

COTTON BROKER
WED IN STAMFORD

E. B. Marsh and His Second
Bride Now on Auto Tour in Canada.

With a great supply of fishing and hunting tackle and an automobile to carry them to forest and stream, Edward B. Marsh, a member of the New York Cotton Exchange, and his bride, who was Miss Florence S. Jewett, of No. 162 West Twenty-second street, are spending their honeymoon in the wide of Canada.

They were married last Saturday at Stamford Conn., but a delay in the marriage certificate kept the news from their friends until today.

The present Mrs. Marsh is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles T. Jewett, and is a beautiful young woman of twenty-three. There was a former Mrs. Marsh, but the divorce courts were called into play some years ago and the broker was free to wed again. It is said by the Court's ruling he was, but, however, permitted to marry in this State.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Marsh and Miss Jewett, and her parents, with a couple of friends, went in automobiles to Stamford, and at the Baptist Church formed the ceremony. The party then returned to this city and late in the night Mr. and Mrs. Marsh started for Montreal. Mr. Marsh has been in the city for some years and is looked upon as a cotton expert.

OPERA SINGER AND MOTHER OF TWINS.

TWIN SISTERS IN THE HOMER CHORUS

Duetists Arrive at Home of Famous Contralto,
All Well.

Katherine Hunn Homer and Anne Marie Homer are now arrivals at the home of Sydney Homer, the composer, and Mme. Louise Homer, the opera contralto, his wife. They are just one day old to-day, and as duettists are not to be overlooked by the musical world and the neighbors.

The twins were left by the generous stork yesterday. In join three other interesting little daughters of the Homers, whose family is rapidly assuming proportions which will compare with that of Mme. Schumann-Heink. Mme. Homer expects to be able to sing when the opera season opens, and will be heard in several new parts, besides her usual roles, Brangäne, Ortrud and Amneris.
