

ANOTHER SAYS THAT CARLTON IS MURDERER

St. Louis Man Writes Information of Strange Death of Army Comrade.

BODY SHOWS CHEMICALS.

Doctor's Analysis of Second Wife's Organs Reveals Traces of Powerful Drug.

NEW WOMAN IN THE CASE.

Police Conceal Identity of Stranger Who Has Been Questioned by Inspector Cross.

A new charge of murder against Frederick C. Carlton in Brooklyn under suspicion of killing two of his numerous wives, was made to Inspector Cross today.

Traces of poison are said to have been discovered in the organs of Mary Gorman Carlton, the second wife of the prisoner.

"The corpse," said Dr. Carroll today, "was in surprisingly good condition. Certainly there was some powerful chemical in the body to preserve it so well during the four months it was buried."

Inspector Cross is convinced that in Carlton he has an arch-criminal. Women from all over the country are writing letters indicating that Carlton made a business of marrying and deserting.

The letter from St. Louis is dated July 20. It reads as follows:

"Chief of Police, Brooklyn, N. Y. Dear Sir: I am writing you in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch of this date concerning a man now in your custody whose name is Frederick C. Carlton. I wish to inform you that I identify this man by his picture and history as one I knew sixteen years ago, when he was a member of Company B, Sixth United States Infantry at Fort Lewis, Col.

From there he went with his company to Fort Riley, Kan., where he deserted with a man named Murray. His record in the army was very bad and he was accused of taking part in several military crimes, finally deserting when he thought prospect of fortune.

I know him well enough to say that he is a scoundrel and a man who would not hesitate at anything to gain his point. Ask him if he knows anything about the murder of Charles Tush, a soldier of Company C, Sixth Infantry. McCandless was the last man seen in the company.

Inspector Cross has sent to Washington for Carlton's army record.

Another woman has come forward to identify Frederick C. Carlton, the prisoner in Raymond Street Jail, Brooklyn, suspected of having poisoned two of his wives with strychnine.

The appearance of this woman is only a few days from the date of the wedding about which the police say, proves that he preyed on women under various aliases.

THINK HE IS A VICTIM OF BLACK HAND

Welsh Was Either Murdered or Killed by an Auto Near White Plains.

(Special to The Evening World.)

WHITE PLAINS, July 24.—The police of White Plains are trying to find out whether Dominick Welsh, a member of the Bricklayers' Union, No. 207, of New York, who was found dead on the Mamaroneck Boulevard, between Mamaroneck and White Plains last night with his skull fractured, was murdered by members of the Black Hand Society who have been creating terror around Mamaroneck or whether he was run down by an automobile, which was seen running at great speed through that section.

Dr. H. T. Kelly, who performed an autopsy today, Coroner Russell that the man had evidently been struck on the head with a blunt instrument, as the fracture was so wide that only a blow could produce it. There was also evidence that the man had been assaulted.

On the body of the dead man was found a bricklayer's card, No. 207, of New York, headquarters at No. 229 East Twenty-second street. It is signed by Dennis C. Davis. Coroner Russell, who has charge of the body, believes that the man evidently met with foul play, as there is no evidence that he had been run down by a trolley car. The body was found lying in the roadway, just below the saloon at Rosedale, on the Hackleberry trolley line. The White Plains Health Department, on the case, and the police are working on the case, and they are trying to find out who was last seen with the dead man. It was only recently that an Italian was killed at Mamaroneck and two others were shot by the brigands of the Black Hand party.

WOMAN'S FIST ROUTED GIANT

Catcher Bowerman, Struck in Camp Stool Row on Ferry-boat, Has Mrs. Heyman Arrested—Accident, She Says.

Frank Bowerman, catcher of the Giants, couldn't dodge a woman's slap today on a Staten Island ferry-boat, and later he appeared as complainant against her in the Centre Street Court before Magistrate Baker.

Bowerman, who is 6 feet tall, strong and husky, lives on Staten Island, and while coming to Manhattan on the ferry-boat Carlton ran foul of Mrs. Pauline Heyman, of No. 13 Blydenwood place, Brooklyn, who with her daughter sat on the upper deck.

Mrs. Heyman and her daughter occupied camp stools, as did Mr. Heyman, while Mrs. Heyman's feet rested on the rungs of an extra stool.

While the family was admiring the scenery of the Brooklyn shore Mrs. Heyman got a severe shock. A rude man had grabbed the camp stool, on which her feet rested. It was Bowerman.

Mrs. Heyman, according to the story told Magistrate Baker, got offended and striking out with her left hand landed a good one in the neighborhood of Bowerman's jugular. The fracas attracted a crowd and Bowerman went to another part of the boat. When the Captain arrived at the Battery he called a policeman and had Mrs. Heyman arrested.

In court Mrs. Heyman denied striking the Giant catcher. She said she was waving her hand excitedly and it accidentally came in contact with Bowerman's face and neck. Mrs. Heyman's explanation satisfied Magistrate Baker and she was discharged.

BIRD AND "TEDDY" LEAVE COURT FREE

A Hero of Santiago Who Assaulted Chinaman for Cutting His Dog's Tail Acquitted by the Jury.

PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—Mayor Weaver today announced the appointment of Major Cassius E. Gillette, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., as a member of the commission to investigate the Torresdale filter plant, now being constructed for the city by the firm of D. J. McNeil & Co.

William Barclay Parsons, of New York, and John Donald MacLennan, of Washington, D. C., are the other members of the commission.

Major Gillette said today that he had not been relieved from duty in the Department of California. He stated that he had been ordered to confer with the Mayor. After a brief conference with Mayor Weaver Major Gillette took up his work of investigating the alleged "Coke" mine.

Major Weaver, at the suggestion of Secretary of State Root, who at the time was the Mayor's private counsel, requested the War Department to detail Major Gillette here.

The latter is the officer under whose direction the frauds in connection with the Federal work in Savannah Harbor were unearthed. As the result of that investigation Capt. Carter, of the army, was sentenced to a term of years in prison for his part in the fraud.

ARMY OFFICER TO LEAVE MAYOR WEAVER

Major Gillette, of Engineer Corps, Ordered to Report in Philadelphia for Inquiry into City Filter Plant.

PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—Mayor Weaver today announced the appointment of Major Cassius E. Gillette, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., as a member of the commission to investigate the Torresdale filter plant, now being constructed for the city by the firm of D. J. McNeil & Co.

It's really too much for one member of the kitchen cabinet to carry on his shoulders, so the Governor has been ordered to call out Relief Corps No. 6.

DIDN'T SUPPORT WIFE PROPERLY

Dr. McKenzie Is a Disorderly Person, Says Judge Foster, for Failing to Provide for Her and the Children.

Judge Warren W. Foster, in General Sessions, today affirmed the decision of City Magistrate Pool declaring Dr. James C. McKenzie, of No. 42 West Twenty-second street, a disorderly person for failing to provide for his wife and three children.

Under Judge Foster's ruling Dr. McKenzie will have to furnish bonds to guarantee the payment of $20 a week.

Dr. McKenzie, who is forty-seven years old, has been a practicing physician twenty-five years. He has been married seventeen years and has three children. In May last Mrs. McKenzie applied to the Commissioner of Charities for support for herself and children, alleging that her husband had refused to support her and she and her children were liable to become public charges.

Through Assistant Corporation Counsel Herman Steffel the arrest of Dr. McKenzie was caused, and after a protracted examination City Magistrate Pool, despite the objections of Dr. McKenzie's counsel, Wingate & Challen, of No. 29 Nassau street, decided that the physician should pay his wife $20 a week.

In the examination before City Magistrate Pool Mrs. McKenzie swore she was forced to leave her husband because of his cruelty toward her. On one occasion he tried to choke her. Mrs. McKenzie said that her husband owned real estate valued at more than $70,000.

Mary Frazer McKenzie, fifteen years old, the eldest child of the couple, corroborated her mother's testimony. She testified that her father had often abused her mother and had threatened to send her to an insane asylum.

Dr. McKenzie denied his wife's allegations and declared her last child, which was born in Jersey City in 1904, was not his but the child of a former employee. He said that he was always willing to provide a home for his children and had treated his wife as he thought he should treat the mother of his children, but not, as he thought, a man's wife.

Mrs. McKenzie's three children, is now living at No. 39 West Forty-seventh street.

WHEAT ACTIVE, BUT THE PRICES DOWN

Wheat was active in the market today and a general collapse in prices all around marked the opening of trading. September fell to 92 1/8, 2 3/8 under the final prices of Saturday. The good weather in the northwest, a belief that the reports of crop damage has been exaggerated for speculative purposes and an unwieldy long interest were the factors contributing most to the early weakness.

At Chicago what opened weak in sympathy with the Minneapolis market, and on splendid weather which extended all over with exceptions. July broke 2 5/8 and September 3 4/8 on first sales. The Minneapolis market was off 1 cent. Corn was weak in all the markets.

New York's opening prices were: September wheat, 93 1/8; December, 92 3/8.

Chicago's opening prices were: September, 88 1/4 to 87 1/2; December, 88 1/2 to 87 1/2. July, 84 1/2 to 84 1/4; August, 84 1/4 to 84 1/4. New York's closing prices were: July, 92 1/8; August, 92 1/8; September, 92 1/8; October, 92 1/8; November, 92 1/8; December, 92 1/8. Corn was off 1 cent. Corn was weak in all the markets.

STOCKS DULL WITH PRICES UP

Reading, St. Paul, the Pacifics and Steel the Leaders in a Professional Market—Bonds in Fair Demand.

Trading was listless in the stock market today, the dealings being wholly professional. Prices, however, ruled stronger. During the preliminary run the list was very irregular and fell off to low figures, but this was followed by a general advance. The closing was firm, nearly all of the issues showing gains.

Reading was much sought and ruled strong. It gained in all 1 5/8 per cent, and held most of that up to the final hour. St. Paul also received attention and was pushed up to 115 3/4, a gain of 2 per cent.

The Pacific issues, Union, Southern and Northern, were well taken and shared in the general run of high prices. Union reached 128 3/8, an advance of 1 3/4 per cent. Southern went to 64 1/4, a 3/4 gain, while Northern added 2 per cent, going to 20 1/2.

The Granger stocks also showed a generally improved tone and were higher. Government bonds were unchanged. Other bonds quiet and firm.

Closing Quotations. Today's highest, lowest and closing prices and net changes from Saturday's final price of first sale recorded, are as follows:

COTTON SOARS IN EXCITED MARKET

Rains Menace Crops and Shorts Buy While the Bulls Are Active in Trading—Big Advance in the South.

There was an advance of about $2 a bale in the cotton market today, accompanied by considerable activity and excitement as leading bull interests supported the market and shorts covered, owing to apprehension that heavy rains reported in the Central and Western belt would cause further damage to the crop.

There was an enormous unloading of October and December in the local pit at the start which was attributed to bull interests that have been supporting the market for some days past.

The opening prices were: July, 10 5/8 bid, 10 7/8 asked; August, 10 1/2 bid, 10 3/4 asked; September, 10 1/8 bid, 10 3/8 asked; October, 10 1/8 bid, 10 3/8 asked; November, 10 1/8 bid, 10 3/8 asked; December, 10 1/8 bid, 10 3/8 asked.

COTTON TAKES BIG JUMP IN NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 24.—Cotton advanced more than 20 points today as a result of the worst crop reports so far this season. Many of the private reports said that the fields were flooded and all hope was now past of raising even a half crop. Some of the upland farmers say their cotton has been washed out by the rain. Rain fell today pretty well all over the belt.

CROWD LIFTS CAR TO RELEASE MANGLED BOY.

Three-Year-Old Youngster with Foot Crushed Didn't Cry. Mother Frantic.

When three-year-old Ignacio Bioglio, of No. 231 and Thirty-fourth street, was run over by a car in front of his home this afternoon and his right foot severed, fifty men lifted the car so the child could be released. The boy didn't whimper when taken to the sidewalk, but when he was taken to the hospital, he cried out in pain.

RUNAWAY TEAM UPSETS BABY CART ON WALK

Lucky Infant Escapes Unhurt, but Other Damage Is Done.

In a dash on Court street, Brooklyn, today a team of horses, frightened by a passing automobile, dragged a heavy truck along the sidewalk and roadway, injuring a baby, a woman, a man and a horse and wrecking two wagons and a baby carriage.

The horses were attached to a wagon owned by Gustave Selmer, of No. 834 Lexington avenue, Brooklyn, and were driven by Charles Selmer, his son. Selmer left the team standing in front of No. 60 Court street while he went indoors. The puffing of a passing automobile stamped the team and taking to the sidewalk, they started on a run up the street.

In front of No. 508 Court street Mrs. Mary McDonald, of No. 540 Clinton street, had left a baby cart containing her son Tommy, twelve months old. The cart was directly in the path of the runaway, and one of the horses stepped into the vehicle, smashing the carriage to pieces and injuring Tommy.

Tommy, slightly bruised, was thrown out of the cart and landed on the sidewalk and was snatched up and embraced by the excited mother, who rushed out of the store.

Continuing along the sidewalk the wagon tore down the awnings in front of Nos. 542 and 538 Court street, as well as one at No. 546, where a number of barrels and boxes were smashed into splintering wood. Turning into the roadway the team crashed into a light-colored horse wagon driven by Gas Heben-Kahn, injuring the driver, fracturing three of the horse's legs and wrecking the wagon.

As the team dashed toward Hamilton avenue Mrs. Julia Deoni, of No. 43 Grant street, became alarmed and faint, narrowly escaping being trampled upon.

Policeman William Greahan, at the Hamilton avenue crossing, sprang at the team, driving it back to the curb, after it had stopped 100 feet further, after it had broken the harness.

PATRICK GETS A STAY UNTIL NEXT OCTOBER

Lawyer Will Not Go to Chair Until New Appeal Is Heard.

Justice Denis O'Brien, of the Court of Appeals, today granted an order staying the execution of Lawyer Albert T. Patrick, convicted of the murder of Milton W. Williams, M. D., pending the hearing and determination of the motion for a reargument of his case.

The hearing on this motion has been set for Oct. 2. EX-Senator David B. Hill and Edgar J. Kohler, of No. 42 Broadway, counsel for Patrick, have asked the Court of Appeals for a reargument on the ground that important points were overlooked by a majority of the court in affirming the conviction. The application for a stay pending the hearing of the motion by the Court of Appeals, which is now enjoying its summer recess, was made before Justice O'Brien at Waterston on Saturday, and notice of the stay, with a copy of the papers, was served on District-Attorney Jerome today.

Unofficial information of this story reached Erik Sing Irvine early today. Warden Johnson was away and his secretary, Mr. Hickey, said Patrick would not receive the news until the warden returned, unless one of his lawyers should visit the prison. Patrick's wife is expected at the prison tomorrow.

At Albany today ex-Senator Hill said: "After affirming the conviction in the Patrick murder case last month by a majority of four to three, the court of appeals adjourned until October 20. We were unable, from lack of time and opportunity to make any formal motion for a reargument of the case, were precluded from doing so by the adjournment of the court and the stay granted by Justice O'Brien. The papers set forth many legal points which the court overlooked, misunderstood or insufficiently considered by the majority of the court."

Walking Delegate George W. Prescott, of the National Teamsters' Union, was shot and stabbed, probably fatally, at Richmond Terrace, West Brighton, S. I., today while arguing with two non-union teamsters, Nicholas Segnesio, twenty-two years old, of Tompkinsville, and Charles Rossi, forty-two years old, of Stapleton, both of whom are locked up pending the result of Prescott's injuries. So serious is the injured man's condition considered that Coroner Schafer has been sent for to take an ante-mortem statement.

For a week there has been a strike by the forty drivers employed by Joseph Johnson & Co., on the job of carting stones in Richmond Terrace. Today Prescott, who is twenty-six years old, and lived at No. 44 West Twenty-seventh street, Manhattan, went over to Staten Island to try to settle the trouble. He is said to have urged Rossi and Segnesio, who had been hired as strike-breakers Friday, to join in the fight for a day instead of a week. The argument ended with a scuffle between the police agents and the strikers. The police agents, armed with stinging batons, charged with striking Prescott in the right side. There were no witnesses to the quarrel and the two men accused refused to talk when arrested and locked up at the West Brighton station. Prescott was taken unconscious to St. Vincent's Hospital at Richmond.

Morgue Driver, After Vain Pleading for New Vehicle, Refuses to Take Out Old One, as It Is Likely to Fall to Pieces.

The antiquated vehicle used for years to convey bodies to the Morgue is worn out and is in such condition today that the authorities were afraid to send it out for fear it would fall to pieces in the street. Meantime two bodies, one at No. 17 Seventh avenue, and one at No. 98 West Thirty-second street, awaited removal.

At the Morgue it was said that the Charities Department has been impeding in vain to provide a new dead wagon. For a week the front wheels of the old one have been tied together with ropes, and today the driver was afraid to take it out at all.

The wagon used to convey paupers to the Morgue for transportation to the island will probably be used as a dead wagon until the Charities Department can get a new vehicle.

THREE SMALL BOYS HURT BY SCARED TEAM

Three boys were badly hurt and a score other youngsters had narrow escapes from the wheels of a heavy truck this afternoon when the horses drawing it took fright and bolted up and along the pavement of Twelfth street, between First Avenue and Avenue A.

The team and truck, owned by Manzer & Co., importers, of No. 364 Washington street, were standing in front of No. 432 East Twelfth street while the horses were being fed. As the driver took off the oat bags and began adjusting the bridle the team started at a tin can kicked under them and bolted up on the pavement, which was crowded with children. Three were severely injured. They are Charles Verner, six years old, of No. 47 East Twelfth street; Louis Plover, eleven, of No. 415 Grand street; and William Rice, twelve, of No. 307 Grand street.

The three boys were hurled to the middle of the street and lay there unconscious until ambulances came from Bellevue Hospital. The driver of the truck fled and the police have been unable to find any trace of him. Twelve other boys were taken to the hospital in a precarious condition.

Values have been unusual and the response to our advertisements most generous. In short, the sales have been very successful for every one concerned, except ourselves.

When this light broke on us after our sale of $5 shoes at $3.50 last month, we decided that the sooner we got down to regular business the better off we'd be.

So we rounded up every odd lot, every manufacturer's sample, everything of the sort we owned.

1700 pairs of $5 shoes. 225 pairs of $3.50 shoes. 525 pairs of $3 shoes. They all go on sale to-day at $2—the last shoe-sale we expect to have under present shoemaking conditions, except minor clearances of odd lots from our own shelves.

High shoes and low, lace and button, all sorts of leathers and all sizes. $2. ROGERS, PRET & COMPANY Three Broadway Stores.
