

aging testimony against Dr. Simpson, openly doing their best to send him to the chair.

The killing of Horner, who was wealthy, occurred in the kitchen of the Horner homestead. The gun which slew him was in the hands of Dr. Simpson when it went off.

During the trial the State attempted to show a motive for murder in the fact that two days after the date of the shooting Horner meant to go to the office of Lawyer Rowland Miles to draw up a new will.

Saved Wife in Flood. Simpson was a Virginian, who went to Texas as a very young man.

Only Witness Crazy. The shooting in the kitchen occurred Dec. 27, 1905. Simpson's defense was that he had been going through the manual of arms when a forgotten cartridge exploded.

Acquitted by Jury. Bitterness developed between the lawyers. Every inch of progress in the case was marked by rancor and venom.

MERCURY CLIMBS TO 90, SHOWERS DUE TO-NIGHT

Nearly as Hot as Yesterday, but Humidity Drop Makes It Seem Cooler.

FARMERS WANT RAIN.

Many Forest Fires on Long Island Due to the Continued Drought.

THE TEMPERATURE.

Table with 2 columns: Time (7 A.M., 8 A.M., 9 A.M., 10 A.M., 11 A.M., 12 A.M., 1 P.M., 2 P.M., 3 P.M., 4 P.M., 5 P.M.) and Temperature (75, 77, 78, 81, 85, 80, 88, 88, 80, 80, 89).

PROSTRATIONS.

BRADY, SUSAN, twenty-three, No. 118 West One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street; taken from Mount Morris Park to Harlem Hospital.

HAMILTON, JOHN, thirty-seven, No. 58 West Forty-ninth street, at Forty-ninth street and the East River. Removed to Flower Hospital.

LOUGHER, PAUL, twenty-eight years old, No. 640 Minerva avenue, Chicago, at Broadway and Twenty-eighth street.

SCHNEIDER, OTTO, forty, of No. 29 East Third street, at his home.

FIANNING, Mrs. MARY, eighty-six years old, No. 88 Broome street, at No. 826 Broadway; taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

Although there was nothing like a duplication of yesterday's humidity and stifling atmosphere to-day, yet after the sun had reached the zenith the fluid in the official weather tubes began to register uncomfortable torridity.

The morning was delightfully cool by comparison with the record breaking heat of Sunday, but at 10 o'clock the Government silver got up to 81, which is a trifle warm, and at 11 o'clock had ascended to 81. There was still a brisk westerly breeze, but its cooling currents did not keep the cumulative heat of the sun from parboiling the mercury.

At 12 o'clock the official forecaster noted that it was 80 in his lofty conning tower atop the American State Building, and again at 1 o'clock it had mounted to 83, which is 10 degrees cooler than the record heat of yesterday.

Still those who suffered Sunday afternoon were oppressed by the additional weight of humidity. It ranged twenty-four hours ago from 80 to 80, at 1 o'clock this afternoon it was only 83 per cent.

Furthermore, we should feel cooler in the prediction that to-night or tomorrow morning will bring showers and a decline in the temperature that will make the blood corpuscles jump.

Showers to the Long Island farmers now seems mighty shabby comfort. Latterly our scheduled showers have amounted to nothing more than a dampening. What is needed in the agricultural centres is a heavy wetting.

As the official figures stand, snow may there have been only one-tenth of the normal precipitation of rain. In the crop raising sections of Long Island there has been nothing that can honestly be called rain for forty days.

During the past few weeks the dried up timber has been catching fire, and many unwatered meadows have been swept by flames.

The same may be said of the up-State regions where both fruit and vegetables are ripening so rapidly and the undergrowth drying to tinder.

ATTACK ON PORTO CORTEZ BY REVOLUTIONISTS NEAR. Lee Christmas is reported within a few hours' distance with a revolutionary force. Another force is on a small island eighteen miles away.

American Athletes Gain Early Honors in Olympic Contests

J. P. Sullivan, of the Irish-American A. C. of New York, was the American who sent the first flag up when he flashed across the finish line in the first heat of the 1500 metre event a winner over J. D. Lightbody, of the Chicago Athletic Association.

An incident which is causing much talk is the failure of the Olympic committee to have either the American or Swedish flags displayed in the Stadium.

The Americans remedied this omission somewhat by many spectators getting out their own Stars and Stripes, but Sweden, although Crown Prince Gustav Adolph was present, was represented by the single flag carried by that nation's athletes.

It has always been the custom in the Olympic games to denote the winners of events by holding the flags of the country they represent, and glad some American cheers broke out from all parts of the immense stadium and from Uncle Sam's athletes gathered in the inclosure when the first blood of the meeting went to Americans.

Sheppard Makes Record. It was renewed in the second heat of the same event when Melvin Sheppard, of the Irish American A. C., again sent the Stars and Stripes aloft, while J. P. Halstead, of the New York Athletic Club, put them up on the pole denoting second place.

Sheppard's time in his heat was 4:06, clipping two-fifths of a second off the record made by Lightbody in the St. Louis Olympic games of 1904.

Butterfield, the former mile champion of England, was third in this event. Sullivan won his heat easily, but Sheppard and Halstead fought it out right up to the finish.

Charles M. Daniels, of the New York Athletic Club, although entered in the four-hundred metres swim, did not start, having decided to reserve himself for the shorter distances.

L. Budd Goodwin, of the New York Athletic Club, was the only other American entered, but he was unplaced.

The other event of the day was the four-hundred metres bicycle race of 2000 metres, and though some of the Americans were entered in this event, none of them reached the scratch.

1500-Metre Run Is First. At the last moment a change was made in the order of the events which were to follow the formal opening. The first and second heats of the 1500 metre run were placed first, and the both J. D. Lightbody, of the Chicago Athletic Association, and J. P. Sullivan, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, were drawn in the first and Melvin W. Sheppard, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, and J. P. Halstead, of the New York Athletic Club, in the second heats respectively, and in fact there will be two Americans in most of the eight heats of this event to be swum.

In the 400 metres (487.2 yards) swimming event, which is second on the programme, L. Budd Goodwin, New York Athletic Club, was drawn in the first; Harry J. Heber, Illinois Athletic Club second; C. M. Daniels, New York Athletic Club, in the third heat.

Will Protest Longboat. The big events to be contested tomorrow in which Americans are interested are the hammer throwing contest, the final of the 1500 metres run and the preliminary heats of the three mile run.

The Americans have decided to formally protest against the eligibility of Tom Longboat, the Canadian Indian runner, but if the Olympic Games committee should decide to allow him to run they will abide by that decision, so as not to interfere in any way with the success of the meet.

The Americans were unfortunate in the first heat of the 1500-metre run when two of their best men at the distance had to start against each other, and these same conditions prevailed in the second heat when J. P. Halstead, of the New York Athletic Club, was beaten by his team partner, Melvin W. Sheppard by half a yard.

In state from Buckingham Palace. Lord Desborough, chairman of the Council of the British Olympic Association, welcomed their majesties at the entrance to the Stadium and presented the members of the International Olympic Council.

As the King entered the royal box a bugler gave a signal, the gates leading to the competitors' quarters flew open and the athletes marched out under the banners of their respective nations.

Garrets Leads Americans. The procession was formed in alphabetical order, Austria leading, with the exception that the English speaking athletes came last.

Sweden came next in size with 130 and then Hungary with 114 men. The Americans would have had the next largest army with 148, but Trainer Murphy refused to allow all the men to come up for the ceremony, insisting that they remain at their quarters at Brighton until called on for more serious work.

In the 1500-metre run only the winners of heats run again, and the fact that Sheppard and Halstead entered in the same heat is considered unfortunate for America, as it is believed that they have the best chance among the Americans for winning the race and it puts them out of the probability of taking second place.

King Opens Games. The athletes having taken up positions facing the royal box, the Americans in the centre, flanked by the Canadians and the Englishmen, Lord Desborough marched up with members of the executive committee and said: "With Your Majesty's gracious declaration the Olympic games opened."

At the completion of the ceremony cheering broke out from all parts of the stadium. After the demonstration had been down the athletes gave three cheers for His Majesty and then marched past the royal box.

The men made a splendid appearance, though unfortunately the weather prevented all of the competitors from coming out in athletic costumes. The Americans were among those who wore street clothes, but even thus attracted the eyes of the men evoked much favorable comment.

Ralph Rose, of the Olympic Club, San Francisco, and Lee J. Delaney, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, and the other giants of the team towering above a majority of those whom they are to meet.

Only fifty members of the American team were in the parade and this contingent appeared small beside those teams representing the United Kingdom and some of the continental countries, but nevertheless their reception was most enthusiastic as large groups of Americans had reserved sections of the stand, and when the team passed cheered and waved the Stars and Stripes.

When the city of London awoke this morning it seemed as though the English climate, which was the morning of the sports held earlier so kind to the sports held earlier in the year, was trying to show the two thousand athletes assembled here that it could be, but just as King Edward entered his richly decorated box the sun came out and the athletes came marching into the arena in a glory of sunshine.

The past fortnight of unsettled weather, which has been a terror to the visitors who have been trying to get in the best form for the great physical efforts they are to make during the next two weeks, was followed this morning by a downpour of rain which threatened for a time to make necessary the postponement of the opening of the Stadium at Sheppard's Basin. Temporary shelters, however, were quickly erected to minimize the effects of the storm.

At the time previously fixed the inauguration of the Olympic games was carried out according to programme.

Royal Guests Arrive. Shortly after 3 o'clock in the afternoon the royal box, which had been fitted up for the accommodation of forty persons, commenced to fill up, and early arrivals including the Crown Princess and the Crown Princess of Sweden and their children, the Crown Prince and the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and the Duke and Duchess of Argyll.

A short time afterward the playing of the national anthem by a band of the Grenadier Guards announced the arrival of King Edward, Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria, with their suites, who had been driven

BISHOP POTTER GAINS HOPE FOR HIS RECOVERY.

COOPERS-TOWN, July 12.—Bishop Henry C. Potter passed a comfortable night despite the heat, and to-day hope was expressed at Forthright for his ultimate recovery.

The Bishop's condition was all that could be expected. Bishop Potter's physicians said his condition showed some improvement this afternoon.
