

OUR ANIMAL DEPARTMENT.

By Roy L. McCardell.

THE Animal Editor receives scores of letters asking "What is it all about?" We desire to state once and for good and ever that it is all about animals.

We cite interesting incidents about our animal friends and our friends who are animals. We give advice and sympathy. We chronicle anecdotes of the bright sayings of parrots and the intelligence manifested by our four-footed pets and all domestic animals.

Editor Animal Department: I wish to call your attention to a case of cruelty of which I notified the S. P. C. A., but to which it paid no attention.

Editor Animal Department: Kindly give me a formula for a good insect powder. IMA ROACHE.

Editor Animal Department: What is the best mocking bird food? SOUTHERNER.

Editor Animal Department: Have our friends who are animals and birds ever noticed that jail-birds often turn into stool-pigeons? AMATEUR DETECTIVE.

Editor Animal Department: Your Animal Department is great. But while these land-lubbers ashore are venting their grievances, I fear you are overlooking us "salt-water" fellows, and venture to ask space for a "wall from the deep."

Editor Animal Department: I was late going to work yesterday on account of a cold. The boss saw that I was "hoarse" and he "docked" me. ALEXANDER SALZER.

W. L. B. ... nouncing in for next season, dramatization of Sir Gib...

"S"ENATOR FRANK BELL, who forsook burnt cork to originate the role of the Town Constable in "Way Down East" and sing "All Bound Round with a Woolen String," is back in blackface at Keith's, delivering one of his dissertations on topics of the day.

TONY PASTOR will celebrate his forty-first anniversary as a manager on Thursday of next week. Managers come and managers go, but Tony goes on forever.

TWO young women met in a Fifth Avenue art shop yesterday afternoon. Each looked sharply at the other and then fell back in surprise. After apologizing to each other confusedly for staring, the young women turned away with an air of abstraction to separate interests among the paintings and bric-a-brac of the store.

FOLLOWING Mrs. Fiske's forthcoming engagement at the Academy of Music, Wilton Lockaye will appear there in revivals of "The Pit" and "Tribby." Mr. Lockaye's engagement will be for six weeks, the last fortnight of which will be devoted to his own dramatization of "Les Miserables."

YVETTE GUILBERT, who will say adieu to New York on Sunday night, announces she will return here next season in a play written for her by Charles F. Erdinger—"and then," CHARLES DARTON.

The Girl From Kansas.

By Alice Rohe.

"DID you ever see 'Carmen' through an algrette?" said the Girl from Kansas. "No, I don't mean a lorgnette. I said an algrette. I said an algrette. It belonged to the woman in front of me, or at the side of me, if you can locate the exact position of the standees at the opera. I got it in the eye every time."

"The strikes of 'Carmen' are delicious; but strained through an algrette is too much of a strain for me, thank you. "And, say, there isn't anything about toe-dancing you can teach me now. I used to marvel at the wonderful ladies of the ballet who proudest around on their toes, and, oh, how I used to wonder how on earth they did it. Pah! Don't talk to me about the sustained nervous effort of the toe-dancer. When it comes to standing on your toes through four acts of 'Carmen,' then you can talk."

May Manton's Daily Fashions.

HEART and HOME PAGE for WOMEN Edited by Nixola Greeley Smith

A STREET-CAR HEROINE.

By Nixola Greeley-Smith.

A MAN writes me with much admiration of an incident he witnessed recently in a street-car. A young mother got on with a baby. Her hat was awry, her hair falling, and it was soon evident that she was hopelessly drunk.

Opposite us was an old, drunken workman, who after receiving his change of 22 from the conductor spilled it from his shaking hand all over the car floor. By very slow and ludicrous efforts he succeeded in dragging his almost helpless hands over the rubber matting till all but a quarter that lay just at the conductor's feet had been gathered up.

Some one told me the other day that one of the howling derelives of the early temperance days sent a whole convention of reformers into indignant hysteria by describing an almost incredible sight she had witnessed, namely, "a mother, with a baby in her arms, drinking a glass of beer."

HEALTH AND BEAUTY. By Margaret Hubbard Ayer.

A Freckle Cure.

Then apply this cream, the face having been thoroughly rinsed to remove any soapy condition: Spermaceti (pure), 1/4 ounce; white wax (pure), 1/4 ounce; almond oil, 1/4 pound; butter of cocoa, 1/4 pound; lanoline, 2 ounces. Melt and stir in one dram of balsam of Peru.

Lightening the Hair.

CARRIE T.—After you have washed your hair thoroughly and dried it, take a half glassful of peroxide of hydrogen and a half glassful of water and mop over the hair, particularly reaching the roots.

Wants White Hair.

A MOTHER—I could not advise any chemical with safety that would make iron-gray hair perfectly white. Perhaps if you wait it may naturally become so.

BETTY'S BALM FOR LOVERS.

All perplexed young people can obtain expert advice on their tangled love affairs by writing Betty. Letters for her should be addressed to BETTY, Evening World, Post-Office Box 1354, New York.

Which Should Speak First?

Dear Betty: KENDYLY told me which one, after a quarrel, should speak first, the boy or the girl. We both started the quarrel by saying something, and every one tells me to speak first. A. J. It really makes no difference who speaks first. It is generally the person with the most sense.

HINTS FOR THE HOME.

French Pancakes. TAKE two eggs, two ounces of butter, two ounces of sifted sugar, two of flour and half a pint of milk. Beat the eggs thoroughly and put them in a bowl with the butter beaten to a cream. Stir in the sugar and flour, and when these ingredients are well mixed add the milk. Keep stirring and beating the mixture for a few minutes, then put it on buttered plates and bake in a quick oven for twenty minutes.

Apple Cake. PLACE a thin layer of short pastry on a round baking dish, pinching up the edges with the fingers so as to make a little ledge around the cake. Peel and cut in two some large apples, carefully taking out the cores. Slice them and arrange in a circle around the pastry, one slice overlapping the other. Sprinkle with ground cinnamon and sugar and bake for three-quarters of an hour in a steady oven. When cold sift powdered sugar over the top.
