

Jerome Bolts Hearst Ticket and Says He Will Go on Stump for Hughes; Anti-Machine Men Select George Raines to Put Boss Murphy on Griddle

ANTI-HEARST MEN PLAN A ROASTING FOR BOSS MURPHY

Drop Jerome After His Open Bolt and Select George Raines to Put the Tammany Leader on the Griddle in the Convention.

(Special from a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)
BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 26.—The first bolt from the Hearst nomination of the Democratic party of the State was registered this afternoon by District-Attorney Jerome. Mr. Jerome announced that he would support Charles E. Hughes.

"I shall take the stump against William R. Hearst," declared the District-Attorney. "I would support any decent Republican in preference to him."

News of the action of Mr. Jerome did not gain wide circulation until some time after noon. It created a sensation. The anti-Hearst leaders said it was the beginning of a revolt that would soon embrace all the old-line Democrats.

While Mr. Jerome was bolting Hearst the up-State Democrats who have been most active in trying to secure the nomination of anybody but Hearst, were making preparations to drop Mr. Jerome. They do not believe that Mr. Jerome is game, and have selected George Raines, of Rochester, to lead their fight on the floor of the convention. Mr. Jerome has been getting cold feet ever since yesterday. He was making great preparations to take the platform and flay Charles F. Murphy alive, but his up-State associates are afraid that he lacks the nerve to make good.

Jerome Announces Bolt.

Before the news of Hughes's nomination at Saratoga was received Mr. Jerome said:

"If they nominate a decent Republican at Saratoga I will go upon the stump and plead for the defeat of Hearst."

"I will appeal for his defeat not on the ground that it is a political issue, but because the issue raised is that of political freedom. We do not think that it is a Democratic convention. It is not representative."

"If for one believe we are entitled to support a ticket put together in a back room by Charles Murphy, Pat McClellan and Tim Sullivan, I believe it is the duty of this conference to give unmistakable utterance to their belief that this convention was not Democratic in any sense of the word."

Mayor McClellan has also been dropped by the up-State people. He is no longer taking an active part in the anti-Hearst movement, and it is reported that he will leave for New York on an early train this evening.

delegates about him for several hours, and they all agree he is the best man we can put into the field. He won't take orders from anybody."

Sulzer has broken with the Sullivan. He wanted him to come out for Hearst, but Sullivan raised all sorts of objections and finally flatly refused to agree to the program. He was threatened with the loss of his seat in Congress and laughed at the threat.

Senator McClellan has pledged the Kings County delegation to Sulzer. The report that John Ford has kicked over the Independence League traces its origin to the Hearst headquarters here. Max Immen says that Ford is in Rome to-day with Mr. Hearst. There is a possibility that the nomination will not be reached to-night and that the convention will go over until to-morrow.

at the hour appointed for the assembling of the convention the hall was crowded with spectators, but the great central square given over to the delegates and alternates was practically empty. The spectators had come, expecting the session to be crowded with incidents. The reserved seats on the stage were filled.

When it was finally called to order another recess was taken until 6.30 o'clock this evening.

WHAT DELEGATES DO WHEN NOT PULLING THE WIRES

Tammany Men Find Lots of Fun While Murphy Makes Dickers and Fixes Up the Slate.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 26.—In the Iroquois Hotel the custom of "paging" telegrams prevails. This is a source of great embarrassment to Thomas F. Smith, Secretary of Tammany Hall.

From the number of telegrams arriving addressed to men named Smith, it would seem that the Smith family of Peapack, N. J., was holding a convention in Buffalo on the side. About every three minutes a page hustles through the crowd with a telegram for "Mr. Smith."

Tom Smith usually nabs the telegram, only to find out that it is addressed to Bill Smith or John Smith, or Hank Smith, etc. He is thinking of giving himself a code name for use at conventions.

The cordial reception accorded to the Tammany delegation was quite a contrast to the reception Tammany Hall got when it came to the convention in this city ten years ago. John C. Sheehan was then leader of Tammany, and the delegation from New York, including Buffalo, was treated with the respect and honor that the majority would meet them at the station with the keys of the city.

The old-timers, remembering their arctic experience of ten years ago, were swept off their feet when they stepped from the cars after their tiresome ride last night and heard about fourteen bands blaring out "Tammany."

Convention days have brought the three-card monte man into town, and even showed a number of other old-timers in his clutches. "Tom" Foley, "Jonny" Oakley, former Mayor Walsh of Yonkers, always a Tammany man at heart, and "Battery Dan" Finn were among the "come-ons" who took a shy at the game and were bitten.

"Let's play politics instead of this game," said Tom Foley, after he had lost the equivalent of a twenty dollar bill trying to peek the right hand.

"I guess you're better," answered "Battery Dan," "we know something about it and it's more profitable."

The nickel and dime show along Main street have been overtaken since the arrival of the visiting delegations. The show people have found it profitable, therefore, to cut the performances in half, cutting the price of admission in half, and the show people have found it profitable, therefore, to cut the performances in half, cutting the price of admission in half.

Herman Ridder was attracted into one of the shows. When a minute or so of admittance, he found himself on the sidewalk with two scores of other people, all of whom were rushing out in football fashion. Mr. Ridder refused to be pushed the extra out of marked, as he pushed the extra out of marked, as he pushed the extra out of marked.

The slogan of the Holy Roller and continues to be popular. "Sulzer and Lemon," Boniface Woolley, of the Iroquois, says the Sulzer cocktail, h.w. over is rapidly becoming popular, unlike the Congressman's boom.

A wild (trouble) have a crooning infant up to the same faces, too, among the bunch.

"BIG TIM" SULLIVAN BREAKS WITH MCCLELLAN

Bowery Congressman When Reluctantly Led Before the Mayor Declares He Will Stand by Murphy.

(Special from a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)
BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 26.—It develops today that Mayor McClellan, who is keeping himself closely confined to his apartments on the ninth floor of the Troop, last night called for a showdown from the Sullivan. After several attempts to locate the Bowery Congressman "Big Tim" was rounded up and led reluctantly into the presence of the Mayor.

Mr. McClellan asked Congressman Sullivan what he intended doing at the Convention to-day—whether he proposed standing by Murphy—word to the effect having reached the Mayor.

"I am for Murphy because he is the organization and am in favor of the adoption of the unit rule," declared Sullivan.

The Mayor and the Congressman talked for fully half an hour. Sullivan went to the Lafayette Hotel and there met a dozen of his cronies. They discussed the incident with the Mayor and then adjourned the conference to the apartments of the Congressman.

Murphy's Comment on Hughes.

When Murphy received news of the nomination of Charles E. Hughes at Saratoga he studied the telegram for a moment and said: "So they have nominated Hughes at last. I thought they might do so."

He then sent for Bourke Cockran, and was later joined by Lewis Nixon. The three remained in conference for half an hour.

Murphy seized upon the news from Saratoga as a means of further swelling the vote for Hearst. He told several persons who had remained to see him up to that time that he would not support Hughes and that he would stand by Hearst.

"Can Hearst get the votes to beat Hughes?" he was asked by several of the callers.

"Sentiment for Hearst is growing. He has proven that he is a vote-getter, was all that Murphy would say on that line."

A sensation was created among the delegates by the circulation of a telegram received by Senator Patrick H. McClellan and purporting to have come from Justice Gaynor. This despatch said:

"I am absolutely disgusted with the dickered effect that William R. Hearst and absolutely refuse to permit my name to be placed before the convention."

A copy of this despatch was forwarded to Justice Gaynor this afternoon and he denounced it as a fraud.

"I never sent any such message by telegraph or otherwise. If such a thing is shown there it is a forgery," said the Judge.

John Ford Sticks.

Word was received at the Iroquois Hotel to-day that John Ford had changed his mind about withdrawing and had telegraphed from New York that a forty-mile power team could not drag him out of the ticket. The word went around that he had also stated that he was preparing to file his certificate of nomination, regardless of the work of the league itself to procure the necessary signatures to the petition, and would advise every other candidate named on the Hearst ticket to stick.

This statement coming so shortly after the reported resignation that Mr. Ford had expressed with willingness to withdraw caused a remarkable change in the opinion of the situation in the city.

Charles F. Murphy had dismissed his last caller for the night when a rap came at his door. "Who is it?" asked the leader of Tammany.

"Me-Mike-Joss," said Mike Krusen.

"Come in, Mike," invited Mr. Murphy. Krusen entered, to find the leader in a state of perturbation.

BUFFALO CONVENTION ADJOURNS TILL 6.30 P. M.

Committee on Contested Seats Still in a Tangle and Unable to Settle the Fights.

(Special from a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)
CONVENTION HALL, BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 26.—There were eleven delegates in their seats when Chairman Nixon called the Democratic Convention to order at 11 o'clock today. The seats reserved for the audience were not fully filled.

A result of graduates of a deaf and dumb asylum could not have been more as dumb and orderly. Because of the inability of the committee on Credentials to finish its labor the convention adjourned until 2.30 o'clock this afternoon.

At the hour appointed for the adjournment of the convention the hall was crowded with spectators, but the great central square given over to the delegates and alternates was practically empty.

"L" MOTORMEN OF THE B. R. T. ASK MORE PAY.

Locomotive Brotherhood Leaders Present Formal Demand, Which is Refused.

F. A. Burgess, acting Grand Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and C. A. Wilson, First Vice-Grand Master of the organization, representing the motormen on the Brooklyn Elevated System, called on President Winter and John F. Calderwood.

HORSE RESCUED FROM EAST RIVER.

Broke from Truck on New Haven Pier and Tugs and Rowboats Go to the Rescue.

A big black truck horse struggling in the East River caused a crowd to gather at the New Haven dock and on the promenade of Brooklyn Bridge to-day.

The black horse pitched into the dock while three tugs and a number of rowboats worked for more than an hour to fish him out. The horse was heavy, the boats had no tackle fit for such work, and for a time it looked as if the horse would have to swim out or drown, but at last the tug R. W. Johnson, Capt. M. H. Hedman came along and lifted the horse to the Hartford pier.

The horse belonged to a driver who refused to give his name. The man went to the New Haven dock with a load this afternoon and was busy with his receipts when the horse bolted.

The other horse stood firm and held the truck back, but the two would doubtless have been drowned.

CHILD'S AWFUL SKIN HUMOR

Screamed with Pain—Suffering Nearly Broke Parent's Heart—Twelve Years of Misery—Doctor Called Case Incurable—Helped from First, and

SPEEDILY CURED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I wish to inform you that your wonderful Cuticura has put a stop to twelve years of misery I passed with my son. As an infant I noticed on his body a red spot and trouble came with different remedies for about five years, but when the spot began to get larger I put him under the care of doctors. Under their treatment the disease spread to four different parts of his body. The longer the doctor treated him the worse it grew. During the day it would get rough and form like scales. At night it would be cracked, inflamed, and badly swollen, with terrible burning and itching. When I think of his suffering, his screams, his agony, and the fullness of misery, I had no ambition to work, to eat, nor could I sleep."

"One doctor told me that my son's eczema was incurable and gave it up for a bad job. One evening I saw an article in the paper about the wonderful Cuticura, and decided to give it a trial."

"I told you that Cuticura Ointment is worth its weight in gold, and when I had used the first box of Ointment there was a great improvement, and by the time I had used the second set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent my child was cured. He is now twelve years old, and his skin is as fine and smooth as mine. (Signed) Michael Stejneger, 7 Sumner Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., April 18, 1905."
