Other Reports Are to the Effect That Actor Is in Canada.

POLICE ARE SEEKING HIM

No Response to Wireless to Majestic on Which He Was Supposed to Be.

No trace has been found by the police of Raymond Hitchcock, the actor who disappeared Wednesday in the face of impending indictments charging him with offenses against little girls.

A wireless message sent by Inspector McCafferty to the captain of the White Star liner Majestic, which sailed for Europe Wednesday morning, asking if Hitchcock is aboard, has not been answered.

Numerous reports concerning him who look like Hitchcock are received hourly from all around New York. The most promising trail leads to Montreal or Quebec, by way of New England.

Reliable advices state that Hitchcock was seen at Rutland, Vt., last night on a train bound for Montreal.

Some of the Children's Society detectives who worked up the case against Hitchcock say that they believe he has taken Bella McKenzie, one of the girls he is accused of having mistreated, away with him.

A thorough search is being made for the missing actor by the police of Montreal and Quebec and scores of telegrams have been sent out ordering his apprehension.

There is a growing suspicion in the theatrical district that Hitchcock is right here in town, hiding with friends.

Many Other Trails.

Hitchcock was reported to have been seen in several places since he slipped out of the hands of the police.

A gateman at the Grand Central Station told the police he saw the actor take a train for Boston at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Then came the report that he was seen on the streets of North Adams, Mass., by William Newman, clerk at the Richmond Hotel.

Another report that has interested the police is that a friend of Hitchcock who owns a ninety-foot motor boat has suddenly disappeared.

Assistant District Attorney Garvan suggested that a writ of habeas corpus signed by Justice Kehoe, commanding the Children's Aid Society to produce Elsie Voecks at White Plains today was issued at the request of Clarence Shearn, counsel for William R. Hearst.

Mr. Hearst says he did not apply for the writ. He has known Hitchcock for the mother of Elsie Voecks is trying to take the girl from the custody of the Children's Society.

WOMAN LED THE RUSSIAN MUTINY AT VLADIVOSTOK

Secreted on Destroyer Skory, She Gave the Signal That Started Naval Battle.

RAISED THE RED FLAG. Crews of Three Warships Rebelled and Many Were Killed in Bombardment.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 1.—According to the official report of the recent mutinous outbreak of sailors at Vladivostok the crews of three torpedo-boat destroyers—the Skory, Serdity and Tretovskiy—mutined, hoisted the red flag and shelled the port, doing considerable damage to various buildings and killing some soldiers and civilians.

The Skory, on board of which were three revolutionary agitators, including one woman, took the lead in the mutiny, the crew rising at the instance of the woman and the other agitators, killing the commander of the boat and wounding the other officers, who were overpowered and confined below decks.

The fire of the rebellious torpedo-boat destroyers was answered by the batteries ashore and from the gunboat Mandour, and the torpedo-boat destroyers were surrounded by the Skory and Tretovskiy. They surrounded the Skory and poured a raking fire into her, which battered her to pieces, exploded her two boilers and started a blaze on board. Nearly all the mutineers of the Skory were killed on the vessel. The three or four survivors threw themselves into the sea. The woman leader, according to report, was among the killed.

The mutiny on board the Tretovskiy was quelled by her own crew, after six of the mutineers had been killed and six wounded.

Gen. Count Unterberger, commanding the Military District of the Amur, has arrived at Vladivostok and assumed charge of the situation. The United States Embassy here to-day received a despatch from the Consul at Vladivostok, saying that the American who was wounded during the mutiny at Vladivostok by the torpedo-boat destroyers is an employee of the Pacific Commercial Company, whose building was struck by a shell.

THREE MEN SHOT BY HUNTERS WHO FIRED AT RABBITS

Staten Island Season Opened With a Mishap That May Cause One Death.

Joseph Davidson, Timothy Dunn and Frank Jaycox, city surveyors, employed on Staten Island, were shot and seriously wounded to-day by rabbit hunters while driving past the Gifford woods. Davidson was shot in the face and eyes and is not expected to live. Dunn and Jaycox were badly peppered about the body.

The rabbit hunters were almost on top of the surveyors when they fired the deadly volley of buckshot. They could not see the vehicle through the thick cover of underbrush that screened the Fresh Kill road, but heard the cry of the men they shot.

There were four hunters—Charles Porter, Daniel O'Donnell, Julius Brown and William Richards. Their homes are in Elm Park, not far from the Gifford woods. They made no attempt to escape after the shooting, but went to the assistance of the stricken men, driving them to Richmond for assistance.

After Davidson had been sent to the Smith Infirmary at New Brighton and Dunn and Jaycox ministered to by local surgeons the hunters gave themselves up. They were arraigned before Magistrate Marsh at Stapleton charged with felonious assault and held for further examination.

The rabbit season for Staten Island opened to-day, whereupon there was a stampede to the hills and little bushes of timber on the island. Probably five gunners turned out to every rabbit in the borough.

NATIVE CRUELTY DISRUPTED HIS ENGLISH SCHOOL

But Returning Missionary Says He Has Taught East Africans to Sing Hymns.

The White Star liner "Credito" arrived this afternoon from Mediterranean ports. Among the passengers were Rev. F. Robert Bunker, his wife and five children. Although a Mississippian, the Rev. Mr. Bunker has spent seven years among the natives of Portuguese East Africa, the greater part of the time at Betera, in the Zambesi country.

Mr. Bunker tells a tale of persecution by the Mozambique Company, which resorted to all sorts of devices to prevent native children from attending Mr. Bunker's school, where English was taught. A dozen boys were captured and beaten with a stick until their hands swollen to twice their natural size, were left bleeding. This led to the dispersing of the school. Mr. Bunker then started a school in Rhodesia.

All of Mr. Bunker's children were born in Africa. He and some English missionaries adopted Chinians, the native language and set to work rendering hymns and St. Luke's gospel in the native tongue. The natives now sing "Nearer, My God, to Thee," with great fervor.
