RULE BY THE PEOPLE BRYAN'S SLOGAN IN PRESIDENTIAL FIGHT

In Response to Notification, Democratic Nominee Charges Republican Party With Turning the Government Over to Representatives of Predatory Wealth.

(Special to The Evening World.)

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 12.—The greatest crowd Lincoln has ever entertained assembled here to-day to see and hear William Jennings Bryan formally notified of his third nomination for the Presidency. The affair was strictly non-partisan, up to the actual notification ceremony.

Gov. Sheldon, the Republican executive, and other Republican State officials attended a luncheon at noon at the Lincoln Hotel given by the Committee on Arrangements to Mr. Bryan, Vice-Presidential Candidate John W. Kern and the Notification Committee.

RODE TO THE STATE CAPITOL.

Mr. Bryan and Mr. Kern, who spent the night at Fairview, rode into town in an automobile shortly before noon. After the luncheon the candidates, the Notification Committee and the distinguished guests, with a mounted escort and bands of music, rode in carriages from the hotel to the Capitol grounds in the heart of the city, where the notification speeches were made in the presence of a vast audience at 2 o'clock. Gov. Sheldon rode in the first carriage with Mayor Brown, of Lincoln, a Democrat.

Chairman Norman E. Mack, of the National Committee, opened the proceedings by introducing Representative Henry N. Clayton, of Alabama. Mr. Clayton's speech of formal notification was short. When Mr. Bryan stepped to the front of the platform to reply he was accorded a tremendous ovation.

Mr. Bryan's speech of acceptance is regarded by the politicians who heard it as his ablest effort since his "Cross of Gold" speech in Chicago in 1896. He was never better voiced and gave each of his points all the oratorical effect possible.

Taking as his text the question "Shall the people rule?" Mr. Bryan laid down the general proposition that all the abuses in the Federal Government have grown up under Republican auspices.

He confined himself to these declarations:

"That the Republican party is controlled by predatory wealth and is impotent to accomplish needed reforms. That the House of Representatives, through the rule placing all power in the hands of the Speaker, is simply an instrument in the exercise of this control."

"That the United States Senate as at present constituted, made up in part of men elected through great corporate wealth and in part of men elected to thwart the will of the people, even though the President may have a popular demand and the House may yield to public opinion."

Mr. Bryan promised, if elected, to call an extraordinary session of Congress immediately after inauguration and ask, among other things, for the fulfillment of the platform pledge demanding the election of United States Senators by popular vote.

He paid his respects to Mr. Taft, whom he accused of apologizing for the Republican platform.

He reviewed the action of the Republican Convention in turning down various reform measures and devoted some attention to the matter of publicity of campaign contributions.

Mr. Bryan's Speech. The speech in full follows: Mr. Clayton and Gentlemen of the Notification Committee:

I cannot accept the nomination which you officially tender without first acknowledging my deep indebtedness to the Democratic party for the extraordinary honor which it has conferred upon me. Having twice before been a candidate for the Presidency in campaigns which ended in defeat, a third nomination, the result of the free and voluntary act of the voters of the party, can only be explained by a substantial and undiminished growth in the principles and policies for which I, with a multitude of others, have contended. As these principles and policies have given me whatever political strength I possess, the action of the convention not only renews my faith in them, but strengthens my attachment to them.

MAGISTRATE'S PUNCH KNOCKS DOWN "HOLY ROLLER" IN THE COURTROOM

Disciple of Freak Sect Starts Attack on Higginbotham, and Is Promptly Hit Hard by Vigorous Opponent.

"BISHOP" ROBINSON SAYS THE JUDGE KISSED HER.

Scored From Bench, She Refuses to Retract Statement and Is Held in Contempt, as Well as for Keeping Disorderly House—Witness Describes "Drawing the Dragon."

One knockdown, in which Magistrate Higginbotham's strong right arm figured, a small riot and panic in the courtroom and the arraignment of High Priestess Elizabeth Robinson for criminal contempt, marked the hearing this afternoon of the case against the thirty-two men and women Holy Rollers in the New Bedford Avenue Court.

When Magistrate Higginbotham left the bench, after holding all the Holy Rollers for trial, Howard Dunwiddie, one of the sect, stopped him in the courtroom and tried to talk to him.

"I will have nothing to do with you," said Magistrate Higginbotham, as he tried to pass by to his private office. "I know what you are."

Dunwiddie struck at the Magistrate, the blow landing on Higginbotham's shoulder. The latter's right arm shot out, and his fist landed on Dunwiddie's jaw. The Holy Roller staggered back ten feet and fell.

In an instant the courtroom was in a panic and the police caught Dunwiddie and subdued those who ran to his rescue.

"Bishop" Said, "Judge Kissed Her." Magistrate Higginbotham returned to the bench and held Dunwiddie in $1,000 bail for assault.

The Rev. Malachuk couldn't tell all this in very plain English, but he illustrated much of it, especially the atrocious movements of the dancing sisters, and the Magistrate had to caution him not to be too dramatic.

The three policemen told of the raid, and said that they had practically the same scenes described by the Rev. Malachuk.

Then Miss Robinson took the stand in her own behalf. She was mighty eager to testify and snapped her answers angrily at Assistant District Attorney Malachuk every time he asked her a question. She is of middle age, not possessing in appearance, and was dressed plainly.

Says Lord Ordered It. "We formed that order because the Law told us to do so," she said. "He gave us the right to worship in our own way, and no man has any right to dictate to us."

"Was it your idea to take off most of your clothes when you worshipped?" she was asked.

"No, she didn't," the "bishop" said. She wouldn't tell anything about that unique ceremony, saying it was a secret. She said every time he asked her a question, she was a sealer, a prophetess, and that at some of the meetings there was a congregation of sixty.

KICK PHOTOGRAPHER IN CITY HALL PARK. E. C. Reisher, a photographer for the Municipal Research Society, was sent today to the Manhattan end of the Brooklyn Bridge to take some pictures. He was told particularly to take the bridge extension in City Hall Park.

MADDEN'S EDWARD WINS $8,200 STAKE AT SPA

BY VINCENT TREFANOR.

(Special to The Evening World.)

SARATOGA RACE TRACK, Aug. 12.—John E. Madden is surely the wizard of the turf, and he is traveling in great luck just now. This afternoon he took down $8,200, the value of the Grand Union Hotel Stakes. Edward was the winner, with Bobbin second and Lady Hubbard a good third.

The result might have been changed if the hot favorite, Helmet, had not been left at the post. When the barrier went up Helmet was flat-footed, and before he could get going the field was fifteen lengths in front of him. There was no use persevering with the colt after that, and Notter just galloped behind.

Strike Out Makes Pace. Strike Out went out as usual to make a hot pace, and it must be said she held on longer than usual. Some day she will forget to stop and win at a good price. Shilling lay second with Edward and Bobbin lapped on him. Strike Out struck it out in front until they had rounded the stretch turn. Here she began to stop and Edward drew away with Bobbin. They fought it out all the way home, and the superiority of Shilling over Sweet was apparent.

Sweet was of little use to the Whitney colt, which ran a good race. Lady Hubbard never was far behind, and was a good third at the end. The finish was thrilling, the crowd shouting and cheering the horses and jockeys. Madden was congratulated on all sides. Sheriff Bradley and his deputies were at the track this afternoon as usual. He says the charges laid with the Governor will not change his tactics in the least. He says the law as laid down by Justice Black's decision is not being violated here, and unless it is he sees no reason for the making of unnecessary arrests. The Sheriff has made himself popular with the Saratogians by his stand, and he would figure a good thing in the betting if he comes before the voters of the country in a local election.

Whip Top Badly Beaten. Whip Top was a beautiful favorite. Away last, she couldn't improve her position at any time except in the stretch, where she closed some. Sue didn't finish in the money, however. Madden's Queen Led under the pace to the stretch and then stopped to let the rest of the way. Frances Ray, who was slow to get going and lengths out

MAN'S BODY WITH BULLET IN HEAD FOUND IN PARK

Nothing in Brooklyn Suicide's Pocket to Help Establish His Identity.

A well-dressed man of about thirty-five shot himself in the head this afternoon on Lookout Hill, Prospect Park. No one saw him commit suicide and he had been dead for some little time when Policeman Harry J. Farrell found the body.

The dead man lay at the base of the monument that marks the spot where Maryland volunteers fell in the battle of Long Island. A revolver was found a few feet away.

The suicide was five feet, eight inches tall, dark skinned and had black hair and mustache. He wore a black sack suit, a white shirt and blue tie, soft black hat and black, low shoes. There was no paper of any sort in his pockets. The body was removed to the Brooklyn Morgue.
