

MAN WHO BIT OIL KING'S RELATIVE HELD AS INSANE

Leite Not to Be Deported Until Rich Relatives Are Notified.

VICTIM BADLY SCARRED.

Prof. Strong, Suffering From Wounds, Confined to Rooms in Hotel.

Louis Leite, the young Brazilian who attacked Prof. Charles A. Strong, a son-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, on the North German Lloyd liner Barbarossa, from Italy and Gibraltar to this port, was still in irons in the ship's hold this morning, with a ship's steward standing guard over him.

At Ellis Island the tall, dark-haired, muscular South American was placed in the psychiatric ward for observation by Government surgeons. Ordinarily the course of procedure would be to deport him on the next steamer of the line which brought him here, providing the physician have first pronounced him insane, but Garcia Leao, the Brazilian Vice-Consul, who called on Commissioner Watchorn to-day, said he understood Leite belonged to a wealthy and prominent family in Rio, and it may be that he will be detained until some word comes from his people.

Professor Strong is confined to his rooms at the Hotel Belmont. His face is badly scarred and he is carrying his hand in a sling. In trying to ward off the madman's attack he sprained his thumb.

"When I found the fellow was a victim of hallucinations I would not have complained," he said, "but my father who was on the ship, insisted on my doing so."

"Why did you attack Prof. Strong?" Leite was asked.

"Evil Eye and Poison."

"Because he has followed me with his evil eye, with electricity, with poison," was the reply. "He has been following me for a year. He tried to poison the food I had on this ship, but I discovered him in time. I can't stand him."

"I'm sorry I felt so nervous," Leite added presently. "I was too nervous to fight well. To fight one should be calm and self-controlled."

Prof. Strong is the son of the Rev. Augustus Strong, of Rochester, once president of the Theological Seminary of that city.

Prof. Strong is a studious man. During the trip across it was his custom to sit in a corner of the smoking room reading a book. During the passage the Brazilian kept entirely to himself. He smoked quantities of cigarettes and drank so much coffee that the other passengers marvelled. Occasionally he read, but most of his time was spent walking the decks.

Attacked the Professor.

On Friday morning the Brazilian entered the smoking room. The professor was in his usual place, poring over a book, when Leite leaped upon him.

Leite first struck out with his fist, and every time he hit his blows went true, and Strong lurched back in his chair. The madman's long fingers encircled the professor's strong throat, and at the same time he bent forward and gripped the professor's check in his teeth. He held on like a vicious dog. Then he seized the other check with his strong teeth.

Prof. Strong screamed with pain. His cheeks bled profusely. The attack had been so sudden and unexpected that Gustav John Helm, a State Senator of California, and the smoker steward, who were standing nearby, had no time to interfere.

Man Run to Professor's Aid.

Recovering from their surprise, Mr. Helm and the steward ran to the aid of the professor.

Other passengers and stewards by this time had the Brazilian pinioned and Dr. Peterson, the Barbarossa's surgeon, was called to attend the professor. He took immediate precautions to guard against blood poisoning in the wounds.

Capt. von Bardeleben, seeing that the man was severely and seriously wounded, and confined in his berth, with a steward to stand guard over him. Later Leite was transferred to Princeton, to the St. Elizabeth's hospital, where he was when the Barbarossa entered port.

Prof. Strong is married. His wife, the eldest daughter of John D. Rockefeller, died in Compiegne, France, in 1907.

NEVER LAID HAND ON WIFE—BUTTED HER.

Klemf Kept Promise Literally, but Had to Make New and Bigger Pledge.

Walter Klemf, of No. 116 Jackson street, Hoboken, is a man of his word. When he was arrested ten days ago for beating his wife he solemnly promised the Recorder that he would never lay a hand on her again.

Nevertheless, he was in court again to-day on complaint of his wife. The Recorder recalled his pledge and reminded him of it.

"You swore to me," said the Recorder, "that you would never lay your hands on your wife again."

"I'm no liar, Judge," said Klemf, proudly. "I never laid a hand on her. I butted her with my head."

Mrs. Klemf confirmed this statement. She said her husband got her into a corner and butted her black and blue, all the time proclaiming that he was keeping his word to the court.

The Recorder was for sending Klemf to jail, but the wife objected. She said he was reasonably human when sober and a good provider. Should he be sent to jail he would lose his job and she would lose his wages.

A compromise was reached. Klemf was allowed to go on his promise that he would never strike, kick, beat, butt or otherwise attack his wife. At her suggestion a promise was exacted from Klemf that he would not throw anything at her either. She said she believed he would keep his word.

JAP. CONFERENCE TO BE FOLLOWED BY STATEMENT

Mikado Thought to Have Made Representations on Hostile Legislation.

BACON AT WHITE HOUSE

Secretary of State Confers With Roosevelt and California Legislators.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—President Roosevelt summoned Senator Flint and Representative Kahn to the White House to-day, and with Secretary of State Bacon and Assistant Secretary O'Laughlin, another conference, was held on the Japanese situation in California. Another statement or some radical action is expected to-morrow.

The talk was followed by another between the President and Secretaries Newberry and Wright, at the conclusion of which the direct, unequivocal statement was made by both Secretaries that the name of Japan or California had not been referred to, and that the discussion was an unimportant one, relating to a bill in Congress dealing with deserters from the army and navy.

The fact that the State Department was represented in the conference has excited more speculation than any other feature and caused the belief that certain representations have been made by Japan as to how she regards the legislation in California. Intimation was conveyed that important messages have been received from Ambassador O'Brien, our representative at Tokio, portraying the feeling there. In reply to inquiries along these lines, Secretary Bacon declined to talk.

Mr. Kahn declined to discuss his interview with the President, but it is known that after his return to the Capitol from the conference he suggested to his colleagues in Congress that time should be given to Japan to test her ability to keep her coolie labor out of the United States. He urged that if there should be any more legislation in California, intimation was conveyed that important messages have been received from Ambassador O'Brien, our representative at Tokio, portraying the feeling there. In reply to inquiries along these lines, Secretary Bacon declined to talk.

CHINESE PROTEST TO ROOSEVELT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—The reopening of the fight over the passage of the anti-Japanese bill in the Lower House of the California Legislature begins to-day, and it is expected that the struggle will be even more intense than it was last week, when action was suddenly terminated by the dramatic appeal of Speaker Walter Stanton for delay.

The latest complication in the controversy is the preparation by the local Chinese of a statement complaining that President Roosevelt is discriminating against their countrymen in favor of the Japanese. The memorial, drawn by representatives of the six Companies, which is the Chinese Benevolent Association of California, was telegraphed to the President to-day.

The telegram, which is lengthy, embraces all the abridgment of rights under which the Chinese claim to be suffering. A comparison of the governmental treatment of the Chinese and Japanese is made, and the claim raised that the latter are clearly favored by the authorities at Washington.

Attorney C. P. Stodger, who drew up the message, says that it contains a strong protest against the President exercising his power to prevent the segregation of Japanese children in the public schools while he makes no complaint against the common practice of excluding Chinese from the white schools. The telegram also denounces the exclusion act, complaining that the immigration laws in their enforcement, do it continually violate the fourteenth amendment of the Constitution.

Kikuo Kiyose, the correspondent of the Asahi, of Tokio, announces that two parties of Japanese royalty, planning to visit the United States this year, will cut California from their itinerary. Included in the parties will be the Prince and Princess Nasimoto and Prince and Princess Kunyo Shi.

SACRAMENTO.—The Senate decided to-day to postpone until Thursday discussion of the report of the Committee on Anti-Japanese Legislation. The report, which was based on the recent message of Gov. Gillett, advising against a "mild" Japanese legislation, was submitted last week and placed on file.

DOGS THAT BARK AT GARDEN TO-DAY WORTH $1,000,000

Preparations Made for Bench Show Which Will Open to Public To-Morrow.

COLLIES HEAD THE LIST.

Other Hounds Are Being Exhibited in This Country for the First Time.

Dogs—little dogs, big dogs, long dogs, short dogs—in fact, all kinds of dogs from the Pomeranian to the Great Dane—are making their headquarters at Madison Square Garden to-day.

Exhibitors are grooming their entries and are using every means to have their canines look their prettiest and best in readiness for the thirty-second annual bench show of the Westminster Kennel Club, which opens to-morrow and continues for the three following days of the week, four days in all.

The Westminster Kennel Club has made special preparations for this show, and the dog breeders, the dog fanciers and society in general are playing up to the club's lead to make the show the most successful ever held under its auspices, and one of the most elaborate ever given in New York.

Exhibit Worth $1,000,000.

It would take something over $1,000,000 in cash to purchase the entries in the show at their actual valuation.

The thirty-second show of the club will be noted for two things; first, that a new class for other hounds has been made, and these dogs are being exhibited in this country for the first time, and, second, that collies are the predominating breed among the standard dogs exhibited.

The collie as a pet is finding favor with the society woman, and this accounts for the greater attention paid this breed.

The "Directorate" shapes of the greyhounds will be a feature, but as the greyhound has been envied for his liteness and leanness by the ladies since the close-to-the-figure gowns have been the "thing," these entries will attract only passing notice.

Noted dogs, winners of ribbons in other shows, will be seen seeking new honors, and many unknowns will be on exhibition contesting with the old favorites.

A string of English hounds have been entered by the Middlesex Hunt, while the Loudoun Hunt is backing a string of American fox hounds.

Chic lot of Bulldog.

A choice lot of English bulldogs from the kennels of Thomas W. Lawson, Richard Croker Jr., G. A. Austin and P. H. Northrup will delight those who take pleasure in looking at the protruding chins and bow legs of this species.

Among those who will show collies are Samuel Untermyer, the Emma Kennel, Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish and the Vincent Farm Kennels.

"Bull dogs" have been entered in the Boston terrier class than any other and surprises are looked for when the awards are made.

Their owners, Great Danes, St. Bernard pointers, Gordon setters, English setters, Irish setters, spaniels and all breeds of dogs have been entered, so that the fancier of any particular breed will have a chance to gaze his fill at the best America has done in raising this variety of the dogs of the species in this country.

POPE RECEIVES AMERICAN SAILORS FROM RELIEF SHIP.

ROME, Feb. 8.—The Pope gave a private audience to-day to fourteen under-officers and a number of sailors from the American relief ship Celtic. They were presented to His Holiness by Mgr. Kennedy, rector of the American College, who said the Pope was greatly pleased to receive the American sailors and to be able to express his gratitude for all that America has done in aiding Italy after the earthquake disaster.

The Celtic, which is a naval supply ship, brought from the United States a large quantity of supplies for the sufferers.
