

BE ALWAYS READY FOR WAR IS THE PLAN OF THE UNITED STATES, SAYS ROOSEVELT

President Makes Another Vigorous Speech in Defense of His Policy Favoring a Powerful Fleet to Be Ready for Emergencies.

CAIRO, Ill., Oct. 3.—The Mississippi, with the Presidential party aboard, put in at the wharf about 9 o'clock to-day, where Mayor George Parsons, heading the Reception Committee, welcomed the nation's Chief Executive.

Mr. Roosevelt and his escort were driven to St. Mary's Park, in which a great throng had gathered. An ovation was given to the President, who, after brief ceremonies, was introduced by Gov. Dineen, of Illinois.

The trip back to the Mississippi was then made, and the President, while guns boomed and whistles tooted, resumed his journey to Memphis, where he speaks to-morrow.

In speaking of the forthcoming cruise of battle-ships, the President reminded his hearers that three of the ships are named Illinois, Missouri and Kentucky. This was a happy remark to an audience of suckers, jayhawkers and Bourbon.

The gist of the President's remarks was that this is a big, powerful nation, full of kindness and a desire for peace, but willing to fight should the necessity arise. He urged that the nation must always be prepared for a fight, because the millennium is a long way off, and if we show ourselves weak or timid, some other nation will lose no time in stepping upon us.

To be rich, unarmed and yet insolent and aggressive," he declared, "is to court well nigh certain disaster. The safe and honorable rule of foreign policy for the United States is to show itself courteous toward other nations, but not to infringe upon their rights, and yet able and ready to defend its own. This nation is now on the verge of the most cordial good will with all other nations.

Let us make it our object to preserve these conditions. To do so it is necessary on the one hand to mete out a generous justice to all other peoples and show them courtesy and respect, and on the other hand, as we are yet a good way off from the millennium, to keep ourselves in such shape as to make it impossible for any nation to take advantage of us. We have an enormous coast line, and we must be able to defend it. We have a large population, and we must be able to protect it. We have a large navy, and we must be able to use it.

As for the first requisite, this means that not only the Government but the people as a whole must be able to defend themselves. We must have a large army, and we must have a large navy. We must have a large fleet of battle-ships, and we must have a large fleet of destroyers. We must have a large fleet of submarines, and we must have a large fleet of aircraft.

As for the second requisite, this means that we must be able to defend ourselves. We must have a large army, and we must have a large navy. We must have a large fleet of battle-ships, and we must have a large fleet of destroyers. We must have a large fleet of submarines, and we must have a large fleet of aircraft.

As for the third requisite, this means that we must be able to use our navy. We must have a large fleet of battle-ships, and we must have a large fleet of destroyers. We must have a large fleet of submarines, and we must have a large fleet of aircraft.

As for the fourth requisite, this means that we must be able to defend ourselves. We must have a large army, and we must have a large navy. We must have a large fleet of battle-ships, and we must have a large fleet of destroyers. We must have a large fleet of submarines, and we must have a large fleet of aircraft.

As for the fifth requisite, this means that we must be able to use our navy. We must have a large fleet of battle-ships, and we must have a large fleet of destroyers. We must have a large fleet of submarines, and we must have a large fleet of aircraft.

As for the sixth requisite, this means that we must be able to defend ourselves. We must have a large army, and we must have a large navy. We must have a large fleet of battle-ships, and we must have a large fleet of destroyers. We must have a large fleet of submarines, and we must have a large fleet of aircraft.

As for the seventh requisite, this means that we must be able to use our navy. We must have a large fleet of battle-ships, and we must have a large fleet of destroyers. We must have a large fleet of submarines, and we must have a large fleet of aircraft.

As for the eighth requisite, this means that we must be able to defend ourselves. We must have a large army, and we must have a large navy. We must have a large fleet of battle-ships, and we must have a large fleet of destroyers. We must have a large fleet of submarines, and we must have a large fleet of aircraft.

As for the ninth requisite, this means that we must be able to use our navy. We must have a large fleet of battle-ships, and we must have a large fleet of destroyers. We must have a large fleet of submarines, and we must have a large fleet of aircraft.

As for the tenth requisite, this means that we must be able to defend ourselves. We must have a large army, and we must have a large navy. We must have a large fleet of battle-ships, and we must have a large fleet of destroyers. We must have a large fleet of submarines, and we must have a large fleet of aircraft.

As for the eleventh requisite, this means that we must be able to use our navy. We must have a large fleet of battle-ships, and we must have a large fleet of destroyers. We must have a large fleet of submarines, and we must have a large fleet of aircraft.

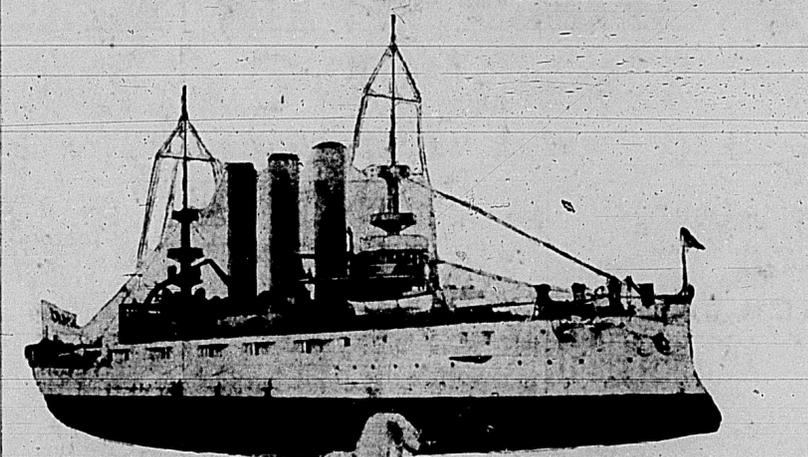

As for the twelfth requisite, this means that we must be able to defend ourselves. We must have a large army, and we must have a large navy. We must have a large fleet of battle-ships, and we must have a large fleet of destroyers. We must have a large fleet of submarines, and we must have a large fleet of aircraft.

We must have a large fleet of battle-ships, and we must have a large fleet of destroyers. We must have a large fleet of submarines, and we must have a large fleet of aircraft.

As for the fifteenth requisite, this means that we must be able to use our navy. We must have a large fleet of battle-ships, and we must have a large fleet of destroyers. We must have a large fleet of submarines, and we must have a large fleet of aircraft.

ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH IN TWO WORDS: COME ON!

MISS VANDERBILT TO WED COUNT, SAYS MOTHER

Betrothal of Gladys to Szechenyi Declared at Newport.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 3.—Mrs. Vanderbilt, widow of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, to-day made formal announcement of the engagement of her daughter Gladys, to Count Ladislaus Szechenyi, of Budapest.

Within a few hours after the formal announcement of the engagement, the summer home of Mrs. Vanderbilt, was crowded with hundreds of social acquaintances for Miss Vanderbilt from her many friends. Many congratulatory telegrams and cablegrams were also received during the day.

It is expected that the wedding will take place next month. It is generally believed that the ceremony will be performed in historic Trinity Church here, where Miss Vanderbilt's mother is a pewholder.

With the arrival here of Count Szechenyi, of Austria-Hungary, with a mountain of trunks and other luggage and a small army of retainers, the secret of a romance attributed to Miss Gladys Moore Vanderbilt was revealed. It has been rumored for some time that Miss Vanderbilt had fallen in love, actually, in the good old way, with a foreign nobleman, and that she was to wed him.

It is also interesting to know that in the duel, which was fought on Jan. 2, 1905, on the Austrian frontier, Mr. Battony was wounded by the Count, who shot him in the arm.

Some people pretend to feel very sorry for Robert Walton Goelet, who has a large fortune and who has been most attentive to Miss Gladys Vanderbilt. Miss Vanderbilt came of age in June last. She has one sister, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney. Her brothers are Cornelius, Alfred, Guyenne and Reginald Vanderbilt, united in a trust with William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and of Frederick and George Vanderbilt. She has a talent for chess, and was once a pupil of Jean de Rozzke.

STRIKE-BREAKERS SHIPPED TO CUBA

A gang of fifty strikebreakers, recruited by Strikebreaker James Farley, sailed for Havana this afternoon on the Ward liner Monterey. They go to take the places of the striking employes on the railroads of Cuba, who have things pretty well tied up.

About forty of the strikebreakers were men willing to go anywhere to get work. Of these a majority looked like clerks or bookkeepers, who had been through a hard struggle with idleness. The forty were in direct charge of ten husky professional strikebreakers, who are on Farley's regular lists and can be summoned by him at any time to make a gangster at breaking any kind of a strike.

The strikebreakers who sailed today were engaged yesterday by one Goodwin, at No. 33 Eighth avenue. They answered advertisements calling for Washington locomotive engineers, firemen, boiler makers, machinists and electricians.

KILLS WOMAN WHO GAVE HIM DEATH WOUND

After Waiting Three Years for Vengeance, She Caught Him in Barber's Shop.

DYING, GOT HER PISTOL. Fired at Her, and She Fell Dead Upon the Sidewalk.

Possibly Alle Riportello never heard that "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned," but he realizes something to that effect as he lies dying in St. John's Hospital, Brooklyn, this evening, with a charge of murder against him. The woman scorned in Alle Riportello's case was Rosa, of the same name, and he killed her in front of a barber shop a No. 154 Fulton street, with a pistol she had hidden in wounding him mortally.

The history of to-day's tragedy dates back to three years ago, when Riportello lived in Brooklyn and Rosa loved him. She had a child, but Riportello disowned it and disappeared. He went to Norfolk, Va., where he prospered to the extent of acquiring a barber shop at No. 27 Atlantic street.

The woman went to work. She lived alone and nursed her child and her vengeance. She heard nothing from Riportello nor could she get any trace of him until three days ago when he returned to Brooklyn for a visit.

Someone told Rosa that Riportello was in town. She bought a revolver and set out to trap him. This afternoon she came upon him, seated in a barber shop at the Fulton street address, well dressed, handsome and smiling, with a big diamond in his shirt front.

Without a word the woman walked up to him and shot him. He sprang at her and she struggled to the sidewalk. Exerting all his failing strength, he wrenched the revolver from her grasp and shot her through the heart.

She dropped dead on the sidewalk and he fell unconscious across her body. Just as Policeman Shepard, who had seen a romance between across the street, ran up to them.

ALLEGED KIDNAPPER OF YOUNG GIRL CAUGHT. Jacob Friedman, Accused by Miss Fichtelberg's Father, Held for Examination.

Jacob Friedman, alias Walters, of No. 14 East Ninety-ninth street, who was arrested last night, was to-day arraigned before Magistrate Droegge in Essex Market Court on a charge of attempted extortion. The complainant was Frank Fichtelberg, father of Rosa Fichtelberg, who was kidnaped last Friday, four days before the date set for her wedding.

Friedman said he did not know anything about the missing girl and denied that he had demanded $100 reward from her father for news of her. Magistrate Droegge held the prisoner for a further examination to-morrow.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 3.—John Mitchell, President of the United Mine Workers of America, is confined to his rooms here on account of the wound from an operation performed on him several weeks ago, which has not healed properly and is causing him some trouble. At the national headquarters of the United Mine Workers to-day Secretary Wilson said Mr. Mitchell hoped to be out in a few days.

TRANSFORMATIONS. Carbons Result. When Coffee Drinking is Abandoned. It is almost as hard for an old coffee taster to quit the use of coffee as it is for a whiskey or tobacco fiend to break off, except that the coffee user can quit coffee and take up Postum without any feeling of a loss of the morning beverage, for when Postum is well boiled and served with cream it is really better in point of flavor than most of the coffee served nowadays, and to the taste of the connoisseur it is like the flavor of fine, mild Java.

GOES TO SING SING FOR CHEATING COPS

Posting as Confidential Officer of Gen. Bingham He Found Several Victims.

Harris C. Koetting, a smart looking young man of twenty-two, who said he was a clerk, got five years and ten months in Sing Sing to-day in Part I of General Sessions for passing bad checks on confiding policemen who believed his story that he was the secretary of Commissioner Bingham. He pleaded guilty to the indictment, which charged grand larceny in the first degree, but Judge McAvoy said he didn't deserve any mercy and gave him a pretty long term considering the amount he had secured. Koetting's home is at No. 59 Rogers avenue, Brooklyn.

He braced Policeman Harry A. Arnold of the Traffic Squad, on duty at Nassau and Fulton streets, on Aug. 14, saying that he was employed in Gen. Bingham's office, and showing a badge labeled "Confidential Officer No. 102." Arnold induced a haberdasher in Nassau street to cash a $5 check for the happy young confidante of the Commissioner.

In rapid succession four or five other policemen fell for the same game. Finally on Aug. 22 Koetting tackled a cop of a Missouri disposition, who got suspicious and finally decided to take a glance and arrest him.

No home is really clean or healthy unless a disinfectant is used there regularly; and as its cost is insignificant, it is the greatest negligence not to use one.
