

TRIAL OF HAINS BROTHERS DOWN FOR OCTOBER

Justice Garretson Probably to Preside and There Will Be No Delay.

LUNACY BOARD MAY ACT

District Attorney May Seek to Formally Establish Army Captain's Sanity.

District Attorney Darrin, of Queens County, is hopeful of placing Capt. Peter C. Hains and T. Jenkins Hains on trial for the killing of William E. Annis during the first week in October.

Gov. Hughes, in a letter received by the District Attorney to-day, promised to name a special judge to empanel a Grand Jury as soon as one can be found who has the leisure.

The persistent and circumstantial claims of counsel for the defense that Capt. Hains is insane may result in the District Attorney taking an unusual course of procedure.

The District Attorney will hold a conference with District Attorney Jerome on Monday.

His Assets $175, While Creditors Who Figured in Wife's Affairs Have Big Claims.

MRS. CHADWICK'S HUSBAND FILES BANKRUPTCY PLEA

CLEVELAND, Aug. 27.—In the United States Court to-day Dr. Leroy S. Chadwick, husband of Cassie L. Chadwick, filed a bankruptcy petition.

Among the creditors are Herbert W. Newton, Brookline, Mass., who started the suit against Mrs. Chadwick which resulted in the exposure of her operations.

Mr. Green keeps a painter's shop in the basement. Edward Carl, who works for him, was sunning himself this afternoon when he smelled, and also saw, smoke coming from the cellar.

As the engines were about to return to their houses another alarm came in from No. 96 West Ninety-second street.

Flames were rekindled and a dash was made up the avenue. Here it was found that the apartments of Albert Pratt, who is away with his family, were on fire.

Help Wanted To Day!

As Advertised for in The Morning World's Want Directory.

EX-GRAND JUROR NABBED AS THIEF IN DRUG STORE

Says He Found Door Open, and Was Calling Police by Phone.

Sad is the story of Alex Allison, former Grand Jurymen, who started to call the police, but instead got called by the police, while he was shut up in a telephone booth.

Mr. Allison is a young man of dignified appearance and manner—so dignified that his appearance in the Fifth Avenue Police Court, Brooklyn, to-day on a charge of attempted burglary was a great surprise to the Magistrate and all around him.

Policeman Worst was around trying door knobs in Ninth avenue, Brooklyn, Tuesday night, and when he came to Mrs. Cecilia Ballard's pharmacy the door opened and he was walking in.

"Ah! burglars!" he thought, and gave the place a search, but found none. Then he roused Mrs. Ballard, and she with the policeman at her heels gave another search.

"Here he is," she cried, "he's in there! Come out, you!" and reaching in she grabbed the luckless Mr. Allison and drew him out by the ear.

"It's very easily explained, madam," said Mr. Allison, with dignity, "and I am sure you will thank me when I have finished. I was passing your establishment a few minutes ago when I noticed the door open."

"But," he continued, "I could not see any one, and thinking my search had not been thorough and that the police could search better than I, I entered the telephone booth and was just calling the station when you so abruptly interrupted me."

"Abruptly interrupted your grand-mother!" cried Mrs. Ballard. "You've probably got your pockets full of scented soap and soda water checks! I insist on your arrest," and away he went to the station with Policeman Worst.

Allison's father is John W. Allison, a well-to-do carpenter and builder, who lives at the address given by his son. He has owned the house for twenty-three years and has an excellent reputation in the neighborhood.

JANITOR STARTED FIRE IN TENEMENT

Cool Weather Caused It and Great Excitement Quickly Followed.

The sudden drop in the thermometer caused the janitor of the six-story tenement house at No. 581 Columbus avenue to build a fire in the furnace to-day.

Mr. Green keeps a painter's shop in the basement. Edward Carl, who works for him, was sunning himself this afternoon when he smelled, and also saw, smoke coming from the cellar.

As the engines were about to return to their houses another alarm came in from No. 96 West Ninety-second street.

F. P. EARLE, WEARY OF "MARTYRDOM," GETS OUT ON $1,000 BAIL.

his wife standing on her feet, crying and sobbing violently, and that defendant protested against such conduct and told Early that it was injurious to the mother and child.

The Child Can Wait. "That defendant said to Earle that it was time for his wife to return in order to nurse the child, and it was already ten minutes past time, and Earle replied, I don't care. The child can wait until it is ten months past its time, this thing has got to be settled, and that during the whole period of one and one-half hours Earle kept his wife standing and that during that time defendant distinctly heard said defendant Earle strike or slap his wife, and that on the next morning Mrs. Earle complained that owing to the blows and slaps on her back she was the result of blows which her husband had struck her."

TRANSFERS MAY BE FEASIBLE, ADMITS ROOT

Manager of Metropolitan Lines Questioned at Fifty-Ninth Street Hearing.

RECEIVERS PROTESTING.

Tell Public Service Board They Have No Power to Enforce Joint Rate.

Oren Root, general manager of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, to-day admitted at the hearing before the Public Service Board that it might be possible for the Metropolitan and Fifty-ninth street roads to arrive at a transfer arrangement which would give each company a profit.

The Metropolitan receivers had entered a protest, declaring that the Board had no power to enforce a joint rate of fare.

The officials of the two companies failed to obey the Board's order to get together and fix a rate, and the hearing to-day was preliminary to a final order fixing the rate for them and carrying a penalty of $5,000 a day if disobeyed.

The hearing began at 10:30 o'clock with Commissioner Eustis presiding and Commissioners McCasroll and Malbie sitting with him.

After O. C. Semple, counsel for the Commission, had outlined the purpose of the investigation, Mr. Millbank arose and read a protest against the action of the Commission.

"The counsel for the receivers," he said, "appear and object to any action by the Commission to establish joint rates, on the ground that it has no power or jurisdiction under the law. Subject to this protest, however, the receivers are ready to furnish all the information and witnesses that the Commission desires."

Mr. Millbank concluded Commissioner Eustis asked: "Where do you get your law?" "It is a statement of the position of the receivers."

Commissioner Malbie asked if the receivers were acting under orders of Judge Lacombe.

Mr. Millbank quickly stated that Judge Lacombe had only advised the receivers along general lines, but that they were largely guided by his decisions.

"We are acting under orders of the receivers," he said in conclusion.

Mr. Root testified that there had been a material increase in the receipts of the Metropolitan since the cutting out of transfers on Fifty-ninth street.

Mr. Root said that he was present at the conference between the receivers and the Central Park Company.

REARDON IN NEW ROLE IN POLICE COURT TO-DAY.

Former Jerome Detective Arraigned Four Bartenders for Retailing Bottles With Inferior Brands.

The fact that Edward Reardon, at one time Jerome-Attorney Jerome's chief adviser, had several of the officers who were indicted in the Jerome case, was made known to-day when Reardon appeared in the Police Court to-day on a charge of retailing inferior bottles of liquor with inferior brands.

EVENING WORLD RICE CHART ELEVENTH DAY AT EMPIRE CITY.

Weather Cloudy. Aug. 27. Track Heavy.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

Table with columns: Race, Start, Winner, Time, etc. for various horse races.

TROOPS TO STOP LIQUOR SELLING IN ATLANTIC CITY

Gov. Fort Threatens Martial Law to Put an End to "Wide Open" Sundays.

SEAGIRT, N. J., Aug. 27.—In a startling public proclamation issued to-day from the summer capital Gov. Fort declares that unless the excise law is observed in Atlantic City, which he calls a "natural law of vice," next Sunday, and all saloons and cafes closed tightly, he will call an extraordinary session of the Legislature and may send the New Jersey State troops to the famous resort, declaring the city to be under martial law.

The Governor says he can see but one or two things to do under the circumstances. First, call out the militia and police of Atlantic City and declare the resort to be under martial law. This would require an appropriation by the Legislature.

Second, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Third, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Fourth, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Fifth, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Sixth, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Seventh, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Eighth, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Ninth, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Tenth, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Eleventh, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Twelfth, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Thirteenth, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Fourteenth, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Fifteenth, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Sixteenth, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Seventeenth, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Eighteenth, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Nineteenth, he will ask a special session of the Legislature to enact special legislation authorizing him to appoint a disinterested commission to take charge of the affairs of Atlantic City. He also wants a law authorizing him to remove officers after a hearing for failure to perform or who willfully refuse to do their duty.

Official Voting Coupon. This Coupon Entitles the Holder to Cast One Vote for the Most Popular Man in Greater New York, or One Vote for the Most Beautiful Woman, Who, on Sept. 14, 1908, at the MARDI GRAS FESTIVAL AT CONEY ISLAND, Will Be Crowned KING AND QUEEN of the Carnival of the Age of Progress Week of Sept. 14.

I vote for.....for King (or Queen) Contest Closes 12 Noon Sept. 10, 1908.

Mail VOTES TO EVENING WORLD MARDI GRAS EDITOR, P. O. BOX 408, 408 E. 140TH ST., UPTOWN, 1308 BROADWAY, HARLEM, 249 W. 125TH ST., BROOKLYN, 202 WASHINGTON ST., AND FULLERTON BUILDING, PARK ROW, N. Y.

WOMAN FELL DEAD AFTER HOT BATTLE

Police Say She Had Gun and Had Planned to Kill Neighbor.

After participating in an assault which the police say was planned to be a murder, Mrs. Roma Vanelia, forty-five years old, of No. 206 East Sixty-seventh street, to-day ran from the hallway of No. 212 East Forty-fourth street across the roof to No. 206, where she fell dead. She carried a satchel in which was a loaded .32-caliber revolver.

The assault took place in the hallway, but terminated when the victims cried attracted the tenants of the house. The woman who was attacked was Mrs. Michael Perzio, of No. 194 First avenue. She was badly beaten, receiving two black eyes and scratches about the face. Her clothing was badly torn.

Mrs. Rose Stiel, who lives on the third floor of the tenement-house at No. 206 East Forty-fourth street, went out to do some shopping, and when she returned a woman ran into her. The woman fell on her shoulder, exclaiming, "Help me, help me." Mrs. Stiel helped the woman into her apartments and gave her some water and salt. She then summoned Dr. Lane, of Flower Hospital. When the surgeon arrived the woman was dead.

Detective Ross learned that Mrs. Michael Perzio had gone to Mrs. Sanza to collect a bill, and while she was going down the stairs she was assaulted by three women. The woman told of how she had been assaulted and gave the detectives the names of the women whom she had met in the hallway and who had beaten her.

Following up the various stories and clues, Ross learned that there had been some ill-feeling between Mrs. Perzio and a woman living in an adjoining house for some time. The woman learned that Mrs. Perzio was going to the address in East Forty-fourth street and she got her daughter and the Vanelia woman to go to the house and wait in the hallway. The three went down the police say, and when Mrs. Perzio started down the stairs they attacked her.

The police say murder was intended. The hallway was dark and they think that the woman who afterward dropped dead did not have the opportunity to draw the revolver which was found in the satchel.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 27.—Gov. Fort's startling proclamation to-day created a sensation here. His drastic attitude on the subject of violation of the law was the sole topic of conversation everywhere.

The Grand Jury at May's Landing returned three indictments against alleged gamblers, but none against ex-cop violators at Atlantic City, shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Justice Trenchard severely reprimanded the members of the jury, declaring that he had been informed by Assistant District Attorney Gaskill that there was sufficient evidence to warrant indictments against ex-cop violators.

ONLY SHERIDAN ABSENT FROM ATHLETES' DINNER Many Theatrical Folk to Be Present at Banquet Tendered Victors by Paul Henkel.

For the first time since their return all the members of the victorious American team of athletes sent to the Olympic games—with the exception of Martin Sheridan, who is still in Europe—will sit together at table Saturday night when they are entertained at a banquet.

The host is Paul Henkel, a member of the reception committee, and an elaborate menu will be served at Keen's chop house, in West Thirty-sixth street. James E. Sullivan will be master of ceremonies and there will be a programme of short speeches. A good many stage folk will be present. Among them are George M. Cohan, Clifton Crawford, Tom Ryan and June McCree.

The formation of the parade Saturday afternoon will be at Forty-sixth street and Broadway. There will participate 1700 patrolmen, 30 lieutenants and 62 sergeants. The line of march will be from Forty-sixth street and Broadway to Thirty-sixth street, to Fifth avenue, to Twenty-third street, to Broadway, to University place, to Thirtieth street, thence to the west side of Broadway to City Hall Park.

THEY CALLED HER HAPPY MARY They called her Happy Mary Because she sang a ditty While working in homes here and there in all parts of the city.

The reason for her joy is plain—Through World Want Ads. she found "Good 'Day's Work" jobs that paid her well. All of the long year 'round.

IF THERE'S WORK TO BE HAD A WORLD "SITUATION WANTED" AD WILL FIND IT.

WOMAN FELL DEAD AFTER HOT BATTLE

Police Say She Had Gun and Had Planned to Kill Neighbor.

After participating in an assault which the police say was planned to be a murder, Mrs. Roma Vanelia, forty-five years old, of No. 206 East Sixty-seventh street, to-day ran from the hallway of No. 212 East Forty-fourth street across the roof to No. 206, where she fell dead. She carried a satchel in which was a loaded .32-caliber revolver.

CIGAR MAN KILLED BY HIS CUSTOMER

Had Dispute Over Number of Smokes Taken, and Both Drew Revolvers.

Cleo Blivna, thirty years old, who conducted a cigar store at No. 502 First avenue, died in Bellevue Hospital to-day as the result of a bullet wound in the abdomen received last night during an altercation in a saloon, with Frank Crapanzoni, a laborer in the Pennsylvania tunnel.

According to the police, Crapanzoni and a friend went into the cigar store and Crapanzoni bought cigars. Before the transaction was concluded the cigar store man accused Crapanzoni of taking more cigars than he had paid for, and a quarrel ensued. Two men advanced to the sidewalk and drew revolvers. Each began shooting and Blivna dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

Mrs. Blivna, the cigar dealer's wife, who lives at No. 502 First avenue, and a friend went into the cigar store and Crapanzoni bought cigars. Before the transaction was concluded the cigar store man accused Crapanzoni of taking more cigars than he had paid for, and a quarrel ensued. Two men advanced to the sidewalk and drew revolvers. Each began shooting and Blivna dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

Mrs. Blivna, the cigar dealer's wife, who lives at No. 502 First avenue, and a friend went into the cigar store and Crapanzoni bought cigars. Before the transaction was concluded the cigar store man accused Crapanzoni of taking more cigars than he had paid for, and a quarrel ensued. Two men advanced to the sidewalk and drew revolvers. Each began shooting and Blivna dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

Mrs. Blivna, the cigar dealer's wife, who lives at No. 502 First avenue, and a friend went into the cigar store and Crapanzoni bought cigars. Before the transaction was concluded the cigar store man accused Crapanzoni of taking more cigars than he had paid for, and a quarrel ensued. Two men advanced to the sidewalk and drew revolvers. Each began shooting and Blivna dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

Mrs. Blivna, the cigar dealer's wife, who lives at No. 502 First avenue, and a friend went into the cigar store and Crapanzoni bought cigars. Before the transaction was concluded the cigar store man accused Crapanzoni of taking more cigars than he had paid for, and a quarrel ensued. Two men advanced to the sidewalk and drew revolvers. Each began shooting and Blivna dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

Mrs. Blivna, the cigar dealer's wife, who lives at No. 502 First avenue, and a friend went into the cigar store and Crapanzoni bought cigars. Before the transaction was concluded the cigar store man accused Crapanzoni of taking more cigars than he had paid for, and a quarrel ensued. Two men advanced to the sidewalk and drew revolvers. Each began shooting and Blivna dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

Mrs. Blivna, the cigar dealer's wife, who lives at No. 502 First avenue, and a friend went into the cigar store and Crapanzoni bought cigars. Before the transaction was concluded the cigar store man accused Crapanzoni of taking more cigars than he had paid for, and a quarrel ensued. Two men advanced to the sidewalk and drew revolvers. Each began shooting and Blivna dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

Mrs. Blivna, the cigar dealer's wife, who lives at No. 502 First avenue, and a friend went into the cigar store and Crapanzoni bought cigars. Before the transaction was concluded the cigar store man accused Crapanzoni of taking more cigars than he had paid for, and a quarrel ensued. Two men advanced to the sidewalk and drew revolvers. Each began shooting and Blivna dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

Mrs. Blivna, the cigar dealer's wife, who lives at No. 502 First avenue, and a friend went into the cigar store and Crapanzoni bought cigars. Before the transaction was concluded the cigar store man accused Crapanzoni of taking more cigars than he had paid for, and a quarrel ensued. Two men advanced to the sidewalk and drew revolvers. Each began shooting and Blivna dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

Mrs. Blivna, the cigar dealer's wife, who lives at No. 502 First avenue, and a friend went into the cigar store and Crapanzoni bought cigars. Before the transaction was concluded the cigar store man accused Crapanzoni of taking more cigars than he had paid for, and a quarrel ensued. Two men advanced to the sidewalk and drew revolvers. Each began shooting and Blivna dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

Mrs. Blivna, the cigar dealer's wife, who lives at No. 502 First avenue, and a friend went into the cigar store and Crapanzoni bought cigars. Before the transaction was concluded the cigar store man accused Crapanzoni of taking more cigars than he had paid for, and a quarrel ensued. Two men advanced to the sidewalk and drew revolvers. Each began shooting and Blivna dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

Mrs. Blivna, the cigar dealer's wife, who lives at No. 502 First avenue, and a friend went into the cigar store and Crapanzoni bought cigars. Before the transaction was concluded the cigar store man accused Crapanzoni of taking more cigars than he had paid for, and a quarrel ensued. Two men advanced to the sidewalk and drew revolvers. Each began shooting and Blivna dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

Mrs. Blivna, the cigar dealer's wife, who lives at No. 502 First avenue, and a friend went into the cigar store and Crapanzoni bought cigars. Before the transaction was concluded the cigar store man accused Crapanzoni of taking more cigars than he had paid for, and a quarrel ensued. Two men advanced to the sidewalk and drew revolvers. Each began shooting and Blivna dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

Mrs. Blivna, the cigar dealer's wife, who lives at No. 502 First avenue, and a friend went into the cigar store and Crapanzoni bought cigars. Before the transaction was concluded the cigar store man accused Crapanzoni of taking more cigars than he had paid for, and a quarrel ensued. Two men advanced to the sidewalk and drew revolvers. Each began shooting and Blivna dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

Mrs. Blivna, the cigar dealer's wife, who lives at No. 502 First avenue, and a friend went into the cigar store and Crapanzoni bought cigars. Before the transaction was concluded the cigar store man accused Crapanzoni of taking more cigars than he had paid for, and a quarrel ensued. Two men advanced to the sidewalk and drew revolvers. Each began shooting and Blivna dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

Mrs. Blivna, the cigar dealer's wife, who lives at No. 502 First avenue, and a friend went into the cigar store and Crapanzoni bought cigars. Before the transaction was concluded the cigar store man accused Crapanzoni of taking more cigars than he had paid for, and a quarrel ensued. Two men advanced to the sidewalk and drew revolvers. Each began shooting and Blivna dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

CANNEY PENNY A POUND PROFIT SPECIAL FOR TO-DAY, THE 27TH SPECIAL FOR TO-MORROW, THE 28TH WE DELIVER FREE