale, The victim promptly fainted. 'Twas understood cash ball's no good When gasolined and tainted.

"Have mercy, Judge, withhold thy grudge, True, autos I have ridden, The victim said, "Just kill me dead, But cruelty's forbidden."

WOMAN BURNED BY EXPLODING OIL

Dress Catches on Projection of Stove, Pulling It to Floor—Flames Ignited Clothing. Fatally Injuring Victim.

Mrs. Annie Duer, sixty-six years old, placed an oil stove on a chair in the kitchen of her flat on the third floor of the five-story tenement at No. 129 Fifth street to-day preparatory to cooking luncheon. She lit the wicks and started across the room. Her dress caught on a projection of the stove, which fell to the floor and exploded. The flames communicated to her clothing and she began to scream. All of the tenants ran out of the house but a policeman who opened the door of the Duer flat and saw the old woman

Mrs. Duer smothered the fire with a rug. She was badly burned that she will die. She did not touch the building.

NEW EMERGENCY HOSPITAL FOR DOWNTOWN SECTION

House of Relief, Located at No. 93 Gold Street, Will Care for Many of the Cases That Now Go to the Hudson Street Institution.

Within the next week a new hospital will be established in the downtown district that will relieve the congestion of the Hudson Street Hospital in cases of emergency. The House of Relief is to be located at No. 93 Gold Street, in the Printing House Square district. The principal mover in the project is Dr. Alexander Linn Nelson, of No. 13 East Twenty-ninth street.

The hospital was to have been opened to-day, but the work was delayed so that it will be another week before patients will be received.

The new hospital will take in a district from which all accidents are now taken care of by Hudson street. The hospital will care for those who are injured along Newspaper Row and at the Bridges entrance.

It has cost the persons behind the enterprise about $100,000 of more money will be subscribed until public donations are forthcoming.

"This is to be a charitable institution," said Dr. Nelson to-day. "We who are in it think that we can do more good down in the neighborhood where the accidents have started than anywhere else. Our object is to give first relief to the injured in the great mechanical district of the city."

"Hudson Street Hospital is overrun with patients to-day. We think that we can relieve the strain of that institution and do a lot of good in that section of the city. We also expect to run a clinic in connection with the hospital."

"Some of my patients were the first to suggest the idea of a new emergency hospital in the Gold street district, back of the Pulitzer Building. Often printers, typesetters, mailmen and others that work in the busiest part of New York are injured. We expect to be able to reach the injured in quicker time than an ambulance from Hudson Street Hospital. We will take care of a patient until he is able to be transferred to some other hospital.

"We also expect to have a Board of ALBANY, N. Y., June 2.—The funeral of former Congressman Michael N. Nolan, who was also at one time Mayor of Albany, took place this morning at St. Joseph's Church, Bishop T. M. A. Burke officiating. The ceremony drew a great number of people representing almost every class in the city, for ex-Mayor Nolan was well known and exceedingly popular, though of late years he has lived in comparative retirement.

Parker and Associate Judge William E. Werner of the Court of Appeals; former United States Senator David B. Hill; former Attorney-General Simon W. Rosendahl; George W. KILLED BY CAKE OF ICE.

Homeless Man Knocked Down While Unloading Barge.

Charles Schwenck told such a hard luck story to-day to James Murry, who has charge of the ice business at the Stanton street pier, that he put the man to work.

Schwenck had been engaged an hour when a cake of ice that was being hauled from the hold of a barge swung toward his body, knocking Schwenck with such force that he died before the stevedores arrived. He had no home.

About Our Suits for Men.

Every condition of this organization is favorable to the end—making the best clothes for men. The early methods which others still cling to are the traditions of the Wm. Vogel & Son business. Old precedents are no longer followed. The revolution is as complete as it was needed. During the past five years we have been keenly alive to the fact that men were growing tired of the high tariff prices of the custom tailor, and equally tired of the mediocre usual ready-for-wear clothing. We have succeeded in placing Wm. Vogel & Son clothing upon a plane of excellence which is reached only by the ultra class of tailors. As an instance, take our suits at fifteen dollars. We have put our "Concave" Shoulder and "Closefitting" Collar into all of these Distinctive Suits at $15.

At $15 we present suits in six single and double breasted sack models. The suits concerned are of black Tibets, blue and black verges, unfinished and smooth-surface worsteds in all the new gray tones, from very light to very dark gray. And a diversified collection of fancy chevots in all the new color schemes.

Other suits, $15 to $40.
