STRENUOUS HOCKEY GETS BIG BOOM IN OPENING GAMES

Amateur League Games Excite Enthusiasts, and Winter Promises to Bring Records on the Ice.

BY BOZEMAN BULGER. ONCE upon a time—and it wasn't ten days ago—a sport-loving man wandered into Forty-second street asserting in loud acclaim that only two games in America could test the physical and mental nerve of young men who had not yet grown hard in the face and soft in the body.

He was talking of football and pugilism were the only two sports that could not be played by mollycoddlers. "Play you a little bit at even money," he said to a friend, "that I can show you something to-night that will make you eat your own words."

The man in question was a little bit flabbergasted at this bold proposition, but he was game. "Moreover," added the other man, "it will be left for you to decide."

Guided to Hockey Game. A little puzzled and disconcerted the Football and Pugilistic man allowed himself to be led away. A few minutes later they were seated on the edge of the ice at the St. Nicholas rink. A hockey game was about to begin. Then it occurred to the Football man what he was about to observe. Pityingly he looked at his friend who had made the bet and significantly tapped the side of his head. The man who had laid even money said nothing but waited for the referee's whistle.

"Zing!" a little hard rubber missile, called a puck, went sailing by the head of the Football and Pugilistic man, and he sat up and took notice. Five or six brown young fellows attired in nothing more than woollen skin tights and armed with long sticks shot after the puck on skates, and at the other end of the icy square there was a crash. Eight skaters, rolling at top speed, were sent whirling head over heels on the unyielding ice, while the others were frantically frailing at the poor little puck with the hardwood sticks. Many of the blows missed the puck and landed on the shins of opponents.

Started Puck Agoing. Finally, one fellow, quicker than the others, got his stick under the hard rubber and sent it whizzing toward a net at the other end of the square. There a quick-limbed athlete allowed the shot to hit him squarely in the chest, and then without waiting to rub the sore spot, shot it back at the man who had started the ball a-rolling. Across the ice they dashed on skates and one player who was tripped slid forty feet along the rail on his nose, but came up smiling.

The Football and Pugilistic man was getting shaky. "Jumping Jupiter," he exclaimed, "Are those fellows crazy? Somebody will be killed here in a minute." As the words left his mouth he made a quick dash to get away from the sizzling puck as it shot into one of the boxes.

"Guess we are a little too close," he said, tremulously. "Let's move back to a safer place."

The even-money man laughed to himself and with his friend sought safety on the next rink. Four more fellows went skating on their heads and one landed flat on his back on the hard ice with a thump that could be heard all over the arena.

In a few minutes the Football and Pugilistic man got the idea of the game. He was yelling at the top of his voice and pleading with black-tighted fellows "Slap it in the nose."

"That's it," said the Football and Pugilistic man, "I have never missed a practice. Hockey a strenuous game. This little incident is related for the sole purpose of showing that the game of hockey is some cat-o-nine-tails when it comes to making an impression. It is getting more strenuous every season. The present campaign has just started and there are crowds of athletes up there frailing at each other's shins every afternoon and night.

It takes a man of nerve and muscle to play hockey and the Amateur Hockey League is made up of men of just that calibre. The first big surprise of the year came with Princeton. As a rule the college boys have little chance against the amateur teams around New York such as the Crescents, St. Nicholas, the Wanderers, the Saratogas and the New York Athletic Club. The college boys fooled them, however, and completely routed the champion Crescents in the opening game of the season. The Crescents came right back, however, and trimmed the Princetonians by a close score last Tuesday night. It was one of the most exciting games in the history of the sport.

From now on championship games will be played until March, when the "pennant" will be awarded. The clubs have something more to play for than the pennant.

HYLAND HAS BETTER OF DALTON IN FAST GO. (Special to The Evening World.) LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 19.—Dick Hyland had quite a lead over "Kid" Dalton at the end of ten rounds of hard fighting last night before McCarey's club. Hyland was unable to stop the Kid, who fought back strong, but in the clinches was no match for Hyland.

Hyland was inclined to use rough tactics in several places, using the heel of his glove on the local boy's face. In the tenth they slugged from going, but at the end Hyland was decidedly the stronger, and his punches were the most punishing. Hyland was the favorite in the betting.

HOCKEY TEAMS ARE GETTING BUSY

PHIL KEARNEY, A. FINGOLD, CLARENCE GRANGER, H. FEARLE, BOB POTTS, SARATOGA, GIRARD HOLTOFF, SARATOGA, KENNETH DAVIDSON, WANDERER, W.M. TAYLOR

St. Nicks Got a Leg. The first year the St. Nicholas team carried off the honors and got one leg on the covered rink. Last year, however, they were the process of the Crescents, and this year there is a spirited fight between those two clubs who see who will win the cup. The New York Athletic Club also has a look-in for the prize.

Schoolboys Ready for Basketball Season. League Made Up of Fives from Seven High Schools Opens Schedule To-Night. THE high school boys will usher in the league basketball season games will be played. As there are seven teams in the league, one five will be forced to be idle every Saturday, the day chosen for all the league contests. It was first expected that eight or possibly nine teams would comprise the league this winter, but with the dropping out of Morris and Erasmus, both of which schools were represented last year, only seven teams are left. However, an excellent season looks like a certainty, as nearly all the teams are well stocked with veterans from the squads of last season, and as all the league contests are to be held before Feb. 1, there is no chance of a winning five losing out through the graduation of its players at that time.

To-night's games will be Townsend Harris Hall, the champions for two seasons, against Commerce; Boys' High, of Brooklyn, vs. Stuyvesant, and Clinton vs. Eastern District. The visiting team will not have a league opponent. Much depends upon the outcome of the Townsend Harris-Commerce game, to be played at the Washington Heights Y. M. C. A. If the Commerce boys win their road to the championship will not be very hard, but the Orange and Blue is weakened by the loss of Davidson, forward, whose leg is in bad shape. Townsend Harris will also be without the services of Lee and Spitzer, but the Red and Yellow has a strong line of substitutes and is the favorite.

Murray, Herzog and Donlin in Outfield Give Giants Fastest Trio in the World

New York Players Can Average at Least .305 at the Bat and Field the Ball With Any in the World. IT would look pretty sweet for the Giants to have an outfield that could average .305 with the stick, wouldn't it? That sounds almost like a dream. For just such a trio, if Herzog can make good as an outfielder the .300 or better outfield is a certainty.

The idea at present is to send the Giants out to battle with an outfield made up of Donlin, Herzog and Murray. There is not a man in that cluster who can run the bases in less than 11 seconds. That means that they are like electricity on the bases. But that is not the main thing. It is hitting that wins games.

Last season Donlin hit .324, Herzog hit .300 and Murray cracked them out at the rate of .282. Taking an average of those three we find an outfield that can hit .305. The beauty of it is that they are all getting better every season. Donlin's greatest ambition has been to lead the league in batting, but for three times in succession he has missed it by a narrow margin. Next season he expects to land the coveted prize.

It is not certain, however, that Herzog will play the outfield. He must first make good in that position. Otherwise Seymour, the old reliable, will be kept on the job. Seymour fell off lamentably in his hitting last season. The best he could do was .267. This is especially bad, as it will be remembered that four years ago he led the National League with the stick. Sy is a wonderful fielder.

Seymour, by the way, has a peculiar career. While a member of the New York Club he once led the National League as pitcher and then dropped back. Finally he decided to give up pitching, and McGraw, who was then in charge of the club, converted him into an outfielder. As an outfielder he improved until he had led the National League as batsman two years ago. McGraw was a bit of a pitcher and Seymour begged him to let him go in and pitch the game, as The Giants' manager was almost tempted, but as the race was very close he would not take the chance. Sy says he could have won for certainty for he felt just right.

Murray is what is considered a new man in the league. Notwithstanding this fact he has been setting things aside over at St. Louis for two years and last season he hung up an enviable record. In stolen bases he was second in the league and in total bases on hits he came next to Wagner. Murray made more extra base hits than any man in the league. This is shown from the fact that he only hit .32 and still he came close to Wagner on the number of bases.

"FRANKIE" MADDEN PUTS KNOCKOUT OVER ON YOUNG GLOVER

Hub Lightweight Makes Good Showing Against Local Man for Four Rounds.

FRANKIE MADDEN, the hard-hitting lightweight of this vicinity, who has been winning many fights in succession in the last few months, added another victory to his list last night by knocking out Mike Glover, the crack Boston lightweight, in the fifth round of what was to have been a ten-round contest at the National A. C. stage.

The blow that finished Mike was a short right hand which landed on his jaw just after he had knocked all the wind out of him with a volley of left-hand swings into the pit of the stomach. As soon as Madden had landed the blow Glover pitched forward a few feet and fell at full length on the floor.

When the referee had counted out three seconds Mike rolled over on his back and remained in that position even after Buckley had tolled off the ten seconds which settled his fate. Mike was dragged to his corner by his seconds, and when he revived he tried hard to get at Madden, but was restrained by his handlers, who pulled him back again into his corner.

The men met in the main booth of the evening, and when they climbed into the ring about 600 legitimate members of the club were present, many of them being attracted in evening clothes. The only members present.

The star was the second that the club has held since Police Commissioner Brigham issued his order to close down all clubs that attempted to hold boxing stags, and none but real boxing men were present.

Then Came the Finish. Suddenly Madden whipped a hard right over to Glover's chin, and as he staggered against the ropes, Madden pushed his hands on the other side of the jaw with his left. Glover then tried to exchange wallop with Madden, and as he did so Madden worked his right foot into the pit of Mike's stomach. Glover clasped his hands on his forehead, and after a moment he fell back on his side. Madden banged him three more times in the body with his left hand, and as Glover lay on the floor, Mike dropped to the floor, where he was counted out.

CHAMPION SHRUBB OUTRUNS HORSES

Englishman Has Often Done It—In Race With Longboat He Will Have to Beat the Indian Early. ALFRED SHRUBB, the great Englishman, who begins training in Boston to-day for his Marathon race with Longboat on January 9 at Madison Square Garden, is probably the greatest runner the world has ever seen at distances up to fifteen, and even twenty miles. He has never attempted to go over the Marathon distance of twenty-six miles and 385 yards, and he is doubtful if he will be able to hold out that long. But he will make a game try.

Shrubb's plans for the great race contemplate a fast dash for fifteen miles so that he will be able to run Longboat off his feet and make him quit. If Longboat does stick after the fifteen-mile post Shrubb figures that he will be so far ahead by that time that he can jog the rest of the way and still have enough margin to win. The only thing worrying him is the possibility of his not being able to last for twenty-six miles. The records show that Shrubb is five minutes faster for fifteen miles than either Longboat or Dorando.

For the past year or two Shrubb has performed some remarkable feats. On several occasions he has run against as many as three men who worked in relays, and yet he has not been defeated. Each of his opponents would stop at five miles and a fresh runner would take over. Notwithstanding these various severe tests, Shrubb seems to be invincible.

It was a favorite pastime of his and, incidentally, a profitable one to boot. He has run ten-mile races at the county fairs. On an ordinary race such a strong horse would be hitched to a light buggy with two men in the seat. Shrubb would run alongside the buggy, and on every occasion the horse would tire. Up to this time Shrubb has not been beaten by either horse or man in distance races.

Shrubb is not altogether sure of his own strength in the college world will compete in these games to-night at the Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory. On Monday the Yonkers A. A. hold their annual fall meet, and they have a record list of entries. There will be a rest of ten days, and then the Yonkers A. C., of Yonkers, will hold a Marathon race at the Empire City race-track. This race brings out every star distance runner in the game from every section of the country east of St. Louis. The game will shift some on Jan. 6, for the swimmers will have their landing in the Amateur Athletic Union championships at the College of the City of New York.

The Yonkers will hold their meet next, and then comes the big meet of the Brooklyn Post-Office Clerks' Association. This event is to be the one to watch, if not the biggest, meet of the indoor season. All the stars of the metropolitan district have entered, as well as many of the best of the country.

Athletes Busy Training for Many Indoor Meets

Amateurs Will Engage in Great Run on Track on New Year's Day. Many fine athletic meets have been arranged for the amateur athletes. Stars of the track and field will get busy soon in both indoor and outdoor contests. The first meet on the card is that of the College of the City of New York. They have arranged a great set of games, and many of the most famous athletes in the college world will compete in these games to-night at the Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory.

On Monday the Yonkers A. A. hold their annual fall meet, and they have a record list of entries. There will be a rest of ten days, and then the Yonkers A. Athletic News and Gossip Around High School Circuit

The Boys' High School track team will be a strong contestant for honors this year. In the 440-yard dash and the low hurdles O'Leary looks about as strong as any runner around the circuit. In the mile Major will be the representative of the Red and Black. Major is better at a longer distance, but he can come close to the high mark. Next to the mile runner, McWilliams, is another strong star of the squad.

A new rule with reference to gymnastics has been put into force at Clinton. Students who go out for any sport are exempt from the gymnasium, and allowed to devote these periods to study.
