

ORIGINALLY WOULD GIVE A PREMIUM TO IMMIGRANTS

Declares This Country Should Welcome Frugal People from Abroad.

THEY HAVE STOOD TEST.

Fact that They Have Saved Enough to Come Here Is Proof of Their Fitness.

SOME FLAWS IN THE LAW

Commissioner Watchorn Draws Attention to Crying Discrepancies.

At the conference of the Civic Federation on Immigration at the Madison Square Concert Hall to-day Andrew Carnegie said that sober frugal immigrants were what this country needs.

Mr. Carnegie has taken a great interest in the conference of the Federation, and his speech to-day was the second that he has made. He said in part:

"What would this country have been without immigration? And who is there here who is not either an immigrant himself or has immigrant blood in his veins? It is not a problem for us. It is the problem of the poor, unfortunate countries from which we are draining the best blood. Prince Bismarck declared that the United States was draining the most valuable blood of Germany, and he would pass laws preventing the Germans from leaving their country to swell the growth and prosperity and happiness of the American Republic, and he was a wise man.

"Consider what you are getting. Thousands of these immigrants have to save money to pay their expenses to America. You all know what it means for them to do that.

Here is the Test.

"Now, I hold the prime test and the only test we should exact is this: Has a man the ambition to enjoy the rights of an American citizen? Has the habit of sobriety and frugality saved the man necessary for him to reach that point? And is he skillful enough to earn that surplus? I want no better testimony than that. If I owned America and was running it as a business operation I would not only look for that man, but I would give every man of that kind a premium to come here, and consider it the best bargain I had ever made in my life.

"The greatest mistake that labor ever makes, if it ever makes a mistake at all (laughter)—is this, that a man comes in here to work and injures other workmen by so doing; that they are compartments divided. Gentlemen, labor is one undivided whole, and the property of one branch of labor entails the prosperity of other branches."

Prof. Loeb is Caustic.

There was quite a lively scene at the conference after President H. Hall, of the Immigration Restriction League, had spoken on the necessity for laws to keep immigrants out. Prof. Morris Loeb, who followed him, said that Mr. Hall's sentiments were the sentiments which williams the Quakers out of New England towns and drove out the Williams and Ann Hutchinsons. He said it was the spirit of the "Know-Nothing" and proceeded along those lines with some vehemence. Mr. Hall smiled and said nothing and so a conflict was prevented.

The first speaker at the session to-day was Immigration Commissioner Watchorn, who talked interestingly on needed changes in the laws governing immigration.

An interesting point in Mr. Watchorn's speech was his statement that the steamship companies are not responsible for the large immigration. President Roosevelt in his message distinctly said that they were. Mr. Watchorn said in part:

Where Law Falls.

"We have on Ellis Island at this time two children afflicted with what is called trachoma, a dangerous, contagious disease. If a child afflicted with it is permitted to land and goes to the common school the disease will be spread to the whole school gets it. These two children, under the law, must be returned to the native country. In this instance the children are accompanied by their mother, who is also afflicted with the disease, but she is permitted to land and the children are torn from her arms and detained at Ellis Island.

"Her ability to land comes in this way. The husband and father, having preceded the mother and children by five years, has become naturalized, and the act of naturalization, as it applies to the conferees attention, is that when she arrives, and she is not subject to the immigration law."

MOTHER AND BABE REST IN SAME COFFIN.

Little One Born After Mrs. Sobor's Death Lived but Two Hours.

A Russian named Sobor, living at No. 31 Third street, reported to the Coroner's Office yesterday that his wife had just died. Coroner's Physician Lehane went to the house, found death had been due to natural causes and had performed the burial rites.

Sobor reported to the Coroner's Office yesterday that his wife had just given birth to a child. This child, however, died after a two-hour existence. Coroner Brown issued a permit allowing the burial of mother and child in the same coffin.

KEEFER'S MARRIAGE INSURANCE CO.

Keefe, Actuary in Department, Admits He Took Outside Salary

ARRANGING FOR RYAN.

Prepared to Tell Story of How He Bought Young Mr. Hyde's Stock.

BURNHAM'S CASE AGAIN.

Bookkeeper of Mutual Reserve Called to Explain Tangle in the Books.

That D. H. Keefe, an actuary of the State Department of Insurance, has been receiving $1,000 a year from the Security Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Birmingham, was the concession made to-day at the Legislative Insurance Committee by Charles M. Turner, president of that company. Keefe is on the books of the Security Mutual as consulting actuary.

Turner defended Keefe's employment. He said he couldn't see anything wrong in the Security Mutual availing itself of Keefe's services simply because he was an employee of the State. The Security Mutual needed an actuary, when Keefe happened along, and Turner took him.

Chief Counsel Hughes asked Turner if the Keefe arrangement was still in force.

"For all I know, it is," was his answer. President Charles M. Turner, of the Security Mutual, of Birmingham, was recalled.

A Life Arrangement.

The admission was forced from Turner that he occupies the unique position of receiving compensation which is controlled not by the Security Mutual, which pays it, but by the Agency and Investment Company. And this arrangement will continue to the end of Turner's life and after that the Agency and Investment Company will pay his heirs out of the earnings of the insurance corporation.

Turner said a whole lot of his trouble had been due to the fact that he had started the Security Mutual without an actuary.

"I never was a man of figures," said the Birmingham man. "After a little while I got my bookkeeper to help me. As soon as he had made himself an actuary, he was a so-called actuary."

But the time came when the Security Mutual needed a real actuary, and Mr. Turner turned to the State Department of Insurance for help. He called in Keefe, a consulting actuary named Keefe. By Mr. Hughes:

Q. And then what happened? A. He told me that he had a big diamond necklace and a big diamond watch chain, and when he had helped me asked him what was his charge. Mr. Keefe said he didn't think he had charge the thing. I insisted. I told him the company ought to have a consulting actuary and that I would like to employ him.

Keefe Still on Pay Roll. Q. And then what? A. Well, I paid him $1,000 a year, the same as I had paid Price. Q. You kept on paying that? Oh, yes, I don't know but what that arrangement is in force now.

Turner looks like a David Gilmour, and he wears a big diamond ring, a big diamond watch chain and a big diamond necklace chain. As soon as he had made his little confession about Keefe he sought to jump into the breach. In his opinion, he declared, there was nothing wrong about the employment of a State actuary.

Q. Of course you understood that Keefe kept the State's business and the Security Mutual's business distinct? A. Yes, well, I guess I don't know anything about that.

Q. What if you were after in this actuarial activity was to get away from the assessment plan of insurance? A. Yes. Q. It wasn't on the level—the premiums? At this there was a burst of laughter, and Mr. Keefe blushed.

Q. I mean that you wanted to get your premiums down to a level based? A. Yes.

Getting Ready for Ryan.

It developed at the beginning of the session to-day that an arrangement had been made over night for Thomas P. Ryan to be a witness in anticipation of Ryan's appearance. His personal counsel, Paul D. Cravath, wearing a silk tie, was on hand before the time set for the beginning of work. Harry E. Hyde, Ryan's literary representative, also, also present in a silk tie, was present.

Mr. Ryan, Senator Armstrong and Chief Counsel Hughes held a conference and then Cravath left the inquiry chamber. Madona followed the lawyer, a moment later. The statement was subsequently made by authority:

"Mr. Ryan will be here later in the day. He is ready to testify. The Ryan proceedings have been run by recalling to the trial officers and employees of the Mutual Reserve Fund. Mr. Hughes wanted light on certain transactions and the estate of E. P. Harper, a moment later. The statement was subsequently made by authority:

"Well, as I understand it," answered the bookkeeper, "that $1,000 had been placed to the wrong account. There should have been drawn checks for only $17.00. The warrants covering all of these transactions were in the names of various persons—President Burnham, Miss Annie E. Davis, William A. Butts, paymaster of the company; Mr. Harper and Frank H. Harper. All told there were 133 checks paid or charged to Mrs. Harper on the estate account." $17.00.

Vice-President George D. E. Edridge testified yesterday that the Mutual Reserve had "settled in full" with Mrs. Harper on the claims against the company. A moment later, the statement was subsequently made by authority:

Bookkeeper Hyland advised to-day that Mrs. Harper or Mrs. Dohrman is in constant receipt of one third of twenty cents on every $1,000 of insurance in force. Paymaster William A. Butts, of the

CZAR'S MINISTER SLAIN TO Avenge Peasants

Sakharoff Made Cossacks Tear Flesh from Faces of People, Then Forced Victims to Lash One Another.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 6, via Bydtkuhnen, East Prussia, Dec. 7.—The news of the assassination of Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff, former Minister of War, who was shot three times and instantly killed in the Governor's Palace, Saratoff (Southeast Russia), at noon, Dec. 5, had been preceded by the most horrible stories of the manner in which Sakharoff had been repressing the Agrarian disorders.

He corralled peasants with Cossacks and then had them beaten with the soldiers' whips. In so doing Sakharoff pursued the system adopted by Prince John Obolensky, former Governor-General of Finland, in suppressing the Agrarians in the vicinity of Kharoff several years ago, when the Prince caused the peasants to be whipped by relays of Cossacks and compelled them in turn to beat their comrades.

The assassin of Sakharoff has not been identified. When arrested the woman who committed the crime declared that she had executed a decree of the Terrorist's Section of the Social Revolutionists. The following is a description of Sakharoff's arrival at Hovanechna, one of the villages of the Province of Saratoff: "He came with Cossacks and artillery. The peasants were surrounded by Cossacks and Sakharoff addressed them, demanding that they surrender their leaders."

The village elder replied, but gave the General no information. The elder was immediately beaten until he lost consciousness. Sakharoff then retired to the Court-house, leaving the peasants at the mercy of the Cossacks, most of whom were drunk, and they began torturing the peasants, pulling out their hair and beards, and even tearing pieces of flesh from their faces. Thirty-three peasants were thus maltreated."

Public confidence in the Government's ability to weather the growing storm is waning fast. Premier Witte seems powerless to cope with the new elements of danger which the revolution raising on every hand. New studies among the troops are constantly reported, and the lawlessness in the country is increasing.

Rioting at Kieff. VIENNA, Dec. 7.—Despatches received here from Lemberg say that large numbers of Russian refugees are coming in daily. There are 500 of them at Cracow. They all give exciting, terrified accounts of the occurrences in Russia. Many of the refugees formerly were men of considerable wealth and standing, but they left everything behind and now are almost reduced to beggary.

The people of Lemberg declare that murders and rioting continue at Kieff. The refugees who have arrived at Podvolozhyska say that excesses against the Jews have occurred at Mutual Reserve, was called and asked what he had done with $3,000 charged to the Harper estate, and drawn on the order of President Frederick A. Burnham.

Burnham Got It in Cash. "I turned it over to President Burnham," said the bookkeeper, "and he did with it. It was in cash." This transaction was on Nov. 4, 1895. Vice-President George D. Edridge was put on the stand. By Mr. Hughes:

Q. I thought you testified yesterday, Mr. Edridge, that Mrs. Harper had been settled with that you had paid her in all $48,000? A. If the testimony shows that it was not what I intended to say, I am sorry. I was not intending to say that. I was only intending to say that the company had paid her $48,000.

"You did take that stand in the Walter Scott Harper case," said Mr. Hughes. "But the courts held his contract to be void," answered Edridge. The witness added that the $3,000 drawn by Paymaster Butts on the order of Burnham was to effect a settlement with Walter Scott Harper.

Williams Leads Fight Against Appropriation. WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Reading of the Panama Canal Appropriation bill was resumed in the House on the evening of that body to-day. The first amendment was presented by Mr. Williams. He moved to cut the appropriation for $18,500,000 to $4,550,323, stating that he had come to the conclusion that this latter sum was sufficient to meet the needs of the Commission to Jan. 15.

An amendment to that of Mr. Williams was offered by Mr. Price (Ill.), making the appropriation $10,000,000. Basing his argument on the speedy appointment of committees which, he said, should take up and make a careful examination of the estimates furnished. Mr. Price was of the opinion that $10,000,000 was a sufficient sum to meet all emergency necessities.

He also opposed the issuance of bonds. No bonds had been issued since the Spanish-American war. Besides he said there were $128,000,000 in the treasury and $53,000,000 of Government money in national banks. The House rejected the amendment of Mr. Williams fixing the amount of the Panama Canal Bill and at 3:35 adjourned until Monday.

MAN DIES FROM GAS IN DENTIST'S OFFICE. His Physician Believed McDonough Could Stand, But He Couldn't.

George A. McDonough, of No. 100 East One Hundred and Eighty-seventh street, to-day went to Dr. Seymour H. Mook of No. 212 Bathurst avenue, to have a tooth extracted. He had suffered for two weeks with an abscess. Dr. Mook examined the tooth and then called up Dr. Frederick Borger of No. 94 East One Hundred and Eighty-third street, who is McDonough's physician. "I'll have to take that tooth out," the dentist told the physician, "and I want to know if you think he can stand gas."

Dr. Borger said he thought so, and the dentist gave McDonough nitro-oxide. In a few minutes he noticed that McDonough was showing alarming symptoms. He summoned Dr. Borger and the two worked for two hours over McDonough, who died without regaining consciousness.

Magistrate Steinert denounced Mooney as a coward to beat his wife, and asked her what punishment she asked. Her request was simply that she be allowed to go her way un molested and away from Mooney. The Magistrate imposed $500 bonds to keep the peace, and in default of it Owen was given a winter's vacation at the city's expense.

COLOSSAL RASH TO BUY SEATS AT BERNHARDT SALE

Women Are Overcome and Police Reserves Have to Be Called.

The advance sale of tickets for the two weeks' performance of Sarah Bernhardt at the Lyric Theatre, beginning next Monday night, which began to-day, reached such vast proportions shortly after noon that the half dozen police who were present were unable to cope with the crowd, and the reserves of the West Forty-seventh street station, under Roundman ticket, were sent to the theatre.

At that time there were fully 1,000 people in line extending as far as Eighth avenue, along Forty-second street. Although the utmost expedition was used to sell the tickets, there being two temporary box offices located in the lobby, the people began to get impatient and broke the lines. They crowded into the lobby.

In the crush that followed three women were overcome. They were revived, given their tickets and went away refusing their names. The police finally made a line again and the selling continued. The house was sold out at 6 o'clock.

I only learned on my arrival here yesterday what had taken place the night before, and I express to you the universal regret caused by behavior so unworthy of the well-known character of a lady so remarkably careful of her renowned hospitality and courtesy. As to what was said by the L'Eveque, may I beg your pardon, it is a newspaper which, for me, does not count. (Signed) "WILFRID LAURIER."

FISH BLOCKS OIL CROWD IN MUTUAL

Insists that Cromwell Be Kept at Head of Society for Awhile Yet.

Frederic Cromwell, President of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, will not get out of harness for a while. Stuyvesant Fish is said to have completely blocked the plan of the Standard Oil crowd in the Board of Trustees to install Charles A. Peabody in the office.

Mr. Cromwell could have the job permanently for the asking. He has declined, however, to accept, declaring he wishes to retire, and has been endeavoring to do so for a year. It was only through the urgent request of his friends that he consented to take the office temporarily.

Mr. Cromwell has been working hand in hand with the Messrs. Fish, Truesdale and Auchincloss, the investigating committee of a striking character have been inaugurated at his suggestion. Mr. Fish is said to be determined to have Mr. Cromwell retained until the Mutual is in such shape that a new man can easily take over the reins.

James N. Jarvis, W. H. Truesdale and Stuyvesant Fish, the "peace committee" is appointed to a candidate for president. Fish is fighting Mr. Peabody and is backed by Commodore Gerry. It is believed he will be selected eventually.

'TIS THE PROUD MAN JOHN CURRY IS TO-DAY. Didn't His Friends Give Him a Watch and the Priest Give Him a Send-Off?

John F. Curry, the young Tammany Hall leader of the Seventeenth Assembly District, is to-day proudly wearing a costly gold watch, chain and diamond, studded locket, which were presented to him last night at the annual ball of the club of which he is standard bearer. The ball was held in the Amsterdam Opera-House, on West Forty-fourth street.

Father Chidwick, chaplain of the Maine when she was blown up, and now pastor of St. Ambrose's Church, in West Fifty-fourth street, made the presentation speech. He spoke in the highest terms of Curry, calling attention frequently to the honesty, integrity and purity of character that have made Curry beloved by all classes in the district of which he is leader.

The applause at the conclusion of Father Chidwick's remarks was loud and long. The ball was one of the most successful in the history of the Amsterdam Opera-House and was largely attended.

TORTURING SKIN HUMOR

Whole Body Mass of Itching Sores and Scales—Awful Suffering for Fifteen Years—Terribly Disfigured—Doctors and Medicines Did No Good—Had Lost Hope.

CURED BY CUTICURA IN TWO WEEKS. "My head was one mass of scabs, and my forehead was covered down almost to my eyebrows. I had to wear my hat all the time. My legs, arms, and body were covered with spots in size from a pin-head to as large as a silver dollar. A white, crusty scab would form and itch, and words cannot express how I suffered for fifteen years. I tried many doctors and all kinds of treatments, but could get no help, and thought there was no hope for me."

"I friend told me about Cuticura, and I got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment, and in three days my head was as clear as ever. It applied the Ointment night and morning, also taking a hot bath three times a week, and using the Ointment freely after the bath. After using one cake of Soap and two boxes of Ointment I was completely cured, without a mark on my head or body. I was so pleased I felt like taking my hat in my hand and running down the street to tell every one I met what Cuticura had done for me. I shall never use any other, but Cuticura Soap. If any one is in doubt about this, they may write to me. (Signed) H. B. Franklin, 717 Washington St., Allegheny, Pa."
