SEVENTY-FIRST REGIMENT HAS ATHLETIC COMERS

Walter Grady Has Developed Some Good Performers and Promises to Put Team in Front Rank.

HURDLE RECORD IS SMASHED

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 14.—At the indoor track meet of Company C, Third Regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, last night, F. C. Smithson, of Portland, Ore., representing the Twenty-second Regiment of New York, broke the world's record in the fifty-yard hurdle, for three hurdles, winning from scratch in 6.25 seconds. Scott, of the University of Pennsylvania, was second, and Pelouin, of Villanova, third. The other events were unimportant.

LIVELY MEET FOR 13TH REGIMENT

What should prove the most successful regimental indoor athletic season in the history of the Military Athletic League will be brought to a close in Brooklyn next Saturday evening with the games of the Thirteenth Regiment. The Brooklyn soldiers will celebrate the opening of their new six-lap track on that occasion with a fine athletic programme. An array of well-known athletic stars will come together in the closed events, for such good performers as Harry Hillman, Lawson Robertson, Harvey Cohn, Frank Riley, J. J. Farrell, Billy Van Thun, Hall, Pierce and others will be seen in action. In all probability the best feature of the games will be the one-mile invitation handicap, with a fifty-yard limit, in which Haskins, White, Berker, Bacon, Sullivan, Malone, Frank O'Dell, Carr and Thompson will toe the mark.

DAVID of old with his sling and stone did not deal any more of a shock to the great Goliath than has the Seventy-first Regiment among the military giants of the older parts of the world. Coupled by Walter Grady, the former military distance champion, the Seventy-first boys have "stung" the old K. Twenty-second, Thirtieth and Forty-second regiments repeatedly until today they are most seriously reckoned with at the outset of any M. A. L. race. Six weeks ago second and one-third out of nine starts—that's the Seventy-first's record for the present season. One of these was a M. A. L. championship. At the Sixty-ninth Regiment meet Tom Keen, Bob Eller, Jim McCallill and Leroy Dorland two days ago showed all of the other M. A. L. quarters, and Leroy Dorland's championship title home to the Seventy-first army.

DR. DORLAND took up running at one of the earliest side recreation centers. He has proven a second Hillman in the longer sprints. Sporting the Brazilian cross of the Pastime A. C. last summer, Dorland won after race with bewildering consistency. Finally he landed on scratch, but that was no bar. Dorland won just the same. At the indoor championships last October, Dorland won the 300-yard American championship from men like Sedley, Steve, Bush, Waters and Crockett.

A YOUNGER brother of the famous Peter McCallill, and a good example of the all-around local amateur, McCallill can spring some of the best known and best of the known League stars. He is today one of the finest track runners in New York.

JACK ELLER, ONE of the greatest athletes ever had in New York, is a champion sprinter and a champion hurdler. His family of great athletes is one of the most famous in the world. Eller's one ambition is to win a scratch low-hurdle race.

MALONE, DEVELOPED by the Mohawk Athletic Club of the Bronx, is a natural runner and full of grit. He won the country events, and is known as the best long-distance runner in the Bronx. Malone has run two miles in 10 minutes and 57 seconds. Under Grady's watchful eye he is picking up remarkable speed in the shorter races. Only last Saturday night Malone smashed the Seventy-first Regiment's record for the mile run, and won the heavy marching order race as well. In another year Grady expects to see Malone do 4:30 for the mile.

FRANK WRIGHT, known as one of the greatest runners in military circles. His race in the N. Y. A. C. meet last Tuesday opened the eyes of the form followers to the fact that Sweney is to be read from right along now. As a member of the Pastime A. C. Sweney first came into notice in 1905. The following spring he won both the 440-yard and 880-yard runs at the N. Y. A. C. sports in a romp, and has since been one of the most consistent handicap winners hereabouts.

EDIE SWENEY, known as one of the greatest runners in military circles. His race in the N. Y. A. C. meet last Tuesday opened the eyes of the form followers to the fact that Sweney is to be read from right along now. As a member of the Pastime A. C. Sweney first came into notice in 1905. The following spring he won both the 440-yard and 880-yard runs at the N. Y. A. C. sports in a romp, and has since been one of the most consistent handicap winners hereabouts.

ELsie JANIS, known as one of the greatest runners in military circles. Her race in the N. Y. A. C. meet last Tuesday opened the eyes of the form followers to the fact that Sweney is to be read from right along now. As a member of the Pastime A. C. Sweney first came into notice in 1905. The following spring he won both the 440-yard and 880-yard runs at the N. Y. A. C. sports in a romp, and has since been one of the most consistent handicap winners hereabouts.

No Novices in Bunch. Just because the Seventy-first Regiment is new among the athletic leaders, do not let the impression get abroad that their athletes are all novices. Far from it. Leroy Dorland, former indoor champion of America, Edie Sweney, the Pastime A. C. middle distance flyer, Reherman, the Mohawk A. C. gold medal runner, Bob Eller, the M. A. L. low hurdle champion, Jim McCallill, the crack neck racer, and Joseph Malone, the Bronx two-mile record holder, are some of Grady's headliners. Dorland is one of the fastest long-distance sprinters in New York. He is a loss for sports, however, in the days when he was a Recreation Centre boy. Then he graduated into the Pastime A. C. Dorland's march to the championship class was steady and sure. Race after race fell before his whirlwind dash, until Handicapper O'Brien finally landed Dorland on the post of honor. In his next race, from scratch, a 200-yard at "Citic Park," Dorland made his rivals look like so many tortoises.

Every one who knows his athletic book at all remembers Harry Fitzgerald and who in Seventy-first colors, won many a grueling struggle on the cinder path and cross country. Fitzgerald is out of the regiment now acting as trainer for the Thirteenth Regiment of Brooklyn—but his name still stands on the army record books beside several of the best distance markers. Fitzgerald and Lally, two of the Irish-American cross-country pluggers, bear excellent records in their specialties, and both possess team championship medals they won as members of Pat Conway's hill and dale squad. combination: 23 votes on Friday the 13th. HIS FRIENDS. Mr. Webb is a Maxwell man, and has 44 votes. "Inclosed please find 20 votes for Leonard K. Clark for King. Mr. Clark is General Superintendent of the New York Transportation Company, and is greatly interested in automobile affairs. "H. HOWARD." This makes a total of 460 votes for Mr. Clark. "Inclosed please find 300 votes for L. A. Lessing. Kindly add to his name. Mr. Lessing drives an Autocar.

Gen. Cutting maintains his lead today in the election for King of the Automobile Carnival, though several candidates gained on him, among them Sidney B. Bowman, Apperson car, who has 731 votes, and Samuel M. Butler, secretary of the Automobile Club of America, with 718. Leonard K. Clark, who is general superintendent of the New York Transportation Company, has 460. Joseph Murphy, a brand new candidate, polled 341 votes, and L. A. Lessing, 366. Nathaniel Webb sprang into second place with 321 to his credit. Ernie Young, the youthful treasurer at the Lincoln Square Theatre, was nominated for King today with 126 votes. Miss Rosalind Greacen, the dainty of his police duties, is always thought of as a Seventy-first man, because it was he who first started the idea of the athletic game. Since his advent to the scene, the elder Eller has shown a remarkable improvement in his work. Once Jack was on duty with a "broken car" (instead, which generally comes to every driver sooner or later). A nimble-fingered girl tried some funny work on Eller's beat, and after a few minutes she was on her feet, and she had her hand on the wheel. The trainer looked keen over and stood him up right away as a ringer for Tommy Burke, the great Boston runner. Grady Develops Sprinters. Just now Grady is pulling hard to develop his sprinters. He has a new idea about starting from a rubber mat that sounds good. Grady's invention does away with the risk of pulled tendons, so common among indoor beginners. In Henry Genet the Seventy-first has a sprinter of real championship possibility. The only bar to Genet's success is his dislike for steady training, but when he elects to come out and try he finds no difficulty in keeping pace with the best sprinters in the regiment.

LAST November a lanky youngster came out on "the floor" after drill and said to Grady, "Mr. Grady, I want to learn to run. I'd like to try anything." The trainer looked keen over and stood him up right away as a ringer for Tommy Burke, the great Boston runner. SUTTON IS ANXIOUS FOR MATCH. George Sutton, world's champion at 182 bakline, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, and at once deposited $50 forfeit with the Brunswick-Balke-Comander Company in support of his challenge to the winner of the Schoefer-Hoppe match at 181 bakline, played Thursday night in Chicago, and won by Schoefer.

SEVENTH'S SPRING MEET. The spring games of the Seventh Regiment scheduled for March 28, promises to be one of the most successful meets ever held in the crack New York regiment's armory. The Athletic Committee has invited the best three-mile runners in the district to compete in a special race and has received acceptances from Carr, Frank, Bailey and Muller. George Bonhag will start if his condition is satisfactory a few days before the meet. Paul Pilgrim of the New York A. C. will be on a scratch in the quarter-mile handicap, and will make a desperate bid to change the existing armory

KEYES OUTPOINTS SUMMERS. BERT KEENE, N. Y., March 14.—KEYES outpointed Johnny Summers last night in six rounds before the American A. C. Keyes forced the fighting from the start and twice had the Englishman in distress. Summers' cleverness saved him from a severe beating and the blows he landed had but little effect. Every round was fast, with Keyes forcing his opponent all over the ring. The first two rounds were even. Keyes started to use right and left upper-cuts in the third, when Summers' quick duck to avoid a lead. Several

BOXING BOUTS FOR MONUMENT FUND. The Brown A. A. is the first of the athletic clubs in this city to come to the front to help swell the fund which is being raised to erect a monument in honor of the late Chief Knauer and thousands of other fire heroes who have lost their lives in the performance of their duty.

CANADIAN HOCKEY TEAMS TO PLAY HERE. At the St. Nicholas Rink on Tuesday there will be a hockey game played between the world's champion Montreal Wanderers and the Shamrocks, which should be one of the greatest games of its kind ever witnessed in this vicinity. Negotiations have been on for some time, and just as the rink management had given up all hope of giving New Yorkers a classic game of hockey a telegram was received from Montreal that the Stanley Cup holders and the Shamrocks, also of Montreal, would be here on March 15 for a game.
