

ROSE-SPOONER TICKETS LEAD IN RACE FOR ROYALTY

Yachtsman Has 6,586 Votes for King, Actress 3,625 Votes for Queen.

BUT OTHERS ARE BUSY.

Campaigners Promise Many Votes for Beatrice Morgan—Boys Want Buffalo Bill.

Miss Edna May Spooner heads the list in the balloting for Queen of the coming Automobile Carnival, and has 3,625 votes to her credit to-day.

Mrs. Joan Newton Cuneo, of Richmond Hill, wife of Andrew Cuneo, the New York banker, is second with 2,364.

Elsie Janis third with 2,245, and Rosalind Greacen fourth with 1,681.

Miss Beatrice Morgan, the "Gle" of the Golden West, at the Harlem Opera House, has in three days polled 1,592 votes, most of them cast by Harlem admirers in the ballot box in the foyer of the theatre, and she is fifth in the race.

Miss Joan Grae has 906, Eva Tanguay 453 and "Corinne" 351. Edna May Spooner, who is making a determined fight to win, was agreeably surprised yesterday when Julie J. Bracken, an enthusiastic Brooklyn admirer, living at No. 33 Bergen street, presented her with 1,200 ballots clipped from The Evening World.

Clinton is crowding Rose. It is a neck-and-neck race for the kingly crown to-day between Commodore A. N. Rose, who drives a Corbin car, and Francis Wright Clinton, president of the Danbury Hat Company, who owns a Cadillac.

Francis Wright Clinton was "born in a hat box," figuratively speaking. He was apprenticed to a hatter when a boy and served his time at the bench.

Henry M. Duncan, of the Acme car, B. Brewster & Co., has been selected to act as treasurer at the automobile carnival banquet of the Fairweather Club, George J. Scott, Jackson and Guide cars, president; John Sherwin Crosby and Creswell McLaughlin, editor of "The Schoolmaster," will make speeches. The banquet will be given at the Hotel Cumberland on April 1.

Applications for space in the parade have begun to pour in on Grand Marshal R. G. Howell. It is estimated that in the commercial vehicle section alone there will be in the neighborhood of 1,000 cars. Counting five cars to the city block, this section will cover 200 blocks.

The committee on transportation has been actively at work with the railroads entering New York. Special low rates, it is expected, will be granted during the week.

Listen to the Campaigners. Letters to the Carnival Editor boom the candidates. Here are some samples:

"I enclose you will find ten votes for Mrs. Joan Cuneo, the most darling woman in New York, for queen of your automobile contest. Respectfully, 'CHAS. SIGLIOTTI'."

"I enclose find five votes for Miss Ada Meyers, MORTON S. DE LANCEY."

"I enclose find thirteen votes for Mrs. Joan Cuneo for Queen. Wish her good luck and hope she will be elected. 'CHAS. SIGLIOTTI'."

Two Crates of Votes for Miss Morgan. "Please credit the inclosed votes to Miss Beatrice Morgan, Harlem's favorite actress. If good wishes count for anything, this dainty little lady is already 'Queen of the Carnival.' We have two crates of votes, which will reach your office in a few days via Adams Express, the count of which will stagger you. L. H. P."

"I enclose find two votes for Beatrice Morgan. I can, if I may, send a list of names of persons who are very anxious to vote for our Harlem favorite. MISS J. CASSEUR."

"I enclose please find several votes for Mrs. Sadie Anderson. The name should be published as Mrs. Leo Anderson. She is being boomed by a number of Harlem clubs, and I believe votes will be forwarded soon. 'S. R. ELLIOTT'."

"Us Boys Want Buffalo Bill." "My ma gave me five cents to spend. I am going to get a stamp with two cents and three words on it. I want to vote for Buffalo Bill for king. Us boys want him. Thank you in advance. 'JOHN'."

"I enclose find forty votes for 'Corinne.' She is our favorite for queen, and she ought to win by 5,000. We hope she will help her. 'THE BOYS'."

"I enclose find 75 votes for F. W. Clinton, President of the Danbury Hat Company, from the Danbury Business Men's Association, Danbury, Conn."

"I enclose you will find fifty votes for John Craig, Harlem Open House, for King of the Auto Carnival. 'L. M. SNYDER'."

Adds 530 to Lessing's Vote. "Kindly add 530 votes to L. A. Lessing's already big showing, and say through The Evening World that he asks the hearty cooperation of his friends throughout the country."

"I enclose please find votes for James Larkin, manager of the New York repair and storage station of West Sixty-fifth street. Kindly credit these to him. 'CLUB GILLS'."

"I enclose find twelve votes for William A. Norton, Harlem's favorite actor, from his 'CLUB GILLS'."

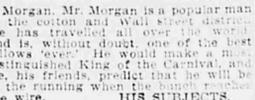

Three Candidates for Crowns In Auto Carnival Election

EDNA MAY SPOONER

FRANCIS WRIGHT CLINTON PRES DANBURY HAT CO

A. G. SOUTHWORTH POPE HARTFORD AND MATHESON CAR

Mr. Morgan is a popular man in the cotton and wool street district. He has traveled all over the world, and is, without doubt, one of the best fellows "ever." He would make a most distinguished King of the Carnival, and we, his friends, predict that he will be in the running when the candidates meet the wire.

Henry M. Duncan, of the Acme car, B. Brewster & Co., has been selected to act as treasurer at the automobile carnival banquet of the Fairweather Club, George J. Scott, Jackson and Guide cars, president; John Sherwin Crosby and Creswell McLaughlin, editor of "The Schoolmaster," will make speeches. The banquet will be given at the Hotel Cumberland on April 1.

A contest has been raised over the will of the late Henry J. Garner, who died at No. 170 Lyman place, borough of the Bronx, in last October, leaving an estate of $20,000 to his wife, Elizabeth M. Garner. Garner was a harness-maker and speculated successfully in real estate.

The suit went on before Surrogate Boeckert to-day. Relatives seek to show that there was no legal marriage between Garner and the eponymous name in the will. Seven children are named in the will—two sons, two daughters, two adopted daughters and one son-in-law. Five of the children appeared in court yesterday.

Oven Monks testified he had always understood that Garner had married Mrs. Garner in New Jersey. Edward J. H. Brown, Public Prosecutor for Ocean County, N. J., testified similarly.

DOG BITES MANY CHILDREN AT PLAY

Mad Brute Savagely Attacks Groups of Schoolgirls in South Brooklyn.

Attacked suddenly and savagely while at their play, a dozen or more children were bitten by a mad dog yesterday at Fifth street and Fourth avenue South Brooklyn. The police got the names of but four of the victims. The others had fled to their homes in a panic. They were: Frances Harris, aged ten, of No. 551 Sixty-fifth street; Margaret Henning, aged twelve, of Fifty-eighth street and Third avenue;

Laura Burke, aged ten, of No. 634 Third avenue, and Mary Johnson, of No. 245 Fifty-fourth street. The animal, a stray bull terrier, frothing at the mouth, dashed in among the children as they were coming out of Public School No. 118. It leaped upon the Harris child and tore her cheek; then sprang on Margaret Henning and bit her on the right arm, and also nearly tore her clothes off in its fury. The savage brute next attacked the Norwegian girl, tearing her right arm with its teeth. Mary Johnson's chin and neck were rent by the dog, which then turned right and left in the crowd of children, biting one after another. They fled, screaming in all directions. Patrolman Henry Haverkamp ran in among the terror-stricken children and saved the dog. The four little ones named had their wounds cauterized by Ambulance Surgeon Spelman, of the Norwegian Hospital. The police said ten or twelve others were bitten.
