

RICH MAN, UNDER BAIL ON MURDER CHARGE, MISSING

Amore Disappears, Leaving Pretty Wife in Jail and Six Children Home.

Caroline Amore, a well-to-do wholesale grocer of Newark, N. J., whose handsome wife, Josephine, is in the Essex County Jail, charged with the murder of Michael Martella, an admirer whom she is said to have repulsed, has disappeared from his home, No. 14 Drist street, leaving his six little children.

Amore, who was arrested after the shooting of Martella, but subsequently released on $6,000 bail, had been brooding over what he believed to be the persecution of himself and his wife. During the brief time he spent in jail his hair turned almost white, and he told his friends that he felt the injustice that had been done him very keenly.

"Now I can understand why some people do away with themselves," said Amore, who had not long ago celebrated his fortieth birthday.

Amore left his home Monday evening, after he had spent most of the day collecting from his customers in the Summit district of Newark. It was about 5 o'clock when he called his eldest boy, Frank, and said to him that he was going out and would not return until 10 or 11 o'clock.

"Well, dad," said Frank, who is fourteen, "I'll wait up for you."

That was the last seen of Amore. He had probably $100 in money and a valuable diamond ring on his person, which he carried off with him.

Domenico A. Valentino, a Newark insurance broker, came to New York to-day and made a search of the records at Police Headquarters, but failed to find any trace of the missing man. He was one of Amore's bondsmen.

"We have sent circulars throughout New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York and other States," said Mr. Valentino, "but have heard nothing from Amore. Whether he has gone to some remote part of the country, or has ended his life, is a mystery to all of his friends."

The story behind the disappearance of Amore is pathetic. Michael Martella was in love with Amore's wife, who is thirty-four years old and very pretty. She warned him that she would not heed his attentions, whereupon he went to her home during her husband's absence and, according to her story to the police, said:

"Either you flee with me to Greece, where I have wealthy relatives, or I will kill you."

He then went away, but returned in a day or two and said he had come for his answer.

"If you don't go with me now, I'm going to blow your head off," Mrs. Amore said Martella told her.

She added that he flourished a revolver. She parleyed with him, then made an excuse to go into an adjoining room. When she returned she had a revolver and shot Martella dead. Mrs. Amore gave herself up to the police, and was indicted for murder. She is now awaiting trial.

GIRL AND BOYS SENT TO PRISON FOR MAN'S DEATH

One Lad Convicted, So the Other, Fatally Ill, and Girl Companion Pleaded Guilty.

(Special to The Evening World.) AUBURN, N. Y., Dec. 4.—Raymond Allen, nineteen years old, was to-day found guilty of manslaughter for shooting aged John Jetty at Port Byron on the night of Aug. 2, James Allen, nineteen years old, and Ethel Lyons, seventeen years old, who were with Allen at the time of the shooting, pleaded guilty to being accomplices.

Ray Allen was sentenced by Justice Sawyer to not less than seventeen nor more than nineteen years and ten months in Auburn Prison. James Allen was sentenced to not less than three years and not more than seven years and ten months. The girl was given three years in Albion Reformatory.

The trio had been living in the Montezuma swamp, subsisting on what they could steal from farmers. They were returning from a night foray for provisions when they met Jetty in their field, and Ray, who carried a shotgun, shot him dead.

Allen took his sentence with an air of bravado, but broke down on reaching his cell at the county jail. I thought he would only give me ten or twelve years," he sobbed.

James Allen was assisted into the court room as he is dying of consumption. The judge allowed him to sit while passing sentence and said he would be lenient. The boy smiled faintly as he was assisted out of the court room, and Jail Physician Babbitt expressed opinion that he would not live out his term. Before being taken back prisoner he was taken out for an airing.

Ethel Lyons walked jauntily into court wearing a large brand new Merry Widow hat purchased by the county. Through her attorney she changed her former plea to one of guilty and listened indifferently to a lecture on morality. She tossed her head defiantly as she went out and "made a face" at Mrs. Laura Allen, the mother of Raymond, who stood in the passageway.

VISIT COST HIM $400.

James Stewart, the president of the general contracting firm which bears his name at No. 135 Broadway, has offered a reward of $50 for the return of a $100 gold mesh chataleine purse which he believes slipped from his overcoat pocket while in the Waldorf-Astoria last evening.

The gold bag belonged to Mrs. Stewart. Before sailing for Jamaica a few days ago she asked her husband to have the purse repaired. This he had done and was returning to his home one night with it.

When he called in one of his office envelopes closed in one of his office envelopes when he called in at the Waldorf to see a few friends, Mr. Stewart is anxious for the return of the gold bag because his wife returns from Jamaica and will welcome the finder at his office.

BABY DRANK PAINT, THINKING IT CANDY

Two-Year-Old Bessie Ryan Took Half Pint of Fluid and Fell in Convulsions.

Two-year-old Bessie Ryan crawled under a bed in her father's room, at No. 116 Vernon avenue, Long Island City, to-day, and found a quart can filled with "lasses candy" as she thought, but in really yellow paint left over from a decoration of the house.

The child drank a half pint of the fluid before she was found by her mother, writhing upon the floor in convulsions.

Mrs. Ryan ran to St. John's Hospital with her child in her arms. The mother fell in a faint upon the threshold of the hospital.

The child will recover. This is due to the promptness with which the mother procured medical aid.

Out of Sorts

THAT IS, something is wrong with baby, but we can't tell just what it is. All mothers recognize the term by the lassitude, weakness, loss of appetite, inclination to sleep, heavy breathing, and lack of interest shown by baby. These are the symptoms of sickness. It may be fever, congestion, worms, croup, diphtheria, or scarlatina. Do not lose a minute. Give the child Castoria. It will start the digestive organs into operation, open the pores of the skin, carry off the foetid matter, and drive away the threatened sickness.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Saturday Is TOY DAY

In New York's Greatest Toy Store A very careful investigation provides figures that amply prove that here at Wanamaker's is the largest floor space devoted exclusively to Toys in New York City.

This is not a "toy department" hastily arranged for holiday money making. For a quarter of a century the toy business has been one of the large, permanent, all-year-round fixtures of the Wanamaker organization. The Wanamaker Toy buyer has been known for a generation in every toy-making district of Germany, and has been working with many of the most successful toy makers of the old world all their lives, helping them to develop playthings which he knows would interest the children of America. His assistants and successors have followed up this work in such exhaustive manner that the prestige of the Wanamaker Store is established in every toy making center for progressiveness and large distribution. This means that hundreds of new things are shown at WANAMAKER'S a full year before they will be found at other stores, because made exclusively for us, many of our own originating. That is why the Wanamaker Toy Store is so much more interesting than the usual "toy department."

Parents who wish new things, and well-made things that will not fall to pieces quickly, take advantage of the large displays that are made here, as well as the achievements of our experts in having toys better made, and made as children will most enjoy them.

It is often hard to decide what to buy for the little ones, but if you bring them here they'll solve the problem in a jiffy—making your shopping easier and the children's Christmas happier. Bring the children for a holiday at the Wanamaker Toy Store tomorrow. Fourth floor, Old Bldg.
